CLERGYMEN'S OPINIONS

THE REV. DRS. SUTHERLAND, POTTS AND SHAW ON THE DAY'S ISSUES.

Letter from Mr. Starr, Formerly of Peterborough—Outspoken Demands for the Open Bible and for Equality.

We give the following extracts from addresses delivered in Toronto on December 23rd:—

The Rev. Dr. SUTHERLAND: Another thing I want to say, and that is, that hitherto, as a rule, my votes have gone to the Liberal party, because in a general way my judgment was in accord with their policy—that is, when they had a policy. (Laughter.) That has been the fact, as a rule, with my votes for twenty-five years past, but there are now reasons which to my mind are conclusive why I should not follow that course in regard to the ensuing contest. (Cheers.) I think I have a perfect right, with every other freeman,

TO CHANGE MY OPINIONS

when there is good cause. (Applause.) The wise man, says the proverb, changes his mind often, the fool never. (Applause.) If I may judge by a good deal of what I read in the paper, and a good deal I have heard from the platform, I conclude that the number of fools is becoming smaller by degrees and beautifully less in this province—(laughter)—and that there is a strong disposition on the part of large numbers whose opinions and convictions have found little expression specially through the party press to assert their independence, and vote according to their judgment and let party look out for itself. (Cheers.) The fact of the matter is that responsible government has got to be government by the party, for the party and with the party. Of course this is expressed as government for the people, by the people and with the people, but when you come down to the matter of fact and practice the people means the faction which happens to be in power, and the other party has no rights which those in power are bound to respect. I was asked the other day which party I wished to go for, and I replied both and I will take the first chance I can get. We have been running everything on these party lines until we have got rid of statesmen and our institutions are run by politicians, and these two terms are not synonymous by a long way, as I have discovered to my own satisfaction. There is a wonderful difference between the two, and I have thought that if we can exchange two or three hundred politicians for one half dozen common sense statesmen, I would advise the electors to make the trade. (Laughter.) The difference between these is immense. The statesman is wise, the politician is smart, or thinks he is. The statesman deals with principles, the politician with expediency. The statesman follows the call of duty, the politician considers only popularity. The statesman asks if a thing is right, the politician if it will pay. The statesman inquires if a measure will benefit the country, the politician wants to know if it will help his party. The statesman says, to the country belong the revenues, the politician that to the victor belongs the spoils. We want a little more statesmanship and less politics, and we are going to get that by asserting the right of every elector and freeman to act independently of his party. (Applause.)

* * * * * * *

There is another point, and it is one of grave importance both for the present and the future of this Dominion—that is, whether the principles of civil and religious equality are to be faithfully and fairly carried out. (Prolonged cheers.) Now, sir, on this point I want to be distinctly understood. I claim for myself no right or privilege by a hair's breadth that I would not hold up both hands to give to all the rest of my fellow citizens throughout this Dominion —(cheers)—and when we take strong grounds against some of the things that have been done in these recent years—notably in regard to our school system—(cheers)—and with regard to the regulations affecting separate schools—(cheers)—in contending against these, we are not taking a position of antagonism to our Roman Catholic fellow citizens and fellow-electors of this country,

BUT WE ARE SIMPLY DEMANDING that they shall have the same rights with regard to education which we claim for ourselves and for our children. (Loud cheers.)

* * * * * * *

I think I may fairly and honestly claim to have as profound a regard for the conscientious convictions, and even the conscientious scruples, of other people as any person in this audience; but there is one thing I do not altogether like, and that is, that this supreme regard for conscientious scruples upon the part of the Government of this province should always have reference to one class, to one section, and not to another. (Loud and long continued applause.) I have the most profound regard for the conscientious scruples of my Roman Catholic fellow-citizens. (Hear, hear.) I want them, on the other hand, or those who claim to represent them, to have a little regard for myself—(hear, hear)—for after all is said and done I don't know but my conscience is just as good as any other man's—(laughter)—and just as much eatitled to consideration and respect as the conscience of any other man—(cheers)—and in some of the arrangements which have been made in regard to these school matters; while there seems to be a very tender regard for the conscientious scruples of other people, yet if that was all that was involved

WHY WAS NOT THE LAW,

left as it was, which provided that if any Roman Catholic parent did not wish that his child should remain in the school when religious instruction by any Protestant teacher or minister was being given, or even in connection with religious exercises, if he did not wish that, all he had to do was to send a brief note to the teacher to say that he did not want his child to remain, and he would not be required to remain? (Cheers.) But—and this is something, so far as we know, for which no Roman Catholic parent has asked—the rule is made that the children of such of them where no intimation or notice of the fact has been given—it must be assumed by the inspector that Roman Catholic parents do not want their children to stay at the time of any religious instruction, and so opportunity is to be given to them to retire before that instruction is commenced. (Hear, hear.) But why is this required when the great bulk of the population of this Province do believe in the principles of the Bible and the influences we are trying to draw around our children from day to day? (Hear, hear.) It is putting us in this position, of saying in the presence of the children in the schools—this religious teaching and religious instruction is not only a very secondary, but it is also a very troublesome matter, we almost wish we were rid of it altogether; and by the significent pause in the proceedings in the school, until the other children go away, tends to intensify or widen the gulf between Protestant and Roman Catholic, and to perpetuate in the future those strifes which we all so much deplore. (Tremendous cheering, long continued.) That is the attitude which has been assumed by the party at large touching the difficulties we have had in the past year or two, and especially touching in the North-West. I think, if I mistake not, that point was touched upon a short time ago when I heard someody asking who is responsible, and it seemed to me that the question was easily answered. That man was responsible for whose head the leader of the Liberal party offered a large reward after his first rebellion, and whose apologist and defender he became after his second rebellion. (Cheers.) Sometimes upon questions of this kind one hesitates to dwell much because they are calculated to stir feelings which are very deep and profound. But everything which I have heard said or have read that has tried to justify that uprising itself is more than answered in the memories of Fish Creek, Cut Knife and Batoche. (Cheers.) I belong to this country. I was born in it. All my interests have been identified with it, and in my estimation—for perhaps you have to make allowance sometimes for the regard which a man has for the land of his birth—in my estimation always, and never more than now, the country stands immeasurably higher than party. (Applause.) And that which would have a tendency to array race against race or creed against creed, will always and everywhere have my most resolute opposition. If I should find another party doing or encouraging the things which I regret this hour, I shall just be as strongly opposed to it next year as I am against a certain party just now. (Cheers.) Here then I stand, I find leaders of political parties announcing certain principles and forming certain alliances, and upholding, as I do the opinions and convictions—some of which I have expressed—in regard to this, great temperence movement, the aggressions of the hierarchy, the attitude of parties towards the rebellion, and still more recently in regard to the secession movement in Nova Scotia—speaking for myself, and for myself only, I do not purpose to stand by a party which is allied with rum or romanism or rebellion. (Tremendous cheering.) Now then, is the other party going to be any better?

THAT TREMENDOUS REBELLION

We have on the one hand those who have been acting in a certain direction and have committed themselves to certain issues and certain alliances, and on the other hand those who repudiate those alliances and and repudiate the line of action which the other proposes to take. The question is just here, and what I want to get at especially is this. I am not particularly concerned whether the government is called Conservative or Liberal provided public business is done promptly and economically, and provided the great principles of civil and religious liberty are honestly and faithfully maintained. (Applause.) I think the surest way of securing that is to get into our Parliaments, both Provincial and Dominion, a sufficient number of thoroughly independent men, who, while they may have in a general way their political preferences and sympathies, will stand up in their place and say, party or no party we will stand by these, great principles, and if our party will not uphold them so much the worse for the party. (Cheers.)

The Rev. Dr. POTTS—Those of us who read Judge Elliott's letter—I think it appeared in the Mail of yesterday—can share some of the feelings of that brave man, who lost his son in the Northwest, and for those Frenchmen in the Province of Quebec who exalt Louis Riel into a hero and a martyr, and then, for political purposes, for men in the Province of Ontario to endorse their sentiments is utterly unworthy of the position of public men, and any party that will do it shall never have an iota of my sympathy or any vote that I can give. (Loud applause.) An opinion prevails generally throughout the Province that Romanism is encroaching unduly in Ontario. (Cheers.) That feeling is abroad; there are convictions abroad in relation to it. Now, I stand exactly with my friend Dr. Sutherland when I say, "I go for equal rights to all." (Great cheering.) I would not ask for my church anything that I would not give to the Roman Catholic Church, either in the Province of Quebec or in the Province of Ontario—(cheers)—but I tell you, Mr. Chairman, we will give them no more. (Loud cheers.) One sixth of the population of this province shall not, whether through Archbishop Lynch or any organization, control this fair Protestant Province of Ontario. (Prolonged cheering.) And I want you to remember, Mr. Chairman—I want the friends here to remember that if you should get into power and do the same thing, we will take you by the throat and put you out. (Laughter and cheers.) Country above party. (Prolonged applause.) Every man, whatever his views and convictions are, should have liberty of conscience and a fair share of all the rights and privileges of this British Dominion in which we live. God save the Queen. (Thunders of applause, in the midst of which Dr. Potts resumed his seat.)

The REV. DR. SHAW:—In the main the statements that have been made this evening are in accord with my convictions upon the subject. (Applause.) I may therefore say, as a gentleman associated with the celebrated Burke used to remark, after his utterances in Parliament—"I say ditto." With the reservation I have made, I say "ditto." I claim to be free from bigotry. There is nothing I detest and abhor more than intolerance. I believe the freedom we enjoy in this country, ought to be perpetuated. (Cheers.) I believe in the statement that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. I am sorry that there has been a good deal said upon certain questions that I cannot say I regard as others do; but straws show the direction in which the wind blows. The old fable says that when the camel got his head into the tent he got his body in afterwards. The best thing is an ounce of prevention and it will be better than a pound of remedy. I claim for others the liberty that I claim for myself. (Cheers.) I am in hearty accord with the idea that all classes of people should be allowed

PRECISELY THE SAME PRIVILEGES.

We ought not to make one law for one section and another law for the other. There can be no outcry "if this course" is pursued.

The Rev J. E. STARR (by letter.)—To the Chairman:

DEAR SIR,—I regret very exceedingly my inability to fulfil a partial promise to be present at the meeting to-night in Shaftesbury hall. Believing though, as I do, that it is the duty of Protestants to resist in every way the aggressions of the Romish Church, I wish your meeting success, and your candidates success at the polls.

Yours, etc.,

J. E. STARR.

Electors, mark your ballots, on the 28th December for CARNEGIE in the West Riding, and STEPHENSON in the East Riding

MR. MOWAT'S MISDEEDS

Described by a Strong Supporter When Outraged Beyond Endurance.

We have been told that it is unfair to accuse Mr. Mowat of gerrymandering, because he is too good to be guilty of such dishonesty. Well, this is the opinion that was expressed in October by that strong Reform journal, the Kingston Whig, in regard to Mr. Mowat for his dishonest treatment of that city:—

"It will never be said we opine, of either (Mr. Mackenzie or Sir Richard) that they promised a normal school, and like Hon. Oliver Mowat, bequeathed a common as an earnest of strong personal obligation. And as suredly they will not be accused of gerrymandering the constituency without a word of consultation with the men who habitually fight the local party battles, nor even after the unanimous and repeated rejection of their own interested proposition, of appointing an undeserving emblem of nepotism, personally unpopular and obnoxious, to worthily represent in an easy and lucrative office the family disregard of gratitude and public interest. No, it is not granted to places as small as Kingston to have more than one family of 'LITTLE TYRANTS.'"

AUSTRIA AND GERMANY.

BERLIN, Dec. 26.—A serious difference exists between the Cabinets of Vienna and Berlin. It is claimed Prince Bismarck is serving Russian designs without regard to the interests of Austria. Herr Von Tisza, the Hungarian Premier, it is stated, will soon hold a conference with Count Kalnoky, and will insist that the situation be cleared up, and that Prince Bismarck be asked to declare whether Germany is an ally of Russia or Austria-Hungary.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Dr. S. E. Sylvester, Portland, Me., says: "I have used it in nervous debility with most satisfactory results."

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1886.

To the Electors

OF THE

WEST RIDING

Of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—As, owing to the conduct of my opponent—Mr. J. R. Stratton—at the nomination on Tuesday last I was practically denied the usual opportunity of discussing the issues of the campaign in the presence of all parties—an opportunity never before denied the actual candidates in such contests in this county, I deem it expedient to adopt this method of placing before you my views on two of the most important questions at issue in this campaign.

The first of these questions, to which I shall refer, is that of the Separate School Law, as it now stands and as it effects taxpayers.

Under the Act of 1863 the actual payer of the rate, be he landlord or tenant, is the person who has a right to decide to which school the school tax on the property he represents shall go. Consequently the Roman Catholic landlord, who agrees with his Protestant tenant that he, not his tenant, shall pay the rates, has the right to send the taxes on a property leased to or occupied by a Protestant to the Separate School. And this right has been guaranteed to him by an Imperial Act, which cannot be interfered with by Provincial legislation. Hence, although an Act passed in 1881 by the Ontario Legislature declares that any agreement between landlord and tenant for the payment of the taxes by the landlord, shall be of no effect, and that the tenant shall, notwithstanding, be the person to say to which class of schools the school tax on the property occupied by him shall go, yet owing to the position in which the act of 1863 is placed, it is obvious that this latter act is null and void so far as the rights of the Roman Catholic landlord are concerned, and that as a consequence, while the Protestant landlord is bound by the act of 1881, the Roman Catholic landlord can still claim the right given him under the act of 1863, and by his contract with his Protestant tenant send the taxes to the Separate School despite the act of 1881. In my opinion all landlords and all tenants, whether Catholic or Protestant, should stand in precisely the same position with regard to this matter, and if honored with a renewal of your confidence, I shall deem it my duty to use my best efforts to have this law so amended as to bring about such a result.

The second question to which I desire to refer is that of the Bible in the Schools.

As I now understand this matter, and I take my information from the last report of the Minister of Education, the regulations now in force, and the instructions which have been given for the carrying out of the same, require that no Roman Catholic child shall be allowed to remain in a Public or High School while the scriptures are being read unless the parent or guardian of such child notifies the teacher that he desires such child to so remain. That being the case, it is obvious that whether the Bible or merely selections therefrom are to be used, is a matter which concerns Protestants and Protestants alone. Had our Roman Catholic fellow-citizens or their Bishops on their behalf ever come forward and expressed a willingness to have the children of their faith join with Protestant children in the reading of any portion of the Scriptures in the public schools, I would be willing to go a long way in order to bring about such a result, but until they do so, and in view of the fact that whenever it suits them to do so they are at liberty to have their own schools, and teach their own religious opinions, I am of the decided opinion that Protestants and Protestants alone should have the right to say what portions of the Bible should be read to their children.

Moreover, I am of opinion that where our Roman Catholic fellow-citizens have, as in Peterborough, withdrawn from our public schools, Protestants should have the right, as a simple matter of justice, to introduce into such public schools just as much of religious teaching as Protestants deem expedient, without any interference on the part of those who have withdrawn therefrom.

These, gentlemen, are my sentiments on these two important points, and I think they will commend themselves to all classes and creeds of the electors as being fair to all and unjust to none; but whether they do or not, I must frankly say that I hold them so strongly that I am prepared to go the length of breaking the political ties of a life time in order to have them carried out. Upon the proper education of our children and of those who are to come after us depends the future of our country, and, therefore, I hold this matter to be one of primary importance.

In conclusion, I would urge upon all who are in sympathy with my views the great importance of their going to the polls in order that no uncertain sound may be given on the 28th of this month.

Yours respectfully,

JOHN CARNEGIE.

For all kinds of Fruit call at Corson's.

WORK! WORK!

Before we go to press again the election or a representative in the Provincial Legislature will be virtually over.

While we feel confident of the result and that there are enough electors who prefer the policy of Mr. Meredith to that of Mr. Mowat, and would prefer to have Messrs. Carnegie and Stephenson for their representatives rather than Messrs. Blezard and Stratton to insure success, yet we would warn our friends against over confidence. There is a majority of the electors in favor of good government, but they will not count unless their ballots are marked. All those who are in favor of seeing the Mowat Administration made to give way for a better one should not only vote but see that their neighbors do so.

THE WORKINGMEN.

AMONG the attempts made by the Reformers to snatch a verdict in this election is a fly sheet circulated late on Friday in order that there may be little time to refute its misrepresentations addressed to the workingmen of our town. So gross, however, are these representations that they can do but little harm, since the workingmen well know how false they are.

Especial stress is laid in this document upon the injustice falsely asserted to have been shown to our own workingmen in regard to some local works. For instance, it is stated that the brick for the new post office was made at Belleville. It is well known to the bricklayers who were employed and through them to their friends, that these bricks were made here by Mr. Mark Curtis, and great credit they do him and his men. If it had been an Ontario public work perhaps Mr. Mowat would have had the bricks made by convict labor, as he has decided to do in the case of the new Parliament buildings.

Then again it is stated that the stone was procured from a distance. It is well-known that the larger portion of the stone was obtained near this town, only the smaller portion being bought from the contractor's own quarry, and even that was cut in town by local stone cutters.

Of the same nature is the statement that the labour on the Post Office and for the work at Buckhorn, Fenelon Falls and Burleigh was brought in from outside. Advertisements were inserted in the local papers, and all the local labour offered was accepted, none being imported that could be procured on the spot. On the Post Office there were only two strangers employed, who had previously served the contractor, and whom he therefore wished to employ here.

We will not weary our readers with a refutation of the other allegations of this Reform campaign sheet, but their character can be judged by these mistatements as to local matters.

Such attempts to falsify the popular verdict only show how completely those who use despair of success on the merits of their public policy or private qualification.

Electors, mark your ballots, on the 28th December for CARNEGIE in the West Riding, and STEPHENSON in the East Riding.

JUDGE BY THEIR ACTIONS.

If there are any electors who are still hesitating how to mark their ballots they should find no difficulty in arriving at a decision if they take a calm survey of the recent campaign.

In the first place we have the standard bearer of Mr. Mowat announcing at the eleventh hour his adhesion to some of the most important planks in Mr. Meredith's platform, and his condemnation therefore of the opposite policy in these respects of Mr. Mowat. And this is no exhibition of independence, of forming a judgment for himself, since Mr. Stratton has hitherto censured Mr. Carnegie for the very course he says he would himself adopt, and lauded Mr. Mowat for what he now declares to be wrong. It is an evident concession on Mr. Stratton's part to public opinion, and therefore is a plain confession that the Conservatives were right and the Reformers wrong as to these issues, or st least that the people thinks so. Of course if Mr. Stratton were returned he could not modify by his one vote the party policy, and therefore to elect him would merely be to aid to maintain in office an administration opposed to an admittedly sound policy on some of the most important questions effecting the welfare of the people.

There is another manner in which electors still undecided may judge on which side of the controversy is the right. On the Conservative side they find open, manly, consistent declarations by lip and pen of the policy advocated, a frank invitation to a full discussion, a fairness of conduct and a repetition of the same expressions of policy to all men and in all places. On the Reform side they find a shunning of open discussion, a dishonest silencing of an opponent at the nomination by planned reading against time, repudiation of the policy hitherto supported by the candidate, an importation of different stump speakers to tell their different tales in different localities, and generally an effort to influence votes by tricky, inconsistent, light-shunning appeals varied to suit each case. On the Reform side also they have seen a swarm of officials of all kinds using their influence and joining in the contest in the most open way, from the License Inspector down to the Police Magistrate.

From the mere conduct of the campaign it is easy to see on which side is the good cause.

O'GRADY ON MR. OLIVER'S SCHOOL.

Tommy, one of the boys of Mr. Oliver's school, is around here telling how that he has found a mare's nest with a golden egg worth $6,000,000 in it. This is the same that the Newmarket Era discovered a while agone, and everyone was puzzled to know where it could be. But the REVIEW man let the "cat out of the bag" when he said it was in the woods and forests. Tim P—dee, Sam Peck, and some more of the bad boys at Mr. Oliver's academy knew where the nest was too; so they made a raid on it and hooked the egg and sucked it. Then says Tim, lets throw the shell over into the playground of old Jack's school and the people will think it was some of his youngsters did the job. Wait, Tommy says, till I see Mr. Oliver about this matter, as it concerns us a good deal in this section of the country. But when I mentioned it to Mr. Oliver he raised his hands in holy horror at the idea of the boys at the moral school sucking nest eggs. But, sir, says I, the egg is gone nest and all. Well, Mr. O'Grady, says he, it must be those immoral boys at Old Union Jack's school that did the trick, for was not the empty shell found in their playground just over the fence. Oh, those boys of old John's are an immoral and wicked lot. Do you not know how a short time since they they attempted to corrupt two of my most promising pupils—young Johnny Dowling and Mickey McKim. And by-the-bye, sir, says I, talking of McKim, have you a gorsoon here by the name of Lynch. He hesitated, and after a while said no; well but yes, it is a case of charity, and I have'nt put him on the roll for regular attendance. Charity did you say Mr. Oliver? Sure he wasn't in need of charity when he was loaded down with money to give the boys when they signed the round robin. "But he disappeared?" says I. "He did," says he, with a smile and a wink. "I understand now," says I, "'tis like the game of now you see him and now you don't see him. And say Mr. Oliver, do you know a big boy in your parts by the name of Johnny Mack, a pretty boy, so the girls say." "Be charitable Mr. O'Grady," says he "'tis human nature, human nature." "That's a fine team he is driving now," says I. "What says he?" "Why Home Rule and Loyalty," says I. "They get their legs over the pole occasionally trying to kick each other, I'm afraid there will be an accident before long." "Never mind, Mr. O'Grady," says he. "If Johnny hasn't the backbone to drive them their isn't a boy in the school has". "But I must be going Mr. Oliver, good bye Sir." "Good bye to you, Mr. O'Grady," says he.

MIDLAND BATALLION! ATTENTION! STAND AT EASE!

I hear that Mr. Laurier was in Peterboro' wid his musket but it hung fire and he didn't slaughter many on that occasion. My opinion is that if he ever hurts anyone it will be with the same weapon that Sampson used on the Philistines, and Edward Blake must have lost his high appreciation of water communication since the time he was going to give us a ride on C. P. R. Pullman cars through Lakes Huron and Superior and land us safe and dry on a prairie farm in the Northwest. The Grits round are jubilant thinking I am dismissed or deceased not having heard from me for so long that they go about lilting the tune "Old Dan's in Purgatory."

DAN. O'GRADY.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

MR. MEREDITH'S VIEWS.

Follow in the Good Track of the Mother Land.

The following is an extract from a public address delivered by Mr. Meredith at Hamilton last week:—

"In reference to the Bible, I think that occasionally there is more irreverence than there ought to be. I am not here to discuss the advisability of the selections that are made. What I maintain is that in the Public Schools of this country, where under the regulations no Roman Catholic child is called upon to take part in the services, the open Bible of this Protestant country ought to be placed before it. From every pulpit in the land, from every man that looks to see what is going on around him, you hear the cry that infidelity is on the increase in Canada, and perhaps throughout the whole land, and there is not so much respect for that great Book of Books as there was in days gone by, and I say that it would be a great mistake if we did not inculcate upon our children a love for God's Word, or to teach them that any portion of the word of God that proceeded out of His mouth is not fit to be placed before them. (Cheers.) The establishment of such a doctrine as that would do more to produce infidelity in this country than anything else that could be done. Let us follow in the track of what has been productive of so much good in the Mother Land, and let us be a Bible reading people. (Cheers.)

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1886.

THE LESSONS FOR THE DAY.

BECAUSE some clergymen of the Church of England have done what they felt to be their duty by protesting against the mutilation of the Holy Bible, they are thus attacked by the Rev. Dr. Dewart in the Christian Guardian, in pursuance of that political partizanship which he has displayed so markedly of late. He says:—

"The Guardian's contention is, that if the reading of portions of the Scriptures in the schools out of any other book than the Bible dishonors and excludes the Bible, the Protestant Church of England does this very thing, for it reads the Scripture lessons in its services out of a book which contains Scripture selections, and not from the whole Bible. If all men repudiate the idea that the Church of England has dishonored the Bible by this course, such a charge cannot lie against the Scripture Readings."

This is altogether inaccurate. In the great Anglican Branch of the Church Catholic, with its many millions of members, the Bible is read without mutilation. The lessons for the day are read, not from a book of selections, but from the Holy Bible itself. The whole of the New Testament is read within the year, most of it several times. The Old Testament almost in its entirety is also read within the year. The book of Psalms is read each month.

The practice of reading fixed portions of the Scripture at fixed times may be objectionable or acceptable to various minds, as they may be constituted, but it is a very different thing from mutilating the Scriptures, by designedly cutting out passages inculcating most important truths of Divine teaching.

If Dr. Dewart is not aware of these facts, which are not difficult of access as they are to be found in any prayer book of the Church of England or of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, he should not write upon the subject. His ignorance, in regard to it, could have been so easily removed, that it is a poor excuse for forming and expressing a harsh and unfounded judgment in respect to ministers of the Gospel in the exercise of what they hold to be their duty.

We are convinced that the great body of Methodists will not approve of the readiness of Dr. Dewart to misrepresent these Church of England ministers, at the same time that he misrepresents the fairness and justice of the overwhelming majority of Methodists by thus shutting his eyes to facts immediately before him, as if blinded by his political partizanship.

LIBERALS AND THE TARIFF.

The Conservative candidate for South Wellington, Mr. Charles Raymond, a leading sewing machine manufacturer of Guelph, was a pronounced Liberal until a few years ago. The story of his conversion, as told by himself the other evening, is interesting and instructive.

"He said that previous to 1878 there were in this city three bitter Grits who were at the head of some of our industries. He referried to Messrs. Bell, Goldie and himself. We rejoiced when Mr. Mackenzie took the reins as premier of the country, and expected that we should have good government; but as his Government progressed we found that our capital was falling away, our trade relations were such that the Americans could come in and trade freely, and the result was that over half of our customers had been captured by these manufacturers on the other side. This state of things was something that we could not endure. Under the circumstances we called together the manufacturers of the country and tried to see what could be done. I had faith in the Reform Government. I went with a delegation to Mr. Mackenzie, and we were met by the members of the Cabinet. They told us we did not know what we wanted. Mr. Bell went with another delegation and was told that they were foolish to think that they could legislate business into their hands. Mr. Goldie went with another delegation, and he was met at the door by Sir Richard Cartwright and told that he need not go there to bother them. You can understand what would be the effect upon manufacturers. They had another meeting, and the result was that almost the whole of the manufacturers of Canada were drawn into opposition to the Mackenzie Government, and when the Conservatives were returned to power we found that our customers were being gradually drawn back to us. Now, I ask you, gentlemen, was this a selfish motive to save these industries to Guelph? If it was not for these industries, what would Guelph be to-day? These three industries have paid since that date more than $2,000,000 to the workingmen of this city. If we had allowed these industries to fall, would you not have suffered to a great extent?"

MR. DAVIDSON SPEAKS

And Supports the Statement of Mr. Kendry—He Exposes False Reports.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I exceedingly regret the course which the Examiner newspaper has adopted in regard to the matter between Mr. Bertram and Mr. Kendry, as it is calculated to place me in a false position. No one I think will accuse me of any leaning towards Toryism. I have been a Liberal all my life and a supporter of every Liberal candidate for the last quarter of a century, but it does not seem to have occurred to the writer in the Examiner that the declaration is a joint one and when he rails at one of the deponents he rails at both but no amount of abuse can alter the facts. It comes to be simply a question of veracity between those two gentlemen. Mr. Kendry states that Mr. Bertram made certain statements publicly in the Auburn Woolen company's office in regard to stumping this county and going into Mariposa to oppose the Mowat Government and also that he, Bertram, spoke in anything but respectful or complimentary terms of the Catholics. Now as I was present and heard the whole thing, and as Mr. Bertram says its a lie—I cannot stand quietly by and see Mr. Kendry (even if he is a Conservative) abused in the disreputable manner the Examiner, in its issue of Friday last, did without entering my protest, and I say again and once for all that the declaration is true in every particular, and I say further that there was no privacy about the matter, and further that the statement of the Examiner, to the effect that one of the lawyers to whom Mr. Kendry and I went to have the affadavit drawn said he did not believe it—is false, the whole article in the Examiner being a lame attempt to get out of a bad business.

Yours, &c.,
J. IRVINE DAVIDSON.

THE POST OFFICE BRICKS.

Another Falsehood Exposed—Trying to Injure a Local Industry.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR:—In a fly sheet scattered about town on Friday and Saturday advising people to vote for Mr. J. R. Stratton, I see the following:—"Workingmen, resent by your votes the action of the Conservative Government in importing bricks for the Post Office building from Belleville, when Peterborough workmen can make better brick at home."

Now, if all the statements in this fly sheet are like this, they are a pack of lies. Every brick in the new post office was made in my yards.

I consider it an injury to me to have any one to attribute my acknowledged good workmanship to Belleville workers or any other body, and whoever got that sheet out either knows nothing of what he is talking about or he is trying to injure a Peterborough industry of long standing.

Yours truly,
MARK CURTIS.

FRANTIC.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—It seems to me that the nearer the election approaches the more frantic the Mowat Government becomes in trying to catch votes. I find the following in the Examiner the other day:—

PETERBOROUGH, Dec. 22nd, 1886.

John O'Brien, Esq., Secretary Assembly 6,952 Knights of Labor:

DEAR SIR,—I have been requested by the Ontario Government to suggest an intelligent and judicious person to collect statistics of labor and wages in Peterborough this year. I would be pleased if the Knights of Labor of this vicinity would nominate a fit and proper person to perform the duties, as out of your body a fully capable man can be easily selected, and one who will have the full confidence of the order. Kindly attend to this matter at once and bring it before the proper authorities, and oblige,

Yours truly,
J. R. STRATTON,

P.S.—I will be glad to assist any person you may appoint in the performance of his duties. J. R. S.

If the Mowat Government would stop spending the hard earned money of the workingmen of this Province in bringing in emigrants to compete against them, or if they would give our brick yards an order for brick for the new Parliament buildings instead of bringing convict labor to compete against them, it would go farther with us workingmen. Actions speak louder than words.

Yours truly,
A WORKINGMAN.

WHEN Mr. Blake was here he stated that it was right to submit the Bible selections to Archbishop Lynch because there were 50,000 Roman Catholic children in our public schools. He omitted to state that the regulations of the department having the force of law, issued subsequently to the publication, required each teacher to dismiss Roman Catholic pupils unless there is a written application for them to remain during the reading.

THE place to buy your blaket suit is at the Golden Lion.

Masonic Sermon.

A sermon to the Masonic body of Peterborough was preached by the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, in St. Luke's Church on Sunday. The brethren in attendance numbered about one hundred. The Rector dealt with Freemasonry under three heads, its history, its advantages and benefits, and the accusations made against it. The discourse was very interesting.

The annual Sunday School Christmas festival in connection with St. Luke's Church will be held on Wednesday evening next in the Church school room, Ashburnham.

Dramatic.

The Woodward Company drew large houses at Bradburn's Opera House on Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon. The bills presented were filled to the satisfaction of everybody.

Mr. Davidson's Letter.

The letter in the Reform candidate's organ in reference to Mr. Kendry will have no weight, being falsely signed and without the name of the writer. Mr. J. I. Davidson's denial is conclusive and he is not afraid to affix his name to it.

How to Vote.

Those in favor of good government, a policy of progress, economical administration and equal justice, should mark their ballots on Tuesday as below:—

1	CARNEGIE, (John Carnegie, of the town of Peterborough, County of Peterborough, Publisher.)	X
2	STRATTON, (James R. Stratton, of the town of Peterborough, County of Peterborough, Publisher.)

THE WHOLE BIBLE.

Another Clergyman on the Selections—Attacks on the Scriptures Repelled.

The Rev. J. P. Lewis, of Grace Church, Toronto, preached a sermon on Sunday on "The Bible in the Schools," from which the following extracts are taken:—

His personal view with reference to the question was that the Bible—the whole Bible—should be in our Public Schools. He believed this Book, the whole of this Book, was essential to the welfare, to the stability, to the prosperity, to the greatness of the Dominion in which we live. * * * There was not a thread, a warp or woof in the Empire in which there were not to be found the sacred fibres of the Word of God. Take that Book out of the British Empire to-day, and very soon that Empire would be like a body without bones. Garibaldi said of it, "The Bible is the cannon that made England free," and the Queen acknowledged it to be the secret of England's greatness. His first reason for holding that this book should be in the Public schools, therefore, was that it was the very foundation of the greatness, permanence and excellence of the Empire in which we live. He believed further that the Bible, the whole Bible, should be in our Public schools, because it was God's great gift to our race. * * * With regard to the relations of the Book to the children, he held that as God had given the sunlight and the pure air, so he had given this Book; and no one had any more right to withhold any portion of the Book than he had to deprive the children of the sunlight or the air. No two men were mentally alike, no two approached any truth in precisely the same manner. The passage of Scripture which to one was like a golden gate opening into the shining way was to another a closed door. If, therefore, any portion of the Scriptures was taken away, it was just possible that the very portion suitable to a particular person might be among the passages eliminated. * * * * * * * * He was opposed to the volume further because he regarded it as an irreverent presentation of Scripture truth. If the name of each book were inserted so that the child could readily see from what book of Scripture he was reading, it also the chapter and verse were there so that the child would know that the selections were of a fragmentary character and that there was some other book from which these were taken, the objection would not be so strong. But there was nothing to indicate that there was another book, and the danger was that a child might grow up under the delusion that this was God's complete revelation, if, indeed, it was a revelation at all

Advice to Consumptives.

On the appearance of the first symptoms—as general debility, loss of appetite, pallor, chilly sensations, followed by night-sweats and cough—prompt measures for relief should be taken. Consumption is scrofulous disease of the lungs—therefore use the great anti-scrofula or blood purifier and strength restorer—Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Superior to cod liver oil as a nutritive, and unsurpassed as a pectoral. For weak lungs, spitting of blood and kindred effections, it has no equal. Sold by druggists the world over. For Dr. Pierce's treatise on consumption, send ten cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE SURPLUS A MYTH.

The Advertiser's report of the nomination at Goderich contains the following:—

"The Provincial Treasurer proved that Ontario had a surplus of $6,000,000, bringing in an annual interest of $3,295, and said that while the Government could get 5 per cent. for its money, it did not object to make small loans at 4½ per cent. and save the Province the ¾ per cent." (Loud cheers.)

If the proof of the existence of this large surplus was the amount of interest received, then it is quite clear that Mr. Ross failed to make out a case. The sum of $3,295 would be the interest on but $65,900 at the rate named. Then again, if the Government could get five per cent. for its money, and let it out for 4½, it is very hard to see where the saving comes in for the Province. It is quite clear that the Government loses three-quarters per cent., or $45,000 annually on the alleged surplus. The fact is that the public accounts very clearly prove that a surplus of any very large proportions is mythical. On page twelve of the public accounts of the year 1885, it is shown that interest on investments amounted to but $50,284 which would represent a principal of $1,005,680. It is also beyond dispute that these investments have been growing less, for in 1881 the amount realized as interest was $82,156. It is true that as a matter of book-keeping the Ontario Government claim that interest to the amount of $279,111 is due them, in some obscure way, by the Dominion, but the sum which they receive annually on what they actually have has been growing less and less every year. The ordinary business man would ask, with these figures before him:—Why is it, if the Ontario Government has a surplus, that they need to go into debt for a large sum to carry on the Provincial machinery?—London Free Press.

EXPRESS CAR ROBBERY.

Two Bars of Silver Mysteriously Abstracted from a Missouri Pacific Train.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 28.—When the Kirkwood accommodation train on the Missouri Pacific road reached Cheltenham, one of the suburbs of this city, last evening, seven bars of silver were put into the Pacific Express Company's car, but when the express matter was taken from the car some time after the train arrived here, only five bars could be found. The car was robbed while it was standing in the Union depot yards, but there is no clue to the robbers. The silver was shipped by the St. Louis Smelting and Refining Company, and was consigned to the Third National Bank of Philadelphia. The bars were valued at $2,000.

CAMPBELLFORD.

A MONSTER FROM THE FOREST.—One day last week, Mr. Thos. Blute received by rail a female or cow moose deer weighing 500 pounds. It was shot by a settler in the country about 24 miles north-east of Haliburton, about ten days ago, and at that time weighed 700 pounds. Its mate has been killed and will be sent here also. They were secured by Mr. P. Conway, a former resident of Campbellford. Mr. Blute intends to have the head of the animal mounted. A moose was shot in Muskoka, last fall, that weighed 1200 pounds. The meat is as rich as good beef, and the hide makes excellent gloves, very much superior to the gloves made from the common deer.—Herald.

Prince Edward Island.

MONTREAL, Dec. 27.—Premier Sullivan, of Prince Edward Island, stated yesterday that there is no foundation for the assertion that a secession sentiment exists in that province.

SESSION POSTPONED.

LONDON Dec. 27.—It is understood the opening of Parliament has been postponed for a fortnight.

A CELEBRITY GONE.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Rev. Dr. Herzog, Roman Catholic Bishop of Breslau, is dead.

A CONFERENCE.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Lord Hartington will have a conference with Lord Salisbury on Tuesday.

A RECOVERY.

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—The Bourse here last week was depressed, but at the close became firmer and a more confident feeling prevailed.

GREAT SNOWSTORM.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—The severest snowstorm ever known in Great Britain has been sweeping England during the past twenty-four hours and still continues. Trains on all the roads have been blocked and travel in many instances has been entirely suspended. The telegraph wires in every direction are prostrated and for a period of several hours London was entirely cut off from communication with the outside world. Only meagre accounts from near-by stations of the damage wrought have been received.

COUNTY NOMINATIONS.

SMITH.

All the members of the old Council were re-elected by acclamation. They are:—Reeve, Michael Sanderson; Deputy Reeve, —T. E. Fitzgerald; Councillors,—Jas. Middleton, H. Garbutt and W. McIlmoyl.

OMEMEE—Reeve, Dr. Cornwall.

PORT HOPE—Mayor, J. P. Clemes, by acclamation.

TORONTO—For Mayor, W. H. Howland and David Blain.

NORWOOD.

NEARLY CRUSHED.—Mr. John Kelly, who resides near this village on the Belmont road, met with a serious accident in Pearce's lumber shanty near Keene on Friday last. He was engaged in skidding logs when a large stick suddenly rolled down, striking the handspike which he was using and crushing him severely. He was brought to Norwood and placed under medical treatment. He will recover.

SHEEP.—On Friday night Mr. James Greenbanks, of this village, had four sheep killed by dogs, and Mr. George Ford, of Asphodel, had two killed. Mr. James Raddon has also had a number of sheep killed during this and last month by dogs. The township council should make good the losses.

A BROKEN LEG.—On Thursday night last Mrs. Wm. Goodridge, of this village, had the misfortune to fall down stairs, breaking one of her legs and sustaining other injuries. Under skillful medical treatment she is slowly recovering from the effects of the accident.

A HARD KICK.—As a son of Mr. Thomas Cuthbertson's of this village, was engaged in feeding a vicious horse the other day, the animal kicked him, breaking a leg and otherwise injuring him. He will be "laid up" for several months.

A Double Tragedy.

MITCHELL, Dec. 27.—On Saturday afternoon John Daw, an old settler, living in the outskirts of the town, was gored to death by a bull. His wife, running out to the barnyard and seeing the bleeding form of her husband on the ground, fell dead. They leave a large grown-up family.

An Important Judgment.

OTTAWA, Dec. 27.—Mr. Justice Henry today, in the Exchequer Court, delivered judgment in the several British Columbia cases upon which he took evidence last summer. The case of the Queen v. Farwell was taken, as the decision in this would cover the others. Mr. Farwell claimed the right to a certain parcel of mineral lands which the Province of British Columbia had granted to the Dominion Government in aid of the Canadian Pacific railway on the mainland. His Lordship holds that there has not been a legal transfer of the lands to the Dominion Government, the province not having in its statute properly described and located the lands—in other words, the judgment declares that the grant of lands by British Columbia to the Dominion in aid of the Canadian Pacific railway is void and inoperative.

INVITING ATTACK.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The towns of Liege and Namur, Belgium, have sent a petition to the Government asking that the ancient citadels at these places be demolished. The petitioners say that in the event of an invasion the citadels would furnish a pretext for a bombardment while they would be useless for defence.

RUMOURS OF WAR.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times says Austrian statesmen declare that the maintenance of peace is entirely dependent upon the actions of the Czar, and as he drinks delirium tremens may at any time cause him to commit an act of folly which would precipitate a war. Austria must be ready for such a contingency.

THE DANGER OF SLIDING.

TORONTO, Dec. 26.—A serious accident happened, yesterday afternoon, to a thirteen year old son of Dr. Thomas at the Riverdale toboggan slide. His toboggan collided with a tree stump and he was thrown violently forward, his left arm and leg being broken, besides receiving othe injuries, which, however, it is thought will not prove fatal.

CHAMBERLAIN ON HOME RULE.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain has written a letter to Mr. Haslam, a Lancashire magistrate, and a Radical, in which he again defines his position on Irish Home Rule. He says he is in favor only of the extension of local self-government to Ireland. He thus regains the position where he was before his Birmingham speech, which seemed to indicate a partial readiness to change it. The Tories are a good deal disappointed at this, for they would like him to separate definitely from Lord Hartington and the Unionists. They think they would be more likely to be able to effect a permanent union with the moderate Liberals if he should desert them and return to the Liberal fold and the Gladstonite party.

FRENCH IN MADAGASCAR.

PARIS, Dec. 26.—The French Minister resident in Madagascar complains of overwork and ill-health, and asks to be relieved of his post, or at least to be granted a furlough. He advises that the decoration of the Legion of Honor be conferred upon the Queen of Madagascar, who, he says, notwithstanding political rumors, desires amicable relations with France.

OPPOSED TO HARTINGTON.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Though private gossip interprets the political situation to be unchanged, it is known that the bulk of the Conservatives are opposed to Lord Hartington to be the successor of Lord Randolph Churchill and wish to maintain a purely Conservative Cabinet, holding that the vacancy in the ministry should be filled by one of their own number. Mr. Chamberlain's recent speech at Birmingham, has greatly impressed the Home Rulers with the prospect of a reunion of the Liberal party.

BUDDHIST PRIESTS.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—A number of Buddhist priests have visited General Roberts and offered their assistance in the pacification of Burmah.

FISHERY TROUBLES.

PARIS, Dec. 26.—The Temps says the owner of a French fishing smack at St. Brieux is suing the English Government for indemnity for losses which he claims to have suffered by the action of the Newfoundland people, who prevented him from fishing off the north coast of that province.

THE CZAR SCARED.

VIENNA, Dec. 26.—The Pesther Lloyd says the Czar's fear of the Nihilists is excessive. He is suspicious of everybody with whom he comes in contract, including even his wife and children.

SCHOOLBOY SOLDIERS.

PARIS, Dec. 26.—There is a noticeable movement to form battalions of schoolboys. A number of mayors of arrondissements have begun enlisting youths of from 16 to 20 years of age, forming companies equivalent to the regular militia. They are armed with chassepots. One corps already has 500 members. They take their rifles home with them instead of depositing them in the arsenal after drilling.

A WARLIKE MEASURE.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Prince Nicholas, of Montenegro, has called out 35,000 troops. They will be armed with repeating rifles.

THE IMPERIAL CABINET.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—There is the highest authority for stating that Lord Salisbury has telegraphed to Lord Hartington inviting him to join the Ministry, but nothing definite will be known in response until he returns from Rome. Mr. Goschen is spoken of as Chancellor of the Exchequer and Mr. Matthews, the Home Secretary, who is understood to be in sympathy with Lord Randolph Churchill, will likely retire from the Cabinet and will be given a judgeship.

TREASON PUNISHED.

SOFIA, Dec. 27.—Two officers and two cadets, convicted of conspiracy against the Bulgarian Regency, were sentenced to-day, the former to two months' imprisonment each and the latter two years' imprisonment.

THE EXPLORER.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Mr. Henry M. Stanley, the explorer, is still in London. He will start on Thursday for Zanzibar. It is asserted he has declined an offer of $400,000 to return to America and complete his lecturing tour.

ARMING.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Prince Nicholas of Montenegro, has called out 35,000 troops. They will be armed with repeating rifles.

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—It is semi-officially stated the report that Germany and Russia have reached an agreement concerning Bulgaria is untrue.

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1886.

THE POPULAR VERDICT.

In La Minerve of Dec. 23rd we find republished a column of figures by which we proved, after the general election of 1883, that Mr. Mowat had a minority of the electoral vote though by means of his dishonest gerrymandering he had obtained a majority of supporters in the House. We gave, after considerable trouble, the full figures of the votes as officially declared, distributing them according to the political sympathies of the candidate, and when there was no party contest going back to the figures of the previous election. By this incontrovertible method we showed that the majority of votes against Mr. Mowat was 2145. Our figures were republished by the Mail and many other Ontario journals, and now it is curious to see them facing us again in La Minerve, in order to throw light upon the present contest. No Reform journal ventured an attempt to dispute our figures at the time, though they were so widely circulated.

When we wrote in 1883 we were demonstrating the effect of Mr. Mowat's gerrymandering in 1874, to evolve a legislative majority out of a popular minority. Since then Mr. Mowat has repeated this dishonest device and has again gerrymandered in his own favor a large proportion of the constituencies so as to increase his unfair advantage. Mr. Mowat is like a gambler sitting down to play a game for which he has previously loaded the dice or packed the cards.

Now as before Mr. Mowat dare not appeal to the fair and honest verdict of public opinion. He knows that the popular verdict would be against him and endeavors to procure it by chicanery.

AN OBVIOUS DEFECT.

INDEPENDENTLY of any question as to a general widening of the franchise, the canvassing for the present election has shown one very aggravating, indefensible and unjust effect of the present system. The endeavour to carry out the theory of "one man one vote" has led to restrictions that deprive of any vote a considerable number of worthy and capable citizens. The removal of residence often causes a man who still holds property, who still is earning an income, who still is industriously helping to build up our country, of any voice in the management of its public affairs because he has moved from one home to another. There are several cases where a simple change of residence from Peterborough to Ashburnham, or from Ashburnham to Peterborough, without any other alteration in the status of the person interested, has deprived him of a vote in either locality as completely as if he had been removed instead to a penitentiary or a lunatic asylum.

This is such an obvious absurdity, so flagrantly unjust, that one of the very earliest steps of the new Legislature should be to remedy it at once. Even if a general measure is contemplated, this should not prevent the immediate adoption of a temporary provision restoring the franchise immediately to those who are thus robbed of it, so that even in the case of a bye-election they should be given a voice in the affairs of the country.

MORE PARTIALITY.

The Reform Newmarket Era gives another instance of the apparent impossibility of Mr. G. W. Ross acting impartially as Minister of Education. The Era says:—

"There is nothing like a spirited election contest to bring to light the inner workings of the machinery of government—a remark which applies alike to Parliamentary and Municipal administration. During the present Provincial Assembly contest the Department of Education is coming in for its full share of attention. Among other things it is now charged, (and we have not observed its contradiction), that the Minister of Education, through undue pressure has consented to exempt all candidates who wrote for High Schools at the Entrance Examinations in the County of Peel in June last, and who may wish to write at the December examination, from taking the subjects upon which they made fifty per cent. or over; and that the marks which they made on such subjects shall be credited to them at the said December examination. The result of this decision of the Minister of Education is, that it will give all such candidates the advantage of being able to devote all their energies for the couple of months previous to the examination, to those studies in which they were found previously deficient and weak. The wrong, however, does not consist so much in the concession per se, but rather in the partiality that gives to candidates in Peel advantages not extended to other counties. If the privilege was granted to Peel, why not to York and all the other counties of Ontario? The same rule should apply all over the Province. The action implies a favoritism of suspicious and hurtful character."

NORWOOD.

THE LOCAL TAXES.—Tax collector Calder reports that notwithstanding the reported stringency in the money market the local taxes have been paid up to date to a larger extent than for a number of years, and that only a small proportion remains uncollected. Jim understands the business thoroughly.

COUNCIL MEETING.—A meeting of the village Council was held in the council chamber on Monday evening. There were present, councillors Harper, Reddon and Finlay. The Reeve being absent, Mr. John Finlay acted as chairman. Beyond ordering the payment of several accounts, no business of importance was transacted.

MUNICIPAL.—It is said that Mr. John Finlay will be a candidate for the reeveship of Norwood. Mr. Hugh Spence will ask the support of the electors for a seat at the council board.—Register.

SHADOWED FOR SIX WEEKS

Arrest of a Supposed Accomplice in the St. Louis Express Robbery.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 25.—Oscar Cook, a cooper, was arrested in a gambling house in the north eastern part of this city this afternoon on suspicion of complicity in the Cummings express robbery near St. Louis two months ago. A Pinkerton detective, it is said, has been here for six weeks shadowing Cook. The officials are reticent, and the nature of Cook's alleged connection with the robbery is not known. It is reported that "Cummings," so called, and Cook were once on intimate terms while living in Leavenworth, Kas. Cook is about 25 years of age and has a wife here, having lived here about two years. He has been idle for about four months, yet has been spending money quite freely of late. One supposition is that if the above reports are true Cummings may have given him money though he had no actual participation in the robbery. A copy of a St. Louis paper containing a full account of the robbery was found in Cook's trunk. He was taken to St. Louis by the Wabash train to-night. The charge entered against him is "larceny."

Cook has been idle but two months, and was at work in the Kansas City distillery cooper shops on the day of the robbery, therefore he could not have been an active participant. The local newspapers say that the police authorities believe the alleged Cummings is identical with one Fred Whiterock, formerly a book-keeper for a firm in Leavenworth. Cook declared that Whiterock has not been here recently, while his brother stated that Whiterock was here three weeks ago and stayed five days at Oscar's house. Whiterock has a wife in Chicago, and on Nov. 3rd Cook visited that city, though he gave out here that his trip was to Leavenworth. He has been watched here for about two weeks. A month ago he displayed $500 in a saloon here and has since been squandering money. The description of Whiterock is said to correspond exactly with that of the reputed robber.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The Times say Lord Randolph Churchill's resignation will do more for economic reform in one year than his administration would have been able to do in a dozen years.

S. SHANNON,
Ashburnham

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

A PERPETUAL MENACE.

England and Her Colonies Able to Defy the Associated Powers.

LONDON, Dec. 23.—The Right Hon. Edward Clark, Q. C., Solicitor-General, made a stirring speech in the city to-night. Referring to the mad rivalry of the continental nations in increasing their armies and armaments, he said that the standing armies of Europe were a scandal and a disgrace to civilization and a perpetual menace to the peace of the world. They were an intolerable burden to the toiling people, and at the present time, when diplomatic relations were strained, they were exciting the nations of Europe and their augmentations portended an early disturbance of peace. Her Majesty's Government, he said, were endeavoring to assuage the jealousies of the powers and to avert that frightful calamity, a European war. England would not embark on reckless and adventurous experiments, but would always defend the interests and honor of the country. Not in great standing armies did England find her chief strength, but as the guardian of the liberties of Europe she would have the support of Australia, Canada and her kinsmen in the United States. There was nothing to fear, for if England had to embark in a war she would find in her distant colonies and dependencies a strength that would enable her, even if unsupported by allies, to defy the associated powers of Europe.

Advice to Consumptives.

On the appearance of the first symptoms—as general debility, loss of appetite, pallor, chilly sensations, followed by night-sweats and cough—prompt measures for relief should be taken. Consumption is scrofulous disease of the lungs—therefore use the great anti-scrofula or blood purifier and strength restorer—Dr Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Superior to cod liver oil as a nutritive, and unsurpassed as a pectoral. For weak lungs, spitting of blood and kindred effections, it has no equal. Sold by druggists the world over. For Dr. Pierce's treatise on consumption, send ten cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

AYER'S PILLS

CURE HEADACHE.

Headaches are usually induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, and may be easily cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. Mrs. Mary A. Scott, Portland, Me., writes: "I had suffered dreadfully from Sick Headache, and thought myself incurable. Disorder of the stomach caused it. Ayer's Pills cured me entirely."

CURE BILIOUSNESS.

John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebr., writes: "I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice. I was so dangerously ill, that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. I feel certain that I owe my recovery to your invaluable Pills."

CURE INDIGESTION.

Ayer's Pills act directly on the digestive and assimilative organs, influencing healthful action, imparting strength, and eradicating disease. G. W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T., writes: "I have suffered from Dyspepsia and Liver troubles for years past. I found no permanent relief, until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, which have effected a complete cure."

CURE RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is among the most painful of the disorders arising from vitiated blood and derangement of the digestive and biliary organs. Ayer's Pills relieve and cure Rheumatism when other remedies fail. S. M. Spencer, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was confined to my bed, with Rheumatism, three months, but, after using a few boxes of Ayer's Pills, became a well man."

CURE GOUT.

S. Lansing, Yonkers, N. Y., writes. "Recommended to me as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me not only from that trouble, but also from Gout. If every victim of the disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. Those words would be, 'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

CURE PILES.

Piles are induced by habitual constipation, debility, indigestion, or a morbid condition of the liver. A cure is best effected by the use of Ayer's Pills. John Lazarus, St. John, N. B., writes: "I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only cured me of that disagreeable disorder, but gave me new life and health."

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1886.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

For Ladies Only.

All ladies willing to assist in the New Year's reception in the Young Men's Christian Association rooms are invited to send in their contributions before two o'clock on New Year's Day.

No. Three Ward.

The seconder of Mr. A. Rutherford for Councillor was Mr. William Detcher, and the seconder of Mr. W. H. Moore was Mr. Wm. Bradburn, not Messrs. Belcher and Redmond as was reported.

Midnight Service.

The usual midnight service in connection with St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, will be held on New Year's Eve, commencing at 11.30 a. m. Cards bearing mottos for the New Year will be distributed. All are cordially invited.

New Year's Reception.

The reception given by the Young Men's Christian Association and their lady friends will be repeated on the coming New Year's day. All afternoon and evening they invite calls from the young men of the town and country. All between the ages of 18 and 20 will be welcomed.

Busy Times.

Now at the Bon Marche as the store must be given up and Mr. Carton intends clearing of by auction his entire stock of groceries and dry goods. Go if you want real bargains to his big auction sale Friday next afternoon and evening 31st instant. Selling at away down prices very busy.

The Nicholls Hospital.

The lady Superintendent thankfully acknowledges the following Christmas offerings to the Hospital:—The Metropolitan Grocery Co., box layer raisins and turkey; A Friend, roast of beef, mince pie; Mrs. Morrow, 2 chickens, jelly, oranges; A Friend, 2 jars fruit; Mrs Richard Hall, turkey, 2 jars jelly, oranges; Mrs. Nicholls, turkey, oranges, candies; W. C. T. U., grapes, candies, Christmas cards; Mrs. John Howden, turkey.

Well Deserved.

We are sure the many friends of Miss M. M. Davidson will be pleased to learn of her marked success while attending the Normal School at Ottawa. Owing to the high per centage taken by her during the term and at the final examination she obtained for herself an honorable mentioning, being promoted to "Grade A." We are especially pleased to learn that Miss Davidson, on her final teaching, obtained the highest number of marks awarded, Miss Davidson now holds a professional certificate, "Grade A," thus entitling her to hold the highest position in our Public Schools. We congratulate the young lady on her well merited success.

A Pretty Sight.

In passing the store of Mr. Andrew McNeil, Habiliment Hall, one cannot help but notice the artistic and beautiful manner in which the windows are dressed. The north window is solely taken up in displaying a magnificent line of gentlemen's holiday neckties in multifarious patterns, shapes, qualities and designs. This window is a sight that will attract the attention of all the young men in Peterborough, as a finer selection of that very necessary appendage to a man's dress could scarcely be wished for. The south window is filled with an excellent stock of suitings and overcoatings. There are some decidedly handsome patterns displayed, and many of them are entirely new lines. A man who could not pick a suit to please him out of the large stock now on hand at Habiliment Hall, surely could not tell what he wanted. A very large assortment of small wares is constantly kept, and gentlemen in need of furnishings of any description cannot do better than give Habiliment Hall a call. The cut and workmanship, together with the class of goods, is always the best, and great care is bestowed on every article turned out of the establishment. Buy your 'Xmas presents from A. McNeil, Habiliment Hall, George Street.

STILL another lot of the 5 cent collars to hand yesterday at the Golden Lion.

Arrested.

Mr. R. N. Roddy has been arrested and locked up, on account of his third conviction under the Scott Act.

Personal.

We learn from the Calgary Tribune that Mr. E. R. Rogers has been elected secretary of the recently organized Board of Trade.

Cheap Groceries.

Splendid chance to secure your holiday groceries at the auction sale this evening at seven, at the Star Grocery, corner of Hunter and Water streets. This is a rare chance as Mr. O'Shea has decided to dispose of his entire stock of new and fresh groceries. Sherwood & Co., auctioneers.

FINE Bulk Oysters at OSTROM'S.

Dramatic.

On Monday evening there was a fair attendance at Bradburn's Opera House to witness the stiring drama "British Born" by the Woodward Dramatic Company. The characters were all well taken, especially that of "Mary Hope," assumed by Miss Eugenie Lindeman. The great society drama "Won at Last," will be presented this evening.

Gun Club.

The following is the score made at the last regular meeting of the Gun Club held in the Riverside Park on Monday December 27th:—

H. Calcutt	1 1 1 1 1 1 1 0 1 0—8
H. Neil	0 1 1 1 1 0 0 0 1 0—5
H. T. Strickland	1 0 1 0 0 0 1 1 1 0—5
Judge Weller	0 0 0 0 1 1 0 1 1 0—4
H. W. Kent	0 0 0 1 1 0 1 1 0—4
R. Tivey	0 1 1 1 0 1 0 0 1 0—5
E. J. Hartly	1 0 1 1 0 1 1 0 0 1—6

Very Like Peterborough.

At the nomination at Orillia for East Simcoe, Mr. W. H. Bennett, the Reeve of Midland, said:—"Mr. H. H. Cook and his henchmen refused to aid Mr. Drury against Mr. Thompson, because the Ontario Government would not wipe off a debt owed the people, and he (Mr. Bennett) gave the Mowat Government credit for that. But Mr. Cook was now come to the help of the Government nominee, and was not it a fair inference that Mr. Mowat had succumbed to the pressure and granted his demand?"

SPECIAL drive of wool knitted goods this week at the Golden Lion.

Striking an Average.

We learn from the Port Arthur Sentinel, that Mr. Colman, Principal of the Public School there, and formerly head master of the Peterborough Public Schools, is giving general satisfaction in the position he now fills. At a recent meeting of the Port Arthur school board, it was agreed that his salary should be raised from $1,000 but there was a difference of opinion as to the amount of increase. It was agreed that each trustee should state what additional sum he advocated, and an average should be struck. The result was that an increase of $125 was indicated and was duly voted.

THE place to buy your blaket suit is at the Golden Lion.

MASONIC INSTALLATION.

The Officers for the New Year—Official Visit—Presentation.

On Monday evening, being the festival of St. John the Evangelist, the newly elected officers of Corinthian and Peterborough Lodges, A. F. and A. M., were installed. Previous to the ceremony, the presentation of a Past Master's jewel was made to W. Bro. H. C. Winch, with a suitable address by R. W. Bro. Rev. V. Clementi, to which the recipient responded in appropriate terms. The District Deputy Grand Master, R. W. Bro. McGaw, paid an official visit, his Secretary, W. Bro. Rundel being also present. The ceremony of installation was conducted with his usual skill by R. W. Bro. E. H. D. Hall, K. C. T. assisted by W. Bros. Winch, Shortly, Boucher and Alexander. The following are the officers of the respective lodges:—

OF THE

THIRD WARD

PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN.—Having been frequently asked to become a candidate to represent you in the Town Council, and the offer given me of such valuable support, I cannot resist, but comply with your request.

I therefore offer myself at your service. My greatest effort will be to make our taxes as low as possible and keep down uncalled for expenses. There are those in our town who want much and pay little—therefore it is necessary for you to have good, honest men in your Council.

Should you in your good judgement elect me I will try my best to serve you—economy being my watchword.

Having the fullest confidence in you support

I am yours truly,

E. C. HILL.

WEDNESDAY. DECEMBER 29, 1886.

THE RESULT.

MR. MOWAT'S Christmas campaign is over. That his plan for snatching a verdict has been successful cannot be denied.

In West Peterborough the Conservatives and the loyal, honest Reformers who voted with them have been overcome by the use of such nefarious means as had never before been witnessed in the constituency, and as we trust, for the credit of the community, will never be seen here again.

We must yield for the time to the voice of the majority, by whatever means it was influenced, and, indeed, we feel that it is better to be defeated after a struggle conducted loyally, honestly and openly than to owe success to such devices and such practices as have prevailed against us.

In East Peterborough the majority of Mr. Blezard was so large as to afford but slight prospect of success in redeeming the constituency, and what hopes there may have existed have been disappointed, leaving our East Riding still represented by an avowed Rielite.

However men may have voted under the influences brought to bear against them, we are certain that the majority of the electors of the two Peterboroughs feel in their hearts that it is no credit to them to be represented by having Messrs. Stratton and Blezard sitting in the Provincial Legislature beside Pacaud.

SECOND WARD.

Mr. N. T. Leplante was nominated by Mr. T. Dolan, seconded by Mr. C. Halpin.

THIRD WARD.

Mr. John Hackett was nominated by Mr. T. Dolan, seconded by Mr. T. B. McGrath.

NORTH WARD.

Mr. M. Sullivan was nominated by Mr. T. B. McGrath, seconded by Mr. R. W. Muncaster.

Mr. M. O'Brien was nominated by Mr. John McGrath, seconded by Mr. John Delaney, sr.

The above being the required number of trustees and none other having been named the returning officer declared them duly elected.

A Shocking Traffic.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The Secretary of the Treasury has informed the Secretary of State that he has information that two firms in Hong Kong, namely Gim Tung-Hi and Wing-Kung-Tuck-Kit, are largely engaged in selling certificates to land Chinese in this country, and that they smuggle females through American ports for immoral purposes. He suggests that the matter be investigated by the United States Consul at Hong Kong.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

TERRIBLE PROJECTILES.

Gen. Boulanger has been studying new projectiles of a most destructive kind. They are each tipped with a powerful steel ram, and contain a strong explosive recently discovered, which, after the ram has pierced its way into a wall, acts like dynamite in blowing it up. At a distance of three kilometers these projectiles, which are fired from a mortar of special construction, pierce steel plates twenty centimeters thick and knock down the strongest walls after a few shots. Their power of boring into solid masses was illustrated last week at a cost of a couple of lives. The missile having been fired and having entered the ground, two sappers were ordered to dig it out and note the effects. Unfortunately, the shock had loosened a mass of earth, which fell upon the two men and completely buried them. Meanwhile the gases evolved from the exploded bombshell were escaping into this close chamber, and when a sergeant proceeded to rescue the sappers he had them suffocated, and was himself overtaken by the same fate before he had time to escape.—Pall Mall Gazette.

NO BACK DOWN.

The policy of the home authorities is evidently not one of tame acquiescence in the bold piracy of our neighbors. There is trouble in store for the American fishermen next season. Whether the prospect of even firmer protection of our fisheries will influence a settlement of the vexed fisheries question is a difficult matter to decide, but without doubt Canada will have another advantage next year in that the Imperial power will be behind her. The United States may have expected a mild attitude on the part of Great Britain until the Republic had made up its mind to refer the matter to arbitration. In this the States have been disappointed. There is cause for satisfaction that there is no back down on the part of the Home Government.—Ottawa Journal (Indep.)

The Knights Diminishing.

MONTREAL, Dec. 28.—The Witness says:—The recent retreats and missions in the Catholic Churches seem to have had a disastrous effect on the Knights of Labor. A number of them have resigned in order to be allowed to participate in the sacraments.

The C. P. R. Tea Trade.

MONTREAL, Dec. 28.—The seventh ship engaged in the China and Japan tea trade left Yokohama on Nov. 27th and will be due at Port Moody early in January. Another vessel will be chartered as rapidly as possible.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

THE STORM IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The damage to telegraphs by yesterday's storm is greater than for many years. The snow was attended with hurricanes on the southern and eastern coasts. Reports of numerous wrecks are slowly arriving. There has been much damage to life and property, several railway accidents are reported and hairbreadth escapes from falling telegraph poles.

BRIGANDS BEATEN.

ROME, Dec. 28.—A party of brigands who were attacking and plundering houses at Caputerra, Sardinia, attempted to rob the silver mines at Montelimas, but were frustrated by the brave resistance of miners, who drove the robbers away after a hard fight.

THE POLICE ELUDED.

DUBLIN, Dec. 28.—In the Mitchellstown district yesterday rents to the amount of several thousand pounds were collected by trustees under the campaign plan. The police were eluded.

ATTEMPT ON A CHURCH.

PARIS, Dec. 28.—An attempt was made yesterday to destroy, by explosives, one of the churches in Lyons. A bombshell was placed under the church porch, and the fuse was lighted. A policeman who noticed the burning fuse seized the bomb and put out the fuse before its fire could reach the bomb.

WORKMEN'S CONGRESS.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 28.—The Workmen's Congress of Brussels has appointed a committee to decide the question of the expediency of strikes, and has formed a fund for equipping men willing to enroll in the civil guard and for distributing the propaganda among the youths drawn for military services. A proposal to affiliate with the American Knights of Labor was disfavoured.

LOCKSLEY HALL.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—Mr. Gladstone has written for the January number of the Nineteenth Century an article entitled "Locksley Hall and Jubilee." The artical is a criticism of the poem by "the light of the events of the past fifty years."

NIHILISTS AT WORK.

LYONS, Dec. 28.—An attempt was made yesterday to destroy by explosives one of the churches in this city. A bombshell was placed under the church porch and the fuse was lighted. A policeman who noticed the burning fuse seized the bomb and put out the fuse before its fire could reach the bomb.

ALLEGED INDIGNATION.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—Gen. Butler, the respondent in the Campbell case, and prematurely called Sir William Butler, will not be knighted. His Knight Commander of the Bath gives of itself no right to the title, though knighthood proper goes with it. But the Queen is so indignant at Gen. Butler's refusal to testify in behalf of Lady Campbell that he will never be summoned to Windsor.

THE MURROE RIOTERS.

BELFAST, Dec. 28.—The Government has abandoned the prosecution of the Murroe rioters.

A THAW FOLLOWS.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—After the violent gale and unusual heavy storm a rapid thaw set in throughout the country. The storm did great damage to the grounds around Buckingham Palace. In Hyde Park, London, trees were blown down and all over the country telephone and telegraph wires were destroyed and railway trains impeded.

IRISH FACETIOUSNESS.

DUBLIN, Dec. 28.—The steeplechase meeting held at Donoughmore's, West Clare, today, at which the races run bore the following names on a card: "Plan of campaign stake;" "Yuld Log Plate;" "No drink Manifesto," and "Gladstone Parliament in 1887 Consolation."

DE GIERS SUCCESSOR.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 28.—It is stated that Count Tolstoi will replace M. De Giers as Premier of Russia.

IRISH RENTS COLLECTED.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—In Michelstown district, yesterday, rents to the amount of several thousand pounds were collected by trustees under the campaign plan. The police were eluded.

APPEAL TO THE COUNTRY.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—Lord Salisbury informed the Cabinet he would not attempt to conciliate Lord Churchill, and that if Lord Hartington refused to accept the office or guarantee the Government adequate support from the Unionists he proposed to dissolve Parliament and appeal to the country on the former Unionist platform, adding planks in favour of the adoption of new procedure rules, precedence of an English Local Government measure over an Irish measure, a vigorous foreign policy and moderate estimates.

Cooking at Sea

The first thing that naturally attracts the attention of a landsman is what a fearful state of confusion there must be in the galley during a rolling sea! Imagine an ordinary kitchen grate covered with saucepans etc., were it suddenly begin to swing backward and forward like a see-saw. This difficulty, however, is easily overcome. Every galley fire is fitted with a number of iron bars fastened to a rod at the back, and which fit into little grooves in a rod in front; consequently when the sea is rough these bars are fixed, and each cooking utensil is held tightly in its place between the bars, just the same as a saucepan could be held over an ordinary fireplace with a strong pair of pincers. Another difficulty is when the saucepans on the fire are all full—when the ship rolls they run over. The remedy for this is as simple as Dr. Abernethy's one for the old lady who complained of having such a dreadful pain in her arm when she went "so." He pocketed his guinea and said, "Don't go so." So with the saucepans. The simple remedy is, "Don't fill the saucepans." No saucepans on board ship should ever be more than threeparts full when the ship is rolling. My first impression in watching the cooking on board ship was—how many practical lessons might be learned from it by cooks on shore? How often do cooks complain:—"There is no doing anything in this poky kitchen?" the poky kitchen being probably quite four times the size of the galley in which I am standing, in which breakfast, lunch and dinner have to be prepared for over 200 persons. The requisite qualities required for success are early rising, and entire absence of fussiness, and, by no means the least important, the power of looking ahead and seeing that each person minds his own business without interfering with another's.—Cassell's Family Magazine.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

Now that the elections for the Provincial Legislature are over the people will do well to turn their attention to the choice of their municipal representatives to conduct their local business.

Shorn though they have been by a false policy of much of their power, still these local bodies have much to do with our comfort, our prosperity and our progress. In the financial aspect alone the municipal councils by their economy or extravagance effect our pockets to a greater extent than either the Provincial or Dominion Governments. Even the asserted extravagance of the Administration at Ottawa does not raise of Dominion taxes to the amount per head paid to the municipality by a statute labour ratepayer or a man assessed for wages or income on the lowest scale. And in other aspects of municipal management we all know how, under various Dominion and Provincial Administrations, whether good or bad, one city, town or village progresses, while another stands still or even retrogrades, much of the difference being due to the wise or improvident action of the corporation. It is obvious, therefore, that a wise choice by the people in this respect is of the utmost importance for their welfare.

In the town we have been fortunate in the re election by acclamation of a Mayor, Mr. James Stevenson, whose previous year of office has shown him to be well qualified for this honorable position, which he has filled to the benefit of the community. In the the different wards there are a number of candidates for the Council, and the best of them should be carefully chosen.

In the townships, though we have not yet received full returns, we believe that in many cases there will be a contest, and the electors should see that they make a prudent selection.

But besides the municipal corporations proper, we have to select other representatives, whose duties are hardly less important, indeed in some respects they are more so. Whatever may be the reason, it is notorious that too little attention is paid by most people to the selection of school trustees. This should not be. Looked at merely as a spending department of our organized local self-government, it is undeniable that the School Board is of great importance on account of the large sums collected, much of it directly, from the people, that pass through their hands. We do not say they are too large, but it is of great consequence that they should be judiciously expended, so as to bring an adequate return for the outlay. And in other respects their duties are of such moment that the best men available should be elected as school trustees.

Again we urge the ratepayers to pay due attention to the selection of the representatives of the community in matters left to local management.

LAKEHURST

From Our Own Correspondent.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.—Our worthy teacher, Miss Bowman, having spent a great deal of time and energy preparing her pupils for her closing entertainment, succeeded so far as rendered them capable of making the evening one of the most enjoyable we have ever spent under like circumstances. The children throughout their several parts gave evidence of thorough training. The young people of the neighborhood, who kindly assisted Miss Bowman in her enterprise, deserve mention. The singing was very good, especially must it be considered so when we take into consideration the difficulties with which the choir had to contend through their practicing. Miss Bowman presided at the organ and added to our evening's enjoyment by several well rendered solos. Misses Brown and Bowman gave good readings. At the close of the programme the children presented Miss Bowman with a pretty workbox and a complimentary address, presented by Miss Isabella Renwick and Master Daniel Hicks. It was then moved by the Rev. Mr. Smith, and seconded by Mr. Tedford,—That a vote of thanks be tendered to Miss Bowman and those who had so ably assisted her; and the meeting was closed by the whole gathering singing the National Anthem

LINDSAY.

PRINTING THE ASSESSMENT.—A petition to the Provincial Legislature asking that the Assessment Act be amended to provide for printing in full along with the voters' list of the figures of property assessment was passed by the council on Monday night. Should this amendment to the Act be made the list so printed will afford a basis for a good deal of arithmetical calculation, and a good many people would interest themselves in their neighbors' affairs to an extent that the neighbors may not altogether relish.

ELECTRIC LIGHT.—The council have granted permission to the Ball Electric Light Company, of Toronto, to put up suitable poles on streets throughout the town. The company are going at the introduction of the light in earnest and will in a short time have the necessary plant at hand. With two sets of poles already standing on Kent street, and a third to follow, the effect to the observer will be really charming.

A GRATUITY.—Private Albert D. Hepburn of No. 2 company, who was in the North-West rebellion, received the other day the sum of $283 allowance for loss of health causing weak lungs, and 50c. a day to continue as long as his ill health lasts. The allowance was obtained through the instrumentality of Major Hunter, in command of the company.

THE CURLING ANNUAL.—The issue for this year of the Curling Annual contains as a frontispiece an alleged portrait of Mr. John D. Flavelle, of the Lindsay club, President of the Ontario branch. The portrait does no; do Mr. Flavelle justice, although a fair one in some respects.—Post.

A Despised Statue.

MONTREAL, Dec. 28.—The son of Mr. Marshall Wood, the sculptor, has written to Mayor Beaugrand requesting that the cast of a statue of Jacques Cartier, designed over six years ago by Mr. Wood, and standing since then in one of the unoccupied rooms of the City Hall, be returned to England at his (the son's) expense. This is being done. An offer was made some years ago to present a statue of the discoverer of Hochelaga to Montreal by a French sculptor, but it shared the same fate as the proposition of Mr. Marshall Wood.

The River at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Dec. 28.—The water in the river having continued steadily to rise, yesterday morning about three o'clock the penstock gates at the mouth of the sewer on Commissioners street were closed and pumping was commenced. The sewage has since been discharged wholly by the pumps and they have been found fully capable of coping with the flow. The water is kept easily at a level of nine and a half feet. At 6 o'clock last evening the water in the river showed a depth of thirty-two and a half feet, and was then within five feet of the top of the revetment wall. The cellars are as yet all dry, and if no serious jam takes place it is probable there will be no flood this year. The ice in the river showed a little yesterday opposite Longueuil. Though the regular municipal roads are not yet commenced, a number of parties crossed from Longueuil.

Pleuro-pneumonia.

OTTAWA, Dec. 27.—The bill just introduced in the United States Congress for the extinction of pleuro-pneumonia shows that the American people have at last become thoroughly awakened to the danger that threatens their cattle trade. They have appropriated a million dollars and appointed three commissioners at salaries of $5,000 a year each to carry out the law. The intention is to slaughter every diseased animal, but the Americans will find that it will take more than a million dollars and three inspectors to eradicate the dread disease. It will take years of hard work and unceasing vigilance to effect a cure and retain a health condition. They propose $150 for each pedigreed animal and $50 for each unpedigreed animal, that has to be slaughtered, as the highest limit of remuneration. In Canada the figures are $150 and $20. We work cheaply, too, by never letting the disease get into the country. Mail.

A New Use for Sugar.

Mr. Thomas Hankey writes to the London Times:—Experiments have recently been made proving that sugar is a valuable ingredient in mortar and cement, having strong binding qualities. Equal quantities of finely-powdered lime of a very common kind were mixed with an equal quantity of good brown sugar, with the addition of water, and the result was a cement of exceptional strength. This has been tried at Peterborough, England, Cathedral, two large pieces of stone of the broken tracery of a window having been joined firmly together by sugared mortar. The severest test is joining glass, which gives no hold to mortar without the use of sand, and this has been successfully done. The fact appears to be certain that sugar produces an extraordinary effect on lime when the latter has been allowed to fall into a fine powder and has been thoroughly slaked. Particles of unslaked lime would destroy the result, because of their expansion, which would make the mortar lift. The sugar mortar thus made will be found, I believe, to be as good as Portland cement, and the only question, therefore, would be one of cost, and it is probable that Portland cement itself would be made much stronger by the addition of sugar. Treacle might have the same effect.

A WISE MOVE.

Mr. Powderly deserves credit for peremptorily ordering the Knights of Labor to collect no more money for the condemned Anarchists in Chicago, and to return what has already been gathered in to the givers. Men like Spies, Parsons and their bomb-throwing companions are just as bitterly hostile to the aims of honest workingmen as they are to those of capitalists, and the cause of labor is seriously harmed whenever its advocates sympathize with and help such wretched creatures as those to be hanged in Chicago.—New York Tribune.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Rattling Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods. Without which none are genuine.

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

FROM ALL OVER.

The winter at Fort McLeod has been very favorable for ranchmen, no losses of cattle having occurred.

The name of the confiscated American schooner Highland Light, purchased by the Dominion Government for cruiser service, has been changed to the Vigilant.

Mayor Howland and Mr. David Blain will contest the Mayoralty for Toronto for 1887. There will be contests in all the wards in the city for aldermanic honors.

Three hundred and sixteen Indians on the Caughnawaga reserve near Montreal are registered and will be entitled to vote in Laprairie county, Quebec, at the next Dominion election.

During November the deposits in the Post Office Savings Bank were $710,163, $151,692 in excess of the withdrawals. The total amount to the credit of depositors is now $17,410,700.

The contractors for the St. Clair tunnel at Sarnia have been granted the privileges recently applied for with regard to exemption of Customs duty on plant necessary to carry on their work.

Reports of the railway accident in the Rocky Mountains were exaggerated. One life only was lost, a section man named Neville. The disaster occurred through disobedience of the company's instructions.

The total values of the exports and imports of the Dominion for the month of November were respectively $11,877,392 and $7,803,413. The total amount of Customs duty collected for the same month was $1,487,172.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d84

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

PRODUCES SWEET AND NATURAL SLEEP.

Dr. C. R. Dake, Belleville, Ill., says: "I have found it, and it alone, to produce sweet and natural sleep in cases of wakefulness caused by overwork of the brain, which often occurs with active professional and business men."

Advice to Consumptives.

On the appearance of the first symptoms—as general debility, loss of appetite, pallor, nervous sensations, followed by night-sweats and cough—prompt measures for relief should be taken. Consumption is scrofulous disease of the lungs—therefore use the great anti-scrofula or blood purifier and strength restorer—Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Superior to cod liver oil as a nutritive, and unsurpassed as a pectoral. For weak lungs, spitting of blood and kindred effections, it has no equal. Sold by druggists the world over. For Dr. Pierce's treatise on consumption, send ten cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

AYER'S PILLS

CURE HEADACHE.

Headaches are usually induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, and may be easily cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. Mrs. Mary A. Scott, Portland, Me., writes: "I had suffered dreadfully from Sick Headache, and thought myself incurable. Disorder of the stomach caused it. Ayer's Pills cured me entirely."

CURE BILIOUSNESS.

John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebr., writes: "I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice. I was so dangerously ill, that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. I feel certain that I owe my recovery to your invaluable Pills."

CURE INDIGESTION.

Ayer's Pills act directly on the digestive and assimilative organs, influencing healthful action, imparting strength, and eradicating disease. G. W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T., writes: "I have suffered from Dyspepsia and Liver troubles for years past. I found no permanent relief, until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, which have effected a complete cure."

CURE RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is among the most painful of the disorders arising from vitiated blood and derangement of the digestive and biliary organs. Ayer's Pills relieve and cure Rheumatism when other remedies fail. S. M. Spencer, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was confined to my bed, with Rheumatism, three months, but, after using a few boxes of Ayer's Pills, became a well man."

CURE GOUT.

S. Lansing, Yonkers, N. Y., writes: "Recommended to me as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me not only from that trouble, but also from Gout. If every victim of the disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. Those words would be, 'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

CURE PILES.

Piles are induced by habitual constipation, debility, indigestion, or a morbid condition of the liver. A cure is best effected by the use of Ayer's Pills. John Lazarus, St. John, N. B., writes: "I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only cured me of that disagreeable disorder, but gave me new life and health."

School Trustees.

The nominations for public school trustees took place to-day at noon. The four retiring trustees were in No. 1 Ward, Mr. J. R. Stratton; in No. 2, Mr. W. H. Wrighton; in No. 3, Dr. Burnham; and in No. 4, Mr. John Sawers. The following nominations were made: In No. 1, Messrs. W. Stock, Wm. English and Henry Rossiter; in No. 4, Messrs. T. Rutherford and Dr. Fife. Mr. Wrighton and Dr. Burnham were elected by acclamation.

Scott Act.

At the Police Court to-day three Scott Act cases came up; Queen vs. Cavanagh, Queen vs. Halpin and Queen vs. Dunn. The first was adjourned till Tuesday January 4th. Material evidence was given in the second case. A witness named Warner swore that he asked for ginger ale at Halpin's and that the bartender said 'I'll give you something better." A glass full of liquor was poured out and he drank it. In a few minutes afterwards he could not see the sidewalk. It was intoxicating liquor which he drank and he paid for it. He had been asked about the evidence he was to give and when he stated what he was going to swear he had been asked if $25 would be any temptation to keep him away. The third case was enlarged, no evidence was obtained from the witnesses examined.

Week of Prayer, 1887.

A SILVER CAKE BASKET

Presented to Miss Johnston, St. Andrew's Church Organist.

On Monday night a company of Miss Johnston's friends called at he home, Water Street. Mr. D. D. Gallelly read the following address, after which Miss Armstrong presented Miss Johnston with a beautiful silver cake basket:—

Miss Hattie Johnston:

DEAR FRIEND,—I have been appointed by the St. Andrew's Church choir to present you in their name with this silver cake basket. You have been associated with St. Andrew's Church as organist for one year short though the time has been to form acquaintanceships, yet, by your sweet and obliging disposition you have endeared yourself to every member of the choir. Also your excellent talents as an organist have been appreciated not only by the choir but by the whole congregation, and here I cannot help referring to the long connection (musically) you and I have had. I do not think you will consider it presumptuous in my laying claim to your musical father-hood, and as such I can assure all of my musical friends assembled here that I am proud of my musical daughter. Accept then of this present as a token of our esteem and regard for you, and as you are about entering into a matrimonial alliance and with your partner leaving here to take up your abode in the far west, we trust that you may be long spared to each other, that a useful and happy life is before you, and that your talents may ever remain consecrated to improving and aiding the songs of Zion. In conclusion may we all be enabled through Christ, to do well our part here below, so that we all may meet in the sweet bye and bye, there to join in the new song, for ever and ever, is the earnest prayer of your old associates in praise, viz., the members of the St. Andrew's Church choir.

Miss Johnston replied in a few feeling words, thanking her friends for their esteemed good will, and hoping that their friendship would be continued.

G Hall, pair chickens; Mrs. Robert Nicholls, goose for Thanksgiving Day, omitted; Mr. Mathews, 10 lbs. tenderloin; Mrs. Vernon, goose and cloth boots; From a Friend, $1 worth bread tickets; Mrs. McGill, beef and apples; Mr. Stephen Payne, basket apples; Mrs. G. A. Cox, quarter beef, fruit and candies; Mrs. Hazlitt, turkey, cakes and pickles; Mrs. R. A. Morrow, turkey; Rev. V. Clementi, 25 lbs. beef; Mr. W. T. Robinson, turkey; Mrs. Wallis, beef and bag of vegetables; Mrs. Halliday, cake and currant loaf; Mrs. Robt. Nicholls, quarter beef; Mr. Stothart, milk; Mrs. Davidson, cake; Mrs. A. Smith, potted meat; Mrs. B. Ferguson, goose, cake and boots for children; Mrs. Innes, currant loaf; Miss Sanderson, book; Mrs. Gilmour, mince pies and toys for children; W. C. T. U., parcel of fruit and candies for each Inmate; Mr. Greenhow, toys for children.

A Pretty Sight.

In passing the store of Mr. Andrew McNeil, Habiliment Hall, one cannot help but notice the artistic and beautiful manner in which the windows are dressed. The north window is solely taken up in displaying a magnificent line of gentlemen's holiday neckties in multifarious patterns, shapes, qualities and designs. This window is a sight that will attract the attention of all the young men in Peterborough, as a finer selection of that very necessary appendage to a man's dress could scarcely be wished for. The south window is filled with an excellent stock of suitings and overcoatings. There are some decidedly handsome patterns displayed, and many of them are entirely new lines. A man who could not pick a suit to please him out of the large stock now on hand at Habiliment Hall, surely could not tell what he wanted. A very large assortment of small wares is constantly kept, and gentlemen in need of furnishings of any description cannot do better than give Habiliment Hall a call. The cut and workmanship, together with the class of goods, is always the best, and great care is bestowed on every article turned out of the establishment. Buy your 'Xmas presents from A. McNeil, Habiliment Hall, George Street.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

TENDER FOR THE WORKS OF CONSTRUCTION.

SEALED TENDERRS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tenders for Cape Breton Railway," will be received at this office up to noon on Wednesday the 12th day of January, 1887, for certain works of construction.

Plan and profiles will be open for inspection at the office of the Chief Engineer and General Manager of the Government Railways at Ottawa, and also at the office of the Cape Breton Railway at Port Hawkesbury, C. B., on and after the 27th day of December, 1886, when the general specifications and form of tender may be obtained upon application.

No tender will be entertained unless on one of the printed forms and all the conditions are complied with.

By order,
A. P. BRADLEY,
Secretary.

Department of Railways and Canals,
Ottawa, 15th December, 1886.

To the Electors OF THE THIRD WARD PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN.—Having been frequently asked to become a candidate to represent you in the Town Council, and the offer given me of such valuable support, I cannot resist, but comply with your request.

I therefore offer myself at your service. My greatest effort will be to make our taxes as low as possible and keep down uncalled for expenses. There are those in our town who want much and pay little—therefore it is necessary for you to have good, honest men in your Council.

Should you in your good judgement elect me I will try my best to serve you—economy being my watchword.

Having the fullest confidence in you support

I am yours truly,

E. C. HILL.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1886.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE WEST RIDING OF PETERBOROUGH:

GENTLEMEN,—Although a majority of the ballots cast by you on the 28th inst. were marked for my opponent, I deem it my duty, and do it with pleasure, to return those of you who marked your ballots for me, and in this way for the important principles which I had the honor to represent, in the campaign now closed, my best thanks, and to express the confidence which I feel that although for a moment under a cloud, the great principle of equal rights for all, and favoritism for none, for which we fought, must speedily triumph in Ontario, and let us hope throughout the Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific. But whether it be so, or not, I can for myself at least, and I believe for those who have just recorded their votes in my favor, honestly say, that we prefer defeat in behalf of a good cause to victory in behalf of one which does not commend itself to the judgment with which the Almighty has endowed us.

Although words are powerless to do so, permit me, so far as they can, to place on record my highest appreciation of the invaluable services rendered by those who worked hard and honestly to secure my return. I am sure that their best reward is the consciousness of having done their duty.

As for those who pretended to be with us, but were against us, I leave them to their own consciences, in the hope that time may convince them that the undisguised is the more manly course in politics as in everything else.

Yours respectfully,

JOHN CARNEGIE.

TERRIBLE DEATH RATE.

Train Loads of Cadies Carried to the Cemetery—At Its Heaviest Point.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Dec., 29.—M. J. Thisselle, who has returned from the Panama canal works, says: "The death rate on the canal was frightful. For forty days the railway company was obliged to run three trains of cars each day to 'Monkey Hill' cemetery, so great was the mortality. White and native laborers alike drop down on the streets and die without medical assistance. Their bodies are carted to 'Monkey Hill' where they are buried in trenches." He says the laborers are ill-fed, and medical assistance is expensive. Five years ago the company took a contract to dredge 14 miles of the canal. They employ eight dredges and about 500 men, and have the contract about half completed. The physicians and contractors at Aspinwall told Mr. Thisselle that the mortality among the whites and natives was never in the history of the enterprise as heavy as at present."

CHANGES OF CLIMATE.

Some Instructive Facts for People who Need Knowledge.

If a blizzard of unusual severity were coming from the Northwest that would send the thermometer down fifty degrees or seventy degrees in three hours, we should expect a great increase of pneumonia and other respiratory diseases, resulting in deaths. Now, instead of three hours, suppose the mercury were to drop three-score degrees in three minutes—or take another step in fancy and suppose this great change to take place in three seconds, what would be the effect on health? And yet we bring about, artificially, changes to ourselves quite as sudden and as severe as this. We make an artificial climate in our houses. We have indoors in an atmosphere heated by stoves, furnaces or steampipes to 70 degrees or 80 degrees; and we pass from our parlour or hall so heated into the open air. At a step, literally in a breath, the temperature of the air has for us, dropped 50 degrees or 70 degrees. We may put on an extra coat or shawl and shield the outside body and chest, but we cannot shield the delicate linings and membranes of the air passages, the bronchial tubes or the lung cells. Naked, they receive the full force of the change—the last breath at 70 degrees the next at freezing or zero—and all unprepared. We have been sitting, perhaps, for hours, in a tropical atmosphere; nay, worse, in an atmosphere deprived by hot iron surfaces of its ozone and natural refreshing and bracing qualities. Our lungs are all relaxed, debilitated, unstrung; and in this condition the cold air strikes them perhaps 60 degrees below what they are graduated to and prepared for. Is it strange if pneumonia and bronchitis are at hand? If we are in the West Indies, or even in Florida, and wish to come north in winter, we try to make the change gradual. But in our houses we keep up a tropical climate, or worse, for you have not the freshness of air that prevails in an open tropical atmosphere, and we step at once into an atmosphere as much colder as 40 degrees difference of latitude will make it. It is in effect going from Cuba to Iceland or at least to New York at a step and make the journey perhaps a dozen times a day. And often, while we are still shut up in our domiciliary Cuban climate, Iceland comes down upon us from an open window. Especially is this likely to occur in school where children will instinctively seek to get a breath of fresh air that has not had all its natural refreshing qualities quite cooked out of it by hot stoves, furnaces, or steam pipes. And all these sudden changes and shocks of cold come upon us while the whole system has its vitality and powers of resistance gauged down to the low necessities of a tropical climate.—Popular Science Monthly.

HEALY'S VIEWS.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Mr. Healy, addressing a meeting in Glasgow, said he was glad to see signs which indicated that Mr. Chamberlain was returning to the Liberal fold. He thought it extremely unlikely that Lord Hartington would enter the Conservative Cabinet. Regarding the plan of Campaign, which the National League is conducting in the interest of Irish tenants, Mr. Healy denied there was anything dishonest in the movement.

THE BELFAST RIOTS.

BELFAST, Dec. 29.—The Commission which has been making an investigation regarding the riots here last summer recommends that two lawyers be appointed resident magistrates in place of the local justices, and that the complete control of the police be vested in a town inspector, who shall be responsible to the Inspector-General alone. The Commission urges the rigorous suppression of party processions.

THE BURMESSE WAR.

MANDALAY, Dec. 29.—A deputation of natives, consisting of an archbishop and a number of priests, to-day presented an address to Gen. Roberts, the commander of the British forces in Burmah. In this they requested permission to issue a proclamation, urging the Burmese to lead a peaceful life and accept British rule. They asked that their temples be protected, and that Buddhists be permitted to enjoy religious liberty. They assured General Roberts that his star glittered with victory, and expressed the hope that he would be successful in his efforts to restore order in Burmah. General Roberts in reply promised to respect and support the native religion. Chief Bohsiway has abandoned his strong hold and fled into the impenetrable forests.

ELECTION JOTTINGS.

Though full particulars of the Provincial elections are not yet attainable, there is sufficient known to suggest reflections to the people of Ontario.

While sustained as a Ministry, and having all its members elected, it is noticeable that the greater number of them have been returned with decreased majorities. Messrs. Mowat, Fraser, Pardee and Hardy have all smaller majorities than at the last election.

Some of their supporters do not represent the voice of the people of their supposed constituencies, but are simply members by statute. Messrs. Lyon, Conmee and Leys, titularly members for the Algomas and Toronto, really owe their seats to the fiat of Mr. Mowat and his subservient supporters in the House. Dr. Dowling is much in the same position, for he is disqualified by the judicial condemnation of his personal corruption, a disqualification which constitutionally exists, but is prevented from taking penal effect upon the offender by the setting aside of his sentence by Mr. Mowat in reward for disgraceful party services.

Besides these Reform members by virtue of special legislation, there are others who owe their seat to the dishonest Gerrymander Act, passed expressly to give them this unfair advantage. For instance, Mr. Nairn sits for East Elgin on account of changes calculated to carry out the exact result obtained of turning a Conservative majority of 99 into a Reform majority of over a hundred. Messrs. Drury (East Simcoe), Balfour (South Essex), Gould (North Ontario), Gibson (East Huron), Chisholm (Peel), and Guthrie (South Wellington), have all, with some other Reform members, to thank the Gerrymander for increases to former dangerously small majorities. Mr. Creighton has narrowly escaped defeat by means of a change intended to cut off Conservative support. Mr. Orr has been defeated in West York by the deliberate cutting off of Conservative municipalities in order to leave a Reform majority. And so it is in other cases.

Muskoka and Parry Sound, Algoma and Bruce all being Reform constituencies have received additional members, while Leeds and Grenville, Cornwall and Stormont and Toronto [illegible] have been deprived of votes in the House, this, too, in spite of refusals to give additional members to Ottawa, Hamilton and London with their large populations.

By these means they have endeavored, with considerable success, to falsify the popular verdict, and this without speaking of their use of public funds and patronage, or of their cries and alliances. [illegible] in the personnel of the House on both sides, nearly if not quite a third of the number will be new members, replacing nearly as many accustomed faces.

The absence from the Legislative chamber of such degraded men as McKim and Cascaden is undoubtedly an improvement, but unfortunately it is offset by the almost deeper disgrace of the presence of Mr. Mowat's particular friend, Pacaud, the rebel and slanderer, who classifies all loyal Canadians as "hangmen," and insults our gallant volunteers by styling them assassins, robbers and insulters of women.

THE FISHERIES.

The news that the Imperial authorities have given assent to our legislation to protect our fisheries is satisfactory, not only as strengthening our hands in resisting piracy, but also as indicating that we may look to having the power and prestige of the Empire at our back in this controversy with our too greedy neighbour. We have been told by Canadian Reformers that the Imperial connection was of no benefit to us, because the Mother Country would at any time sacrifice our interests to curry favour with foreign powers. Perhaps these critics were partly led astray by their idea of what might be done by Liberals in power at Westminster, and judged their friends by themselves. Fortunately for us, with Conservatives in office in the Old Country, there was no fear of such neglect, even if we might have experienced it, which we are not disposed to admit, at the hands of Mr. Gladstone and his followers.

With greater powers of enforcing our territorial rights to our own fishing grounds, we will be able to protect them even more thoroughly than in the past season, and finding themselves placed at a still greater disadvantage the New England fishermen and their friends will probably abandon their ingenious project of depriving our people of any privileges while claiming for themselves their old treaty rights after they had withdrawn the countervailing benefits in compensation for which they had been granted.

Manitoba Furs.

Utica, N. Y., Dec. 28.—One day last week a car laden with furs was ferried across the St. Lawrence River at Brockville, transferred to the Rome, Watertown and Odensburg Railway, and afterwards sent to New York. The car came from Winnipeg, and the furs it contained were owned by the Hudson's Bay Company and valued at $71,000. The skins in the car represented the destruction of 437 bears, 65 silver foxes, 6,137 beavers, 800 foxes, 4,255 lynxes, 8,178 martens, 291 wolverines, 207 wolves, and a host of small animals. Another carload valued at over $60,000 passed through to New York a few days ago.

GREAT GUNS.

Some English Specimens—The Woolwich Hammer.

England's big guns are made of bars coiled spirally and welded into a solid mass by the hammer. These red hot furnaces contain a straight bar; at a word the door is slightly raised, and with huge nippers its head is seized by loops made for the purpose. A steam winch draws out the glowing mass and brings it to a horizontal capstan fixed before the door. A water hose is turned upon the loop, and while it blackens under the chill a stalwart fellow, wielding a heavy sledge, fixes the loop on a nut projecting from the capstan wheel. Then the machine revolves with resistless force, curling the hot metal round and round on its drum neatly and smoothly, and as easily as one of Jarman & Marsh's girls would wind ribbon. So the coil is formed, whether for the breech piece or the body of the gun, or for its jacket. This again is cooled, and after a while is refined for welding under the hammer.

You ought to see this Woolwich hammer. It weighs forty tons sheer weight, and when it drops it falls forty feet on to a block that rests on spikes, massive masonry and enormous quantities of iron. Between two great shafts this hammer is suspended, a solid block, which, driven from above by steam and gathering impetus as it falls, strikes with a force of many hundred tons. A veteran workman has charge of this massive hammer. He starts and drops it by a touch of his thumb and finger. I saw an open face watch laid down on the block; then he dropped the hammer and he stopped it just in time to break the crystal—and nothing more. They call this last operation of the furnace the "great heat," and about every monarch there is in Europe has seen it, just as I did yesterday. While I am wondering what they thought about it, the furnace to be emptied is flaring with impatience. Through the interstices of its great door, blue, red, and purple flames are leaping out. A large crane swings round a pair of pincers, at the end of which a dozen Britons cluster. The door rises a little, the white light blinds us, and although I am at least twenty yards away, the heat burns my face. Water is thrown into the awful gap, and then the men perceive their prey. The huge arms part and firmly close, the door rises to the fullest extent, a clash of the crane gear, a shout from the men and out it comes, easily and softly, a monstrous coil. The crane swings about and pieces it on end upon the anvil. Then the hammer falls, shaking the solid floor beneath us, crushing the red hot mass inches down at a blow, welding its cords together so that they can never part. But the inside hollow has been knocked out of shape by this process, so, when the tube has been reduced to its proper length, a solid mandrill is deftly slipped betwixt the hammer and the iron. For two or three blows the contracted coil attempts resistance, but it gives way, and the mandril slips to its base, as into to butter. Then the great pinchers are used again, and it drops the mass on its side, where again it is battered and struck all round. The irregularities caused by all this hammering are afterwards removed by the plane, and then the gun is made by other machinery.—Correspondence Boston Herald.

NEWS NOTES.

The Winnipeg Mayoralty re-count has been fixed for Jan. 1st.

It has been decided to close the Manitoba immigration office at Winnipeg for the winter months.

St. John's, Que., has been warned to improve its fire appliances or prepare for an increase insurance rates.

Mrs. Eliza McCague, of Mono, has been fined $20 and costs for having in her possession property stolen from St. Luke's Church, Mono.

Edward Johnston, of Eden Mills, arrested for the illicit distilling of whisky, has been sent up for trial by Police Magistrate Saunders, of Guelph.

A case before the Stipendiary Magistrate at St. John's, Que., had to be postponed last week because no one present could understand the signs of the chief witness who was deaf and dumb.

A pulp boiler weighing thirteen tons, 28 feet long, 7 feet in diameter, and which it required eight horses to draw to the depot, has just been turned out by a firm at Sherbrooke, Que.

The County Council of Wentworth offers to spend $100 in improving the town line between Flamboro', in that county, and Nelson and Nassagaweya, in Halton County, provided Halton County Council will supplement the amount by $50.

A Campbellford lady, well known for her kindly disposition and her earnestness in working in any good cause, was much surprised a day or two ago on being addressed by name and having a sum of money placed in her hand, with the request to apply the money to charitable purposes.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 29.—Adam Gordon, carpenter; Frederick, brakeman; Harry Bunnell, fireman, and engineer Ramsay were coming from Port Arthur to Schreiber on an engine when the boiler burst, hurling the first three out of the engine. Gordon's back was broken and he died in two hours. The other two were badly scalded, and as the thermometer was at 40 below zero, they were frozen before they were rescued. Bunnell's leg was also broken. Gordon was on his way to visit his sick wife in Port Arthur.

Mrs. Chas. Sugden, formerly of Thorndale, recently shot at Grenfell, N. W. T., a lynx measuring six feet in length.

No other medicine has won for itself such universal approbation in its own city, state, and country, and among all people, as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the best combination of vegetable blood purifiers, with the Iodid of Potassium and Iron, ever offered to the public.

Having been solicited by a large number of the Electors of No. 3 Ward to allow myself to be a Candidate for the Ward at the coming Municipal Election, I have much pleasure in conforming to the wishes of those electors, and therefore would respectfully solicit their support.

JOHN DOUGLASS

Worn Over Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, dressmakers, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets, 25c a vial, by druggists.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods. Without which none are genuine.

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

THINE, O LORD, IS THE POWER.

WRITTEN FOR THE REVIEW.

As week by week and day by day,
We retrospectively survey,
The fast'ning year now almost gone,
We find 'tis ose God smil'd upon,
And raise our psalm of gratitude,
Lord, Thou art good and doest good.

He who each true petition hears,
Was better to us than our fears,
Seeking to know and do his will,
Striving life's duties to fulfil.
Ability was given to learn,
What we ourselves would not discern.

In manifold ways hath the Lord,
Fulfill'd, and verified His word.
We promis'd strength for daily need,
In faith and fervency did plead.
Thy power and wisdom, Lord make known,
Thy strength be in our weakness shown.

Ezra the heathen king, had told,
God's hand his people would uphold,
And would not ask a convoy, lest
The words he spake should fail in test,
So like him, O our Father, we
Put all our confidence in thee.

When God by Moses led His own
People, through tangi'd ways unknown,
He ev'ry step for them had plann'd,
They marched, or camp'd, at His command,
Moving or standing still we'd see,
Deliv'rance only Lord from thee.

Lord help us to acknowledge more
Thy hand that others may adore
Thy goodness, and that we may know
The way that Thou would'st have us go.
My presence shall go up with thee,
Our strength for arduous tasks shalt be.

Cheer'd by the richly favor'd past,
With hope the future we forecast,
And trust our Father's love, howe'er,
Mysterious may his ways appear.
Nor least 'mong blessings of His grace,
The spirit patient'ful would place—
Th' awaiting of that hour when we,
Time's secret things revealed shall see.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ENTERTAINMENT.—A very successful entertainment was held in the school-house of S. S. No. 3 on Wednesday, 22nd inst. The neatly decorated school was well filled not only by people from the section, but also by visitors from the surrounding districts. A choice programme was presented, during the carrying out of which the children showed the fruits of the careful training, it consisted of singing, recitations and dialogues. At the conclusion of the entertainment the following address was read on behalf of the pupils by Sarah Ann Calvert, the presentation being made by Emma O'Donnell:—

"MISS GEARY, KIND AND DEAR TEACHER,—We have learned with regret that you have resigned your position as our teacher in order to complete your studies. We wish you to know the loss we sustain by your going, for you not only cared for our studies, but you also showed us by your good example how to improve our manners, Hungeyand during every pastime you take an active interest in our welfare. We have much pleasure, however, in knowing that is your ambition and exertion which is ever working to succeed—that now urges you to depart from us your pupils to whom you have always shown kindness, patience, cheerfulness and a heart full of interest for our success. We cannot, therefore, allow you to go from our midst without giving you some proof of the esteem in which we hold you. Pray, therefore, accept this present (here a writing desk and pretty purse were presented to Miss Geary) as a token of the regard which we have for you and we hope that you will remember that you will always have our best wishes for your happiness and success.

Signed on behalf of the pupils of S. S. No. 3,

JAMES MCCARTHY, SARAH ANN CALVERT,
JOSIE SULLIVAN STEPHEN COLLINS.

Miss Geary replied in a few but appropriate words, thanking the pupils and people for the good will shown her, and assuring them that it was cordially returned. A vote of thanks was then tendered Miss Geary, after which the song "Farewell Teacher" was sung by the pupils. The children thus bidding farewell to their teacher in those words of song, presented a very pretty picture and the hearty applause which followed showed that the audience had joined with them in the sentiments which it expressed.

CAMPBELLFORD.

FROZEN.—Mr. John Dinning is seriously ill in consequence of frozen feet, which turned to blood poison. It is thought he cannot recover.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Dr. Bogart had a sad accident Christmas day. His horse took fright at a baby carriage, throwing him out and breaking several ribs.

The Bible Saved.

There is a Bible in Lucus county, Ohio, which was preserved, according to an exchange, by being baked in a loaf of bread. It now belongs to Mr. Schebolt, who is a native of Bohemia, in Austria. This baked Bible was formerly the property of his grandmother, who was a faithful Protestant Christian. During one of those seasons when the Roman Catholics were persecuting the Protestants in that country, a law was passed that every Bible in the hands of the people should be given up to the priests, that it might be burnt. Then those who loved their Bibles had to contrive different plans in order to try and save the precious book. When the priests came round to search the house it happened to be baking day. Mrs. Sheboit, the grandmother of the present owner of this Bible, had a large family. She had just prepared a great batch of dough, when she heard that the priests were coming; she took her precious Bible, wrapped it carefully up, and put it in the centre of a huge mass of dough, which was to fill her largest bread tin and stowed it away in the oven and baked it. The priests came and searched the house carefully through, but they did not find the Bible. When the search was over and the danger past, the Bible was taken out of the loaf and found uninjured.—American Bookmaker.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d&w

Advice to Consumptives.

On the appearance of the first symptoms—as general debility, loss of appetite, pallor, chilly sensations, followed by night-sweats and cough—prompt measures for relief should be taken. Consumption is scrofulous disease of the lungs—therefore use the great anti-scrofula or blood purifier and strength restorer—Dr Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Superior to cod liver oil as a nutritive, and unsurpassed as a pectoral. For weak lungs, spitting of blood and kindred effections, it has no equal. Sold by druggists the world over. For Dr. Pierce's treatise on consumption, send ten cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

AYER'S PILLS

CURE HEADACHE.

Headaches are usually induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, and may be easily cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. Mrs. Mary A. Scott, Portland, Me., writes: "I had suffered dreadfully from Sick Headache, and thought myself incurable. Disorder of the stomach caused it. Ayer's Pills cured me entirely."

CURE BILIOUSNESS.

John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebr., writes: "I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice. I was so dangerously ill, that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. I feel certain that I owe my recovery to your invaluable Pills."

CURE INDIGESTION.

Ayer's Pills act directly on the digestive and assimilative organs, influencing healthful action, imparting strength, and eradicating disease. Ca. W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T., writes: "I have suffered from Dyspepsia and Liver troubles for years past. I found no permanent relief, until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, which have effected a complete cure."

CURE RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is among the most painful of the disorders arising from vitiated blood and derangement of the digestive and biliary organs. Ayer's Pills relieve and cure Rheumatism when other remedies fail. S. M. Spencer, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was confined to my bed, with Rheumatism, three months, but, after using a few boxes of Ayer's Pills, became a well man."

CURE GOUT.

S. Lansing, Yonkers, N. Y., writes. "Recommended to me as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me not only from that trouble, but also from Gout. If every victim of the disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. Those words would be, 'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

CURE PILES.

Piles are induced by habitual constipation, debility, indigestion, or a morbid condition of the liver. A cure is best effected by the use of Ayer's Pills. John Lazarus, St. John, N. B., writes: "I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only cured me of that disagreeable disorder, but gave me new life and health."

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Temperature.

The thermometer readings to-day at the hours mentioned were as follows:—8 o'clock a. m., 8 below zero; 1 o'clock p.m., 5 above zero; 3 oclock p. m., 9 above zero.

East Peterborough.

The full returns for the East Riding have been received too late for to-day's issue. They make Mr. Blezard's majority 340, being 50 less than in the last election.

Municipal Election—Ward No. 3.

There will be a meeting of the electors of this ward at the West Ward School, on Thursday evening at 7.30 p. m. for discussion of municipal matters. All are invited to attend. W. H. Moore, Candidate.

A Loss to the House.

The Toronto correspondent of the Montreal Witness says:—"Some leading members of the Opposition have disappeared notably Mr. Carnegie, of Peterborough, who will be much missed."

Drama.

On Wednesday evening the Woodward Dramatic Company presented "Won at Last," at Bradburn's Opera House. The attendance was fairly large and the acting commendable. Miss Lindeman took the leading role with her usual ability.

Judicial Sale.

Pursuant to the judgment delivered in the Richardson vs. Richardson case the sale of parts 1 and 2 of the 10th concession of Belmont, each containing 100 acres, took place in the Master's office, Peterborough, this morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Robert Brown purchased part 1 for $2,700 and Mr. Jas. E. Patterson part 2 for $2,500.

Scott Act.

The case Queen vs. Halpin was resumed this forenoon. A lease was put in on behalf of the defendant, purporting to be executed between Messrs. Halpin and W. H. Bowman, the former's bartender. The latter swore that the lease was valid and bona fide. The Magistrate reserved judgment. Mr. Edwards for the prosecution and Mr. Edmison for the defendant.

FINE Bulk Oysters at OSTROM'S.

Snow By-Law.

It is the intention of the police to have the present existing snow by-law rigidly enforced. Those who neglect to keep the sidewalk in front of their premises clear of snow should take a timely hint. It would be more disagreeable to be brought up before the Police Magistrate than to spend a few minutes in exhilarating exercise before breakfast.

Death of Mr. A. Wilson.

Mr. Alexander Wilson, the Street and Bridge Inspector, died to-day at the advanced age of 78 years. Mr. Wilson was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, and was a resident in Canada for 35 years. He was for many years employed on railway works. When the late Geo. Johnston was relieved from the superintendence of the work on the streets in order that he might devote his whole time to his duties as Chief of Police, Mr. Wilson was appointed Street and Bridge Inspector, and continued in that position.

Wedding Bells.

On Wednesday afternoon Mr. J. H. Billington, formerly of the Fire Brigade Band of this town, now of Winnipeg, was united in marriage to Miss Hattie Johnston, late organist in St. Andrew's Church. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's mother, Water street. Mr. Thos. McJanet, of Ottawa, was the groomsman and Miss Nettie Moscrip the bridesmaid. The Rev. E. F. Torrance officiated. A number of friends of the contracting parties were present to join in the festivities and congratulations. The bride was the recipient of a large number of handsome presents, sent from not only her acquaintances in Peterborough, but from those in other towns. The 6 42 train carried Mr. and Mrs. Billington to their new home in Winnipeg.

Christmas Carols.

On Friday evening (New Year's Eve) the Sunday School children of St. Luke's Church will render Christmas carols at a short service commencing at 7.35 p.m.

NEW YORK Count Oysters at OSTROM'S.

Toboggan Slide.

The Toboggan Slide is now open and will be lighted by electric light to-night. Tickets for sale at Salisbury's book-store. Toboggans to hire at the slide.

Rev. Mr. Munro's Lecture.

On Thursday, 20th January, the Rev. A. H. Munro will be in Peterborough to deliver an illustrated lecture on "The Tower of London."

Consecration Meeting.

On New Year's morning at 10 o'clock a consecration meeting will be held in the Young Men's Christian Association hall, to which all (ladies as well as gentlemen) will be welcomed.

Your Attention, Please.

If you want to save money attend the auction sale at the BON MARCHE to-morrow afternoon and evening. Big bargains in groceries and dry goods. Busy handing out bargains to our customers every day.

Chimney Blaze.

The fire alarm was sounded on Wednesday afternoon, but before the hose reels were half way up George street it was found that nothing more than a chimney blaze on Brock street was the cause of the excitement. The fire was extinguished without trouble.

Grand New Year's Reception.

As has been already intimated, the Young Men's Christian Association, assisted by lady friends, will keep "open house" on New Year's Day (from 2 p. m.) and invite every young man in town to call upon them. Music, pictures, views, and many things will be provided to interest callers during the afternoon, and in the evening a concert will be given, in which our best local amateurs will participate. Coffee and cake will be served on the occasion, no charge to be made for anything.

Confederation Life Association.

That thoroughly Canadian and high standing company, the Confederation Life Association of Toronto has just shown its aptitude for conducting its business by appointing Mr. Harry Rush its agent for Peterborough and its vicinity. It would have been hard to find a better agent than Mr. Rush, for his well known business abilities, his thorough trustworthiness in all that he represents, and his courteous and genial address must make a host of friends for his company, and attract business to it. The Confederation Life Association is of a standard such as to inspire confidence in the public and the appointment of Mr. Rush as its agent must add to its good repute locally.

It May Be Remarked

—That a meeting of the Town Council will probably be held on Friday evening.

—That municipal politics will be discussed in the West Ward School to-night.

—That the Nicholls Hospital affair will come in for a share of criticism and defence.

—That the hat stores are doing a rushing business.

—That a good deal of head gear will be worn at somebody else's expense.

—That Mr. W. Paterson, jr., was nominated at the trustee nomination for No. 2 Ward yesterday.

—That he has withdrawn.

—That he says Mr. W. H. Wrighton is too good a trustee to be opposed.

A GRIEVANCE.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Some little time ago the Examiner held up a worthy miller and J. P. of Lakefield as a pattern of integrity and moral uprightness to copy. With your permission I would like to put a little personal matter between this worthy J. P. and myself before your readers.

During the past summer, I, being a member of the Salvation Army, was arrested and sent to gaol for two months for beating the drum on the public streets on Sunday contrary to the law. This gentleman was a strong supporter of the Army and as I was in his employ at the time of my arrest, he assured me that, during the time I was in gaol, he would allow me $12 a month. After regaining my liberty the Army had occasion to go to Peterborough and I intended to accompany them. On informing my employer of this he said, as he was going to Peterborough himself, I could drive his team down and bring him back. I drove his team to town and waited for him until 10 o'clock, but being unable to find him came home. On going to get a settlement my high minded employer not only refusing to allow me the $12 a month he had promised me, but actually deducted $1.50 from what was (according to his books) coming to me, that being the amount he charged me for hire of his team the night I drove it to town at his request. Comment on such high minded conduct is needless and I leave it to your readers to form their own opinions.

Yours respectfully,
ROBERT PODGER.

THE SCOTT ACT.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Will you kindly insert the enclosed letter at as early a date as your space will allow. I only trouble you because it seems fair that I should explain my reasons for dropping out of the active enforcement of the Scott Act.

Yours truly,
J. W. FLAVELLE.

Peterborough, Dec. 29, 1886.

Jos. A. Fife, Esq., M.D., Chairman Central Committee Scott Act Association:

SIR,—In accord with our conversation of a few weeks ago, I can see no course open to me but that of withdrawal from the Committee for the enforcement of the Scott Act.

You will agree with me that during the past seven months the greater burden of the work of the Committee has rested upon my shoulders, and that while sometimes demurring at the unequal share laid upon me, I continued to do it, as no one else seemed willing to take my place. Circumstances, now, however, place me in a different position. As you are aware, we have been persistently struggling against influences which have been exerted against us, regardless of right, for political ends. I have held with the rest of the committee that by such influences the hard and thankless work of the past months has been largely unavailing.

In common, I believe, with you, I hold the Mayor of the town, representing the Conservative interest in the Dominion election, and Mr. J. K. Stratton, the elected candidate of the Liberal party in the local elections, alike responsible. Any denial of the latter cannot now be received, in the face of the entire liquor interest being exerted in his behalf in the election of yesterday. That interest as a whole has no independent thought upon any subject, the party or individual who will best support their cause always receiving their vote and influence.

In the face of these facts the representative members of the committee gave Mr. Stratton their support. With their actions as citizens I have neither the right, nor wish, to interfere, but you will, I think, permit me to point out, that by such a course, as temperance men, they endorse the action of one who, either by himself or his agents, balked our efforts at enforcement and made the law largely inoperative.

I cannot thus endorse such action. I cannot continue to do the larger part of the work of a committee whose members support a gentleman who has been so active in hindering us in our work. Therefore, I must ask to be relieved to make room for some one more in sympathy with your committee's views.

Yours truly,
J. W. FLAVELLE.

The Great Express Robbery.

LEAVENWORTH, Kansas, Dec. 29.—Witrock has made a full confession regarding the express robbery. A very large sum of money has been recovered which was brought here by Cook and secreted under a barn. It is thought that three young men, now in this city, helped Cook. They will be arrested.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

PRODUCES SWEET AND NATURAL SLEEP.

Dr. C. R. Dake, Belleville, Ill., says: "I have found it, and it alone, to produce sweet and natural sleep in cases of wakefulness caused by overwork of the brain, which often occurs with active professional and business men."

Mothers! Mothers!

NOTICE.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.—In offering myself to represent you in the Town Council, I do so thinking I can be a benefit to you and myself, for after all that has been said our taxes are rising to be a burthen on us. I maintain that the business of this town can be run with far greater economy. Now then think of your high taxes when you go to vote next Monday. 2d153

MUNICIPAL POLITICS.

A Lively Meeting Held in the West Ward School.

A meeting was held at the West Ward School on Thursday night for the discussion of municipal affairs. The room was well filled with electors. Mr. John Irwin who was elected to the chair, called first on Mr. W. H. Moore to speak.

Mr. MOORE said that he had called this meeting because he thought it a more convienent and satisfactory way of placing his views before the public, and also that it would do away with some personal canvas, a practice which he did no much admire. He dwelt on the importance of the electors taking interest in municipal affairs, as the way in which the town was managed affected both the town's progress and their own prosperity. He would first touch on the financial position of the town. The high tax levied this year deserved explanation. It had been asserted by a gentleman, and he now entered (Mr. Douglass came in) that $22,000 was missing. That gentleman had almost said that the Councillors put it into their pockets. The council of 1886 had been a very economical council. The high tax this year was to a large extent due to the extravagance of the council of 1885. The rate that year was 12 3-10 mills, when if it had paid its debts and not shunted them on to the 1886 council the rate would have been 16 3 10 mills. But besides bearing the debt of the 1885 council, that of 1886 had suffered loss in revenue. The chief items causing the high tax this year was:

Loss of licenses	$4,300 00
Water rate, more than last year	1.500 00
Councill of 1885 debts	2.270 00
Nicholl's Hospital	3,000 00
Total	$11,070 00

Then there was a considerable amount in the treasury. $1,300 appropriated for streets and bridges had not been spent and was still in the hands of the Treasurer, and the amount spent less than the appropriations in other things amounted to about $1,000. Then $2,200 Scott Act fines were paid over, which the town did not know it would get at the time of striking the rate. It could thus be seen that the Council of 1886 was not an extravagant one. He referred to the purchase of the town buildings. He considered it a bad investment to sink $12,000 in them, and if he had been in the Council at the time he would have opposed the purchase. Regarding the Nicholls Hospital, he had not the least doubt that when Mrs. Nicholls made the gift she was actuated by a generous purpose—a desire to do good. But sometimes gifts brought with them unasked for responsibilities. He contended that it should have been the duty of the council of 1887 to look at the matter as business men and inquire what the town's responsibility was instead of squabbling about what sect was to be admitted and what was not. But they thought they were getting a plum and they swallowed it kernel and all. It was only when it made them sick that they wished they had not swallowed it. When he went to the council six months after the contract had been made he found that no provision had been made for having a representative of the town on the board of trustees, no provision for the keeping intact the endowment fund, and no provision for the auditing of the accounts. Under this the trustees should do as they liked, the endowment fund which provided a source of revenue might be spent and the whole responsibility of maintaining the hospital cast upon the town. And the town had no means of seeing how its money was spent. He prepared amendments to the bill then passing through the legislature, and had these objectionable features removed. It had been stated that the hospital cost an enormous amount, but it had only cost so far $3,400 for 17 months and $1,400 of that had been spent for furnishing and equipment. A the outside the cost per year from this would not be more than 50 cents tax on the thousand dollars, or about ½ mill on the general rate. It remained for the electors to consider its advantages. There were many cases of infectious diseases which might be taken to the hospital instead of being allowed to remain and infect the people of the locality. However, the Mayor had said at the nomination that the town would be relieved of a great deal of the responsibility of maintaining the hospital. In regaad to the Scott Act, he said that he had voted against it, but that since it became law he had strictly observed it. It was due to the efforts of the Mayor and himself that the town had received the $2,200. They had succeeded in reversing the Order-in-Council giving those fines to the County Council. A story had been going the rounds that the Auburn Mills Company intended to apply for exemption for another ten years. This, he could say, they did not intend to do. They would pay their tax like everyone else, but wished to be placed in the same position with regard to sidewalk accommodation, light, etc.

Mr. HILL asked if a new iron bridge wasn't going to be built.

Mr. MOORE replied that he had heard nothing of such a thing. As it would cost at least $10,000 to build such a bridge, he thought it highly improbable that such a request would be made.

Mr. HILL demanded that each man be limited to a certain time to speak.

Mr. YELLAND objected. This was Mr. Moore's meeting and he was saying now what the old councillors would have to say.

Mr. MOORE went on, touching on various points respecting the rules of order and other things. He was not in favor of the extra 5 per cent. being added to taxes paid after the first of December. One per cent for the first month, two for the second, and so forth, in his opinion, would be much fairer for the poor men.

Mr. ROSSITER here rose. Considerable clamour ensued. When he gained a hearing he asked about the enforcement of the Scott Act.

Mr. MOORE replied that there was already a motion recorded instructing the police in their duty.

Mr. DOUGLASS was the next speaker. He defended the old Council of 1885 by saying that it was a common thing to leave over a debt from one year to another. It had always been done since he remembered.

A VOICE—Except this year.

Mr. DOUGLASS pointed out that the Council of 1885 had built an iron bridge and paid for it, and had done other things causing considerable expense. The plain fact remained still—they had high taxes this year and the people wanted to have them lessened.

Mr. RUTHERFORD spoke for a few minutes, dealing chiefly with the good financial position of the town. According to the statement he held the town's total assets were $313,016 and total liability $185,550, leaving $127,466 to the good. $107,000 was hard cash. During his speech he said that the Scott Act was a failure, and that if he now had to choose he would choose the Crooks Act in preference to it.

Mr. HILL was received with loud applause. He delivered a vigorous speech lasting about twenty minutes. He disposed with the Scott Act question, by saying: "As long as liquor—ardent spirits is manufactured the human being will make use of it; and the more you lock it up the more the human being will have it."

Mr. ROSSITER, rising—Are we going to have a temperance lecture, or what?

There was considerable confusion for a few minutes. Shouts of "order" and "sit down" brought the chairman to his feet to call the meeting to quietness.

Mr. Hill went on to say that the $2,000 Scott Act fines counterbalanced the loss of licenses.

An argument took place here between Mr. Hill and Mr. Rossiter as to who should be thanked for getting the fines.

Mr. HILL, continuing, was in favor of low taxes and chopping a hole in the ice on the creek so as to allow the fire engine to take water. He also discussed the question of sidewalks, schools and street cars.

Mr. YELLAND spoke for a few minutes, creating a favorable impression by his straightforward speech.

MCNAUGHTON, who was received with loud applause, touched on the leading topics. Charity matters received due attention. In reply to a question he said that he was not in favor of increasing Chief Cooper's salary as Mr. Rutherford had done.

Mr. RUTHERFORD said that he had advocated an increase in salary under an increase of duties. Chief Cooper had undertaken to be License Inspector as well as Chief of Police. Though the local licenses had been due for some two months, within 48 hours after Chief Cooper's appointment they were paid in.

Mr. MCNEIL, being called on, spoke for a few minutes. He said that Chief Cooper collected the licenses on the day they were due.

The meeting closed with three cheers for the Queen and the chairman.

RUMORS OF IMPENDING WAR.

War Cloud Overhanging France—Pertinent Questions Asked.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—The Herald's Paris special says: Rumors of impending war still overhang France. Yesterday the Soleil, the mouthpiece of the Orleans princes, asked the following questions: "Is it true that the German army is already concentrating on the French frontier? Is it true that 150,000 troops are already in Alsace-Lorraine, with provisions and ammunition for 50,000 more? Is it true that the peasants of the Rhenish provinces have been notified of the early requisition of all their horses? Is it true that all station masters in Alsace-Lorraine have been ordered to make preparations for the transportation of an enormous amount of war material? Is it true that Germany in a few days will be able to concentrate in the front of Nancy 250,000 men? Is it true that the plan of the German staff is to surprise us before we are able to mobilize our forces, and thus dislocate our armies by a sudden attack on our frontier?" The Republican National says: "Let Germany make her preparations. That is her role, but to accuse us of wishing to bring about war or seeking a quarrel with the Germans is un peu trop effronte. The Germans should leave such knavish tricks to England. The day that France is attacked France will fight with the supreme energy of a nation that refuses to perish. They will be fearful, and the struggle will be terrible for the conqueror as well as for the conquered."

ON FIRE AT SEA.

Destruction of a Small Steamer—One of the Crew Drowned.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Dec. 29.—The small steamer Sir John left this port last night about 11 o'clock for Shulee, N.S., with a general cargo. When near Black Point, a short time after leaving port, fire broke out in the galley of the steamer, and rapidly spread over the vessel. The only boat was soon launched, but it upset and drifted away. As their only chance, Capt. Purdy then took the helm and steered for the shore, two miles distant. After much suffering from smoke and fire they ran the vessel on the rocks, when the captain jumped overboard and reached the land. The next man to jump, John Sinclair, failed to reach the shore and was drowned. The remainder of the crew, four men, then got ashore by a rope secured by the captain from the vessel. All of the survivors are more or less burnt. They had to remain on the beach in the cold till daylight. The captain reached here this afternoon. The steamer was built last summer, was valued at $10,000 and was insured for $5,000. She was owned by Capt. Purdy and his brother, of Sackville, N.B.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. FRIDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1886.

THE OLD AND NEW YEARS.

On the last day of the old year, on the eve of the New Year, we naturally look back upon the past twelve months and then take a glance forward into the future.

If our town has not witnessed the inauguration of any great improvement since last January it has continued to make steady progress, of which among other things the fact we were able to give of new buildings, is an indication. Business if not "booming" has been fair, though Mr. Mowat's unwarrantable interference with holiday season business by his premature election campaign, will prejudicially effect many balance sheets.

In the country good crops have benefitted the farmers, while they have continued to enjoy the improved local market for their smaller articles of produce, consequent upon the N. P. with its fostering of home industries.

In this Province we have unfortunately seen the Mowat Administration sustained, not by the voice of the people, but by gerrymandered constituencies expressly arranged to misrepresent popular opinion. To this misfortune the Province can only submit patiently, biding its time to make its voice truly heard and to check the dishonest and injurious centralization of power in the hands of Mr. Mowat.

Throughout the Dominion there has been general prosperity and progress, owing to the wise and patriotic policy of the Administration, supported by public opinion, in fostering our industries, developing our resources and building up and uniting our country. We in Peterborough have experienced directly the beneficial effects of the National Policy and of the construction of the C. P. R. with its branches.

Of the time to come no man can speak with certainty, but there is no reason why the people of Canada should look upon the future with anything but hope and confidence. In Peterborough we have every reason to trust that our progress and prosperity will continue.

In this our last issue for the year 1886, we cordially wish, not only to our friends and readers, but to our whole community, a prosperous and

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

THE POPULAR VOTE.

After the general election of 1883 we showed by indisputable figures, giving the whole vote cast, and not by delusive manipulation of majorities, that over 2,000 more ballots had been marked against Mr. Mowat than for him, though by the gerrymander of 1874 he had secured a factitious majority of supporters in the House.

Though our figures were very widely circulated at the time, not a Reform journal or speaker ventured upon an attempt to dispute them in any detail, though they persisted in claiming in general terms that they had a majority of the electors.

Now, however, one of the fiercest and most unscrupulous Reform journals in the Province, the Ottawa Free Press, gives away the truth by inadvertence. In its issue of Dec. 28th it publishes for purposes of comparison the votes cast in 1883, and by adding up the whole we find that it admits an electoral majority of nearly a thousand for the Conservatives and against Mr. Mowat. The decrepancy between our contemporary's figures and our own, is due to its leaving out the votes cast in several instances for a second Conservative candidate, and devices of that nature. But the fact remains that the Free Press, on its own showing, admits that since 1883 Mr. Mowat and his supporters represented not the majority but the minority of the electors of Ontario; the is, that Mr. Mowat is a knavish usurper who held his position, not by the popular voice, but by the dishonest trick of so arranging the constituencies as to cause a Reform minority of electors to return a majority of Reform members.

But even with this unfair advantage Mr. Mowat was afraid to face the people again. Between the two elections, he, therefore, repeated, in 1885, his cheating measure of 1874, and again gerrymandered the constituencies so as to increase the chance for a minority of the electors overriding the majority, and thus maintaining him in his usurped authority. We are confident that when the full returns of the votes cast throughout the Province are presented to the public it will be found that Mr. Mowat is a merely fraudulent premier with a majority of the electors opposed to him.

The only excuse made for this iniquity is that Sir John Macdonald did the same. Even if this were true, it would be no excuse for wrong doing by Mr. Mowat, but it is not true. This we can prove incontrovertibly by the following facts: Mr. Blake took great pains to compile, or caused to be compiled, the figures of the votes given in Ontario at the last Dominion election, in order to base upon these statistics his argument that the majority of Conservative members was larger in proportion than the majority of Conservative electors, and that a small change in the popular vote would alter the party balance. This was a mere truism, for it is the necessary result of our system, and is as true of the mother country as of Canada, as has often been shown. But Mr. Blake never pretended to show that Sir John Macdonald had a minority only of the Ontario electors at his back; indeed, Mr. Blake's own figures showed that Sir John had a majority of the votes. The Dominion Administration had to re-arrange the constituencies to provide for the new members to which Ontario had a right, and in doing so made a nearer approach to equalizing the population of the constituencies. Some of these changes may have tended to redress the inequalities then existing in favour of the Reform party, but by the testimony of Mr. Blake, when in his most critical mood, they did not cause a minority of electors to return a majority of supporters. This is very different from Mr. Mowat's fraudulent plan. Sir John Macdonald, by his enforced redistribution of seats, left the choice of their representative with the majority of the electors; Mr. Mowat, by his volunteered gerrymander, took the choice of representatives from the majority of the electors and conferred it upon the minority. Such being the result in the respective cases, it is easy to see which was the honest and which was the dishonest measure.

Since the last general elections the Premier of Ontario has represented, not the people of the Province, but the minority—and fraud. We believe such to be his position still.

They are nice, manly people the Rielite-Reformers who follow Mr. Mowat. At London, being unable to defeat Mr. Meredith, they proceeded to insult and annoy his family by blowing horns, hooting, &c., before his private residence. As the respectable Reformers leave their ranks the Mowatites can show their ruffianism and cowardice with less restraint.

EAST PETERBOROUGH.

THE GOVERNMENT CANDIDATE AGAIN SUCCESSFUL.

His Majority Reduced in the Riding—Suggestive Local Changes in Belmont, Dummer and Douro.

The official returns, as received by the Returning Officer for East Peterborough, give Mr. Blezard a majority over Mr. Stephenson of 340. We give the details of the vote, and also, for purposes of comparison, the vote in 1883, when Mr. Blezard had a majority of 990. Some marked changes in certain districts will be noticed.

Mr. Stephenson and his friends had heavy odds against them, but they made a gallant fight, and the result, although far short of a victory, is creditable to them.

THE BEGINNING.

DR. CURTISS' NOTES ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Lesson I for Sunday, Jan. 2, 1887.—Lesson Text, Gen. i, 26-31—Golden Text, Gen. i, 1: "In the Beginning God Created the Heaven and the Earth."

The History of Redemption.—The Old Testament contains the history of redemption. It deals mainly with Israel, because Israel was the people of redemption. To them were committed the oracles of God; from them in the fullness of time Jesus Christ came. The lessons of the first quarter are in Genesis, which treats of the beginning of the universe, of man, of the nations and of Israel. It mentions other nations, because in the history of redemption salvation is to be provided for them through the Messiah.

The Bible and Science.—The Bible is not a scientific text book. Its true character is indicated in 2 Tim. iii, 16-17. The evidence of its divine origin is not in the fact that it agrees, or does not disagree, with the latest researches of the astronomer or the geologist. If the Bible could thus be harmonized in every age with the conflicting theories of men of science, it would indeed be open to the charge that anything may to proved from Scripture.

Superiority of the Bible.—But the first chapter of Genesis is infinitely above anything that man's wisdom has attained or can attain. It teaches with certainty that in the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. Men without knowledge of the Bible have believed in a Creator. They have seen the evidence in the works around and above them; but their accounts of creation are intermingled with the grossest superstitions. We need only to read the account of creation as given in heathen cosmogonies to see the divine origin of that which we have in our Bible; and we may be certain that science can never drop its plummet line so low as to disprove the sublime statement, "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth."

THE LESSON.

Creation of Man (Gen. i, 26).—Here we reach the climax of God's creative work. It is written of the creation of lower animals, "Let the waters bring forth;" "Let the earth bring forth;" but when we come to the crown of creation we read, "Let us make man in our image, after our likeness." Men are expressly forbidden to try to make an image of God. The Scriptures represent him as being without a bodily form, although his hand, his eye, etc., are often mentioned by a necessity of human speech as symbols of power and knowledge. But there is an outward expression which must be denied to deity. Such a form as Christ had on the mount of transfiguration, and, can perhaps, as the Angel of Jehovah assumed in his visits to the patriarchs. When we read of the image and likeness of God, we are to understand not only an independent personality, which has the power of choice, and whom God especially makes ruler over all his creatures, but also that man was created with a body most fitted to express that personality, and which was a type of the resurrection body, which is to be like Christ's glorious body.

Trinity of the Godhead.—We are not to suppose that the doctrine of the trinity is clearly taught in this passage, where God says, "Let us make man," although it is indeed germinally contained in it, since that doctrine is first distinctly set forth in the New Testament. Nor does God (Elohim) address the angels, for the Scriptures clearly teach that they are not sharers in the work of creation; but in the Old Testament sense God contains everything that is divine in himself. He is plurality in unity, hence his name Elohim, which is a plural form. In the New Testament sense plurality becomes a unity, although even in the Old Testament we read of the Spirit of God as active in the creation of matter and of man and of the Angel of Jehovah, the God of revelation, who corresponds to the Son of God in the New Testament. Thus we have intimations of the doctrine of the trinity in the Old Testament, which prepare the way for a more complete unfolding in the New.

Man not "Evolved" (v. 27).—This verse is a fatal blow to the doctrine of the evolution of man from the lower animals. Even if the missing monkey should be found that is said to constitute the lost link between apes and man, still the scientists would not be able to prove that he was the progenitor of him who was made in the image of God. In some of the museums one sees wax figures which bear startling resemblances to certain historical personages, but no power of man could give a wax figure a soul, and no power of nature can ever transform the highest type of ape into the lowest type of man. In man's possession of a soul there is a great gulf fixed between him and the lower animals. Our greatest wisdom is, "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him."

The distinction of sex was also created by God. Woman is man's counterpart (Gen. 2-18; Hobrew, a help as over against him). In the divine order, then, man and woman supplement each other, and are designed to walk and work together.

Marriage (v. 28) is honorable in all. God not only made man and woman for each other, but also for their children. The ideal life even for those who are unmarried is in connection with some family (compare Eph. iii, 14, 15, Revised Version). Man in his creation is made king of the earth. Every living thing is subject to him.

Food for man (vs. 29, 30).—In these verses it is implied that God originally gave the herb to man for food. It is only after the deluge that he solemnly bestows on him the use of animal food (Gen. ix, 3). We may not say that the destruction of animal life is to be considered the result of the fall, although in the picture of Paradise regained the lion is said to eat straw like the ox.

All Things Good (v. 31).—At the end of the sixth day God's creative work reached its culmination. Each stage, except the second, in the first week is pronounced good; but on the evening of the sixth day, when man, the lord of creation, who is a little lower than God (Ps. viii; 5, Revised Version), takes his throne, the Creator of all sees that it is very good.

Creation Finished (Gen. ii, 1).—The seventh day is of such importance that it is specially introduced by the emphatic statement that God had finished his creative work. Although chief attention has been given in the first chapter of Genesis to an account of the creation of the earth as the abode of man and is the theater of human history, yet all other planetary sytems, which have already been indicated in Gen. i, 1-16, are included in the words, "And all the host of them," since the word "host," which literally signifies an army, is not only applied most commonly to the host of angels, but also to the stars by some that mention of the creation of sun and moon and the host of heaven is leveled against the adoration of these bodies, which was so prevalent among some of the nations of antiquity.

Length of the Divine Week (v. 2).—It is a question which has been much discussed as to the length of the divine week. Some think that we have here seven human days. But even centuries before the era of modern science Augustine (died 430 A. D.) maintained that these days were periods of indefinite duration. As we have seen that the eye and hand of God are mentioned, why should we be surprised that God should be spoken of as creating the world in a week? although we may well believe that a divine week is infinitely longer than a human. On the seventh day, or the present period of our history, he is represented as resting. The emphasis is not on the duration of time, but on the sevenfold division, of which he claims one part—the seventh day. While our week, consisting of days of twenty-four hours, is patterned after his, as we are created in the image of God, yet we should not think that his week is of the same length as ours (Ps. lxl, 4; Peter iii, 8), any more than we should that he is like one of ourselves.

The Seventh Day of Rest and Worship (v, 3).—Two elements are recognized in setting apart the seventh day (not yet called the Sabbath—Ex. xvi, 23)—1. It is a day of rest from toil: 2. It is sanctified—that is, it is set apart from ordinary and common usages to a sacred purpose. There is now no difficulty in theory in getting men to observe the Sabbath as a day of rest from labor, but there is a growing tendency to forget that God sanctified it to be employed in his service. Men do not realize that in proportion as they break down the sacredness of the day, in the plea that they make for the poor to enjoy a holiday of rest and recreation, that they are opening the flood gates for robbing them of it as a day of rest, as is so often seen on the continent. In man's degenerate thought it is in danger of becoming a holiday. In God's purpose it is a holy day.—Sunday School World.

THE ORDER OF MELUSINA.

An Ancient Order of European Chivalry Conferred on Dr. Neilson.

Reference was made in the News on Friday last to a foreign order recently conferred on Dr. Neilson, of "A" battery. It was intended as a reward for his conduct while on the upper Nile during the late Soudan campaign in rescuing a number of Christian refugees who had been employed together with other Arabs, as carriers to assist the army while passing the obstructions of the second contract. Their engagement having expired these unfortunate people were on their way to their new homes when they were suddenly set upon by Bedouin Arabs, severely beaten, robbed of their earnings and left to miserably perish in the desert, had they not received most timely assistance from Dr. Neilson and others. This meritorious act was brought to the notice of her royal highness, the Princesse Marie de Lusignan, princesse of Armenia, Cyprus and Jerusalem, who, as lineal descendant and successor of the old crusader kings of Palestine, has under her special protection many struggling Christian communities in the Mahomedan countries of the east. She graciously considered the ancient and royal order of Melusina not too high a recognition of this service. This order was founded by Princesse Marie's ancestor, Queen Sybilla, in the year 1186. It is therefore one of the most ancient, if not the oldest, order of chivalry in Europe. The decoration consists of a gold cross of Jerusalem enamelled in blue and white. In the centre is a small shield enamelled with the arms of the Lusignani and their motto "Pour loyaute maintenir."—Kingston News.

Prince Edward Island.

Hon. W. W. Sullivan, Premier of Prince Edward Island, was in Montreal lately, and was interviewed by the correspondent of the N. Y. Times with the following result:

"Does the fishery question affect you to any great extent?

"Yes, the Province is deeply interested in the fishery question, probably more than any other Province in the Dominion."

"What is your opinion of the action of the Government in enforcing respect for the three-mile limit.'

"I believe they took the most advisable and satisfactory course they could take. Some of the people thought at the commencement the Government did not act with sufficient stringency. Toward the close of the season, and when the Government put on more cruisers, the protection was very satisfactory.'

"Did the enforcement of the law result in material benefit to your province?"

"I think it did. There can be no doubt that the result has been most beneficial to Canada. It has caused the Americans to think more highly of the privilege to fish in Canadian waters."

"What is your opinion on the advantages of a fishery commission?"

"I believe it would result in benefit to both countries. I certainly, however, would not waive one iota of the rights of Canada unless we got sufficient reciprocity—unless, in fact, we got quid pro quo. If they admitted our fish and other natural products to the States free, as during the Reciprocity Treaty, I believe it would be very satisfactory."

"Are the reports true, as published in certain papers in the United States, that the secession feeling is growing in Prince Edward Island?'

"There is not the slightest foundation for any such statement. There is no secession sentiment at all. No political party in the Province dare broach secession, for it would not be entertained."

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

PRODUCES SWEET AND NATURAL SLEEP.

Dr C. R. Dake, Belleville, Ill., says: "I have found it, and it alone, to produce sweet and natural sleep in cases of wakefulness caused by overwork of the brain, which often occurs with active professional and business men."

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

AYER'S PILLS

CURE HEADACHE.

Headaches are usually induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, and may be easily cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. Mrs. Mary A. Scott, Portland, Me., writes: "I had suffered dreadfully from Sick Headache, and thought myself incurable. Disorder of the stomach caused it. Ayer's Pills cured me entirely."

CURE BILIOUSNESS.

John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebr., writes: "I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice. I was so dangerously ill, that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. I feel certain that I owe my recovery to your invaluable Pills."

CURE INDIGESTION.

Ayer's Pills act directly on the digestive and assimilative organs, influencing healthful action, imparting strength, and eradicating disease. G. W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T., writes: "I have suffered from Dyspepsia and Liver troubles for years past. I found no permanent relief, until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, which have effected a complete cure."

CURE RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is among the most painful of the disorders arising from vitiated blood and derangement of the digestive and biliary organs. Ayer's Pills relieve and cure Rheumatism when other remedies fail. S. M. Spencer, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was confined to my bed, with Rheumatism, three months, but, after using a few boxes of Ayer's Pills, became a well man."

CURE GOUT.

S. Lansing, Yonkers, N. Y., writes: "Recommended to me as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me not only from that trouble, but also from Gout. If every victim of the disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. Those words would be, 'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

CURE PILES.

Piles are induced by habitual constipation, debility, indigestion, or a morbid condition of the liver. A cure is best effected by the use of Ayer's Pills. John Lazarus, St. John, N. B., writes: "I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only cured me of that disagreeable disorder, but gave me new life and health."

Notice to Contractors

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Midland Harbor Works," will be received until Tuesday, the 25th day of January, 1887, inclusively, for the construction of Works at Midland, Simcoe County, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen on application to the Reeve, Midland, at the office of the Resident Engineer, Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough, and at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Persons desirous of tendering are requested to make personal enquiry relative to the work to be done, and to examine the locality themselves, and are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, the blanks properly filled in, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted bank cheque made payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, for the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000), which will be forfeited if the party decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,

A. GOBEIL,
Secretary.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Re-opening.

The Peterborough Business College will re-open on Monday, January 3rd.

To-night it is

That the people are buying goods at their own price by auction at the Bon Marche. Bargains for you. "Come."

Distinguished Visitors.

On Wednesday next, 5th January, the Oddfellows will hold a lodge of instruction in Peterborough, under the direction of the Grand Instructor and Grand Master. A number of visiting brethren will be present from the surrounding towns, and every Oddfellow in Peterborough will do well to take advantage of it and become skilled in the work. The brethren will probably assemble in the hall of Peterborough Lodge, No. 117.

An Old Friend Going.

At midnight, nearly one year ago, 1885 passed away, and as the railroad of time whirled 1885 away from us, it brought to us 1886. We have become so accustomed to reading and writing its name on our letters, books and other places, that it is now like an old friend. But it has been passing away from us all the time. As each day came, and as each month arrived, we were reminded that the time was drawing near when 1886 would also belong to the past, and would live only in memory and history, on love letters, promissory notes, and such things. The end of a year is unquestionably a time for thought. It reminds us strongly that we are approaching nearer our end. Consequently it is a time not only for "good resolutions," but for actual reform, and a large number of new leaves are turned over at such a time. Are you about to turn over a new leaf, dear sir? Then write upon it, in large letters and with indelible ink, "I will purchase my clothing from Andrew McNeil," who takes this opportunity of returning thanks to all his patrons and wishing them one and all "A Happy New Year."

Gold and Silver.

Mr. W. J. Green, who has been absent from town for some time, was interviewed by a reporter of the Winnipeg Industrial News when in that city. That paper says: "Major W. J. Green, of Revelstoke, was interviewed last week. He said: Railway laborers get $1.50 per day, carpenters on the railway $2.50, carpenters on private jobs get $3.50. Board varies from $6 to $10 per week." Mr. Green says: "Mining will be the principal work around that district. A railway will be built next summer from Revelstoke down the Columbia river to Kootenay lake. Gold and silver is found in great quantities and Mr. Green believes large fortunes will be made next summer. Dr. Struthers took out, in three weeks, $7,000 of gold on Carnes Creek. The Dr. is taking out nuggets as large as a fifty cent piece. The gold is found in nuggets varying in size from a turnip seed up to a 50 cent piece. Silver in the quartz is found in great quantities. There is likely to be a great rush for the Revelstoke "gold diggins" in the spring."

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH, ASHBURNHAM,

Extract From a Sermon by the Rector, Sunday, December the 26th, in Memoriam of Dr. W. H. Burritt, a Former Parishioner.

On Sunday morning last, the Rector of St. Luke's delivered a sermon suitable for the last Sunday in the year, basing his remarks on the 37th Verse of the 37th Psalm.

After referring to the significance and appropriateness of the words for the occasion, and deducing therefrom many important lessons, he closed in these words:—

Such reflections as these, my brethren, I have deemed not unsuitable to this the last Sunday in another year, which has brought each one of us a step nearer our latter end. For some among us, it has been a terrible year of suffering and affliction, to all, I hope, it has been instructive and has brought us onward on our heavenward way. Of many friends who closed the last year with us here, we must now say—their place knows them no more. Young and old have been suddenly called away to their great account, and have entered on their eternal reward.

Even during the merry rejoicings and pleasant anticipations of Christmas-tide, one of our oldest and most highly respected members, Dr. W. H. Burritt, was borne away. Truly of him we may use the words of our text, without flattery or fulsome adulation and say, "Mark the perfect man; and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace."

He was emphatically a good man, a consistent churchman, an earnest Christian, a faithful friend, an exemplary husband and father—one who strove at all times to do his duty faithfully as in the sight of the Most High, looking ever to Him for strength and grace and blessing. It has been my duty and privilege to minister at his bedside many times during his long-continued and trying illness, and none, I believe, outside the circle of his immediate friends and relatives, can testify more fully or sincerely than I can, to the earnest Christian faith, patient resignation, quiet endurance of extreme suffering and hearty appreciation of all kind acts, which he displayed until the end came, so quietly on Tuesday last and he passed peacefully away, as if in sleep.

He was not one given to boast of his attainments in holy things, and so I shall refrain from saying more on this topic. Indeed he would ever wish to take his stand with the humble and lowly in God's sight, and like St. Paul, "I have not yet attained, nor am already perfect, but I press toward the mark." Still this is all the more reason, I think, why we should consider he is now at rest in paradise, enjoying, as one of God's own flock, the reward of his trust in Christ and unwavering obedience to the commands of the Master. Like a shock of corn fully ripe, though with every faculty unimpaired, he has been gathered to his fathers, and "having been a little chastened," as the Book of Wisdom says, "he is now greatly rewarded, for God proved him and found him worthy for Himself." May the God of all consolation bless and comfort those dear ones he has left behind, and bestow upon them the needed strength to bear up in this trying hour, and to say from the heart: "The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord."

My brethren, the shortness and uncertainty of life should surely teach us, children of the dust and heirs of eternity, to transfer our thoughts, our cares, our affections and our hopes, from this passing world to heaven; to finish the work God has given us to do while it is day; to follow in our hearts those treasures which we shall shortly follow in person, and so make preparation for a latter end of peace. No one knows how soon he may be called to the trial. Youth and strength cannot keep that issue at a distance. "We know not what a day may bring forth." But this at least we do know, that it will be too late to begin the preparation on the day of trial.

Let us ever consider the departed as ministering spirits, waiting for us, watching us, inciting us onward, that our remembrance of them, through the influence of the Holy Spirit, may check all thoughts of evil, and lead us onward, upward, heavenward.

And when we miss them in their accustomed places, and listen in vain for the sound of their voices, or the noise of their footsteps, let us reconcile ourselves to death by remembering that every step we tread, every pulse beat of the heart, every tick of the clock, is bringing us homeward, nearer those whose presence we desire, and whose loss we mourn. May we each and all be ready to exclaim when that trying hour comes, in the words of the aged Simeon: "Lord now lettest Thou Thy servant depart in peace, according to Thy word, for mine eyes have seen Thy salvation."

To-Night.

Don't forget Miss Lindeman's benefit to-night at the Opera House.

Quartz.

A collection of gold, silver and lead quartz, brought from Big Bend, British Columbia, by Mr. W. J. Green, is on exhibition at Mr. J. McClelland's jewelry store.

A Treat.

Those who witnessed Miss Lindeman's performance of For-Get-Me-Not, last season will be anxious to see her in La Belle Russe, a companion play to the former.

Watch-Night Service.

There will be a watch-night service in the George street Methodist Church this evening, commencing at half-past ten o'clock. The Rev. I. Tovell, pastor of the church, will conduct the service. The public are invited.

Good Ice.

The ice on the Charlotte Street Rink is in splendid condition for skating. Season tickets can be had at any of the bookstores.

Commissioner Coombs, Commander-in-Chief of the Salvation Army in Canada, will visit Peterborough on Tuesday next, Jan 4th. He will talk in the evening at the barracks on the Wonder of the Age. Admission by ticket, 10 cents.

Pulpit Exchange.

On Sabbath morning next an exchange of pulpits will take place between Rev. Mr. Torrance and Rev. Mr. Tovell. The Covenant Service in the George street Church will be held in the evening. The Rev. Mr. Tovell will preach, choosing for his theme, "Our Election Made Sure."

Personel.

Mr. James Menzies, foreman of the Ottawa Free Press newsroom, who is a graduate of the REVIEW office, was on Christmas Eve presented by the editorial staff and compositors of the Free Press with a cane and an address. This is strong evidence of his popularity and ability in his position.

THE TEMPERANCE DODGE.

THE letter of Mr. Flavelle, published in our issue of Dec. 30, will surely open the eyes of temperance men to the use made of the movement by the Grit wire-pullers, if, indeed, any of them are still blind. Those who were honestly in favour of prohibition, of the Scott Act, of temperance legislation in general and its enforcement, must now see that they have been deliberately used as cat's paws by Grit party politicians, who have pretended to be in favour of their views, while in reality working against them for the sake of influencing votes. They have beheld the Scott Act systematically worked for the tricky manufacture of political capital and party strength. They have seen the Police Court turned into a mere Grit committee room. They have seen hotel keepers having to choose between imprisonment on the one hand and working and voting for Mr. Mowat on the other hand, and they have witnessed the result.

In this, as in other respects, the leading supporters of Mr. Mowat have shown that they are a compound of hypocrisy and knavery.

A FEW CORRECTIONS.

THE Ottawa Free Press says:—

"Wherever Mr. Laurier spoke the Liberal strength was increased. He spoke in West Peterborough, and that constituency has been wrested from Tory rule. Mr. Carnegie, the editor of the Peterborough Review newspaper, insulted Mr. Laurier and urged that he should not be heard, has been buried at the polls."

The Free Press might be nearer the truth if it made the following corrections in this short paragraph. Mr. Carnegie is not the editor of the REVIEW; he had no knowledge of what appeared in the REVIEW about Laurier till he read it in print afterward, not even being in town but in the North of the Riding; the REVIEW never heard that Laurier should not be heard but on the contrary urged that he should be heard, and refused to insert a number of letters advocating that he should not be heard; the REVIEW did not insult Laurier by telling the truth about him that he was a perjured Privy Councillor, a self confessed rebel and would be murderer, but the Grit wire-pullers insulted every loyal honest man in Peterborough by bringing him here to rejoice over those whose gallant friends and relations were killed or maimed, while fighting for their country, by the allies of Mr. Mowat and Mr. Blake; Mr. Carnegie was not buried very deep at the polls by an adverse majority of about thirty. The one shed of truth in the rant of the Free Press is that there was an apparent increase in the Liberal strength, but this was not due to the fellow-countrymen of Laurier, most of whom remained true to their party. Some other causes must be found for any accession of Liberal strength.

ONTARIO'S MESSAGE.

IN its rejoicings over the success of Mr. Mowat the Globe says:—

"John A. Macdonald is politically a dead man, and the long, dark reign of corruption draws swiftly to a close. It is not only that Ontario vindicated her good sense and placed a cover on the coffin of the boodle Government of Ottawa, but that her people sent out a message to the sister Province of Quebec, as to the significance of which there can be absolutely no mistake. That message was that the free and generous heart of Ontario does not condemn the Canadian French for their sympathy with the unfortunate halfbreeds whom John A. Macdonald harried into a piteous insurrection, and does not condemn, but heartily approves, her declaration against the cruel, corrupt and bloodstained Cabinet at Ottawa. It will be wholly useless for the mouthpieces of John A. Macdonald to argue that that message has not been practically sent East."

We do not dispute the assertion of the Globe, in fact we agree with it that such is the message that Messrs. Mowat and Pacaud and their supporters have sent East. This message is "practically" that they approve and support rebellion against Canada, its Sovereign and people. Their "practical" message from Peterborough is that they regret that there were not others beside Edward Brown shot by the rebels, that there were not others beside Richard Cook injured for life by the Reformers in arms, that there were not others beside Arthur Williams dead from the effects of their campaign in defence of their country.

There will be many honest but deluded Reformers who will be shocked and surprised to learn that such was their message, but so it was. They were deluded into believing that they were voting for reform, for temperance, for Provincial rights, for a Christian politician, but now that their votes have been obtained they are told by their leader, through his hired organ, the nature of his message that they have blindly endorsed.

It is true, as the Globe says, that such a message has been sent, but the message itself is not true. In the first place it is not true that the Macdonald Administration is likely to be punished by dismissal from office for having suppressed rebellion and enforced justice. Neither is the message that of a majority of the people of Ontario, even including those who were deluded, but it is only the message of a minority made to appear as a majority through the dishonest manipulation of the boundaries of the constituencies by Mr. Mowat.

And it is Mr. Mowat who by this trick sends the message as described by his Globe.

THE FISHERIES TREATY.

Probability of a Satisfactory Arrangement with the United States.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Sir Lionel Sackville West, British Minister at Washington, informs the Government that he is in receipt of communications from Canada showing a favorable prospect for the resumption of negotiations at Washington looking to the renewal of the Fisheries treaty, on a basis approved by the Dominion Government as already made public. The Minister expresses his belief that the project will be favorably considered and finally accepted in its substantial entirety by the American Government.

A HUMAN HOLOCAUST.

Three Hundred People Burned to Death in Madras.

MADRAS, Jan. 2.—Three hundred people lost their lives by the burnig of the reserved enclosure at the People's Park at Madras on Friday. The fire lasted only 15 minutes. It is ascertained that 300 persons last their lives, being either burned to death or suffocated, while the number injured is placed at the same figure. The commander-in-chief and the first Prince of Travancore, who were present, escaped uninjured. Among the victims were two European women, and many European children are missing. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin.

NORWOOD.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE ELECTION.—The nomination of candidates for the offices of trustees—three being required—took place on Wednesday. The retiring members of the Board—Messrs. Duncan Campbell, Robt. Scott and P. W. Reynolds—were re-elected by acclamation.

OBITUARY.—Early on Wednesday morning, Mrs. Murphy, relict of the late Mr. Timothy Murphy, of Asphodel, passed over to the great majority. She was in her 73rd year and was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The funeral will take place today (Friday) at 10 o'clock, a. m. The funeral sermon will be preached in the R. C. church by the Rev. J. Quirk.

FIRE PROTECTION AT LAST.—The fire engine purchased some weeks ago arrived here on Thursday and was tested as to its efficiency in throwing water on Friday morning. Roxburgh's block, at the corner of Colborne and Peterborough streets, was selected, it being the highest building in the village. The engine was put in motion and a good stream thrown over the dome on the building and finally over the flagstaff on the dome. The engine is very neat and compact, having double brass cylinders and being handsomely finished. It is, no doubt, the cheapest and best village fire engine manufactured in Canada. The trial was in every way satisfactory, and was conducted by Mr. James Evans, of Omemee, the manufacturer. The council should lose no time in calling a public meeting for the purpose of organizing a fire brigade.—Register.

BURMESE RUBIES.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—The British army of occupation is within two miles of the great ruby mines of Burmah.

SPAIN ARMING.

MADRID, Dec. 31.—The Spanish Government's decision to ask credits for new forts was reached at the Cabinet Council over which the Queen presided. A large sum will be asked for forts along the Mediteranean coasts and at Cadiz, and more money will be asked if necessary to prepare for a European war. The Cabinet decided to adopt a neutral policy.

THE UNIONISTS' OPPORTUNITY.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—The Standard says:—"The Cabinet is prepared to give any post to the Liberal-Unionists except that of the Premier. Efforts will be made to induce Sir Michael Hicks-Beech to become the successor of Lord Randolph Churchill as leader of the House of Commons if negotiations for a coalition should fail."

THE BREACH WIDENING.

LONDON, December 31.—Lord Randolph Churchill to-day, through Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, consented to resume office on condition that Lord Salisbury gave assurances that he would support his proposed root and branch reforms of abuses in the naval and military administration. Baron Rowley conveyed the offer to Lord Salisbury, who rejected it in terms that will widen the breach between himself and Lord Churchill.

GLADSTONE'S INFLUENCE.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Sir William Vernon Harcourt and Mr. Arnold Morley visited Mr. Goschen yesterday. It is rumored that the latter was sent by Mr. Gladstone to advise Mr. Goschen not to leave the Liberal party.

FRANCE IN EGYPT.

PARIS, Jan. 2.—Count d'Aunay, the French agent at Cairo, at a reception given to him by the French residents yesterday, said he was authorized to declare that France would not allow her Interests in Egypt to be endangered, and had decided to take measures accordingly.

GOSCHEN ACCEPTS.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Mr. Goschen had virtually accepted the Chancellorship of the Exchequer. He is to meet the Prime Minister to-morrow and give a definite reply. The leadership of the Commons will not be assumed by Mr. Goschen, but will be taken by one of the present Ministers.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Lord Dufferin, Viceroy of India, replying to an address presented by the Indian Association, disapproved of the request that the Government should organize a native volunteer corps.

REVIEW.

CANADIAN METHODIST MAGAZINE.—The December number, which has a handsome new cover, and contains three finely illustrated articles, completes the 24th volume of this popular magazine. The editor makes a brilliant announcement for 1887. The substance of Lady Brassey's $5 volume: "In the Trades, the Tropics, and the Roaring Forties," will be given with 90 very superior engravings. Another illustrated series—"Our Own Country"—will give articles by the Marquis of Lorne, on "Canadian Life and Scenery," and "The Canadian Pacific Railway"; by the editor, on "Across the Continent"; by J. T. Moore, Esq., on "The North Pacific Coast and Alaska"; by the Rev. Hugh Johnston, on "The River Saguenay," etc., etc. Other illustrated articles will be "The British Princes in the Southern Seas"; "At the Antipodes"; "Among the Spice Islands"; "In the Land of the Sky"; "Her Majesty's Tower"; "Old Edinburgh"; "Souvenirs of John Wesley"; "On the Colorado," and many others. The serial story will be "The Preacher's Daughter," by Mrs. A. E. Barr, author of that remarkable book, "Jan Vedder's Wife." By compression of its contents the magazine for 1887 will contain about 100 additional pages of printed matter. Now is the time to subscribe.

E C Hill	13 50

All of which is respectfully submitted,

R S DAVIDSON,
Chairman.

Councillor DAVIDSON advocated the looking into the account presented by J. E. McIntyre.

It was agreed that the matter be looked after by the Councillor who made the arrangements.

SOLICITOR'S SALARY.

Councillor KELLY moved, seconded by Councillor MCNEIL,—That the communication of Mr. E. B. Edwards to a previous meeting of this Council be referred to the Finance Committee for re-consideration.—Carried.

CRESCENT STREET.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That whereas Crescent street is being continuously washed away by the water in the Little Lake, and whereas the said lake has been filled from the sawdust and mill refuse deposited in the water tributary to the said lake, for the past 40 years, which has led to the washing away of said street, and whereas the late Government Engineer of the Trent Valley works claimed during his life time that said Crescent street is a Government reserve for a highway, and whereas, the Dominion Government have made grants from time to time to clear the lake of the mill refuse deposited therein as set forth above, this Council is of opinion that such grants would be more advantageously employed if a dredge were used for the purpose of filling up said street in which work this Council is willing to assist, be it therefore resolved that the Town Solicitor have prepared a memorial to His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, setting forth the above facts in full, and praying that a grant be made for the purpose set forth above.

Councillor CAHILL added that a dredge was now at Cobourg, and could be easily brought here.

The motion was carried.

SOUTH RESERVE.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor MCNAUGHTON,—That this Council hereby approve of any steps the Commissioners of the Town Trust may take in disposing of lands in the south reserve.—Carried.

CONDOLENCE.

Councillor DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Councillor MCNAUGHTON,—That this Council regrets to learn of the death of the Street Inspector, the late Alexander Wilson, who during the time he occupied the position was a faithful and efficient servant, and that as a mark of respect to the deceased we do now adjourn, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the family of the deceased, and that this Council do attend the funeral of the deceased in its corporate capacity.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned to meet on Monday, January 10th.

Trick of a Traveling Doctor.

Several months ago one of these traveling healers of all diseases came to Detroit with a great flourish of trumpets, and in a few days the fame of his wonderful cures spread abroad and filled his rooms with crowds of lame, halt and blind. I went over one day to see him lay on hands and heal. One of his patients was a young man who alleged that his right arm had been useless for months. The great quack rubbed it, and the patient experienced great relief. He came again and again, and in a week was completely cured. There was another with spinal complaint, a third who had been deaf for ten years, and several others who were almost blind. All were cured. Some of us were amazed at see wonderful cures and after the quack had worked the town for what it was worth he vanished with a wallet stuffed with bank bills.

It was only the other day that I heard something drop. I learned then, from the very best authority that the "doctor" employed no less than twenty-one different "patients" to travel with him from city to city and pass themselves off for residents and be "cured" of their ailments. We are a gullible people. The biggest frauds upon earth find a rich crop on American soil.—M. Quad in Detroit Free Press.

A College During the War.

The building of the bridge across the Hudson at Poughkeepsie puts us in mind of the fact that the project was first broached a great many years ago by Professor Eastman, of that town. He labored long and hard to bring the public to see the advantages to be derived from such a work, but died before he had enough supporters to bring his plan to a head. Eastman made an enormous fortune in Poughkeepsie with a business college. At the time of the war he was eking out a living as the proprietor of a small school. Under the draft law scholars were exempt from military service, and Eastman soon found his school so full that he had to move into more commodious quarters. The secret of the plan to evade conscription leaked out, and within six months Eastman rented every vacant room in the town and filled it with "scholars." Illiteracy spread with alarming rapidity, and middle-aged men who had been considered fairly educated merchants suddenly forgot how to read and write or to do their sums, and found it necessary to attend Professor Eastman's business college. The professor prospered accordingly, and even when the war deprived him of his "scholars" his business was firmly established.—Chicago News.

"Erosion" in Artillery.

"Erosion" is the greatest difficulty of the modern artillerist. For some reason or other modern big guns are scored to pieces by their own charges before they have been fired many times. At the Iron and Steel Institute the engineers had a good deal to say on the subject, but they did not come to any definite conclusion about it. Some authorities maintain that it is the friction of solid particles of powder driven along at enormous speed over the intensely heated surface of the tube which destroys the gun. Others think it is due to the chemical action set by the gases liberated in the ignition of the powder. But in reality very little is known about the matter.—St. James' Gazette.

White House Guests in Jackson's Time

President Jackson's table manners were as democratic as could be desired. He had at each plate two forks, one of which was of silver and the other of steel. The president used a steel fork himself, and after his dinner he always smoked his tobacco from a long handled corn cob pipe. Andrew Jackson entertained lavishly on the night of his first inauguration. The carpets of the east room were ruined by the orange punch and lemonade which were served to the crowd which came to his reception. Barrels of this punch were made, and it was brought into the room in buckets. At last the people began to rush for the waiters as soon as they entered the room. Glasses were broken and ladies' dresses ruined. Tubs of punch were finally taken into the garden, and in this way the throng was drawn off and it was possible to serve cake and wine to the ladies.

At Jackson's farewell reception a monster cheese, as big as a hogshead in circumference and nearly a yard thick, was cut with saw blades made into knives and served out to the guests. Each guest received three pounds of cheese. The event was the talk of the nation, and when Van Buren became president his New York friends, emulative of Jackson, sent him a big cheese. It was cut up in the east room. The greasy crumbs falling upon the carpet were trampled into it, and the ruination of the furniture during these two administrations led the later presidents to discontinue the practice of serving eatables at general receptions. Now no guest comes to a dinner at the White House unless invited. —Frank G. Carpenter in Lippincotts' Magazine.

Palmito, a Cuban Dish.

With no intention of making my letters a circulating cookery book, I have another Cuban dish to tell you about, one which few foreigners have tasted, and which even many Cubans—those living in cities—have passed quite a lifetime without tasting. When it is known that in order to get the "palmito" one of the handsomest and tallest trees of Cuba has to be cut down, and thus entirely destroyed, just to furnish a dish of palmito for two or three meals only, it should—with that very human appreciation of the rare and difficult of acquisition—hold a high place in the culinary art.

The palmito is the heart of that green, fresh looking part of the trunk of the palm enveloped by the "yagua," which is near the top of the tree, just below its spreading leaves. The tree down, this green portion of the trunk is cut open, and an ivory white, transparent looking substance, the tenderest part about eighteen inches in circumference and as many inches long, is taken out. This—the palmito—is eaten as salad, both cooked and raw, is made into soup, is cooked in an omelette, and is used in many other dishes. Raw, as a salad, it has a delicious taste and is very palatable. Cooked, as a salad, it has no taste at all, and yet is delicious. Strange contradiction! Without taste, it gives to the mouth a fresh, delightfully cool sensation.—Cuba Cor. New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Civilization in Africa.

"The negroes," said Mr. Stanley, "don't resent the invasion of civilization. They like it. They like the methods of civilized dress. You will find Gen. Wolseley's fine coat on a native, Lord Alcester's clothes on the back of another negro. They do up and fix thousands of old coats in Whitechapel, London, and send them out to the natives. At first the negroes merely wore an admiral's hat and a big stick, but now they have found out that those articles are not sufficient. The Germans are very sharp traders. The way they manage is this: They invite the chief's to a grand breakfast. They have a room furnished in apple pie order, grand mirrors, sofas, chairs, carpets, knicknacks and bric-a-brac. Then the native chief looks around and says: 'This is very nice. I wish I could have something like it. Will you sell it?' 'Yes,' says the German; 'how much oil will you give me?' When the price has been fixed the whole contents of the room were carried bodily away to the black chief's house, and the next morning the German gives another breakfast."—New York Times.

Not Exactly Paupers.

Belfast (Me.) has a woman who is a match for most any lawyer. She was a witness in the pauper case between Liberty and Palermo, and had been a pauper in the latter town. On cross-examination the attorney asked her if she was a pauper on the town. "I was a liability," said the woman. "You were a pauper," said the attorney. "I want you to understand," said the woman firing up, "that poor people are not paupers; they are liabilities.—Chicago Times.

Advice to Consumptives.

On the appearance of the first symptoms—as general debility, loss of appetite, pallor, chilly sensations, followed by night-sweats and cough—prompt measures for relief should be taken. Consumption is scrofulous disease of the lungs—therefore use the great anti-scrofula or blood purifier and strength restorer—Dr Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Superior to cod liver oil as a nutritive, and unsurpassed as a pectoral. For weak lungs, spitting of blood and kindred effections, it has no equal. Sold by druggists the world over. THE MARKET REPORTS.

The markets during the week have not been large, owing, no doubt, to the election excitement and the cold weather. The receipts of grain have been average. The price shows a gratifying increase over even the increase of the preceding week. The prices quoted below for grain were paid on the market to-day. The glut of meats offered for which there is only a local demand keeps the prices comparatively low. The scarcity of fowl, however, has had its effect and good prices are paid for all kinds. Potatoes continue to be a scarce article and the price now gradually increasing is but a natural consequence.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

PRODUCES SWEET AND NATURAL SLEEP.

Dr C. B. Dake, Belleville, Ill., says: "I have found it, and it alone, to produce sweet and natural sleep in cases of wakefulness caused by overwork of the brain, which often occurs with active professional and business men."

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for Diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Harper's Young People.

AN ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE has been called "the model of what a periodical for young readers ought to be," and the justice of this commendation is amply sustained by the large circulation it has attained both at home and in Great Britain. This success has been reached by methods that must commend themselves to the judgement of parents, no less than to the tastes of children—namely, by an earnest and well sustained effort to provide the best and most attractive reading for young people at a low price. The illustrations are copious and of a conspicuously high standard of excellence

An epitome of everything that is attractive and desirable in juvenile literature.—Boston Courier.

A weekly feast of good things to the boys and girls in every family which it visits.—Brooklyn Union.

It is wonderful in its wealth of pictures, information, and interest.—Christain Advocate N. Y.

Notice to Contractors

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Midland Harbor Works," will be received until Tuesday, the 25th day of January, 1887, inclusively, for the construction of Works at Midland, Simcoe County, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen on application to the Reeve, Midland, at the office of the Resident Engineer, Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough, and at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Persons desirous of tendering are requested to make personal enquiry relative to the work to be done, and to examine the locality themselves, and are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, the blanks properly filled in, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted bank cheque made payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, for the sum of one thousand dollors ($1,000), which will be forfeited if the party decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
A. GOBEIL,
Secretary.

Municipal Elections.

The municipal elections are in full progress to-day. The voting has gone on quietly and steadily since the opening of the polls, and up to noon the number of ballots cast was nearly double that of any former election. The ladies form quite a conspicuous part of the voters.

Dangerously Ill.

Mr. J. E. Hammond lies dangerously ill with typhoid fever at his residence, Antrim street. He contracted the disease while attending on his brother, Mr. Herbert Hammond, who is now rapidly recovering to good health. The attending physician does not hold out much hope of an early recovery.

Increased Population.

The vital statistics for the year 1886, as compared with those of 1885, are as follows:

	1885	1886	Increase
Births	160	192	32
Marriages	113	115	2
Deaths	102	121	19

The notice of two marriages taking place on Friday makes the number of marriages in 1886 exactly the same as in 1885.

New Year's Reception.

The New Year's Day reception held in the Y.M.C.A. rooms was quite a success. During the whole afternoon the callers kept arriving and departing. The lady friends of the Association provided coffee, cake and other refreshments for the callers. In the evening a short entertainment was held, at which Miss Johnston and Harry Stephens gave songs, and Messrs. A. Clegg, D. B. Gardiner and M. Cummings, readings. During the day not only visitors from town called, but also from Montreal, Toronto, Port Hope, Port Perry, Campbellford, Galt, and other places.

Orange Blossoms.

On New Year's Eve the marriage of Mr. S. G. Parkin, of Lindsay, to Miss Minnie Fawcett, was celebrated by the Rev. F. H. Wallace M.A., B.D., at the residence of the bride's father. Mr. J. H. Hart, of Lindsay, was the groomsman and Miss Annie Fawcett, sister of the bride, the bridesmaid. The presents sent to the bride by her friends here and elsewhere were many and valuable. Mr. and Mrs. Parkin turned over a new leaf in their lives by going to their new home at Lindsay on the evening train. The REVIEW wishes them many happy New Years.

Race.

A winter meeting was held at the Driving Park on New Year's Day, conducted by Mr. Johnny Newhall. The first and only race was the open trot. There were four entries: Daly's Fanny B., Morgan's Grey Ned, Lundy's Factory Girl, and Newhall's Gladstone. The prize was $50. A start was made without much difficulty, but the track was in such a heavy condition, owing to the recent snowfall, that no time at all was made. Worse than three minutes was the best. Grey Ned won the first two heats, and Factory Girl the other three and the race. Fanny B. was taken off at the end of the second heat. Messrs. John Simpson, H Calcutt and Ted. Cavanagh acted as judges

St. Andrew's Entertainment.

An entertainment will be given in Bradburn's Opera House on Monday evening, January 10th. Singing by Miss Howden, of Millbrook, will be one of the leading features. Admission, 25 and 35 cents.

Vital Statistics.

The vital statistics of Peterborough for the month of December, as taken from the Divisional Registrar's record is as follows:—

Births	19
Marriages	14
Deaths	13

Closed.

The Woodward Dramatic Company closed a two weeks engagement at Bradburn's Opera House on New Year's night, appearing in the popular comedy, "The Shaughraun." The attendance filled the hall in every part. The success of the company during the engagement has not been immoderate, owing no doubt to holiday attractions and election excitement.

New Year Serenading.

The Fire Brigade Band have been unable, owing to the elections and other causes to call on all their friends either on New Year's week or on New Year's day, and in consequence will call on all those who received cards from the band during the present week. Mr. Miller and the members of his band desire to return their sincere thanks to all those who have so kindly received them and are very sorry that so many of their old friends have been away this year.

CHEAP carpets, oilcloths and mats at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

Finances.

According to figures received from the Town Treasurer the position of the Town Council in regard to the high tax last year is this:—

Loss of license revenue	$ 4,300 00
Extra water service petitioned for by the people	1,500 00
Nicholls Hospital	3,000 00
Debentures 1885 paid	2,370 00
	$11,170 00
Scott Act fines received	$ 2,200 00
Surplus on street and bridge account	1,300 00
Surplus on other items	1 000 00
Surplus now in hand	$ 4,500 00

The taxes were $40,850 in 1885, and $56,565 in 1886. Deduct the amount of incresed expenditure not controlled by the Council, the loss of revenue and the surplus now in hand for the amount of taxation leaves $40,995.

The Choral Festival

will be repeated by request on Thursday the 6th, at 8 o'clock, after which the gifts will be distributed to the children from the Christmas trees by Santa Claus in person. Those ladies who have kindly offered to assist in the children's entertainment to be given at 5 in the afternoon at the Concert Hall, will please send their donations to the Opera House on Thursday morning next so as to have things in readiness for the children. Nearly 500 children will take part in the concert. Mr. Seward will feel very grateful if the ladies of the different congregations throughout the town will all unite in the matter of furnishing refreshments for the children. It is therefore hoped that the friends of the children will greet them with a full house. There will be a rehearsal on Wednesday afternoon in the Opera House at three o'clock and the children are expected to be present to receive fresh tickets. No child will be admitted without the new ticket. This course became necessary as many of the old tickets were stolen from the children.

The Late J. C. Hughes.

We find the following in the New Westminster, B. C., British Columbian:—"Forest and Stream, of Dec. 2, contains an obituary on the death of Mr. J. C. Hughes, with whom the editor was personally acquainted. The notice says:—'Mr. Hughes was a keen and untiring sportsman, and an ardent lover of nature as well as a close observer. He was a frequent contributor to the Forest and Stream, and in years gone by his pseudonym 'Mowitch' was well known to all our readers.' Of late years he has written over his own name. He was, we believe, the first to suggest the explanation of the well known fact that a deer killed in winter while wearing a summer coat will always sink, while one wearing the autumnal coat will float. Mr. Hughes explained that this difference was due to the greater amount and buoyancy of the longer and thicker hair. His fondness for outdoor life gave him exceptional opportunities for observation and study, and he made many interesting additions to our knowledge of the habits of the birds and mammals of the Northwest coast. Long association with Indians had given Mr. Hughes a thorough knowledge of these people, and it is most unfortunate for the Canadian Indian Service that he was not spared to carry out his work at Fort Simpson. It is with a sense of personal bereavement that we pen these lines, for it was our good fortune to know Mr. Hughes intimately, and to have taken part with him in more than one successful hunt. He was a man of most genial nature, and was everywhere popular, and not only this, but he was admired, respected and loved by all who knew him.'"

NEW YORK Count Oysters at OSTROM'S.

Welcome in, glad new year. Another twelve months has passed away, and 1886 is now numbered among the "things that were." With the new year comes signs of prosperity, peace and contentment. The new year just entered upon will have its changes and chances—changes that all are interested in. To-day our citizens are fighting at the polls for municipals honors, and to-morrow let the defeated ones stretch forth the hand of fellowship to those who have been successful, pay their election bills like men, and during the year 1887 buy their clothing from A. McNeil.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

CHRISTMAS IN TEXAS.

AUSTIN, Texas, Dec. 26th, 1886.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Enclosed please find short article on Christmas Day in the South. Should you think it worthy of publication you are at liberty to do so, the only condition I attach being that you send me a few copies of the paper in which it appears.

I may, in the future, be tempted to write on other subjects, and there are many that would interest your readers.

There are, I am sure, a great number of your readers who will remember me, and sincerely hope the enclosed article will refresh their memory with thoughts of the many happy days spent in "Auld Lang Syne."

Yours truly,

GEORGE PERRY.

[N. B. Mr. Perry's interesting contribution will be found in another column.—Ed. REVIEW.]

DIPHTHERIA.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—As several cases of diphtheria have recently occurred in our town every precaution should be taken to prevent, as far as possible, the spread of that dangerous disease. Such precaution, however, is not always adopted.

A very serious case occurred in the South Ward last week of so malignant a type that on the termination of the case, the corpse was buried a few hours after death, the windows of the house were opened, the clothes of the deceased were thrown out into the garden, were saturated with coal oil, set fire to and burnt to ashes.

Now, Sir, I should not have felt it necessary to ask you to publish this statement but for the fact that during all this time no card of warning was attached to the premises indicating the nature of the disorder so that people, even children, went to the house to enquire after the invalid, all unconscious of the danger they incurred.

This being the second case I have heard of where similar culpable neglect took place I think it only right that the authorities should bestir themselves to secure us immunity from it in the future.

PREVENTION.

Peterborough, Jan. 3. 1887.

Another Big Strike.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The World says: "The brakemen, laborers and foremen employed upon all the coal docks between Amboy and Hoboken, on the Jersey shore, decided to strike this morning against the reduction of wages recently ordered by the syndicate of coal companies. About 1,000 men are affected."

Orphan Asylum Burned.

MACON, Ga., Jan. 3.—Bibb county orphan home, three miles from Macon, was burned Saturday night at midnight. Forty-five children were turned out in their night clothing, with the thermometer marking 12 degrees. They were finally taken care of by neighbors. Loss $7,000.

Leaving the Knights.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 3.—At the last meeting of Local Assembly, No. 116, it was decided to meet no more as Knights of Labor, except at the call of the master workman, and this practically means the severance of all connection with the order.

FLORIDA Oranges at 50 and 60 cents per dozen at OSTROM'S.

CHRISTMAS IN THE SOUTH.

How it was Observed in the Capital of Lone Star State.

AUSTIN, Texas, December 25, 1886.

This is Christmas morning, and as I sit on the open piazza enjoying a cigar, a thought of the many Christmases I have enjoyed in my native town so far away in the North came stealing over me, and as a tribute to their memory, and probably to the interest of some of your readers, I will give a brief account of how this grandest of all festive occasions is observed in this part of the Sunny South.

To a Canadian, the thought of a Christmas with the thermometer ranging about 75 and people in shirt-sleeves seeking a shade, must seem at least strange, but such is the state of the weather here this morning and I am told it continues thus, with few exceptions, during the whole winter season.

Christmas is celebrated here almost in the same manner, but with more hilarity, than our great 24th of May, and since its advent last night the whole city has continued in one great uproar, occasioned by the firing of guns, pistols, firecrackers, and the pressing into service of every conceivable implement and device for making a noise, and to say that the citizens have succeeded would but slightly convey an idea of the din that almost distracts me as I write. The population of Austin is mostly made up of negroes and Mexicans, and to the former this is the one great day of the year, and those of them who are fortunate enough to get a sufficient quantity of liquor succeed in getting so drunk as to be unable to do anything else but yell, and I want to remark right here that when a Southern darkie starts in to yell he would put to shame a Commache Indian. The Mexican element, knowing the feeling of hatred with which it is regarded by native Texans, wisely keeps in the background, celebrating the day after their own fashion in their own section of the city. What would probably be the most interesting sight to your readers would be the antics of the infant negro population, for Sam never tired of watching them, and many a time have I laughed till the tears came to my eyes at their grotesque appearance, their humorous sayings and actions, and the spirit of devilry that seems to pervade them all. As I write this there is a party of them, ranging from six to 12 years of age, fully equipped with tin horns, drums, tin pans, whistles, etc., all bare footed and hatless, engaged in serenading our neighbor across the way. If he refrains from taking down his shot gun and materially lessening Austin's colored population, I will give him credit for possessing more philantrophy than usually falls to the lot of ordinary mortal—and there are at the present moment hundreds of others in different parts of the city undergoing the torture of a serenade by these infantile sons of Ham.

Among the better classes the day is celebrated by giving and receiving presents, and the usual Christmas dinner, but even they are not free from the prevailing idea that they must make a noise, and from almost every piazza groups of young and old are to be seen busily engaged in shooting off the lively little "cracker."

Not the least conspicious element in the celebration is the Texas Cowboy; but as he is a familiar sight here, and as his spirit of recklessness has been somewhat curbed by the strong arm of the law, but little attention is paid to him, and around this section he generally confines himself to exhibitions of daring horsmanship, fancy shooting, etc.

I ate my Christmas dinner with the doors and windows of the dining room thrown open to catch what little breeze was stirring; but all the beauty of the day, and the strangeness of the scene could not compensate me for the absence of my friends in the North, and I would have been willing—nay, glad of the opportunity—to eat my Christmas dinner standing in snow up to my waist, if I could only have the pleasure of doing so with friends of my childhood.

THE SCOTT ACT.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Permit me, through the medium of your columns, to say a few words on this old matter, the Scott Act, which already has been talked out of date.

Well, sir, as an observer, if I may be allowed to give my opinion. I think it has not worked altogether very satisfactory, as I ask in what counties is it working as it should do? Very few, if any. As everybody knows, that while in some counties the Act is working imperfectly, while, on the other hand, in others the Act is utterly disregarded. I hope, Mr. Editor, that the readers of your paper will not by the tone of my letter be led to suppose that I am in favour of the Act, as it is no business of mine whether a man drinks or not, but it does matter to that man's family, and I don't want to judge any man, but I do say that if the Government want to enforce the Act rigidly, the present one being so faulty, it will need to be revised, doing away with the making of intoxicating liquors, etc., as, while this is carried on, persons who are naturally addicted to drinking will follow their evil course in spite of the present law, but, on the other hand, it seems to be unjust that the majority of the people should be governed by such a law just because the minority choose to make (literally speaking) beasts of themselves. I would never, sir, be guilty of such a mean act, as not a few resort to that of informing on a man for the sake of a few paltry dollars, as any one that would do this is no man.

I will now close, hoping I have not left myself open to criticism, as being young I may have failed to express my opinions clearly, so I leave it to older heads to decide that are better posted than I am. Wishing you a Happy New Year, Mr. Editor, I beg to apologize for trespassing on your valuable space.

I remain, yours truly

E. LAMBERT.

Dick Turpin at Milton.

MILTON, Jan. 3. A bold robbery was perpetrated on Sunday evening. Mr. William Dixon, a farmer within a mile of this town, had a revolver pointed at him in his dwelling by a supposed stranger, and his money demanded. He gave the robber about $25, all the money he had in his pocket. No trace of the unknown.

GOSCHEN AND THE CABINET.

Lord Hartington Advises His Entry into the Ministry—Political Jottings.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The Times says Mr. Goschen was reluctant to accept office, but was strongly advised to do so by Lord Hartington. It is expected Mr. Goschen will meet Lord Salisbury to-day and finally settle with him the terms on which he will enter his cabinet. He will join the Ministry on the understanding that he does so as a Liberal, and that his object is to strengthen the Unionist cause. He desires to be satisfied that he is in agreement with the Government on all important foreign and domestic questions. Mr. Goschen has not been offered the leadership of the Government in the House of Commons, but that will naturally revert to him after the pro tem lead of Right Hon. W. H. Smith. Lord Salisbury has assured Lord Hartington that he is trying, with some hope of success, to overcome the reluctance of the Conservatives to accept Lord Hartington as Prime Minister. Referring to Mr. Chamberlain, the Times says: "While that gentleman regards himself as perfectly loyal to Lord Hartington, he has undoubtedly made overtures to the Gladstonian party for reunion."

The Standard says it is certain the Government, with Mr Goschen in office, will be as strong as it was before Lord Randolph Churchill resigned. It trusts to the good sense of Lord Randolph and his special friends to restrain them from providing fresh and unforseen troubles.

Mr. A. R. Kidd was re-elected Reeve by a majority of 143, polling 246 to Mr. Kelly's 103. Mr. R. Crow was elected Deputy-Reeve by a majority of 57, polling 202 to Mr. J. Robb's 145. The Councillors elected were Mr. Webster with 207, Mr. Kirk and Mr. Moore with 179 each. The unsuccessful candidates were Mr. Payne with 144, and Mr. J. J. Crow with 104 votes. It had been rumored that Mr. Kidd would be defeated because he did not support Mr. Blezard, but the result shows differently.

CAMPBELLFORD.

PERSONAL.—Miss Stephenson, who taught the first department of the Public School, during last year, has accepted a position in Lakefield. She is an excellent teacher, and was well regarded by pupils, parents and trustees.

INJURED BY A FALL.—On Friday last, while Mrs. Goldsmith, of this village, was proceeding along the sidewalk, near Mr. Botting's barber shop, she fell and sprained her ankle and broke the cord of the foot. She was assisted home and the injury received the attention it required. It will disable her for some weeks, and we understand it is of such a nature that it will enfeeble the ankle probable for life.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.—A little seven year old daughter of Mr. A. T. Green had a narrow escape from drowning on Wednesday afternoon of last week. She went out with a handsleigh on the river, at the rear of her home, and broke through. Her cries attracked the attention of two or three persons who speedily communicated the intelligence of the child's position to Mr. Green. Forgetting the danger he rushed out to rescue her but the ice gave way under his weight, and securing a board he managed by its aid to reach the little girl who was clinging to the ice. Mr. Green brought his treasure to shore to the joy of the bystanders. The water where she fell through is twenty feet deep, and the spot fully 75 yards from the shore.—Herald

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

GLADSTONE'S SYMPATHY.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Mr. Gladstone, writing to wish success to a new Scotch newspaper, says:—"It is difficult to withhold a degree of provisional sympathy from the Government. The resignation of Lord Randolph Churchill," he continues, "is variously attributed to various questions which are of deep interest to true Liberals. An early and serious dislocation of the ministry from within will tend to promote misgivings as to the solidity of its policy with regard to which its unity and determination have been so loudly proclaimed." He concludes as follows:—"Knowing the firmness of our position. We can watch the issue tranquilly, and as far as our leading principles will permit, study every opportunity to restore Liberal unity."

TERRIBLE GAS EXPLOSION.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—An explosion of gas occurred yesterday in Cambridge barracks at Portsmouth, doing considerable damage. Four men were killed and others are still buried in the debris. It is not known whether they are alive or not. The number of injured, as far as known, is thirteen, and some of these, it is feared, are fatally hurt.

THE BRITISH IN BURMAH.

MANDALAY, Jan. 3.—The Burmese ruby merchants maintain a friendly attitude toward the British. A proclamation has been issued ordering all the inhabitants to surrender their arms within five days. It is expected the troops will be compelled to leave the ruby mines in consequence of the scarcity of water and prevalence of fevers. The camp of a native prince has been surprised by the British troops. The prince himself and forty followers were killed.

DEPUTY SPULLER DENIES.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Deputy Eugene Spuller denies the report that he has said that the Due d'Aumale should have been allowed to return to France, because of his gift to the nation of his Chantilly estates. The reporter with whom Mr. Spuller conversed on the subject misunderstood the latter's remarks and consequently incorrectly reported them. M. Spuller expresses himself as having greatly enjoyed his trip to America on the occasion of the unveiling of the Bartholdi statue.

NO RESULT.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The Standard says: The conferences between Mr. Morley and Mr. Chamberlain, which were sanctioned by Mr. Gladstone, have as yet resulted in no definite understanding. Mr. Chamberlain adheres to his opposition to the establishment of a Dublin Parliament, and neither Mr. Gladstone nor his colleagues will consent to abandon or postpone their Home Rule scheme.

TO SUPPORT M. GOBLET.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—The Temps and Petits France, M. Wilson's organ, confirm the report that M. De Freycinet and M. Ferry have agreed to give a joint support to the Goblet Ministry.

GREAT FIRE IN LONDON.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—A disastrous fire has occurred on Wood street, London, affecting the property of 25 firms. The damage is enormous. It is impossible to estimate the loss as present.

EXPULSION OF JEWS.

VIENNA, Jan. 3.—It is reported that 15,000 Jews have been expelled from Kieff.

BOYCOTTING AN ARCHBISHOP.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The Dublin Express of yesterday asserts that Archbishop Walsh is being boycotted by Catholics of the upper class because he supports the Nationalist plan of campaign.

THE BULGARIAN CRISIS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 3.—It is semi-officially stated that the Russian Government maintained the same attitude toward Bulgaria it adopted at the time of General Kaulbars' recall from that country. The return of Prince Alexander to the Bulgarian throne, it is added, might, however, cause the Czar to renounce all endeavors to effect a pacific settlement of the crisis in Bulgaria and have recourse to military occupation of the country.

THE CZAR LIBELLED.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 3.—The Journal de St. Petersburg denies the stories that the Czar is insane and characterizes as falsehoods the several actions attributed to the Czar and referred to as illustrating the nature of his malady. The Journal denounces the Pesther Lloyd newspaper of Pesth for publishing "such absurdities, which are hatched by foreign manufactories of lies."

BELGIAN ANNEXATION.

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—There is a rumour here that Belgium will soon form part of the German Empire, in which confederation it will rank second to Bavaria. It is asserted that Prince Bismarck has been whispering soft things into the ear of the Belgian king. He has told him how his frontiers would be protected from France if an international war should take place, and the king is supposed to have been made to see it in that light. In the way of actual information, this interesting statement appears to depend exclusively upon the fact that the German trains running through Belgium continue to be managed by German guards instead of changing guards as at other frontiers.

A RUSSIAN LOAN.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Russia has concluded arrangements for obtaining from the Hersents of Paris a loan of 75,000,000 francs. The money is to be expended in constructing a canal from the eastern extremity of the Gulf of Perekop, in the Black Sea, across the neck of land joining the Crimea to the mainland, to the sea of Azov, in order to afford a direct water route from the River Don to the Black Sea.

GERMANY AND RUSSIA.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—M. Blowitz, Paris correspondent of the Times, positively confirms his recent statement that Russia and Germany have concluded a direct alliance. Dr. Blowitz says that by the terms of this alliance Russia binds herself to remain neutral in the event of war between France and Germany, and Germany binds herself to remain neutral in the event of war between Russia and Austria. He further says that while there can be no doubt about the existence of this imperial compact there are two stories as to the manner in which the treaty was effected. One is that it was negotiated directly by the Czar and the Emperor William through personal correspondence, and the other is that Bismarck and M. De Giers contrived the alliance by personal discussion.

WORKINGMEN'S CANDIDATES.

As the details of the recent elections become known it is evident that the course of the Grits in regard to workingmen's candidates has been one tissue of hypocrisy.

In Hamilton the Conservatives selected in good faith as their candidate a true workingman and leader of workingmen, to whom they gave a loyal support, and would, with fair play, have elected him. This would not suit the Grits, who adopted their old trick of procuring the nomination of an independent labour candidate. Many Conservative workingmen voted honestly for him, but the Grits shouted for him and then marked their ballots for Mr. Gibson. Thus they attained their object of defeating the workingmen by their treachery, and electing their rabid party candidate.

In Toronto they showed their sympathy with labour by refusing to give their votes to a workingman even of their own party. They had only one straight party candidate in the field, and each elector had two votes, yet, as the figures show, the great majority of the Grits plumped for the Reform lawyer and threw away their second vote rather than give it to a Reform workingman.

In Lincoln they certainly helped to elect a Reform workingman, but it was because they knew they had no chance with a straight party candidate, and they preferred anything rather than to let in Conservative.

At London Mr. Mowat's friends took a workingman for their candidate, but it was because they knew they had not the shadow of a chance of defeating the leader of the Opposition whoever was their standard bearer. They simply made use of Mr. Peddie in the hope of keeping Mr. Meredith at home and preventing him from helping his friends.

Throughout the Grits never tolerated a workingman candidate if they saw a chance of electing one of themselves, and even where they pretended to accept a representative of labour they did not treat him loyally.

Their conduct in this respect was on a par with Mr. Mowat's tricky shuffling over the Factory Act.

BRICKS.

EVEN if it were the case, which we do not believe however, that there are no honest brickmakers in the immediate vicinity of Toronto capable of making bricks for the new Provincial Parliament buildings, still there would be no sufficient excuse for Mr. Mowat's conduct in giving the job to convicts, thus showing his want of sympathy with honest labour.

Under the head of Lindsay will be found an extract from the Post showing that the brickmakers of our adjoining county are sending bricks in large quantities to Toronto, and that they are considered to be of exceptional excellence. In Peterborough we know that our local brickmakers have supplied a superior article for our new Post Office, in spite of the disgraceful slander, circulated by the friends of Mr. Mowat here, that the bricks for this building had to be brought from Belleville.

Why, under such circumstances, if Mr. Mowat had a grudge against the brickmakers of the vicinity of Toronto, could he not have given a chance of the work to honest labour in Peterborough or Victoria instead of giving the preference to convicts?

UNDER the very absurd misnamer of "an open letter" some anonymous writer, who is not even "open" enough to venture to sign his name, make's a vain attempt to dispose of Mr. Flavelle's damaging charges. The tricks that were played by Grit wirepullers masquerading as temperance men were, of course, not of a nature to be performed in public, but these deeds of darkness can be traced by their results. What but the notorious tampering with the law to make party capital and influence votes could account for the fact that the hotelkeepers as a body, with hardly an exception, including those who were previously Conservative, were active supporters in the recent contest of Mr. Mowat's supporter? The undue influence is proved by its effects.

SINCE the Scott Act has been adopted by the people of Peterborough we have respected it, as we have other laws in force. But Mr. Mowat and his friends, while pretending a great affection for the measure, make an exception against it, and disclaim any responsibility for enforcing it like other laws. What a howl they would emit on behalf of Provincial rights if Sir John Macdonald did interfere. To make their hypocrisy and inconsistency as marked as possible the Provincial authorities do act occasionally, but it is when a little coercion or favouritism can be used to influence votes.

A Child's Disappearance.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 3.—Jennie Goldan disappeared as suddenly and completely on Wednesday as though the earth had swallowed her. She is fourteen years old and her mother keeps a grocery store. On Wednesday morning she sent the girl, who is a bright, intelligent lass, on three errands. The first two were performed all right, and in the third house, Mrs. Maxwell's, the girl stopped to play with the children there. She seemed gloomy and abstracted. She left there and has not been seen or heard since that time.

OTONABEE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PRESENTATION.—On Thursday, Dec. 23rd, being the last day of school for the year the pupils of S. S. 13, Otonabee, presented their teacher Mr. M. McClelland, (who has been their teacher far the past three years,) with a writing desk, a gentlemen's companion, and a copy of Burn's poems handsomely bound and illustrated, making altogether a valuable, useful and beautiful present, accompanied with the following address:

To our Teacher:

It is with feelings of deep regret we have learned that the relation which has existed between you and us as teacher and pupils is now to end.

During the several years which you have spent among us your time and energy have ever been used to further our best interests and therefore we desire to place on record something of the high regard and esteem we hold for you as friend and teacher. The constant care which you have always evidenced in behalf of our welfare must ever be held in lasting remembrance.

As a token of our regard for you we make the accompanying presentation as something you may hold in pleasant recollection of the scholars of S. S. 13 Otonabee.

In bidding you farewell we hope whatever the future may open out to you that success may attend all your efforts and that the blessing of God that maketh rich, shall crown your life to the end.

Signed on behalf of the school

RILEY EMMERSON, HAROLD KINDRED,
ABNER COLLINS, ALBERT DAVIS.

Mr. McClelland replied as follows:—

"MY DEAR PUPILS,—I am so overcome with the sincerity of the occasion I don't know how to express my appreciation of your gracious token. It will ever shed your light and love upon me. It is with great reluctance I sever my connection with you as teacher. The respect, trust and security received at large and your generous tenderness, filial obedience and affectionate gratitude have far exceeded my worth and faithfulness. The jealous remembrance I dedicate to you is without end. Be diligent in your studies, for education is a companion that no misfortune can depress—at home, a friend; abroad, an introduction; in solitude, a solace: and in society an ornament.

"I must now take a kind adieu of you but let us hope we shall all meet where love and bliss immortal reign and parting is no more.

The parting of teacher and pupils through the desire of the former for further advancement in study was convincing testimony of the greatest union and affection existing mutually. A good representation of the section were present during the afternoon when the time was well used in testing the work of the past term by the teacher. On the following Sunday Mr. McClelland took a formal leave of Zion's Sunday School where for some time his assistance has been heartily given and accepted as organist. He takes with him the good wishes of all.

LINDSAY.

NEW CHURCH.—To-day (Friday, Dec. 31st) will see the finishing touches given to the interior of the new St. Andrew's Church. At a steady rate of progress during the last two weeks the work has progressed and results will be a surprise to the congregation and to all who visit the beautiful edifice. Finishing the seats has brought out the grain and color of the chestnut, of which they are made; the choir and seats, pulpit and communion table and seats and other furniture are in place. All has been made expressly to pattern as ordered and harmonizes well with the interior. Ash, chestnut and walnut woods have been used and make a handsome appearance. The gas fixtures are of novel pattern, light, graceful and handsome, especially so the large chandelier in the centre of the auditorium. All pews have been comfortably cushioned in crimson rep. A new organ has been provided for the church and also a new one for the Sabbath school. Carpets and furnishings of the pulpit platform are of dark crimson and harmonize well with the work. On the whole the church more than excels the expectations of the congregation.

BRICKS.—When the Lindsay visitor to Toronto next summer strolls about he may recognize a sort of familiar appearance in the fronts of brick blocks about buildings. Brick-makers of Lindsay report a very lively demand for brick, the larger part of which is shipped to Toronto. Mr. Curtin has sold 225,000 brick and began to ship on Monday last. From the yard of Fee & Crandell 150,000 has been sold. Mr. S. J. Fox is now shipping part of an order received for 225,000, with the provision in the contract that he will supply 400,000 more if customer so desires. The total amount foots up to nearly one million brick—not a bad showing for a country locality.—Post.

MARRIAGE.—We tender congratulations to our esteemed citizen, Mr. Sam G. Parkin, of Lincshy, on the occasion of his marriage to Miss Minnie K. Fawcett, of Peterborough, on Thursday, 30th Dec., by Rev. Mr. Wallace, M. A., pastor of the Methodist Church. Miss Annie Fawcett acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. J. H Hart, of Lindsay, performed the duties of groomsman. Many, beautiful and valuable were the presents given. The happy couple reached Lindsay last night on the 6 o'clock train and were welcomed at the station by many of their friends.—Warder.

MORTALITY RETURNS.

Number of Interments in the Little Lake Cemetery.

The following is a statement of the interments made in the Little Lake Cemetery during the year 1886, together with the causes of decease and the nationality of the deceased. In 1884 there were 138 interments; in 1885, 147; and in 1886, 145. This is another proof of the healthful condition of the town. Although the population is rapidly increasing, it will be seen that the number of interments show a decrease each year:—

NEWS NOTES.

Emperor William on Saturday celebrated the eightieth anniversary of his entrance into the Prussian army.

Mr. Bernard Kelly, member of Parliament for South Donegal, died suddenly while visiting his constituents.

Lord Churchill proposed to reduce the Army and Navy estimates by £100,000 and the Civil Service by $300,000.

The London Pall Mall Gazette states Mr. Chamberlain has made definite overtures to Mr. Gladstone for a reunion of the Liberal party.

Eminent scientists in Michigan express grave doubts as to the existence of natural gas in commercially valuable quantity under Wayne County.

John Coakley, of Ashley, Michigan, after freely celebrating the New Year on Friday, fell into the fire in his cabin during the night, the only traces left of him on Saturday morning being his skull and the buttons of his clothes.

No other medicine has won for itself such universal approbation in its own city, state, and country, and among all people, as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the best combination of vegetable blood purifiers, with the Iodid of Potassium and Iron, ever offered to the public.

A sled containing a pleasure party of twenty young people was struck by a train while crossing the track near Fort Wayne, Ind., on Saturday evening, two girls being instantly killed and seven others badly injured.

The Board of Directors of the California State Agricultural Bill have adopted a resolution of the bill now pending in Congress, which provides for the establishment and endorsement of experimental stations in connection with the agricultural colleges in the different states.

A clear head is indicative of good health and regular habits. When the body feels languid, and the mind works sluggishly Ayer's Cathartic Pills will assist to a recovery of physical buoyancy and mental vigor. The constipated should use them.

Owing to the prevelance of glanders among horses in Montreal and the outlying districts, the city Board of Health have requested the Federal Government to pass an order-in-Council bringing into force the provisions of the Act giving the Government veterinary inspector power to have all infected animals destroyed.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

PRODUCES SWEET AND NATURAL SLEEP.

Dr. C. R. Dake, Belleville, Ill., says: "I have found it, and it alone, to produce sweet and natural sleep in cases of wakefulness caused by overwork of the brain, which often occurs with active professional and business men."

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

AYER'S PILLS

CURE HEADACHE.

Headaches are usually induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, and may be easily cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. Mrs. Mary A. Scott, Portland, Me., writes: "I had suffered dreadfully from Sick Headache, and thought myself incurable. Disorder of the stomach caused it. Ayer's Pills cured me entirely."

CURE BILIOUSNESS.

John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebr., writes: "I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice. I was so dangerously ill, that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. I feel certain that I owe my recovery to your invaluable Pills."

CURE INDIGESTION.

Ayer's Pills act directly on the digestive and assimilative organs, influencing healthful action, imparting strength, and eradicating disease. G. W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T., writes: "I have suffered from Dyspepsia and Liver troubles for years past. I found no permanent relief, until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, which have effected a complete cure."

CURE RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is among the most painful of the disorders arising from vitiated blood and derangement of the digestive and biliary organs. Ayer's Pills relieve and cure Rheumatism when other remedies fail. S. M. Spencer, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was confined to my bed, with Rheumatism, three months, but, after using a few boxes of Ayer's Pills, became a well man."

CURE GOUT.

S. Lansing, Yonkers, N. Y., writes: "Recommended to me as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me not only from that trouble, but also from Gout. If every victim of the disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. Those words would be, 'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

CURE PILES.

Piles are induced by habitual constipation, debility, indigestion, or a morbid condition of the liver. A cure is best effected by the use of Ayer's Pills. John Lazarus, St. John, N. B., writes: "I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only cured me of that disagreeable disorder, but gave me new life and health."

MORTALITY RETURNS.

Number of Interments in the Little Lake Cemetery.

The following is a statement of the interments made in the Little Lake Cemetery during the year 1886, together with the causes of decease and the nationality of the deceased. In 1884 there were 158 interments; in 1885, 147; and in 1886, 145. This is another proof of the healthful condition of the town. Although the population is rapidly increasing, it will be seen that the number of interments show a decrease each year:—

NEWS NOTES.

Emperor William on Saturday celebrated the eightieth anniversary of his entrance into the Prussian army.

Mr. Bernard Kelly, member of Parliament for South Donegal, died suddenly while visiting his constituents.

Lord Churchill proposed to reduce the Army and Navy estimates by £100,000 and the Civil Service by $300,000.

The London Pall Mall Gazette states Mr. Chamberlain has made definite overtures to Mr. Gladstone for a reunion of the Liberal party.

Eminent scientists in Michigan express grave doubts as to the existence of natural gas in commercially valuable quantity under Wayne County.

John Coakley, of Ashley, Michigan, after freely celebrating the New Year on Friday, fell into the fire in his cabin during the night, the only traces left of him on Saturday morning being his skull and the buttons of his clothes.

No other medicine has won for itself such universal approbation in its own city, state, and country, and among all people, as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the best combination of vegetable blood purifier, with the Iodid of Potassium and Iron, ever offered to the public.

A sled containing a pleasure party of twenty young people was struck by a train while crossing the track near Fort Wayne, Ind., on Saturday evening, two girls being instantly killed and seven others badly injured.

The Board of Directors of the California State Agricultural bill have adopted a resolution of the bill now pending in Congress, which provides for the establishment and endorsement of experimental stations in connection with the agricultural colleges in the different states.

A clear head is indicative of good health and regular habits. When the body feels languid, and the mind works sluggishly Ayer's Cathartic Pills will assist to a recovery of physical buoyancy and mental vigor. The constipated should use them.

Owing to the prevelance of glanders among horses in Montreal and the outlying districts, the city Board of Health have requested the Federal Government to pass an order-in-Council bringing into force the provisions of the Act giving the Government veterinary inspector power to have all infected animals destroyed.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

PRODUCES SWEET AND NATURAL SLEEP.

Dr. C. R. Dake, Belleville, Ill., says: "I have found it, and it alone, to produce sweet and natural sleep in cases of wakefulness caused by overwork of the brain, which often occurs with active professional and business men."

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

AYER'S PILLS

CURE HEADACHE.

Headaches are usually induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, and may be easily cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. Mrs. Mary A. Scott, Portland, Me., writes: "I had suffered dreadfully from Sick Headache, and thought myself incurable. Disorder of the stomach caused it. Ayer's Pills cured me entirely."

CURE BILIOUSNESS.

John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebr., writes: "I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice. I was so dangerously ill, that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. I feel certain that I owe my recovery to your invaluable Pills."

CURE INDIGESTION.

Ayer's Pills act directly on the digestive and assimilative organs, influencing healthful action, imparting strength, and eradicating disease. G. W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T., writes: "I have suffered from Dyspepsia and Liver troubles for years past. I found no permanent relief, until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, which have effected a complete cure."

CURE RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is among the most painful of the disorders arising from vitiated blood and derangement of the digestive and biliary organs. Ayer's Pills relieve and cure Rheumatism when other remedies fail. S. M. Spencer, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was confined to my bed, with Rheumatism, three months, but, after using a few boxes of Ayer's Pills, became a well man."

CURE GOUT.

S. Lansing, Yonkers, N. Y., writes. "Recommended to me as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me not only from that trouble, but also from Gout. If every victim of the disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. Those words would be, 'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

CURE PILES.

Piles are induced by habitual constipation, debility, indigestion, or a morbid condition of the liver. A cure is best effected by the use of Ayer's Pills. John Lazarus, St. John, N. B., writes: "I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only cured me of that disagreeable disorder, but gave me new life and health."

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Notice of Meeting

A meeting of the Knights of Labor will be held in their hall on Tuesday evening, 4th January, at 7.30 p.m.

Good Ice,

The ice on the Charlotte Street Rink is in splendid condition for skating. Season tickets can be had at any of the bookstores.

Personal.

Commissioner Coombs, the Canadian Salvation Army chief, arrived in town to-day. He will speak in the barracks to-night.

Scott Act.

Two charges against Thos. Dunn for infractions of the Scott Act came before the court this morning. Owing to the defendant's being sick the cases were enlarged.

St. Andrew's Entertainment.

An entertainment will be given in Bradburn's Opera House on Monday evening, January 10th. Singing by Miss Howden, of Millbrook, will be one of the leading features. Admission, 25 and 35 cents.

To-Night—Four Auction Sales.

This week at the Bon Marche—Tuesday night, Thursday night and Saturday afternoon and evening. Come early and secure bargains before goods are all gone, as the store must be vacated at once.

New Organ.

The new organ of the George Street Methodist Church has arrived and is now being set in position by Messrs. Lye & Sons, the manufactures. It will not be ready for use till the Sunday after next.

CHEAP carpets, oilcloths and mats at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

A Serious Fall.

On Monday while Mr. Wm. Robinson was engaged in putting corrugated iron roofing on the Nassau mills he slipped and fell to the ground, a distance of fifteen feet. His forehead was badly cut, and he suffered severe bruises. Dr. Kincaid attended.

Still Undecided.

At a recount of the ballots cast in No. 2 Ward it was found that Mr. Thomas Kelly had 221 and Messrs. McClelland and Stenson 219 each. Mr. Kelly is thus elected. A ballot marked with three crosses, opposite Mr. Stenson's name, is held over. Decision will be given to-morrow.

A Fight on the Market.

Things were pretty lively on the market to-day. Every load of wheat appearing on the square was fought for with an earnestness that made the farmers smile. The bidding kept up so brisk that a quantity of wheat was bought at 86, 87 and 88 cents per bushel.

In Trouble.

On Friday twenty-seven Salvation Army soldiers were arrested in Lindsay for parading the streets. On Saturday five more were arrested, and the drums and instruments damaged. On Monday night the Army again paraded with more drums and instruments. No arrests were made. Kent street was crowded and unusual excitement prevailed.

Died.

On Monday evening at a few minutes after seven o'clock Mr. John E. Hammond died after only a few day's illness. It was not a week ago since he was in good health. While attending his brother, who has been ill with typhoid fever, he was taken with the same disease, which carried him off so suddenly. The deceased was in his 35th year. He was well known in Peterborough, having been a resident here for a number of years.

FINE Bulk Oysters at OSTROM'S.

The Choral Festival

will be repeated by request on Thursday the 6th, at 8 o'clock, after which the gifts will be distributed to the children from the Christmas trees by Santa Claus in person. Those ladies who have kindly offered to assist in the children's entertainment to be given at 5 in the afternoon at the Concert Hall, will please send their donations to the Opera House on Thursday morning next so as to have things in readiness for the children. Nearly 500 children will take part in the concert. Mr. Seward will feel very grateful if the ladies of the different congregations throughout the town will all unite in the matter of furnishing refreshments for the children. It is therefore hoped that the friends of the children will greet them with a full house. There will be a rehearsal on Wednesday afternoon in the Opera House at three o'clock and the children are expected to be present to receive fresh tickets. No child will be admitted without the new ticket. This course became necessary as many of the old tickets were stolen from the children.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

The Council of Peterborough for 1887—A tie in No. 2.

The municipal elections were carried on with great spirit on Monday in all of the wards. The number of ballots marked shows that the contest was a keen one all over. In 1886 the number of crosses on the ballots was 3,142 against 3,511 in 1887. In No. 1 ward there were 728; in No. 2, 929; in No. 3, 858 and, in No. 4, 632. This year the ballots marked numbered in No. 1 ward, 1,011; in No. 2, 918; in No. 3, 1,034, and in No. 4, 547.

Unparalleled "plumping" took place in No 2. Mr. Stenson, the Scott Act candidate got over seventy while Mr. Kelly also received a fair share.

Coming so soon after the Provincial election it is somewhat remarkable that politics entered so little into the municipal election. The best evidence that politics had little to do with it lies in the fact that in No. 4 ward, which returned a Conservative majority of 87, returned two Reformers to one Conservative.

In No. 2 ward the question of who are the representatives is not yet decided. After three or four counts it was found that Messrs. McClelland, Kelly and Stenson were in close quarters. The figures given below are those of the Deputy Returning Officer. A recount is, however, to take place before the Returning officer.

The following shows the vote given to each candidate:—

NO. 1 WARD.

John McNaughton	224
R. S. Davidson	210
T. Cahill	206
J. L. Hughes	140
C. Gordon	135
L. Spry	59
H. Best	21
H. Carveth	16

NO 2. WARD.

A. McNeil	259
J. McClelland	221
T. Kelly	219
J. Stenson	219

NO. 3 WARD.

John Douglass	268
W. H. Moore	237
Wm. Yelland	219
A. Rutherford	192
E. C. Hill	78

NO. 4 WARD.

Jas. Kendry	153
T. Menzies	135
J. J. Hartley	131
Wm. Langford	128

The polls were headed this year by McNaughton, McNeil, Douglass and Kendry; last year Messrs. Davidson, Kelly, Yelland and Kendry had that honor.

The new Council will differ little from the old one, only one, so far as is known, being replaced. This is Mr. Rutherford. Though Mr. Douglass, who goes in his place, is a capable man for the position, the Council will sustain a loss by the absence of Mr. Rutherford. For twenty-one years he has taken part in the administration of the town's affairs and it is due to the cleverness of these "old" councillors that the town's finances are in such a satisfactory condition to-day. As chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee Mr. Rutherford attended to his duties with punctuality.

One new power came up in this election, and that was the power of the ladies. They exercised their franchise for the first time in a general extent. Last year only a few came out, but this year about a hundred came to the polls.

Mr. H. Best was not a candidate for No. 1 Ward. His name was put on the ballot paper on account of neglect in withdrawing it.

ASHBURNHAM.

The following are the returns of Monday's election for Councillors:—

H. Calcutt	157
J. C. Craig	147
Wm. Wand	109
J. Anderson	101
W. Faint	79
J. Throop	50

Mr. J. Burnham, M.P., was elected Reeve by acclamation.

LAKEFIELD.

The Result of the Municipal Elections—Mr. Strickland Re-Elected.

By Telephone to the Review.

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 4.—The vote yesterday for Reeve and Councillors resulted as follows:—

FOR REEVE.

R. C. Strickland	140
John Hull	62
Majority for Mr. Strickland	78

FOR COUNCILLORS.

Jas. Moore	128
Wm. Cox	118
S. Henderson	91
Jas. Watson	90
Thos. Gordon	53
T. J. Bird	52
J. Richardson, Jr.	43
J. H. McWilliams	37
A. I. Wright	29
Jas. Brown	23
John Isbister	20
Abel Hendren	2

The first four were elected. Mr. Hendren, although his name appeared on the ballot paper, had announced that he was not a candidate.

When the result was known, the ratepayers assembled, and Mr. Strickland made a neat speech, returning thanks for the renewed expression of confidence in him. The Councillors elect and the defeated candidates for positions as Councillors also made brief speeches.

The Lakefield Band serenaded the Reeve, the Councillors elect and others during the evening, and Mr. Strickland made another short address when the band thus honored him.

Winter Wheat Well Protected.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—The Farmer's Review says that the returns from its correspondents very generally speak favorably of prospects for the winter wheat. In Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio the fields are generally well protected with snow.

Orillia's Water Works.

ORILLIA, Jan. 3.—A bylaw to raise the sum of $20,000 for the purpose of extending the present system of waterworks, and for lighting the town with the electric light, was to-day voted on by the property owners, and carried by the handsome majority of 135.

Stabbed in the Neck.

ST. CATHERINES, Jan. 3.—A young man named Pierce Kelly was stabbed in the neck by an unknown person on New Year's eve while he was returning from a dance in the east end of the city. A few words had passed between them, when the stranger drew a knife and stabbed Kelly in the back of the neck. The wound is not considered dangerous.

Nine Mexicans Were Burned to Death.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 3.—The officials of the Southern Pacific Railroad to-day announced the details of the disastrous accident on their line on Friday night. They corroborate the accounts previously sent. Nine Mexicans were burned to death in the wreckage of the two trains. They were on a flat car which was driven under the cars of a freight train and the wreck took fire.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land in large bottles. 490

EATAL COLLISION.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The British steamer Dragoman, which collided with and sunk a ship of Bardsey was from Liverpool for Cardiff. She returned to the Mersey after the collision. Her bows are stove in and she is otherwise seriously damaged. The name of the sunken ship was the Duke of Connaught. She had a crew of twenty-one men, and seventeen of these were drowned.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I have been much surprised that our Board of School Trustees have been so tardy in giving the ratepayers of the town the benefit of voting by ballot. They cannot be ignorant of the exceedingly disagreeable position in which almost every one is placed when he is brought face to face with each of the candidates and obliged openly, in their hearing, to name one in preference to the other. I hope the people will agitate this matter until it be put right. It would also be well to have the School Board elections at the same time and place as the Municipal elections.

SMITH.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PRESENTATION.—A pleasant gathering took place on Monday evening of last week at the residence of Mr. M. Sanderson, Smith, the occasion being the bidding farewell by the congregation of the Line Baptist Church, to their late pastor, the Rev. A. E. de St. Dalmas, and to show in some slight manner their appreciation of his past labors. After a social time had been spent and full justice had been done to the good things provided by the ladies, Mr. St. Dalmas was asked to step forward when the following address was read by Mr. Priest, the presentation of of the well-filled purse being made by Mr. R. N. Scott:

Rev. A. E. de St. Dalmas:

DEAR PASTOR,—It with sincere and heartfelt regret that we, the members of the Line Congregation, are assembled to take leave of you previous to your departure to your new field of labor. We believe we express the feeling of all when we say that we are loath to part with you, but believing that you have not taken the step that you have without prayerful consideration and the firm conviction that God is leading you, we simply bow in humble submission to the will of Him, "that holdeth the seven stars in His right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks."

During the four years that you have labored amongst us your have, by your earnest zeal, your untiring labors, and your faithfulness, endeared yourself to us far more than words can express. In every department of your sphere, in your ministerial, your pastoral, and your social capacity, you have proved yourself a true servant of God. You have faithfully sown the Gospel seed, and though you have been permitted to reap some, still we feel that the harvest will yet appear, and that abundant.

Also in your esteemed partner in life, who has by her many admirable qualities won a deep place in our hearts, we feel that we are losing a true friend. Rest assured, dear pastor, that though you are now leaving us, neither you nor your respected wife will be soon forgotten by us.

We feel, however, that we cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing in some substantial manner the esteem and respect in which you are held by us. You will please accept this purse, not so much on account of its intrinsic value, which we would wish had been greater, but as a slight token of esteem.

We shall ever pray that the blessing of the Great Head of the Church may rest upon you and yours, and that, when the Master shall call you hence you may have many trophies to cast at the feet of King Immanuel.

Signed on behalf of the congregation,

J. POPE, JOHN SCOTT,
A. SANDERSON, R. W. SCOTT,
M. ROBINSON.

Mr. St. Dalmas, who was completely taken by surprise and deeply affected, replied, thanking the friends for this expression of their attachment and assuring them that he would always feel a deep interest in the welfare and prosperity of the Line congregation. He especially took this opportunity, in speaking his farewell words, of urging upon all present, who were away from Christ, the importance of an immediate decision, so that when that great reunion shall be, we may all meet around the throne of God.

Mr. St. Dalmas left on Wednesday for Petrolia, his future field of labor.

HER MAJESTY.

Her Health said to be Failing — The Jubilee Year.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The Queen is breaking very rapidly, and she is conscious that her life cannot be spared many years longer The only shadow over the jubilee year is the general apprehension among the people of England that the Queen may not live till the year is completed. The appearance of old age is most clearly marked, even in her jubilee portrait, which has just been completed and placed in the gallery leading to her private apartments at Windsor. The people of that little borough are very busy getting ready for the festivities which are expected to begin very soon. The Queen and her household have gone to Osborne, and the workmen were busy everywhere putting things in order for the visitors who are expected this spring and summer. Jubilee souvenirs are already displayed in the shops. Some of them are very pretty. One is a porcelain cup with the royal arms and the name of Windsor underneath. Another is a small white bust of the Queen with an accompanying bust of Lord Beaconsfield, her favorite Minister. The jewellers have made dozens of jubilee designs in silver and gold, some of which are very pretty and are sold at most reasonable prices. The people of Windsor expect to reap a rich harvest from the multitude of visitors this year.

GOSCHEN'S POSITION.

The British Cabinet to be Reconstructed to Meet His Views.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Mr. Goschen, although he will not be the Conservative leader in the House of Commons, obtains control of the appointments. Sir R. A. Cross and Lord Iddesleigh offered to resign in order to make room for Mr. Goschen's nominees. The result will be a general reconstruction of the Cabinet. Mr. Goschen has asked Lord Northbrook to become Sir R. A. Cross's successor, He also wants Mr. Ritchie in the Cabinet, as he desires the latter's support in the work of re-shaping the local government bill. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach and Lord Ashbourne left Dublin for London last night. They are coming to attend a Cabinet-Council which is to be held to-morrow. Sir Michael still adheres to his determination to remain in his present office. In official circles it is accepted as settled that in the reconstructed Cabinet Mr. Smith will be First Lord of the Treasury and leader in the House of Commons, and Lord Salisbury Premier and Foreign Minister. Among Conservatives no expressions of regret are heard over the prospective retirement of Sir R. A. Cross and Lord Iddesleigh. Before accepting office, Mr. Goschen closely scrutinized the accounts and estimates of the war and navy departments in order to ascertain whether or not there were any grounds for charges of maladministration. He found that Lord Randolph Churchill had been misled by data which, it is supposed, was supplied through interested treasury officials.

THE RUSSO-GERMAN ALLIANCE.

The Whole Political Situation of Europe Altered by its Promulgation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The Times London correspondent says the positive reiteration by M. Blowitz that Russia and Germany have signed a definite treaty is accepted generally as having a probable foundation in fact. From the start is has been known that the Kaiser, who is unalterably opposed to war, is even more strenuously opposed to allow his grand-nephew, the Czar, to get pitched into by a combination of powers. The death-bed pledges exacted in 1840 by his father impelled the Kaiser, now living so much in memories of his youth, to cling to the house of Romanoff, and it now looks as if he had gone over Bismarck's head to arrange, by a personal letter with the Czar, this astonishing treaty of alliance, which alters the whole political situation in Europe. Of course until the statement is confirmed comment will be more or less in the air, but the English already discuss it as probably true. It is regarded as a grievous tactical mistake, which, while it will possibly serve the purpose of postponing war, will only make it worse and more widespread when it does come. The present result will be the complete sacrifice of Bulgaria. Austria, thus deserted by her powerful ally, will not dare to defy Russia single-handed, and England and Italy, while ready enough to join in a safe fight, will not budge without the lead from Austria. Hence the Bulgarians will have to submit and be overrun and practically annexed by Russia, unless they have the nerve to resist on the bare hope that the scent of blood will draw Europe into the struggle.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

BELMONT AND METHUEN.

The following will compose the Council for 1887:—Reeve, John Brown; Deputy Reeve, James Wilde; Councillors, D. T. Young, Robert Burgess and William Coon.

Heavy Suits.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 4.—Suits aggregating $200,000 have been brought against Jas. McHenry, the English operator in American railroads, by lawyers and others, for legal services. The New York, Lake Erie and Western Railway Company has also begun suits against Mr. McHenry to recover $385,000, the balance due on a judgment which was rendered against Mr. McHenry in the southern district of New York in 1883. Mr. McHenry's property in this city has been attached.

LATEST WIRE FLASHES

ALLEGED PLOT.

PARIS, Jan. 4.—It is reported a conference has been held by President Grevy and Messrs. Ferry and De Freycinet with a view to the speedy dissolution of the present ministry, and the formation of a Ferry-Freycinet Cabinet. It is also reported that M. Ferry has consented to support M. De Freycinet as a successor of President Grevy. La Justice describes the reported agreement as a plot, and protests against the fate of France being settled at a dejeuner. M. Clemenceau evidently means to fight against the plot, and the session of the Chamber of Deputies, commencing next week, will be exciting and important.

RUSSIA'S PROPOSAL.

VIENNA, Jan. 4.—Russia has suggested as a basis for negotiations between the signatories to the Berlin treaty for the settlement of the Bulgarian question that the Bulgarian Regents resign, that a new Sobranje be elected for Bulgaria only, that two Zankoffits be admitted into the Bulgarian Cabinet, that Prince Nicholas, of Mingrelia, be proposed to the new Sobranje for the Bulgarian Rulership, and that the ordinary Provincial Assembly be controlled for Roumelia.

A MILLION DOLLAR LOSS.

ROME, Jan. 4.—A fire in the Odeschial Palace, on Sunday, was caused by the lights on a Christmas tree. All the jewels belonging to the Princess, and all the valuable missals and pictures, including a small Raphael, and the whole of the splendid collection of ancient furniture on the second floor, were burned. Loss, $1,000,000. The palace was not insured.

AUSTRIAN TRAGEDIES.

VIENNA, Jan. 4.—Among the many tragedies occurring here on New Year's Day were the death of a young opera singer, a beautiful girl of 18 years, who was stabbed to the heart by a rejected suitor, the fatal shooting of his sweetheart, a young actress, by a prominent post office official, who afterwards committed suicide, and the suicide of an unknown man and woman, who jumped into the Danube and were drowned. On the same day a wealthy land owner in Pesth, who had been married but a week, committed suicide, shooting himself in the head.

SUBMERGED BY HEAVY RAINS.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Advices from New Caledonia say that continuous heavy rains submerged a large expanse of territory.

SALISBURY AND THE BULGARIANS.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Lord Salisbury will receive the Bulgarian delegates to-day unofficially.

AN AUSTRALIAN MURDER.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—A story comes in the Australian despatches that two seamen recently murdered a man in Great Barrie Island, New Zealand, and made their escape by seizing a cutter and putting out to sea. The murderers took with them a girl whom they forcibly compelled to accompany them, and intended to go to South America. After being several days out they reasoned that the natural line of pursuit would be in the direction they were taking, and returned to Port Macquarie, New South Wales, where they scuttled the cutter and attempted to reach the interior, but were arrested and turned over to the authorities.

SCENE IN COURT.

DUBLIN, Jan. 4.—During a trial at Loughrea yesterday of Roche, Chairman of the Woodford Tenants' Defence Society, for conspiracy and interference with bailiffs in the discharge of their duty, the defendant's solicitor strongly animadverted upon the conduct of Police Inspector Davis, whereupon Davis sprang to his feet, rushed at the solicitor and declared that he would wring his head off if it were not that he was in the presence of the Court.

THE IRISH DIFFICULTY.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Mr. Gladstone, replying to a request from the Welsh Radical Club for his views upon the matter, declines to express any opinion on the "Plan of Campaign" in Ireland. He says:—"I cannot discuss what is going on in Ireland upon partial and fragmentary evidence, and will defer judging the Government's conduct until I hear in Parliament what is said for and against it."

ALLIANCE DENIED.

VIENNA, Jan. 4.—It is reported that the German Government has assured Count Kalnoky that the statement that a treaty had been concluded between Germany and Russia to the detriment of Austrian interests is not true.

THE JURY DISAGREED.

DUBLIN, Jan. 4.—At the Connaught Assizes to-day, the jury in the case of Mr. Tuley, who was on trail for calling Crown Solicitor Burke a liar and a swindler, disagreed and was discharged.

FUNDS FROM AMERICA.

DUBLIN, Jan. 4.—At the fortnightly meeting of the Executive Committee of the National League, held here to-day, the different speakers ridiculed the idea that Mr. Goschen's acceptance of the Chancellorship of the Exchequer would be the means of saving the present Conservative Ministry. The treasurer reported the receipt of $25,000 in donations to the League's funds during the past two weeks from the United States.

CARD OF THANKS.

To My Supporters in No. 1 Ward.

GENTLEMEN,—Accept my hearty thanks for working and voting for me on the day of our municipal elections, and although I am not to be one of your representatives this year on account of my temperance principles, I still prefer those principles to a seat even at the Council board.

To those who promised to vote for me and failed to do so, the less said the better.

Yours, &c.,

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5 1887.

THE NATIONAL POLICY.

During the recent campaign in reference to the general election for the legislature of Ontario, it was asserted here, as in many other constituencies, that Dominion issues were not in question.

We pointed out at the time the inconsistency of this contention, as the friends of Mr. Mowat, were making all the capital they could out of Dominion issues, such, for instance, as the suppression of the Northwest rebellion and the equal administration of justice in the case of Riel. We also felt certain that in the event of a victory for the Provincial Administration it would be claimed as a forerunner of success in the Dominion election.

Our anticipations have been proved to be well founded. By means of his members by statute, his gerrymander, his dishonest use of power and patronage, and his delusive cries, Mr. Mowat has clung to office. Immediately there has arisen a chorus from the journals supporting him that the Province of Ontario has pronounced its verdict against the Macdonald Administration and that Sir John is therefore doomed. It is a preposterous claim, but as the attack has been made it has to be met.

Among the most important measures for carrying out the Conservative policy that has been so advantageous for the Dominion, is what is popularly known as the N. P. The system of fostering our own industries, rather than favoring foreign manufactures and foreign labor, has been most beneficial for Canada, and we in Peterborough have certainly reaped our share of the benefit thus conferred. We have important industries, helping to build up our town, and thus advantageous not only to it but also to the surrounding country, the establishment or growth of which is directly due to the National Policy. What elector, more particularly if he belongs to those who are especially called the workingmen, would vote to reverse a policy which is so beneficial.

It is true that Mr. Blake and some of his principal followers endeavor to catch those who are interested in Canadian industries by pretending that they could not effect any sudden reduction of the tariff, because the revenue is required to meet our expenditure. But this is evidently a merely delusive pretence to beguile the electors, and it would be unsafe to place any trust in it. In the first place these critics also pledge themselves to reduce the expenditure, and though this pretence is shown by their past history to be no more trustworthy than the other, they are obviously mutually destructive of each other. If they really intended to reduce the expenditure, as they boast, they would be under no necessity to retain the present revenue. There is also the important fact to be taken into consideration that Mr. Blake's principal lieutenants, such as Sir Richard Cartwright, his leading organs, such as the Globe, have an inveterate hostility to the protection of Canadian industries. Even while pretending that they will not be in haste to destroy the present tariff, the acknowledged mouthpieces of the Reformers under Mr. Blake are never weary of uttering gibes against the N. P. and showing their detestation of it. It certainly would be unsafe to entrust this policy to the hands of such bitter enemies, even if by force of circumstances they had to acquiesce in it for a time. Would they not be sure to show their antipathy by mutilating it, and by abandoning it as soon as possible?

These theoretical freetraders show their ignorance of the very first principles of a protective system, by treating it as chiefly a question of revenue. Why, a highly protective tariff might be so framed as to produce absolutely no customs revenue. If all raw materials and all articles which we do not produce were admitted free, while all articles which we produce in Canada were subject to duties so high as to be prohibitive, we would have undoubted protection without collecting a cent from the Customs. Even Mr. Blake is so ignorant of the very first principles of framing a Customs tariff, or he is so given to claptrap for influencing votes, that he is perpetually making the elementary blunder of confounding the amount of a duty with taxation. The duty is not taxation unless it is paid. Yet to curry favour with the voters he is for ever making the erroneous statement that cheap goods are taxed more highly than dearer and more luxurious goods—that the poor are compelled to pay more customs proportionately than the rich. This is a mere delusive theory, which he would find to be erroneous if he would condescend to take the practical step of making an enquiry at the first retail store. The fact is as a rule we do not produce these luxuries, and in order to obtain the necessary revenue such a duty is imposed on these articles as will not check consumption, but will draw money from the rich or from those at least who are well to do. On the other hand our Canadian factories do produce cheap staple goods such as are used by those at all events who have to use strict economy. To prevent these factories from being closed by one-sided competition from abroad, such duties are imposed as will secure our own markets for our own people. None need pay these duties and consequently none need be taxed. No poor man or person in moderate circumstances, unless he is a consumer of intoxicating liquor or tobacco, need subject himself to taxation for Dominion purposes. Of course if he uses the Government railways or the Government mails he has to pay for the service he receives, but that is not taxation.

The freetraders sometimes try to evade this refutation of their assertions by shifting their ground and asserting that the tax if not paid directly to the country is paid indirectly, as the duty is added to the price even in the case of articles produced in Canada. This is another unfounded theory which the same practical enquiry would disprove. The enquirer would learn that so far from the duty being added to the price some goods are sold for even less than the amount of the duty, and that in regard to almost every other article internal competition fostered by protection has lowered instead of raising prices.

If there were no other reasons the prevention of injurious tinkering of our tariff would be a very sufficient motive for declining to entrust Mr. Blake and his friends with power.

TRANSPORTATION ROUTES.

Valuable Report of the United States Senate Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The report of the Senate Committee on Transportation Routes, etc., has been published. It makes a volume of five hundred pages, and contains many valuable tables and much information on the subject of transportation, gathered from nearly every country in the world. The first table presented indicates the progress of the United States for a generation. Thirty-three years ago we produced 100,000,000 bushels of wheat and about 600,000,000 bushels of corn. Twice in recent years we have reached 500,000,000 bushels of wheat, and in 1885 the corn crop reached 1,800,000,000 bushels, a five-fold increase in wheat and a three-fold increase in corn. The increase in other cereals has not been so rapid. In the export trade, the committee says, wheat has always ranked first in value, and in 58 years has added $2,600,000,000 to the value of our national production, a sum equivalent to four times the value of exported corn and cornmeal during the same period. It is shown that the difference in the price of corn between the Atlantic ports and the lake ports has steadily declined from 21 cents per bushel in 1873 to 10 cents per bushel in 1883, and between the Atlantic ports and the Western river boats from 19 cents in 1873 to 11 cents in 1883.

Turning from the United States to foreign countries, the committee shows the production and consumption of cereals in Europe and brings out the fact that the increase in population has been relatively much greater in the great grain producing countries than it has been in the grain-buying countries. The United Kingdom appears to have purchased about two-thirds of all the wheat the United States exported during this period. In the first period the United States supplied less than one per cent. of the wheat imported into the United Kingdom, in the last period it supplied nearly 24 per cent. From less than a million bushels the exports of corn and corn meal leaped and bounds to about 503,000,000 bushels. Excepting the wonderful growth of imports of wheat from India there is no instance in economic history of a growth so rapid of the other countries which export wheat to the United Kingdom. Russia retains the second position, Germany the third, and British India has in 11 years leaped from the eleventh to the fourth. In the next decade, the committee says, Germany will be practically out of the race, and it is more than probable that India will contest with the United States for the first position.

One of the features of the report is that showing in tabulated form the prices of wheat for a series of years in the principle countries in the world. Tables are also appended showing the ocean freights of grain from nearly every important country to England, and also the comparative rates of freight charges from the various countries of the world.

TWO RAILWAY ACCIDENTS.

Trains Collide—Nineteen Dead and Mangled Bodies in the Wreck.

TIFFIN, Ohio, Jan. 4.—A fast train on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, which left Baltimore about 9 o'clock yesterday for Chicago with five coaches and four sleepers all well filled with passengers, collided with the eastern bound freight train seven miles east of this city, about four o'clock this morning. The fast train was about fifty minutes late and was running at the rate of 60 miles an hour. Passing Republic, a small station, like a flash it rushed along the curve one mile west of that town, when suddenly the engineer saw a freight train under full headway within 100 yards of him, he at once applied the brakes and reversed the engine, but it did no good. The next instant the crash came, telescoping the coaches and piling them upon each other. To add consternation to the horrible scene fire broke out in the smoking car and soon spread to the other cars. Many were killed outright, while others wedged in among the broken cars were slowly consumed by the flames. The screams of the wounded and dying were heart rending, but no assistance could be given until a farmer awakened by the crash came and with the other neighbors worked like heroes to save the perishing. At this writing nineteen dead bodies have been recovered and they lie burned and disfigured in the snow beside the track. Help was sent from Republic and this city as soon as the news was received. It is a fearful sight and recalls the Ashtabula horror in the winter of 1877. It is impossible to give the names of the killed and wounded at this time. The cause of the disaster is unknown. The accident is attributed by the B. & O. officials to a misunderstanding of the orders for the regulation of one or other of the trains.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 4.—The passenger train from Albany due here at 5 a. m., was badly wrecked at West Springfield. It collided with the freight train, the wreck taking fire. One passenger and one sleeping car were totally burned. Several people were badly injured. Two persons were killed, one being burned to death and ten more are seriously injured. Fourteen first-class Chicago and Western mail pouches and 75 pouches of second-class matter were entirely burned.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent

MAY SUCCESSFUL.—Much credit is due to Mr. Paul J. Moloney of Ennismore, who has passed a very successful examination at the Ottawa Normal School. Mr. Moloney was always a very diligent pupil, and it is to be hoped his example will be followed by many of our youths of to-day.

The committee appointed at a conference held in Montreal last fall to draw up a constitution and rules for the governance of "The Canadian Association of Civil Engineers," has completed its work, which will be laid before a meeting, called in Montreal on Jan. 11th, for adoption.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

A STRANGE SIGHT.

To see Mr. Mercier thanking God that a race and revenge cry has been a failure is a sight indeed. From his message to his friend Mr. Mowat it would be thought no one on his behalf ever sought success by similar methods, that the Champ de Mars resolutions had never been passed under his party's auspices, and that the French-speaking electors of Quebec had never been called upon to avenge the righteous execution of Riel. The Rouge leader's denunciation of "appeals to religious prejudices made by hypocrits to conceal the political crimes of their party," must have made some of his followers wink. On the whole, his congratulatory letter on the result of the Ontario contest is a document that has rarely been equalled in the history of Canadian politics. It will perhaps be outdone when Mr. Fielding sends up from Nova Scotia his message of love, and declaration in favor of moulding together a great nation of which all Canadians shall be proud; but until then it will stand by itself.—Montreal Gazette.

THE GERRYMANDER.

Part of Mr. Mowat's gain is to be credited to the Gerrymander.—Toronto World (Indep.)

THE MEANS USED.

In a single word Mr. Mowat remains in power by virtue of the religious cry, the race cry, the coercion of liquor sellers, the gerrymander of nearly fifty constituencies, and the expenditure of vast sums of public money.—Hamilton Spectator.

A GRIT FRAUD.

The manner in which the Racey racket worked was beautifully illustrated in Division No. 1. There were several noisy shouters for Racey in that division. There was an inside scrutineer and an outside scrutineer, each of whom was entitled to a vote. One gentleman certainly left his work to vote for Racey in that division. Well when the votes were counted it was found that Racey had exactly one vote. The gentle- who left work for the purpose had voted honestly. The rest of the Racey men had voted for Gibson.—Hamilton Spectator.

THEIR RASCALITY CONFESSED.

Mr. McIntyre's defeat by Mr. Cruess, though only by 13, surprises almost everybody, as the late representative's re-election was generally looked on as certain, especially as he had no longer to contend with the Tory township of Emily, which at the last redistribution of seats was tacked on to this riding.—Penelon Falls Gazette (Reform.)

THE LIQUOR INTEREST.

The party has cut loose from the temperance movement, and is now, in the cities at all events, the recognized ally of the liquor interest. The liquor vote, brewer's drays and all, rallied to Mr. Leys on Tuesday; in Hamilton it was cast for Mr. Gibson; in Brockville and Peterborough for Mr. Fraser and Mr. Stratton respectively; and throughout the Province every man who has a license, or who wants a license, or who thinks he ought to be allowed to sell in less openly for the Ministerial candidates. —Mail.

WILL REGRET.

When Mr. Anglin faces Mr. D'Alton McCarthy and the electors of North Simcoe at the approaching Dominion elections, he will be made to regret that the statement he expressed down by the sea in Nova Scotia were not more in accord with public opinions in Ontario in regard to the National Policy. He stated that the accession of Hon Mr. Blake to power at Ottawa means "a complete change in the character and tone of the whole fiscal policy" of the country. If this is Mr. Anglin's opinion regarding protection, he will not find sanction to his view in North Simcoe. A great many Reformers are protectionists,—and while prepared to support Hon Mr. Mowat for the Locals when it comes to Dominion politics will go for the National Policy every time.—Newmarket Era (Reform.)

NEWS NOTES.

Much anxiety is caused by the Queen's health, which is very far from being robust.

Mr. Goschen has, it is officially announced, accepted the office of Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The Torrens system of land transfer went into operation in the Northwest Territories on New Year's day.

Right Rev. Horatio Potter, Bishop of New York, died on Monday of pneumonia, aged 84 years.

It is said that the edelweiss, the famous flower of the Alps, is found on Mount Rainier in Washington Territory.

The Prince of Wales is expected to reach Cannes on Jan. 25th, and may go on to Malta to visit the Duke of Edinburgh.

During the past year the failures in the Province of Manitoba showed a total of liabilities of $216,776.39, the assets being estimated at $166,960.

An effort is being made to induce the Prince of Wales to visit Australia to open the Centennial Exhibition next summer; but the Queen, it is understood, is opposed to the undertaking.

There is a possibility of the imposition of a tax of £5 a year on all foreigners working in England, the tax being aimed principally at the Germans, who are becoming very popular as servants.

John Coakley, of Ashley, Michigan, after freely celebrating the New Year on Friday, fell into the fire in his cabin during the night, the only traces left of him on saturday morning being his skull and the buttons of his clothes.

A sensation was caused in Montreal financial circles on Monday by the announcement that the Great North-Western Telegraph Company had failed to forward to the Montreal Telegraph Company the funds for payment of the guaranteed quarterly dividend, due on January 1st, and which had therefore to be deferred.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

AYER'S PILLS

CURE HEADACHE.

Headaches are usually induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, and may be easily cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. Mrs. Mary A. Scott, Portland, Me., writes: "I had suffered dreadfully from Sick Headache, and thought myself incurable. Disorder of the stomach caused it. Ayer's Pills cured me entirely."

CURE BILIOUSNESS.

John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebr., writes: "I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice. I was so dangerously ill, that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. I feel certain that I owe my recovery to your invaluable Pills."

CURE INDIGESTION.

Ayer's Pills act directly on the digestive and assimilative organs, influencing healthful action, imparting strength, and eradicating disease. G. W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T., writes: "I have suffered from Dyspepsia and Liver troubles for years past. I found no permanent relief, until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, which have effected a complete cure."

CURE RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is among the most painful of the disorders arising from vitiated blood and derangement of the digestive and biliary organs. Ayer's Pills relieve and cure Rheumatism when other remedies fail. S. M. Spencer, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was confined to my bed, with Rheumatism, three months, but, after using a few boxes of Ayer's Pills, became a well man."

CURE GOUT.

S. Lansing, Yonkers, N. Y., writes. "Recommended to me as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me not only from that trouble, but also from Gout. If every victim of the disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. Those words would be, 'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

CURE PILES.

Piles are induced by habitual constipation, debility, indigestion, or a morbid condition of the liver. A cure is best effected by the use of Ayer's Pills. John Lazarus, St. John, N. B., writes: "I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only cured me of that disagreeable disorder, but gave me new life and health."

OVER WORKED Women.

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

School Opening.

The Collegiate Institute will open on Monday, 10th Jan.

To Clear Out.

We will sell again by auction to-morrow night (Thursday); also on Saturday afternoon and evening, at the BON MARCHE.

Good Ice,

The ice on the Charlotte Street Rink is in splendid condition for skating. Season tickets can be had at any of the bookstores.

Scott Act.

Two charges against Thos. Dunn for infractions of the Scott Act came before the court on Tueseay. Owing to the defendant's being sick the cases were enlarged.

Dr. Ryerson.

Of Toronto, will be at the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Saturday, Jan. 22nd, for consultation in Eye, ear, throat and nose cases.

St. Andrew's Entertainment.

An entertainment will be given in Bradburn's Opera House on Monday evening, January 10th. Singing by Miss Howden, of Millbrook, will be one of the leading features. Admission, 25 and 35 cents.

To-Night—Four Auction Sales.

This week at the Bon Marche—Tuesday night, Thursday night and Saturday afternoon and evening. Come early and secure bargains before goods are all gone, as the store must be vacated at once.

Removed.

Mr. Geo. Sherrin, druggist, and F. Mason, florist, have taken possession of the fine double store on the corner of George and Charlotte streets. The premises will be known as the Floral Drug Store. It presents quite an unique appearance.

Acknowledgement.

The following additional donations for December, were thankfully received at the Peterborough Protestant Home:—Mrs. Weller, turkey; Mrs. George Burnham, goose; Miss Roper and Mrs. Fairbairn, turkey and currant loaf; Y. M. C. A., cakes,

CHEAP dress goods at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

Decided.

Mr. Cameron, the Deputy Returning Officer for No. 2 Ward in the Municipal elections, made his corrected return at 12 o'clock to-day. Acting on the advice of the Town Solicitor the ballot marked with three crosses after Mr. Stenson's name was held good. Mr. Stenson thus has one of a majority.

Choral Festival.

Those who were not fortunate enough to be present at the children's festival when given should not miss it to-morrow night. In addition to the grand choral singing of five hundred children there will be a distribution of Christmas gifts, by Santa Clause in person. Don't miss it. Remember, to-morrow (Thursday) night, at Bradburn's Opera House. Come early and get a good seat.

A Wandering Capitalist.

The Vancouver, B. C., News of Dec. 29th says:—"Mr. A. Donnelly, a capitalist of Peterborough, Ont., who has been in the city for a few days "spying out the land" for investment, left last night for Victoria on his way to San Francisco. Mr. Donnelly stated to a friend that hundreds of people throughout Ontario and in the principal towns of Manitoba are talking of coming to Vancouver in the spring, and that a big influx of fortune seekers may be expected as soon as spring opens in the east. He thinks that the Vancouver fever is affecting the eastern people worse than the Manitoba boom did. He will return here in a few weeks and will likely invest some of his surplus cash in Vancouver soil."

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held on Monday evening in the usual place. The President occupied the chair. After the minutes had been read and approved, a communication from Mrs. Chisholm "On Union Work" was read and received; also one from Mr. Buchanan. The Union renew their offer of three prizes to the primary and High School for the best essays on "Intemperance: its effects on the physical, mental and moral parts." It was decided that the Union co-operate with the Royal Templars in holding a series of evangelistic services, of which further particulars will be given. Also that the children of the Band of Hope are now in practice for a concert to be given under the direction of Mr. Seward towards the latter part of February.

COMMISSIONER COOMBS.

He Presides Over a Council of War and Speaks at the Evening Meeting.

On Tuesday Commissioner Coombs, the head of the Salvation Army in Canada, arrived in town. In the afternoon he held council of war at which the following officers were present:—Capt. Smith, Lieut. Woods and Cadet Way, Lindsay; Capt. Hough and Cadet Cornell, Omemee; Capt. Connal, and Cadet Millar, Cobourg; Capt. Dunkly and Lieut. Sloate, Port Hope; Lieut. Kelly, Cadet Dillworth and Cadet Eakins, Millbrook; Capt. Sharp and Lieut. Wager, Campbellford; Cadet McGinty, Lakefield; Lieut. Barber, Cambray; Capt. Pinck and Cadet Craig, Fenelon Falls; Capt. Florence, Canuington; and Adjutant Bolton, Capt. Pople and Cadet Currell, Peterborough.

This was the first visit paid by Commissioner since the installation of Adjutant Bolton in the rank he now holds

In the evening a march was held when about one hundred turned out. Coming down George street the enthusiastic Salvationists carried the Commissioner on their shoulders.

The barracks was packed to the door. Commissioner Coombs and others spoke during the evening. In his address the Commissioner talked about "The Wonder of the Age" the Salvation Army. In dealing with its unparalleled progress he stated that in Winnipeg, which was attacked only two weeks ago, forty-five were marching in the ranks. In Quebec city, two corps. English and French, were now in full operation.

The Commissioner left town this morning.

Fire Brigade Band.

A meeting of the Fire Brigade Band will be held this evening, and all members of the band are requested to be present.

No Quorum.

A regular meeting of the Board of Education was called on Tuesday evening, but at the appointed hour only Messrs. Stevenson, McWilliams, Burnham and Errett were present.

Did its Duty.

There have been some complaints lately as to Medical men not reporting cases of diphtheria promptly. It should be remembered that the Board of Health instructed the Sanitary Inspectors to lay information against any Medical man failing to do so.

The West Riding Election.

The County Judge has appointed Saturday, January 8th at 3 p.m., in the Sheriff's office in the Court House, for recount of votes and examination and a scrutiny of the ballots cast in the Provincial election for West Peterborough.

Elected.

Mr. W. H. Wrighton was elected School Trustee for No. 2 Ward by a vote of 1 to 0. Owing to the non-withdrawal of the name of the other candidate proposed a vote was taken and during the first hour only one vote was polled. The poll was closed and Mr. Wrighton declared elected.

Incarcerated

Among the twenty-seven Salvationists imprisoned at Lindsay on Friday night was Adjutant Bolton and Capt. Pople of Peterborough. Capt. Pople says that the whole twenty-seven were crowded into a room 27x10 and there left all night, Two more arrests were made on Tuesday night. The trial comes up before Magistrate O'Leary to-morrow.

The Week of Prayer.

The Union Meetings of this week have been so far interesting and profitable. On Monday Charlotte St. Church was well filled and Tuesday night the lecture room of St. Paul's. The exercises consist in singing, several prayers and an address. On Monday night Mr. Wallace spoke and last night Mr. Wilson. The meeting to-night will be in St. Andrews Church, the subject will be "The Church," and the speaker will be Mr. Wallace.

Royal Templars.

The Rev. E. D. Lewis, District Councillor of the Royal Templars of Temperance, delivered an address in the Auburn Church on Tuesday evening on temperance and the order of Royal Templars. At the conclusion of his address he invited all who wished to unite with Peterborough Council to remain and do so. About twenty-two persons joined the Council, which was reorganized with the following officers:—

Bro. Jas. Stratton	S. C.
Sis Kendry	V. C.
Sis. Swinton	Rec Sec.
Bro. Carter	Fin. Sec.
Bro. Hendry	Chap.
Bro. Geo. Billings	Herald
Bro. McIntyre	Sentinel
Bro. Wm. Hartley	P. C.

Sympathy.

At the meeting of the W. C. T. U. Executive Committee on Tuesday, January 4th, the following preamble and resolution were adopted:—

"Inasmuch as it has pleased the Lord to bereave this body and our beloved Zion by the death of our esteemed sister, Miss Mary Ward, who a few days ago was taken from her place as organist of our Union to the possession of the inheritance of the saints in light, therefore be it

Resolved, that we, as a token of our high reward and an expressions of our appreciation of her pure christain motives,

Request the Editors of the Peterborough REVIEW and Examiner to publish this resolution.

That we as a union extend to the bereaved parents and family our tenderest Christain sympathy, assuring them a place in the hearts and prayerful memory of the union until the master shall grant them a blessed happy re-union, where the Dominion of death and the sorrow of separation are unknown.

Signed,

NEW YORK Count Oysters at OSTROM'S.

HE GETS OFF.

How the Scott Act Works in the Hands of Wire Pullers.

At the Police Court this morning the case Queen vs. Cavanagh, in which Timothy Cavanagh was charged with a third offence against the Canada Temperance Act, came before the Magistrate.

The case was one which, adjourned till after the Provincial election, created the impression that the wires would be pulled so as to have the matter arranged to the satisfaction of the defendant. It is well known what part Ted played in the recent election on Mr. Stratton's behalf, and it was the prevailing opinion that influence would be brought to bear so as make good the old saying "One good turn deserves another."

The following is the statement of how the case went as recorded by the Police Magistrate:

"Jan. 5th, 1887. Examination of witnesses resumed. Witnesses Andrew Shearer, R. Jackson and John Emmerson are called and come not.

"I hold that there is a prima facie case made against the defendant. The defence offers no evidence. I, therefore, hold and do adjudge that the defendant is guilty of an offence against the Canada Temperance Act of 1878.

"The defendant being asked if he admits the convictions charged in the information as having been made on May 17th, 1886, and June 21st, 1886, says he admits that made on May 17th, 1886, but not that made on June 21st.

"Whereupon the prosecution calls Mr. J. G. Macdonald, Clerk of the Police Court. Before he is sworn Mr. W. H Cooper, the complainant, says he is not prepared to prove the conviction of the 21st of June and withdraws the case from the control of Mr. E. B. Edwards, the Town Solicitor. Mr. Edwards says he does not assent to the action of Chief of Police Cooper and he withdraws from the prosecution of necessity, but against his will.

"No further evidence is given.

"I find the defendant guilty of a second offence and adjudge that he do pay a fine of $100 and costs, to be paid in ten days, and in default of payment distress and in default of distress imprisonment for two months."

The Magistrate added that he wished it to be distinctly understood that he had nothing to do with the case except in his capacity as Judge.

It May be Remarked

—That it's a cold day when Ted gets left.

—That he knew what boat he was sailing in on election day.

—That the trustee elections are progressing quietly.

—That both Stenson and Kelly are in after all,

—That the Salvationists will have a big time at Lindsay to-morrow.

—That Wrighton polled the smallest winning vote on record.

—That the Oddfellows hold forth to-night.

Dec 29th—V. Best's house, Brock street.

POLICE COURT.

ASSAULT.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 5.—Earnest Leplante, Francis Leplante and Baptiste Leplante were charged by H. Charbonneir with having assaulted him.

On New Year's day, according to the evidence, the three Leplantes went to call on Charbonneir. They had refreshments and by and bye began to feel quite merry. The upshot was that a meise took place in which the complainant was hurt, a lamp was broken and a suit of clothes were spoiled. The defendants were fined $10 and $10 damages.

Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the complainant, and J. O'Meara for the defendants.

Personal.

Mr. Chas. Coughlin, of Otonabee, left town for Toronto where he will enter upon the study of medicine in Trinity College.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

WE STILL LEAD!!

A few days we announced the purchase ago of a wholesale manufacturer's stock of

BREAKFAST

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack us wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

CAPTURED.

A Beautiful Adventuress and Her Assistant Arrested in Paris.

PARIS, Jan. 4.—Two English adventuresses have been arrested here charged with swindling. The prisoners gave the names of Mrs. Lindsay and Miss Evelyn Rappy. The latter is a beautiful woman about 25 years of age. Mrs. Lindsay passed as Miss Rappy's mother or guardian, as the occasion required. The woman caused to be published advertisements making it known that a young widow with a million sterling in her own right, or a rich young girl who had made a false step was desirous of forming a marital alliance with a gentlemen who could appreciate the situation, and who had means sufficient to warrant that on his side the marriage was not entirely a speculation. She engaged herself to a number of Frenchmen, managing to keep alive their ardor until she had exhausted their ability to make presents, and successfully married several of her wealthy admirers, securing the best settlement possible, and managing to escape with the wedding presents and other personal property obtainable after the ceremony. Miss Rappy played the marriage trick with a great success in England before she sought her victims in France, and it is said all of her dupes have been of such high social or political position that they have been ashamed to seek redress. When Miss Rappy was taken into custody she was at a first-class hotel, living in a grand suite of rooms, in style befitting a princess, and was on the point of being married to a man who had already paid right loyally for the betrothal, and had invested a snug fortune in wedding presents. The prisoner broke down and made a complete confession. She asserts that Mrs. Lindsay completely controlled her.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

A LOGICAL CONCLUSION.

Cape Breton is disturbed by an agitation against the Provincial Government of Nova Scotia. The Bretons carry the Province's agitation to a logical conclusion by claiming that they have as good a right to secede from the Province as the Province has to secede from the Dominion. After that why shall not the counties and townships be at liberty to secede one from another?—Toronto World (Indep.)

A QUEER VIEW.

It is childish to say that the present unfortunate and lamentable divergence of thought and sympathy has originated with the Mail and the Province of Ontario. It came from ourselves, and the diatribes of the Mail are but the answering echoes of the French press in this province. We speak plainly, because we feel that when the attempt is being made by either party to set brothers against brothers, the best and truest course is to use plain words. There is no doubt that the present race and religion cry has originated here in our own midst, that the Province of Quebec has raised it under the guidance of politicians who have seen in it a possible means of obtaining power.—Eastern Township News.

MOWAT'S ALLIES SPEAK.

It was not then in vain that the bishops of Ontario asked for public prayers to avert the scourge with which the country was threatened. Neither was it in vain that the Catholics of this Province, and even of the whole country, addressed to heaven fervent prayers. God has heard them. The Orange monster, allied with the fanatical arbitrariness of Toryism, and the hideous apostacy of the French-Canadian chevaliers de la corde, has been vanquished, crushed, and, for the time-being at least, rendered powerless to pursue its sanguinary anti-Catholic and anti-French projects.—L'Etendard.

TWICE GERRYMANDERED.

Those who sneer at plucky little Davy Creighton because of his small majority should reflect that he has been twice gerrymandered. The result is far more creditable to him than to the men who have tried to legislate him out of the House.—Toronto Telegram, (Indep.)

HARVEY.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.—The poll opened Monday morning, Jan. 3rd, to receive the votes of the electors who met to elect their Reeve and Councillors for the ensuing year. All was humming at 10 o'clock; at 2 chances for Hicks seemed small in Sub-division II; at 5 the votes were counted and Seymour had a majority of 11. News was soon carried to Division I and the result of the poll is as follows:—For the Reeveship, Hicks, 113; Seymour, 96; majority for Hicks 11. For a seat in Council:—Shaw, 98; Ingram, 93; Flynn, 69; Reid 67; Gerrard, 66; Shearer, 65; McIlmoyle, 63; Crowley, 55; Smith, 37.

SOCIAL.—A tea was held at Nogey's Creek on Monday, Dec. 27th last, in aid of the Methodist Church. After partaking of a tea set temptingly before the Harvey epicureans—thanks to the ladies—they retired to the church to spend an hour or so of pleasant entertainment. Readings were given by the Rev. Mr. Wilson, Mr. Raley and Mr. W. J. Stone. Mr. Wilson, who is a Grit-Conservative, prophisied very truly who should get the seat in Parliament; and Mr. Raley advised the adoring swain to give his true love a nudge with his elbow as one manner of courtship. The chair was filled by Mr. J. P. Davis. The amount raised was over $45.

O'Dynamite Rossa.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The Council of the Fenian Brotherhood has promulgated another circular arraigning O'Donovan Rossa for fresh acts of treachery. It claims that Rossa is living off money subscribed to his new Skirmishing Fund, and that the audit of his books in 1885 was not satisfactorily completed, and the books appeared to have been doctored.

Dominion Elections.

A despatch was received this afternoon at the office of Messrs. Cox & Co., brokers, stating that the Dominion House had been dissolved and that the elections would be held on Feb. 15th. No official confirmation of the report has been received.

A SURPRISE TO HIS FRIENDS

Mr. Goschen's Determination to Accept Office Under Lord Salisbury.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The Tribune's London special says: "Mr. Goschen's determination to take office under Lord Salisbury comes at last as a surprise to his own friends. Not a few of them regret the step he has taken. True, he enters a Tory Ministry flying the Liberal Unionist flag, reserving all rights and renewing his adhesion to Lord Hartington, who bestows his approval on his colleague's action. He makes his appearance in Downing street as a kind of envoy from a friendly power, but his decision is none the less regarded as irrevocable, and his farewell to the Liberal party as final. Mr. Goschen's departure is the first act in that retributionof parties which so long has been foreseen. He yields to the logic of events. The Tories seem to give him but a half-heated welcome. How far the reconstruction of the Ministery will go depends on the number of Unionists who can be induced to accept office. Mr. Chamberlain's position is the puzzle of politics. The definite exclusion of Lord Randolph Churchill from the Ministry must include Mr. Chamberlain to return to his old friends. The negotiations, however, are kept studiously private."

LIBERAL RE-UNION.

A Conference Takes Place at Birmingham Next Week.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—In a letter, written today, Mr. Gladstone refers to Mr. Chamberlain's recent speech at Birmingham as expressing sentiments which ought to lead to a modus vivendi between that gentleman and himself. "I shall be glad," he says, of any means that will bring about a free discussion of the differences between us, in order to obtain such common action as may be consistent with our respective principles."

The Birmingham Post announces that Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Sir Farrar Herschell, Mr. John Morley, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain and Sir George Trevelyan will meet probably next week to discuss in the most free and unreserved manner possible the Irish question in the spirit of Mr. Gladstone's letter. It is understood, however, that the attendance of the gentlemen shall be considered as binding in no event as to their assent to agree upon a settlement of the differences now existing between them.

The Daily News, referring to the Birmingham Post's announcement of a conference between the leaders of the Liberal factions, says the anger which the proposal excites among the Tories may be taken as a measure of the satisfaction with which the project is likely to be greeted among the Liberals.

A LUCKY GIRL.

A Canadian Maiden Falls Heir to Fifty Thousand Pounds.

There is one little 18 year old girl in this city, who, if she slept soundly last night, must have a remarkably level head on her pretty shoulders, for she awoke yesterday morning supposing herself to be no better off than the average girl of parents of moderate means, and retired with the knowledge that she is worth £50,000 of Her Majesty's lawful money. It comes about in this way: James Postle, one of fourteen brothers, came to Canada from England six years ago, settling at London. Several of his numerous brothers emigrated to Australia in the days of the gold excitement, and, by the death of one of these, James received £10,000 before coming to Canada. Whatever portion of this comfortable fortune remained after he reached the realms of Sir John, he proceeded to "blow in" in the most enterprising and systematic manner. Three years ago he removed from London to Bay City, and last July came to Detroit, taking up his residence at No. 242 Congress street east. He did not have enough daddies' dollars left when he made his last change of residence to compel him to pay for extra baggage on his Detroitward trip.

James Postle has has several sons, one of whom is a tinner, now employed on the roof of the new pest house on Crawford street, and one daughter, Miss Sett, a very pretty girl. Yesterday this young lady received from a friend it Toronto a letter enclosing an advertisement cut from a paper published in Norwich, England, and signed by a solicitor named B. Brennan. This advertisement asks for information as the whereabouts of Sett, daughter of James, and Ida, daughter of Alfred Postle, and sets forth the death of Ben. Postle, one of the fourteen brothers, who left an estate of the value of £100,000 and a will, by the terms of which the whole is left to Miss Sett and Ida, her cousin, share and share alike.

As may be imagined, the receipt of this letter caused intense excitement among the Postle family, and they were not long in cabling Mr. Brennan that the young legatee is in a thoroughly receptive mood. The difference of time between Norwich and De roit is sufficient to account for the failure to receive an answer last night.

The whereabouts of Ida Postle is unknown to her Detroit relatives, and a search for her might be a wise venture to some young man of this city.—Detroit Free Press.

No Legal Blunder Committed.

OTTAWA, Jan. 5.—An Ottawa despatch to several American newspapers states that a legal blunder was committed in the seizure of the Highland Light last summer for fishing within the three mile limit off Prince Edward Island, because it is alleged the act under which the seizure was made did not receive the royal assent until Nov. 5. Major Tilton, Deputy-Minister of Fisheries, was interviewed to-day and said the charge was too ridiculous to need contradiction. The Highland Light was not seized under that act at all, and therefore its reservation for Her Majesty's assent does not affect the matter.

No other medicine has won for itself such universal approbation in its own city, state, and country, and among all people, as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the best combination of vegetable blood purifier, with the Iodide of Potassium and Iron, ever offered to the public.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Mr. W. H. umith has accepted the Conservative leadership in the House of Commons.

NO FRESH LOANS.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—At a Cabinet Council yesterday it was decided not to propose a new loan or tax, but to rely upon the temporary suppression of the sinking fund to balance the current budget, and to postpone making a financial report until next year.

THE REMAINS OF GAMBETTA.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—The remains of Gambetta are to be removed from their present resting place to the Pantheon, the father of the great French statemen having given his consent to the transfer.

FORGERS ARRESTED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 5.—The police arrested a gang of forgers, and seized the machinery and tools used by them in the use of counterfeiting a large quantity of spurious internal loan coupons.

A MESSAGE TO CANADA'S GOVERNOR.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Lord Salisbury has sent a cable dispatch to the Marquis of Lansdowne, Governor-General of Canada, asking him if he would be willing to join the ministry.

A RADICAL-LIBERAL COMPACT.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Daily News, without being too sanguine as to the results of the proposed conference of the Radicals and Mr. Gladstone, says that the anger which the proposal excites among the Tories is a measure of the satisfaction with which it may be greeted by the Liberals. It is expected that the conference will be held at Sir William Vernon Harcourt's residence in London. The Standard says the course which Mr. Chamberlain sanctions calls for stern rebuke, and that whatever happens he cannot pretend that he had not been warned of the conditions of any possible compact.

GOING ABROAD.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Randolph Churchill is going to the continent. He will not appear in Parliament until after the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

AN IRISH DEMONSTRATION.

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—Two women, who had been imprisoned at Ballyhannis for assaulting bailiffs while the latter were serving writs, were released yesterday. They were met at the prison doors by a great crowd of people carrying banners and accompanied by bands of music. A procession was formed, the two women were placed upon a car which was dragged in triumph through the town. Messrs. Crilly and Mayne, M.P.'s, participated in the demonstration.

WILL NOT EXCEPT OFFICE.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Lord Northbrook has decided not to accept a position in the Cabinet. He has written to Mr. Goschen regretting his inability to join the ministry in view of the Conservative discontent and the doubtful nature of the agreement with Lord Salisbury. Lord Salisbury is urgently pressing the Marquis of Lansdown to accept an office in the Cabinet. It is now reported that Lord Lansdown is not willing to surrender his emoluments in Canada, especially as the revenues from his estates are decreasing.

Death of Colonel Arthurs.

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—Col. William Arthurs, one of the best known and most popular citizens of Toronto, died at an early hour this morning at his residence in Richmond street. His death was not unexpected, as he has been confined to bed for about three month with a complication of diseases. Mr. Arthurs passed the whole of his days in Toronto. He was at one time a partner in the firm of Thompson & Arthurs, the leading retail dry goods house here. He was best known, however, by the active part he played in suppressing the Fenian raids of 1866, when he commanded the gallant Queen's Own.

Woman's Costly Curiosity.

"Yes, sir," said Jones, "women are awfully curious."

"When did you make the discovery?" inquired Brown.

"Oh, I've always held that opinion,' was the reply, "but I have now demonstrated the fact."

"How so?"

"Why, you see, Thompson knows all about that Smith scandal, and I wanted him to tell me about it. He wouldn't though I offered him a $5 bill. When I told my wife about it to night, she almost cried, and wanted to know why I did't offer him $10."

THURSDAY, JANUARY 6, 1887.

THE SCHOOL MASTER ABROAD.

Stung by the exposure made of him by Mr. James Hughes, the Minister of Education interrupted him with threats of personal violence if they had been speaking in "his town" of Strathroy. We bore this in mind, waiting with some curiosity to see what overwhelming majority Mr. Ross would obtain in "his town," but to our surprise we found that he had no majority at all, only polling a majority of the Strathroy vote. He must have considerable confidence in his bullies if he holds them capable of forcibly ejecting a platform speaker with the majority of the people of the town at his back. It was in this same Strathroy that Mr. G. W. Ross was a Public School Inspector, which duties he combined with those of agent for a publishing firm, and yet found leisure to make a number of political speeches, though he now so strongly objects to a School Inspector doing so. Another grievance that sorely afflicts our Minister of Education is that a School Inspector should dare to criticise a Minister of the Crown. When Mr. Ross was a School Inspector and school book soldier combined he showed no diffidence about attacking Ministers of the Crown.

WORKING THE SCOTT ACT.

Under the heading of "Temperance Notes," the Globe has the following paragraph:—

"Because Mr. J. R. Stratton was elected to the Legislature from West Peterborough, Mr. J. W. Flavelle has taken the remarkable course of resigning his position as a member of the Peterborough Committee for the enforcement of the Scott Act."

It is hardly remarkable that the Globe should take the course of misrepresenting Mr. Flavelle, since he has exposed the dishonesty and hypocrisy of its friends. As the Globe must know very well, Mr. Flavelle did not resign his position as a member of the committee for the enforcement of the Scott Act because Mr. Stratton was elected, but because he found that other members of the Committee were using the Scott Act not to enforce temperance, but to influence votes in favor of Mr. Mowat's candidate by interfering with its enforcement to secure the support of the liquor [illegible] found that the professedly temperance organization was being used against temperance, and was being turned into a political engine. Finding himself among dishonest hypocrites, Mr. Flavelle, being an honest man, naturally left them.

THE INCREASED MAJORITY.

We hear so much about Mr. Mowat's increased majority that it will be as well to look into the figures. When he dissolved the Legislature he had, according to the claim of Reform journals, a majority of 19, and this is correct if we class the "independent" Mr. Neelon as a Reformer. There are now 32 Conservatives elected and 58 Reformers, if we give them the "Independents," making an apparently increased majority of 7. Of this number no less than five were provided by statute, three by the additional Reform members given to Toronto, Bruce and Parry Sound, and two by cutting off Conservative members from Leeds and Grenville, and Stormont and Cornwall. There thus remains as the increased majority by election only a gain of one seat, counting as two on a division. This is all the gain there is to represent the gerrymandering of nearly half the constituencies in order to make a score of seats safe for Mr. Mowat, the expenditure of enormous sums of public money and the use of most dishonest cries and other means of influencing the voters. That these devices should have resulted in the gain of only one seat, proves that the verdict of the unbiassed electors was strongly against Mr. Mowat, who only saved himself by dishonest trickery.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Municipal Elections.—A good deal of excitement was shown in our village over the municipal elections, in which Mr. Hull again opposed Mr. R. C. Strickland for the Reeveship, and eleven candidates ran for Councillors. As was generally expected Mr. R. C. Strickland was returned as Reeve, with the large majority of 78, which probably would have been considerably larger had Mr. Strickland canvassed, but he relied entirely on his past record, and the large vote given in his favor shows that the village knows when it has a good Reeve, and has no intention of losing him. Mr. Hull certainly deserves commendation for his pluck in running in so hopeless a contest, and bearing in mind the majority of 72 against him when he ran against Mr. Strickland in 1884, it must be said that Mr. Hull is thoroughly endued with the truly British characteristic of never knowing when he is beaten. The result of the vote for councillors was a surprise to many, two of the old Council losing their seats, and making way for two younger men. The Council for 1887 will consist of Mr. R. C. Strickland, Reeve, and Messrs. Moore, Cox, Henderson and Watson, Councillors. [We have given the vote in detail.]

Serenaded.—After the municipal elections the Foresters' Band serenaded the successful and unsuccessful candidates and visited the residence of the Reeve, where they were invited in and partook of an impromptu supper, after which the health of Mr. and Mrs. Strickland was proposed and a few songs sung by the members of the band.

Concert.—On New Year's evening the ladies of the Methodist congregation gave a concert in the P. C. A. Hall, a lengthy programme being well carried out. The receipts amounted to $58.00.

London, Jan. 4.—Sir Richard Assheton Cross denies that he intends to resign.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

THANKS TO A REBEL.

The result of the Anti-French and anti-Catholic campaign gave us North Essex, Ottawa and Russell. For instance, wherever Mr. Laurier spoke, Liberals were elected. Mr. Laurier spoke at Toronto for Mr. Leys; he was elected. He spoke at Peterborough and Mr. Stratton is elected, and he spoke at Windsor and Mr. Pacaud is elected. We congratulate our leader on these magnificent results.—La Patrie.

A QUEBEC EXPLANATION.

DISCORDANT CRIES.

There was an election in East Durham in 1885. On that occasion the Reform battle cry was that Riel was to be pardoned, though he deserved to be hanged. The Conservative majority was 270. In 1886 the Reform battle cry in the same constituency was that Riel deserved pardon and should not have been hanged. The Conservative majority was 384. The Reformers have tried the riding on both cries, and now they think it is so thoroughly steeped in wickedness as to be past redemption.—Mail.

A PREMIER BY STATUTE.

Toronto has a population of 120,000. In 1883 Muskoka and Parry Sound districts had 27,000, Algoma 20,000. The three districts now have probably 70,000 people. Algoma was divided and given an additional member; Parry Sound was separated from Muskoka and given an additional member; but Toronto was given only one more member; and it was declared by act of Legislature that he must be a Grit. Now in Muskoka, Parry Sound and Algoma Mr. Mowat spends $100,000 each year. Mr. Mowat was almost sure of four members from the districts: he was quite sure of a large adverse majority in Toronto. A fair apportionment would have given the former three members the latter six. He gave the districts one more than their share, the city three less than her share. Then he provided that one of the city members should be a Grit. In other words he legislated two Grits into seats and three Conservatives out. Assuming that Algoma will be Reform (not by any means certain) Mr. Mowat's legislation makes a difference of six votes on a division. And by other inequalities he has increased that injustice. By such injustice he kept himself in office by means of such legislation. We ask reasonable and thoughtful Reformers if it is wise.—Hamilton Spectator.

THE SEIZURE OF THE STEVENSON.

How American Customs Officials Winked at Smuggling.

St. John, Jan. 4.—The seizure of the schooner B. R. Stevenson in St. Andrew's by Captain McLean, of the Dominion cutter Gen. Middleton, is the first step towards the breaking up the systematic evasion of the fishery regulations which have been going on in that locality for a long time. When the fishery treaty was abrogated the owners of the sardine industries in Eastport had to devise a method of getting Canadian fish free of duty since their own fisheries would not supply what they wanted, and if they were compelled to pay duty the result would be that sardine industries would spring up on the Canadian side where free fish could be obtained in any quantity desired. A large part of the population of Eastport is dependent upon those industries for support, and when these facts were laid before the Customs autorities of that place they saw fit to wink at the proposed evasion of their custom laws. Accordingly a number of Americans procured mortgages on vessels such as the Stevenson, Lavinia, Sarah and Orient which were British bottoms registered in St. Andrew's, and placing American masters and crews aboard engaged them in carrying fish from Canadian waters to Eastport. Master, crew and outfit being American, the Customs authorities at Eastport would wink at them smuggling fish, knowing that it was good for the Eastport factories and the fact is these vessels did not enter nor clear at that port. They would sail either to Grand Manan or St. George and enter at these ports without foreign clearance being demanded from them. They purchase cargoes of fish, paying from $4 to $6 a hogshead, cash and return with the tide to Eastport. In order to obtain a monopoly Grand Manan, Campbell, Indian Isle and Deer Island fishermen began to complain about St. George and St. Andrews fishermen and vice versa. Again the fish smokers on the Canadian side wanted a monopoly and began to howl because Eastport officials allowed fish in duty free, thus giving factories there a chance to compete with them. Schooners engaged in this carrying trade were not fishing schooners and could thus avail the fishery treaty and buy at the weirs, so the only method of getting at them was struck by Capt. McLean who seized one of them, the Stevenson, for having an American master and crew in a British bottom, and received instructions from Ottawa to dismantle her and put her in charge of Collector Gove, of St. Andrew's, to be delivered to the owner upon payment of a fine of $400. Daniel Hilyard, of Lucec, Maine, holds a mortgage on the Stevenson. So long as Eastport officials were willing to defraud the American Customs revenue for the sake of that town, Canadian fishermen reaped a rich harvest, but by their jealousy of one another they have cut off their sales, so to speak, in that quarter. Another feature of this evasion is that the American master of the vessel would take oath before a Canadian magistrate that he was a British subject and claim the Canadian bounty, and directly afterwards go to the other side of the line and reap the advantages there of his American citizenship.—Montreal Star.

Burned to Death in a Barn.

Caledonia, Jan. 4.—This morning, between 1 and 2 o'clock, the barn of Mr. James King, blacksmith and farmer, living near the Town Hall, Onedia, in this county, was totally destroyed by fire with all its contents, including five horses, five cows, grain and farming implements. A farm hand named William Bell was burned to death having his feet, arms and head burned from the body. Bell had been drawing stone from the bush and had also attended the elections at Caledonia. He reached home with his team about 12 o'clock, and nothing more is known as to how the fire originated. Mr. King had no insurance, and his loss will be from $1500 to $1800.

SIN AND DEATH.

DR. CURTISS' NOTES ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Lesson II for Sunday, Jan. 9—Lesson Text, Gen. iii, 1-6 and 17-19—Golden Text, Rom. v, 12: "By One Man Sin Entered into the World, and Death by Sin."

Paradise Lost.—It is one of the most universal traditions of the human race that man originally enjoyed a state of innocence and happiness, which he has somehow lost; and among some of the nations (Aryan) is also found the belief that the world is growing worse. It would seem as though the eyes of all peoples were turned longingly back to Paradise as something which they would gladly regain. The Scriptures, however, are free from those grotesque representations which we find of the fall in the Persian and other literatures.

Chaos and Satan.—Some commentators, relying on obscure hints in the Bible, have seen in Gen. i, 2, the wreck of a spiritual world, once the abode of Satan and of the angels who kept not their own principality (Jude v, 6, Revised Version). This world, they maintain, was materialized by God in order to make it the substratum of new creation, described in Gen. i, 3-27. But of this there is no adequate evidence. Satan is indeed called in the New Testament the god of this age, and the prince of the power of the air. There is, however, no proof that he had any connection with this earth before the time indicated in our lesson, since we have no right to say that God did not create chaos, and therefore that it must be the work of Satan.

The Crisis in Human History.—The third chapter of Genesis marks a crisis in human history. Whatever explanation may be given of this narrative, that history from this time on takes a different turn, and God's verdict regarding man is of an entirely different sort from that which we find in Gen. i, 31. The serpent in the passage before us, as well as in ancient Persian and other traditions, introduces this crisis.

THE LESSON.

The Image of Satan (v. 1).—We have seen in the last lesson that there is a glorified human form, which was fitted to be the outward expression of the image of God, in which man was created, and which was the mode in which the Angel of Jehovah appeared, and also our Lord himself. The proper image for the arch enemy of God and man is the most cunning of the reptiles, the serpent. Satan is not mentioned in this passage, but his work is described in such a way that we should recognise him even if [illegible] carried out in later writings.

[illegible] animals are mentioned as speaking—here where the serpent speaks by his own power, and in the story of Balaam, where God gives an ass the power of speech that he may rebuke a self-willed and covetous prophet.

The Woman Tempted.—He approaches the woman, as more guileless and confiding, if anything, than the man, and by an ingenious question casts an imputation on God's goodness—"Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?" In other words, Is it possible that God has said, Ye shall not eat of any tree of the garden? He secures just the answer which he desires. The woman says that they are permitted to eat of every tree of the garden but one, and concerning that one God has said: "Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die." The exact time is not specified in Gen. ii, 17, when they should die, for the word day is used in the same general signification as in v. 4 of the same chapter. Death is simply regarded as a result of eating the forbidden fruit, just as the death penalty in some states is the result of the crime of murder, although there are cases where a long time intervenes between the sentence and the execution.

Satan's Lie (vs. 4, 5).—The serpent, having secured the statement that he desires by consummate artifice, boldly denies the truth of God's word—"Ye shall not surely die;" that is, he makes God a liar, and accuses him of jealously withholding from them the same kind of knowledge that he has, forbidding them to eat of the tree; since he adds, "for God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods" (Revised Version, which is to be preferred "as God"), "knowing God and evil." This statement of the serpent was indeed half true, but it was also half false. Death did not come at once, and their eyes were opened. Their knowledge, however, brought them only shame and disappointment, as all human knowledge does which seeks to solve the problems of existence without a divine revelation. Such knowledge leads to despair. Man finds that he is utterly ignorant of those things which he desires to know. Hence in religion he becomes an agnostic and in philosophy a pessimist. Men without God are like the babes in the wood, who know that they have lost the way home, and are hungry, tired and full of fears. Such is man when he lets go the divine hand and seeks to determine for himself the laws of his own being and destiny.

Disbelieving God (v. 6).—The woman in believing the serpent disbelieved God. She seems no longer to have had fear of death, and therefore did not fear to disobey God's command. The temptation addressed itself to her senses and her intellect. She saw (1) that the tree was good for food; (2) that it was a delight to the eyes (Revised Version); (3) that it was to be desired to make one wise. Her sin, which had its genesis in unbelief, was twofold—(1) she herself disobeyed; (2) she tempted her husband to disobey. This illustrates the self-propagating character of sin. It does not stop with the transgressor. It seeks to make others transgressors. Israel is first "a seed of evil doers," then corrupters of others.

Man's Punishment (vs. 17-19).—The sorest part of man's punishment was self-inflicted. The question is sometimes asked why God should have visited such a terrible punishment on man for simply taking the fruit of the forbidden tree, as to curse the earth and drive him from the garden. This arises from a radically wrong conception of the nature and consequences of sin. Man as a free moral agent must choose for himself. He had the power to choose to obey God. If he had always chosen to obey him, there would have been harmony; but it was no ordinary sin when the woman, by disbelieving God, made him a liar (I John v. 10), and not only did counter to his will, but also became a child of the devil by uniting her husband to sin. The moment man and woman disobeyed God they came into a state in which Eden could no longer be Paradise to them. They experienced the truth of Milton's lines—

The mind its own place, and in itself
Can make a heaven of hell, a hell of heaven.

From this point of view their sin was as great as though all the trees of the garden had been forbidden them, as the serpent suggested, and as though, if there had been such a prohibition, they had eaten from all of them. No sin is little. The first conscious, deliberate transgression, unless repented of, is the beginning of a series of acts which drag men down. The verses, however, indicate an outward condition of things fitted to man's inward state. There is an outward penalty which is superadded. The punishment then is physical as well as mental. It consists of the following particulars: (1) Man is banished from Eden; (2) the ground is cursed for his sake; (3) its fruits can only be secured through severe toil; (4) he is to return to his native dust.

Results of Liberal Preaching.—What a commentary on the first liberal preacher and the results of his preaching! His text was, "Ye shall not surely die." His sermon tickled the ears of the first woman, for it did not require her to be strait laced. It flattered her vanity and raised her ambition, for it promised her that she should be like God himself in knowledge (Revised Version). But God was true, and this preacher a liar. The beginning was misery, and the end was death.

The Second Death.—The account leaves the impression that the death threatened was simply physical. It is only through New Testament light that we learn of a second death, of which physical death is merely a type, and which is the result of sin.—Sunday School World.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

AYER'S PILLS

CURE HEADACHE.

Headaches are usually induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, and may be easily cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. Mrs. Mary A. Scott, Portland, Me., writes: "I had suffered dreadfully from Sick Headache, and thought myself incurable. Disorder of the stomach caused it. Ayer's Pills cured me entirely."

CURE BILIOUSNESS.

John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebr., writes: "I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice. I was so dangerously ill, that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. I feel certain that I owe my recovery to your invaluable Pills."

CURE INDIGESTION.

Ayer's Pills act directly on the digestive and assimilative organs, influencing healthful action, imparting strength, and eradicating disease. G. W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T., writes: "I have suffered from Dyspepsia and Liver troubles for years past. I found no permanent relief, until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, which have effected a complete cure."

CURE RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is among the most painful of the disorders arising from vitiated blood and derangement of the digestive and biliary organs. Ayer's Pills relieve and cure Rheumatism when other remedies fail. S. M. Spencer, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was confined to my bed, with Rheumatism, three months, but, after using a few boxes of Ayer's Pills, became a well man."

CURE GOUT.

S. Lansing, Yonkers, N. Y., writes: "Recommended to me as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me not only from that trouble, but also from Gout. If every victim of the disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. Those words would be, 'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

CURE PILES.

Piles are induced by habitual constipation, debility, indigestion, or a morbid condition of the liver. A cure is best effected by the use of Ayer's Pills. John Lazarus, St. John, N. B., writes: "I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only cured me of that disagreeable disorder, but gave me new life and health."

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

To Clear Out.

We will sell again by auction to-morrow night (Thursday); also on Saturday afternoon and evening, at the BON MARCHE.

Good Ice.

The ice on the Charlotte Street Rink is in splendid condition for skating. Season tickets can be had at any of the bookstores.

Curling.

The match between the President's and Vice-President's rinks is nearly completed, only three more single matches remaining to be played off. Thus far the Vice President's side is ahead.

Canada Pacific Railway.

Mr. Lucius Turtle is appointed Passenger Traffic Manager of all the lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and will have general charge of all passenger traffic, with office at Montreal.

Serenaded.

Mr. Jas. Stenson, who was declared elected as Councillor for No. 2 Ward, was on Wednesday evening serenaded by the Fire Brigade Band, the members of which were entertained in a princely manner by Mr. and Mrs. Stenson.

St. Andrew's Entertainment.

An entertainment will be given in Bradburn's Opera House on Monday evening, January 10th. Singing by Miss Bowden, of Millbrook, will be one of the leading features. Admission, 25 and 35 cents.

A Convenience.

In the Grand Central Hotel a newspaper rack has been put in on which all of the leading newspapers and periodicals will be found for several numbers back. It is a convenience which is no doubt appreciated by the guests.

Diphtheria.

Alarming rumors were current on Wednesday as to the prevalence of diphtheria, the number of cases being represented by the hundred. The Medical Health Officer desires to contradict these stories, as there are not more than three or four cases in town.

Evening Class.

Mr. Edward Duff, Brock street, is about to open an evening class for pupils attending the Institute, whose friends are desirous of supervision and assistance in the preparation of lessons. There are still a few vacancies to be filled. Private lessons in music, singing, drawing, classics, French, mathematics, writing, and English subjects.

A Wonder.

Mr. Dick Phelan, well known in Peterborough, has just emerged from a bed of sickness where he has lain five weeks. He avers that out of the total five weeks he fasted thirty three days, and yet the newspapers have no three line headed reports of it. It can hardly be doubted that with a little training he could outfast Tanner or beat Archie Moore on a foot race.

This is the Night.

The musical public, and all those who are not musical as well, are again reminded that this is the night of Mr. L. Seward's grand choral festival, in which five hundred vocalists (all children) will take part. Those who attended Mr. Seward's last entertainment will remember the great treat, and will doubtless be present again this evening. The distribution of gifts to the children will be an interesting feature of the evening, and this task will be performed by Santa Clause in person. Don't fail to be present, and hear five hundred children sing to the accompaniment of a brass band 21 strong.

Serving His Country.

Mr. Richard S. Cook left town this morning for Winnipeg to take up the appointment he has received of Forest Ranger under the Department of the Interior with head quarters at Prince Albert. His selection for this post is one to be highly commended, for having suffered severely at the hands of the rebels while serving his country in arms, it is right that his services in a civil capacity should be employed if he is willing to render them, and for the special duties of his office he is well fitted by his previous experience and personal qualifications. The Rielites under the leadership of Mr. Blake and Mr. Mowat may not approve of the selection, but fortunately the affairs of our Dominion are in the hands of men who prefer to reward loyalty rather than rebellion. About a fortnight ago Mr. Cook was examined before a medical board at Kingston for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of compensation to be awarded him for the very severe wound that he received at Batoche, but the result is not yet known.

ODDFELLOWS.

The Brethren Here Instructed and the G. I. Entertained.

On Wednesday at 11.31 a.m. Bro. J. B. King, Grand Instructor and Grand Secretary for Ontario, of the I. O. O. F., arrived in town. He was met at the station by a reception committee, who escorted him to the Oriental Hotel, where he was the guest of Bro. E. E. Henderson, D.D.G.M.

At 3 o'clock the brethren assembled in the Otonabee Lodge room, both Peterborough, No. 111, and Otonabee, No. 13, were well represented.

The Grand Instructor proceeded to give instruction in the several degrees in a manner which evinced great interest. In the evening about one hundred brethren were present and much enthusiasm prevailed. Each and all commenced the mode of instruction adopted by the instructing brother, namely, the making the brethren repeat and perform the work themselves. By this method their duties were thoroughly instilled into them.

At 10 30 o'clock the brethren adjourned to the Snowden House, where a tasteful repast was prepared for them by mine host Snowden. After due justice was done to the viands the following toasts were proposed:

"The Queen," after which the company sang "God Save the Queen."

"The Army, Navy, and Volunteers of Canada."

It was responded to by Bro. (Major) R. W. Bell and Bro. (Capt.) Cooper.

"Our Guest" was next proposed.

The CHAIRMAN, in proposing it, expressed the sentiments of the brethren in conveying the delight which they felt at the very clear, concise exposition of the secret work of the Order, as given by the Grand Instructor. He was satisfied that the instruction would be of great good to the brethren in the performance of their several offices. In his long experience in connection with the Order he had never witnessed anything to equal in efficiency and clearness the admirable exposition given by Bro. King. He paid a glowing tribute to the personal popularity of Bro. King, stating that he was always affable, always ready and willing on all occasions to render every assistance in his power to the brethren. He was confident that he was only re-echoing the sentiments of every brother present who had ever come in contact with the Grand Instructor.

The remarks of the Chairman were received with great enthusiasm, the brethren thus giving a hearty endorsation to what the Chairman had said.

Bro. KING responded in well chosen terms, thanking the chairman and brothers for their expression of good will toward him. In his connection with the order for 21 years as successive Grand Secretary he was to-day much delighted to meet with the brethren and to render any little assistance within his power to promote the interests of the Order to which he was so much attached. He trusted that their meeting to-night was but a pleasant augury of what would take place when the Grand Lodge assembled in this beautiful town in August next. He again thanked the brothers for their kind treatment, and said that he would ever remember them with pleasure.

"The Learned Professions" found respondents in Brothers W. A. Stratton, Dr. Clarke, R. W. Errett and R. Nimmo.

"The Visiting Brethren" proposed by Bro. Workmen, was responded to by Bro. J. B. Ferris, N. G., Campbellford; J. McGuire, Wm. Pringle, Belleville; and Bros. Dack and McMillan, Toronto.

A song was given by Bro. John A. Davis, of Belleville.

"The Banking Interests" were represented by Bro. J. C. T. Lacey.

"The Mercantile Interests" were upheld by Bros. J. Nugent, W. J. Minore, J. D Tully, Jos. Mills, F. Foote and H. Long.

Bro. Hendry gave a song.

"The Press" was represented by Bro. Cowie.

Bro. Galley proposed "The Ladies."

Bros. T. Workman and R. W. Errett responded amid much good humor.

Several volunteer toasts followed.

The host and hostess' health was duly drunk and the company all joined in singing Auld Long Syne, bringing to a close one of the most enjoyable events the brethren participated in.

Band of Hope.

The regular meeting of the Band of Hope will be held to morrow (Friday) afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. Hall at 4 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

CHEAP dress goods at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

The Week of Prayer.

The meeting in connection with the week of prayer services now going on was held on Wednesday night in the St. Andrew's Church. The place was well filled with people. The Rev. Mr. Wallace delivered an address on "The Church." To-night the Rev. Mr. Bell will speak on "The Family" in the George Street Methodist Church.

Personal.

The funeral of the late Judge Torrance took place at Montreal on Wednesday afternoon. Among the chief mourners was the Rev. E. F. Torrance, M.A., of Peterborough, nephew of the deceased. In a reference of some length to the character of Judge Torrance, the Rev. Principal McVicar said:—"As a citizen Judge Torrance was universally esteemed, and justly so, because in the true spirit of Christian philanthropy, without ostentation or desire of publicity, he did all in his power to promote the success of its educational, benevolent and religious institutions."

Trustee Elections.

Public school trustee elections took place in No. 1 Ward, No. 2 Ward and No. 4 Ward on Wednesday. In No. 1 the result of the voting stood: Mr. Stock, 25: Mr. English, 65. In No. 3 Ward Mr. Wrigiton polled one vote to Mr. Paterson's none. In this ward, however, it was understood that Mr. Paterson had withdrawn. In No. 4 Mr. T. Rutherford polled 89 votes to Dr. Fife's 43. If the latter was defeated he showed himself to be a favorite with the ladies, every one of the eleven who voted casting their votes for the doctor. In No. 3 Dr. Burnham was elected by acclamation.

Sympathy.

At the meeting of the W. C. T. U. Executive Committee on Tuesday, January 4th, the following preamble and resolution were adopted:—

"Inasmuch as it has pleased the Lord to bereave this body and our beloved Zion by the death of our esteemed sister, Miss Mary Wood, who a few days ago was taken from her place as organist of our Union to the possession of the inheritance of the saints in light, therefore be it

Resolved, that we, as a token of our high regard and an expressions of our appreciation of her pure christain motives,

Request the Editors of the Peterborough Review and Examiner to publish this resolution.

That we as a union extend to the bereaved parents and family our tenderest Christain sympathy, assuring them a place in the hearts and prayerful memory of the union until the master shall grant them a blessed happy re-union, where the Dominion of death and the sorrow of separation are unknown.

Signed,
MISS M. SANDERSON, Chairman,
MRS. A. PRICE,
MRS. W. J. MINORE, } Ex. Comm
MRS. P. H. GREEN,

The Price of Wheat.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 4.—The keen competition among the grain buyers lately has run the price of wheat up to a good figure. While the farmers of Dakota are only getting 45 to 50 cents a bushel for their wheat, Manitoba farmers are receiving from 65 to 70 cents and consequently feel jubilant.

Dissatisfied Knights.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Dissatisfaction with the ruling powers of the Knights of Labor continues to grow. It is doubtful if half the members of district assembly No. 49 are in sympathy with the actions of the leaders of that body. It is not probable, however, that there will be an open revolt until after the question of a special session of the general assembly has been settled.

A Valuable Hint.

Boss—What can I do for you?

Applicant—I can do this same work your present book-keeper does for $20 a month cheaper.

"I thank you."

"Are you going to let me take his place?"

"Well, no; but I'll knock $20 a month off his wages, thanks to your suggestion."

FRIDAY. JANUARY 7. 1887.

DOMINION ELECTIONS.

THE rumors which were afloat on Thursday regarding the dissolution of the House of Commons and the holding of the elections on Feb. 15th were at least premature. A despatch from Ottawa to the REVIEW this afternoon says that it has not yet been decided to dissolve the House and of course the date has not been fixed. At the same time it would be well to remember that the Reformers are actively preparing for the contest, and the Conservatives should be careful to be at least as well prepared when the elections are announced.

It has been pointed out to us that in our remarks on the Globe's charge against Mr. Flavelle of resigning his position as a member of the Scott Act committee because Mr. Stratton was elected, our expressions were open to misunderstanding. Mr. Flavelle did not charge members of the committee with having used their position on it to influence votes, nor do we wish to make such a statement. That some influence was used in regard to the Scott Act in behalf of party rather than temperance is undeniable, and those who were guilty must be conscious of it, even if they have covered up their tracks from the public.

Band at the Rink.

The Fire Brigade Band will play at the Charlotte Street rink this evening. This is the first "musical evening" of the season. The attendance will doubtless be large.

Curling.

A two rink match between Peterborough and Keene is going on in the Charlotte street rink this afternoon. At three o'clock Keene was ahead.

Scott Act Association.

A meeting of the Scott Act Association was held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Thursday afternoon, Dr. Fife in the chair. The meeting discussed several matters, including the action to be taken in the appeal cases, financial affairs, &c. Mr. Flavelle's resignation was read, but no action was taken on it.

BARGAINS in sealette goods at R. FAIR'S, Golden Lion.

Church Anniversary Services.

Sermons will be preached in George St. Methodist Church on Sunday, January 9th, at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. by the Rev. E. A. Telfer, an able minister of the Weleyan Methodist Church in England. Special collections in aid of the Trust Fund. A popular lecture on "The Boys of Derry," will be given by Mr. Telfer on the Monday night following in the lecture room of the Church. Chair taken at 8 o'clock. Admission, silver collection at the door. Proceeds in aid of the Trust Fund.

Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army trial came off in Lindsay before Magistrate O'Leary on Thursday. The twenty-seven first arrested were tried and acquitted. After the trial the Mayor of the town went to Commissioner Coombs and asked to have the Army hold meetings on the market square, and not to march on the street or hold meetings on the street. Commissioner Coombs replied that he would not promise anything. In Toronto they allowed them to march and hold meetings on the street and he did not see why they should not have the same privilege in Lindsay. Last night the Salvationists had a triumphant march through the town. Quite a number went up to Lindsay from Peterborough to attend the trial.

GLEEFUL CHILDREN.

Five Hundred Little People Feast in Bradburn's Hall.

The children, who have under the training of Mr. L. Seward in choral singing, held their Christmas rejoicings on Thursday. In the afternoon they came trouping along by the scores with their elder friends and at five o'clock they sat down in the concert hall. Three tables, stretching from one end of the room to the other, were fringed all around with white dresses and merry faces.

At half-past seven o'clock the children, numbering over five hundred, were marshalled into the Opera House, where the repetition of the choral singing took place. The girls filled the sloping tiers of seats on the stage and the boys occupied the gallery. There was a fairly large attendance.

The choruses, duets, trios, etc., met with much favor, especially the whistling chorus, which drew an enthusiastic encore.

Durning the evening the Rev. Mr. Bradshaw came to the platform and spoke for a short time, eulogizing Mr. Seward for having brought the children to such a state of perfection in choral singing. He hoped that the outcome of these entertainments would be the teaching of music in the public schools, and as far as Ashburnham was concerned, he was sure that no one more competent than Mr. Seward could be chosen. Concluding, he moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Seward and that the proceeds of this entertainment be handed over to him. The first motion was carried by the audience and the second by the children.

After the singing was over the children were put into ecstatic excitement by the appearance of Santa Claus and his brother, who came down a rope and landed in the midst of the girls. These gentlemen, after speaking to the little folks, proceeded to distribute the presents from two Christmas trees, an operation which was watched by hundreds of eyes sparkling with excitement.

Owing to the excitement and consequently the noise made by the little ones during the distribution of the gifts, all the children did not receive the presents, and the further distribution of the gifts was postponed until Monday afternoon, when Mr. and Mrs. Seward will distribute the balance of them and all those who have not received presents are requested to attend at Mr. Seward's residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Seward desire to return their sincere thanks to the ladies of the different churches in town who so kindly came forward and rendered their valuable assistance in catering to the enjoyment of the young people, and Mrs. Seward wishes to doubly thank those kinds friends who remembered her among the little ones with a gift off the Christmas tree.

It is sincerely to be regretted that Mr. Seward was not greeted with a larger audience, as he has taken great pains in teaching the children, and devoted much valuable time to the not over-pleasant and exceedingly difficult task. It is indeed discouraging to Mr. Seward, after all his trouble, and the meritorious manner in which the young people acquitted themselves, at both this and the previous concert, that he finds there will hardly be enough to meet expenses. It is to be hoped that at some future time the citizens will show their appreciation of such a talented and painstaking musician as Mr. Seward certainly is, in a more tangible manner.

NORWOOD.

THIRTY TWO BELOW ZERO.—The thermometer at the Norwood Observatory registered 32 degrees below zero on Monday morning.

WHOLESALE POISONING.—During the past week some fiend in human guise has despatched no less than thirteen dogs by the use of poison. If the perpetrator of this dastardly outrage is discovered he will be handled rather roughly. A more cowardly or meaner act we can hardly conceive of.

BURGLARY. — On Monday evening the ticket office of the ice skating rink was broken into and the till forced from its position and ransacked. Beyond the damage to the building the proprietor suffered no loss, he having removed the "bouillion" before leaving the previous night.—Register.

Another Railway Collison.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—The special New York and Boston express on the Lake Shore railway which left this morning was run into at the railway crossing, 160th street by a passenger train of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railway. The engine of the Louisville train struck the baggage car of the Lake Shore train and lifted the car off the track. The smocking car, crowded with passengers, was next overturned. Although both cars were badly wrecked no one was killed or even badly injured. It was with the greatest difficulty the passengers imprisoned beneath the wreck were extricated.

A Destructive Gas Explosion.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 6.—A natural gas explosion at Youngstown, Ohio, at three o'clock this morning, destroyed the new Andrews block and four other buildings. Thomas Bannigan, aged 19 years, was cremated, and several others are missing. The Baptist Church and Drake's livery stables are in ruins. The loss will be over $100,000.

Iddesleigh's Alleged Threat

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The Post's London special says it has learned from a private source entirely trustworthy that the bombardment of Constantinople was threatened by Lord Iddesleigh, the British Foreign Minister, should Turkey form an alliance with Russia.

DIVORCE SUIT.

EDINBURGH, Jan. 6.—The Marchioness of Queensberry has instituted an action for divorce against her husband, the Marquis of Queensberry. The action will be tried here next week. John Sholto Douglas, eighth Marquis in the peerage of Scotland, was born in 1844 and succeeded to the title in 1859. He was married on Feburary 26, 1866, to Sybil, daughter of Alfred Montgomery, by whom he has had four sons and one daughter.

A SEAT FOR MR GOSCHEN.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 6.—The Conservative Council of Liverpool has invited Mr. Goschen to contest the vacant Parliamentary seat in that city, and it is thought he will consent.

CABINET CHANGES.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The work of reconstructing the Cabinet is making satisfactory progress. The following changes are official:—Mr. W. H. Smith undertakes the leadership of the House of Commons, Lord Salisbury becomes Foreign Minister in the place of Lord Iddesleigh, and Mr. E. Stanhope assumes the portfolio of Secretary for War. Lord Lansdown has not yet finally answered the invitation to join the Ministry, and the Colonial Secretary has not yet been appointed.

REJECTED WITH CONTEMPT.

SOFIA, Jan. 6.—The Bulgarian Government has rejected the Zankoff overtures.

SOME OMINOUS SIGNS.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The Vienna correspondent of the Telegraph says: The New Year's day peace assurances appear to have fallen very flat on the European financial markets and upon public opinion generally The fact is such half-hearted manifestations could deceive only those optimistically inclined or whose information was at fault. Intelligence comes from Warsaw that the Russian War Office has decided to construct more forts on the Austrian frontier to be commenced at once. Meanwhile the Bulgarian difficulty is making no progress, at least not in the direction of a settlement. The mooted return of Prince Alexander has made a profound impression in Russia. The Russian press is unanimous in representing it as involving a casus belli. The information comes from Sofia that as the engagement of foreign officers by the Bulgarian Government has met with difficulties, they have made arrangements with the Bulgarian Government to send Bulgarian officers to study in Belgium, in view of improving the military system in their country. This scarcely looks as if the return of Russian officers to Bulgaria were anticipated.

MADE MAD BY OVERWORK.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Major Witte, chief of the Berlin Fire Brigade, has been rendered insane by overwork.

SUICIDE OF A MARQUISE.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—The Marquise De Roys, widow of a former member of the Chamber of Deputies, committed suicide to-day by throwing herself out of a window. She had been suffering from melancholy due to the loss of her husband.

IMPERIAL INSTITUTE.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The Prince of Wales will preside, on the 12th inst., at a meeting of the Lords Lieutenant, mayors and other public officials from all parts of the kingdom to discuss the proposal to establish an Imperial Institute.

RUSSO-GERMAN ALLIANCE.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 6.—The truth of the alleged Russo-German alliance is empatically denied in well informed political Government circles here.

AUSTRALIAN WHEAT.

MELBOURNE, Jan. 6 —The wheat harvest in Victoria is 12,000,000 bushels, an average of 12 bushels per acre. The exportable excess is 150,000 tons, or 60,000 over that of the preceding year.

O'CONNOR'S ADVICE.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Mr. T. O'Connor presiding at a Home Rule demonstration at Bradford to-day, advocated fairness in the carrying out of the Plan of Campaign, and advised the appointment of a judge to act as a medium between the landlord and tenant.

RUSSIAN WHEAT.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—M. Lockroy, Minister of Commerce, announces that wheat of excellent quality and superior weight has been exported for the first time by Russia from the Caucasus. Large cargoes of this wheat, M. Lockroy says, have been sent to Odessa, across the Black Sea, from the ports of Portia and Batoum, destined for the Adriatic and the English Channel.

LORD RANDOLPH S 'ECONOMY.'

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The St. James Gazette this afternoon states that Lord Randolph Churchill is responsible for the blunder committed by the Postmaster-General in contracting with North German Lloyd Steamship Company for the carrying of the Anglo-American mails. It says Lord Randolph's demands for the exercise of economy in the different departments compelled the Postmaster-General to seek the cheapest market.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d84

Earthquake Shock.

PAIGE, Texas, Jan. 6.—A slight shock of earthquake occurred here at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and was felt for several miles around.

ELECTION FIGURES.

As there were unprecedednted gains and losses in both Ridings of Peterborough at the recent election it will be of interest to note where the chief changeo occurred. We have therefore calculated, and give below in tabular form, the gains and losses of both the previous members as compared with the majorities at the preceeding general election.

In West Peterborough we find the changes to have been as follows:—

MR. CARNEGIE'S GAINS.

Ward 4, increased majority	78
Smith, decreased minority	40
S. Monaghan, increased majority	11
Harvey, increased majority	15
	145

MR. CARNEGIE'S LOSSES.

Ward 1, 82 majority to 39 minority	121
Ward 2, decreased majority	9
Ward 3, decreased majority	19
N. Monaghan, decreased majority	1
Ennismore, increased minority	52
Galway & Cavandish, increased minority	32
Lakefield, decreased majority	31
	265
Less Mr. Carnegie's gains	145
Minority of 86 to minority of 34	120

It will be observed that the Conservative candidate gained 118 in Smith, and the North Ward of the town, with smaller gains in Harvey and South Monaghan. It will also be seen that Mr. Mowat's standard bearer gained 205 in the South Ward, Ennismore and Galway, with smaller contributions elsewhere, that at Lakefield being apparently owing to a local question.

In East Peterborough the changes were as follows:—

MR. BLEZARD'S GAINS.

Burleigh, &c., increased majority	12
Douro, minority (3) to majority	142
Otonabee, increased majority	26
Asphodel, increased majority	9
	189

MR. BLEZARD'S LOSSES.

Ashburnham, increased minority	7
Belmont and Methuen, increased minority	130
Dummer, decreased majority	94
Norwood, increased minority	8
	239
Less Mr. Blezard's gains	189
Mr. Blezard's decrease of majority	40

These figures show that the Ministerial candidate made a gain of no less than 142 in Douro alone, with smaller advantages in other municipalities. This, however, was more than offset by the losses in Belmont and Methuen and Dummer, of 224 in favor of the Opposition candidate, with trifling gains elsewhere, so that Mr. Blezard's majority after his great gain in Douro was reduced by 40 as the whole result.

MORE LIGHT WANTED.

We think most of our readers will agree with us that "more light" is wanted as to the "causes" which produced the extraordinary result arrived at in the Police Court on Wednesday last in the Cavanagh case. It is not our habit, nor do we wish now to unduly criticise the proceedings in any of our courts, and still less to insinuate improper motives in those having to do with the administration of justice, but there are exceptions to all rules, and we venture to think that the manner in which justice is being administered in this town, in so far as it relates to the enforcement of the Scott Act, is not only a burlesque upon the name, but calculated to bring contempt upon the administration of all justice, and to foster and encourage a contempt and disregard for all law.

As our readers are aware the REVIEW did not advocate the adoption of the Scott Act when it was before the electors, but we wish them to understand most distinctly that with us to doubt the wisdom or to even oppose the adoption of a measure when it is before the people, is one thing, and to oppose the enforcement of an existing law is quite another, and that while we regard the first as the sacred privileges of freemen, we regard the latter as a crime against all government, and calculated, if not put down with a firm hand, to destroy the enforcement of any law which is obnoxious to a powerful though small minority of the people. If the Scott Act is not to be enforced because its enforcement treads somewhat hardly upon some people, why not any and every law which does not commend itself to everybody?

But to come back to the case in hand, we should like to have more light on the following points:—

1. Did the Chief of Police refuse to give the evidence of a second previous conviction against Cavanagh of his own mere motive, or was he actuated to do so by any one?

2. If by any one, by whom?

3. If he did it on his own responsibility when or how has it been made a part of his duty to decide when the law of the land shall or shall not be enforced?

4. Who employed Mr. Edwards to appear on behalf of the prosecution?

5. If it were not the Chief of Police why did he permit the latter to take the case out of his hands as he appears to have done?

6. Has not a Judge when a witness is called and is actually in the witness box, as the Clerk of the Police Court was in this case, a right to insist upon hearing his evidence, and failing others doing so, the right to examine the witness himself—especially when the course pursued points to collusion between the prosecution and defence to defeat the ends of justice?

We think it is alike in the interests of the public and of the three gentlemen questioned that these questions should be put and publicly answered. And thinking so we put them, leaving the matter, for the time being, without any comments calculated to prejudge their respective parts in a matter which we will venture to assert does not commend itself to law-abiding citizens.

HORRIBLE DISCOVERY.

The Dismembered Remains of a Murdered Man Found Scattered on a Farm.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan 5.—A bundle of bloody clothing was found yesterday in Lexington. To-day Farmer Brooks discovered near the place the head of a man which had been severed from the body, and near it other portions of the body covered by snow. The head was gashed and distorted by terrible wounds. It had evidently been chopped from the body with a dull axe. About a mile from where the head and arms were found the investigators discovered in a deep gully a mutilated trunk. It was naked, and deep cuts on the hip and leg indicated the intention of the murderers to sever the left limb as they had the right, which had been rudely chopped off at the thigh. The features were those of a hard working man.

The Somerville police have received information which indicates that the disfigured remains are those of George A. Codman. Codman was a young unmarried man, and carried on a milk business in Somerville. There is little doubt that the victim was killed by a terrible blow on the back of the neck with an axe and then chopped to pieces as found. The left leg, which was hacked off, has not yet been discovered.

MARRIED ON HORSEBACK.

Tennessee Lovers Escape and are Married While Hotly Pursued.

A novel and thrilling runaway marriage occurred a few days ago in Williamson county, the facts about which have just come to the surface. A young man, a well-to-do farmer, about ten miles east of Franklin, and a beautiful girl, the only daughter of an old and rich stockraiser near by, were the two brave parties.

They had been knowing each other for years, and had been engaged for some time. The old man opposed the marriage, not because of any special objection to his daughter's suitor, but because he didn't want her to marry anybody.

Several attempts to run away had been frustrated by the stern parent, who told the young man if he tried again he would kill him, and if they married he would kill them both. Nevertheless, remembering that faint heart never won fair lady, the lover braved the danger, risking his life, and made another plan with his sweetheart.

On the day set the young man dashed on a horse up to a by-way near the beloved's house where she was waiting for him, and taking her up behind him he galloped away. The old man, who kept a close watch on the young lady whenever she left the house, seeing what was up, in five minutes was in the saddle and tearing after the flying couple. The would-be husband and wife made straight for the house of Mr. John Buchanan, the nearest magistrate. The old 'Squire was found at his sorghum mill, and when he recognized the pair he jumped on a pile of cane, and as they were on horseback, before half a dozen breaths could be drawn made them one, and none too soon.

On the top of the hill in the distance was seen the irate sire. The bride and groom dashed off in an opposite direction, and when the pursuer came up the good old 'Squire, with a merry twinkle in his eye, called to him, and, in kindness for the young folks, detained him for a few minutes.

The couple got away, the relater said, and the next day they wrote a note to the father telling him if he ever wanted to see his child again he had better extend his forgiveness. The letter was productive of good results, and the old man has his daughter and the young man his wife in one and the same person, and are friendly.—Nashville American.

He Knew Moses.

It is very common now in the primary schools for teathers to entertain their little scholars with stories. A few days ago one of the teachers in a school not far from St. Paul was telling the children about Pharaoh's daughter finding the babe in the bullrushes. "Now, children," said she, "how many of you know anything about Moses?" Only one hand went up. "That's right, Jimmie; I'm glad to see there's one in the school who has heard of him before. Now who was Moses?" "He's the feller wot they wanted to know where he was when the light went out," exclaimed Jimmie with great gusto. That ended the Bible lesson for the day.—St. Paul Herald.

School Troubles in L'Original.

The Ottawa Free Press says:—Mr. J. L. Tilley, inspector of model schools and Mr. Sommerby, county inspector for Prescott, passed through the city on Monday night for L'Original, where they will act as a special commission to enquire into the sectarian differences between the school supporters there. It appears that some years ago the sum of $12,000 was raised for the purpose of building a common school. The Protestant Public School supporters now want Protestant Separate Schools, but cannot rid themselves of their portion of the liability for the debentures. This has caused considerable ill feeling, and these gentlemen were sent down to endeavor to devise measures for allaying it.

The sixth annual convention of the Ontario Beekeepers' Association commenced in Toronto on Wednesday. The commissioners to the Colonial Exhibition reported as to the success of the honey exhibit from Ontario, and predicted the establishment of a ready market for that product in Great Britain and Germany.

RIVALS TO THE END.

BY H. H. S. PEARSE.

CHAPTER I.

The autumn sun was slowly sinking in a golden haze behind purple waves of western Moorland. Its ruddy light fell full on the white walls and warm amber thatch of an old farm house; sparkled on the lattice window-panes; and, stealing through a tangled network of jessamine and honey-suckle, flickered on the comely faces of two young people seated in the porch The youth, tall, broad of shoulder, and sturdy of limb, was unmistakably a farmer, and a hard working one too, although his costume for the time being rather suggested the saddle than the plough. Like most of his neighbors he had been out with hounds that day, and to hear him talk enthusiastically of ther sport one would have thought he cared for little else, and have wondered that he could find it in his heart to leave them so early. His tanned face was flushed with a glow that could hardly be accounted for by the excitement of a run which he had abandoned before it was half finished. His brawny fingers played nervously with the throng of a heavy hunting cap, and in his clear grey eye there was a light not wholly derived from the evening sunshine. The little maiden by his side betrayed some consciousness of this. Her mild Devonian eyes were veiled by drooping lashes, and on her cheek the peach-like bloom that was envied by many a fair west-country lass had given place to a pallor for which his words certainly afforded no sort of an excuse.

"You see, Esther, the old grey throwed a shoe in the mire, so I couldn't well go on after that," he explained, as if by way of apology for his appearance there, "And besides, you know, I thought your father might have come back too, and we could have settled about hedging that bit of Whitty field down."

"Don't you think you'd better stay until he does come back," she began; then blushing crimson, stammered "or perhaps you will see him at the market to-morrow."

"Well, market's not the best place to talk over these things; and there's something else I've had on my mind for some time."

"Yes."

"You know father talks of giving up the farm to me soon."

"Yes."

"And I should like to ask Mr. Ford's advice about stocking it, don't you know."

This was a brilliant stroke of imagination, seeing that John Michelmore the elder had more young cattle, sheep and ponies on Dartmoor, more dairy cows in his meadows, and more implements of husbandry then any other farmer for a league round.

"To be sure," she said, innocently, and for the first time looking into his eyes; "but what sort of stock can you want?"

Altogether this was a poser, and John became more than ever confused.

"Well, you see, mother is getting old, add she can't be expected to manage for me long."

"I should think not, indeed! But you don't call her part of the stock, do you?"

She laughed merrily, and John, a little nettled, as bashful folk are apt to be on small provocation, rose to leave.

"Don't go yet, John; your horse hasn't finished his corn, and father will be home presently."

She put her hand out to him. He took it in his broad palm. Rough as his fingers were, the touch of that hand thrilled him, and his great heart thumped audibly.

"Esther," he said, and he could get no further for a moment, a dry huskiness about the throat made his voice sound to him strangely hard and out of tune with what he had to say. "Esther, we've known each other since we were children together I've loved you longer than I can remember, but I've only just begun to hope that you might care a little bit for me."

She was silent, and he went on more hurriedly, lasping, as all Devon men will under strong excitement, into broad west-country dialect.

"Esther, doantee turn your face from me so; I don't seem to be able to speak soft words, and my tongue drags like a wheel with the skid on. Say whether you can love me ever so little. Yes? or no? but doantee tell me that thee care'st still for Frank Copplestone."

She turned suddenly, her eyes full of tears, her voice low and tremulous, but very clear.

"John, I have not deserved that from you. If I ever could have loved him, the time has gone by. You must think lightly of me if you believe I could waste a thought on the man who betrayed the trust of one girl, fickle and worthless though she may have been."

"Forgive me, Esther!" he pleaded pitifully, his voice and frame quivering in a way that was ridiculous for so strong a man; "but I thought you seemed to shun me like, and I couldn't bear that."

Her eyes softened, for though his words were simple enough, she understood their deeper meaning.

"I was only a little angry, John, because you made me remember something I am trying to forget. It always troubles me to think that if I hadn't given Frank Copplestone some encouragement at first he might never have been so reckless and bad, never have brought such disgrace on a good name."

"Then you feel pity for him yet, and—." He would have completed the thought, but, looking into her eyes, he felt again a swelling at the throat, and gulping that down, luckily swallowed with it the words that were on his tongue.

"No! no! he does not deserve pity," she said; "but some scorn for my own silly vanity I do feel."

"As to that,' said John, slowly, shaking off the green-eyed monster's coils with some difficulty, "there's not much to blame yourself about. Frank was a gentleman born, and a fine likely young fellow that any maid might have been proud to have for a lover before he behaved so badly. Then they say he went and 'listed. I felt like doing that myself a bit agone."

"For shame, John; it would kill your poor mother; and—and besides, what reason could you have?'

John's wits were somewhat slow, but he must have been dull indeed if he had not understood the quick flushing of her face. She strove to hide it by bending to pick up a faded leaf. That only made it more perceptible, for, as she stooped, he could see the warm blood reddening the white curves of her shapely neck. Then, being wholly at a loss for words, and perhaps touched with a wise inspiration that in matters of love-making words are but cold interpreters, he leaned down and kissed her neck. She did not move, only a deep sigh fluttered her bosom and the hot color rushed to her temples, then quickly ebbed again.

"You do not shrink from me, Esther; thank God for that."

"No! dear John; I feel quite happy and safe with your strong arm to guard me."

They sat looking at the setting sun; at the white mists creeping up from a wooded valley, at the deep combes slowly darkening and the far stretches of hazy hills. The joy in their hearts was subdued by the subtle influence that poets innumerable have felt as they looked on such wide expanses of desolate moorland in the soft light of evening, and vainly tried to define

A feeling of sadness and longing
That is not akin to pain,
And resembles sorrow only
As the mist resembles rain.

Suddenly between them and the sunlight fell the shaddow of a strange form—strange in its soldierly bearing and care-worn features, but familiar to both of them, for all that. Two years of rough campaigning under Indian suns and among the turbulant tribes of Afghan passes had wrought many changes; but there was a pallor on the face, a haggard look in the eyet, for which a trooper's service was not accountable. The figure stood spellbound for a moment, then disappeared quickly, as if seeking to escape observation. In that moment the betrothed lovers had recognized Frank Copplestone.

CHAPTER II.

Months passed, and that mysterious visit had almost been forgotten in the midst of active preparations for the wedding that was to follow. Esther was already regarded in the light of a young mistress at Whitefield Farm, and very little could be done without her advice, scarcely a day passed but her presence was needed there on some pretext. One afternoon, as she walked down the ragged combe on her way thither she heard a footstep following close behind. It was muffled by a thick carpet of sodden leaves, but her ear could detect that it differed from the heavy thread of village laborers. Involuntarily she quickened her pace; then stopped suddenly at the sound of her own name, spoken in a voice hoarse with emotion.

"Esther! Esther Ford! will you speak to me one moment?"

She turned, and saw Frank Copplestone, looking wilder and more haggard than when he appeared to her and John that memorable evening, but still with the air of a soldier about him.

"I could not go away from here forever in silence and doubt without a word to seal my doom. I know it all now; I knew that evening when you and he sat together in the old porch that the hope to which I had clung through years of repentance and hours of peril must be dead for evermore. I stole away then like a cowardly deserter, afraid to face my sentence. I thought to keep silence always, and determined that visit to my home should be the last. But something stronger than my own will has brought be back, and now I must hear the sentence from your own lips. Esther, I have given you all the love of which a nature like mine is capable, and I shall love you to the end. Oh, yes! I know what you would say. I am a coward to make this confession now. But I made it long ago, and you refused to believe me then, or would not trust me. My dissolute habits afterwards justified your view. And perhaps I should never have made a good husband. I do not come to plead now—that hope has passed. I never meant these words to reach your ears, but passion with me has been always stronger than reason—I must—I will have an anwer from you now, only—only don't say that you hate me."

Her answer came quickly and scornfully. "How can you dare to speak thus to me within sight of the churchyard where the girl you betrayed and deserted lies dishonored? Her father thrust her from his house. She only came back there a year ago to die, and you never moved hand or foot to shield her from the ruin you had wrought."

Then she walked swiftly away, while he stood like a man dazed by a sudden blow.

THE MARKET REPORTS.

REVIEW OFFICE.

Thursday evening, Jan. 6.

The most notable feature in this week's market was the sudden "bulge" on Tuesday. The bidding was unusually lively and the offers of wheat was quickly snapped up at high prices, 88 cents per bushel having been paid for some loads of wheat. To-day the market has subsided into a steady tone, 83 cents being the ruling figure for good spring wheat. While these prices are being paid in Peterborough the fact is that 77 to 80 cents is the highest paid in some neigboring markets. Oats, peas and barley remain steady. Pork has taken another slight rise. This week six carloads of dressed hogs have been imported. Butter has a tendency upward, as high as 18 cts. having been paid for choice packed this week.

Bright Prospects.

A leading weekly grain circular of Liverpool says: "The grain trade is very strong. The year closes with unusual activity. Wheat is dearer in all positions. There is a large enquiry from speculators. The demand from millers is small, but is expected to increase after the turn of the year. Cargoes are held at 6d advance, and few are offered. At to-day's market there was a large attendance, with a stronger feeling. Wheat was very firm and a fair business was done at an advance of 1d@2d over Tuesday's rates. In flour a good business was done, mostly at an advance of 6d. Maize was in good demand at an advance of about ½d."

Grain Statistics.

From the Montreal Gazette.

The stock of wheat in Chicago shows an increase of 255,000 bushels compared with a week ago, and a decrease of 1,537,000 bushels with the same time last year. Corn shows an increase of 1,537,000 bushels compared with last week, and an increase of 2,218,000 with last year. The Chicago visible supply of wheat shows an increase of 468,000 compared with a week ago, and an increase of 4,297,000 with the same time last year. Corn shows an increase of 1,199,000 bushels compared with a week ago, and an increase of 5,883,000 with last year.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for Diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Another Sweeping

auction sale to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon and evening at the BON MARCHE.

Plan of Hall.

The plan of the Opera House for St. Andrew's entertainment, Monday evening, is at T. Menzies' store.

Good Ice.

The ice on the Charlotte Street Rink is in splendid condition for skating. Season tickets can be had at any of the bookstores.

Scott Act.

The case Queen vs. Chamberlain was adjourned this morning till Wednesday next.

All This Month.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Messrs. T. Dolan & Co., in another column, announcing a great clearing sale all this month. It will be read with interest.

Personal.

On the occasion of the closing exercies of the Port Arthur Public Schools the Mayor, Councillors and Trustees made remarks on the working of the schools complimentary to the Principal, Mr. H. Kay Coleman, formerly of Peterborough.

International Match.

The international curling match, United States vs. Canada, will take place in Toronto on January 12th. Peterborough will be represented by a rink made up as follows:

—T. P. Attis, skip, H. M. Allen, Dr. Boucher and John McClelland.

Ill.

R. N. Roddy, who was recently sent to gaol, has been taken ill. Dr. Kincaid, the gael surgeon, is of opinion that unless released and properly taken care of, serious results will follow. He has given a certificate of his illness and an application for release will be made to the Minister of Justice.

NEW YORK Count Oysters at OSTROM'S.

Evening Class.

Mr. Edward Duff, Brock street, is about to open an evening class for pupils attending the Institute, whose friends are desirous of supervision and assistance in the preparation of lessons. There are still a few vacancies to be filled. Private lessons in music, singing, drawing, classics, French, mathematics, writing, and English subjects.

Interesting Lecture.

The Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, Rector of St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, intends delivering a lecture in the above church on Sunday evening next, entitled, "The Church of England in its Relation to the Church of Rome." An interesting lecture is expected, as the doctrinal differences are only partly understood. The service will commence at 7 p.m. Seats free. All are invited.

The Week of Prayer.

The meeting in connection with the week of prayer services now going on was held on Wednesday night in the St. Andrew's Church. The place was well filled with people. The Rev. Mr. Wallace delivered an address on "The Church." To-night the Rev. Mr. Bell will speak on "The Family" in the George Street Methodist Church.

"Every Saturday."

A new paper, Every Saturday, has made its appearance in Ottawa. It aims to be lively and entertaining, and in the first number certainly succeeds. "Pica," formerly a writer on a Toronto newspaper, is one of its proprietors and chief writers, which is a sufficient guarantee that its articles will be bright and pointed. May its name be phrophetic.

What Does it Mean?

Early this morning when one of the police officers on night duty came in from patrol he found that the door of the Police Station had been smeared with red paint and that the window also had been decorated in a similar manner. The circumstance caused comment. A number who gathered around while Mr. Jas. English and P. C. Adams were employed in erasing the rosy adornment with a handful of stringy sawdust talked over the matter. It was the opinion of some that the hand painting on the door signified that the boys had been having a time; to others it indicated that too much red tapism was practiced on the premises. A painter remarked that it simply meant that it was put on with a brush, stuck his hands in his pockets and walked up street. Which opinion decided the matter?

MONDAY, Jan. 17.—Auction sale of real estate in the township of Emily, known as the "Hugh Mitchell" farm. Sale at the Grand Central Hotel, Peterborough, at 12 noon.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 19.—Extensive farm stock sale of the thoroughbred stock of James Carter on his premises, lot 27, in 5th con. of Otonabee. Sale at 10.30.

It May be Remarked.

—That the curlers quartette should give a good account of themselves on the 12th.

—Cover themselves with glory and to come back to take a hand in the grand bonspeil, (in prospective.)

—That Court Peterborough meets to-night.

—That the Rev. Mr. Bradshaw would like to see music taught in the public schools.

—That so would many more.

—That Mr. Seward would be the man to see about it.

—Because, the children all say "he's a nice old fellow," and he is a competent trainer.

—That the Fire Brigade Band will officiate at the rink to-night.

To Congregate the Curlers.

The local Curling Club is making an effort to have a grand bonspeil held here at an early date. The Caledonian Club is composed of Clubs all over the Dominion. This club presents the Ontario Tankard, and each club belonging to it has a chance of winning it. To facilitate the play the country is divided into ten sections. Of this section, this year, our club is the convener, and instead of playing here and there it is proposed to have the clubs all come to Peterborough to play off for the championship. The clubs in this section are:—Brockville, Ogdensburg, Cobourg, Port Hope, Whitby, Bowmanville, Newcastle, Lakefield, Orillia, Lindsay, Keen, Bobcaygeon and Peterborough. The plan is a good one. The play off can be done much sooner and the meeting together of the curlers in one grand franternal contest would be beneficial to the game, awakening as it would, increased interest in the sport. Peterborough is as good a place as could be selected. The local club have a fine, well lighted rink, capable of letting twelve rinks play at a time.

CANADA'S COAL MINES.

Unprecedented Output of the Springhill Collieries During the Past Year.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 7.—The output of the Springhill collieries for December reached the unprecedented figures of 48,000 tons, which closes the year with a total of 468,000 tons, an increase of 118,000 tons over 1885. The collieries are kept busy at their utmost capacity and give employment to between eleven and twelve hundred men and boys. The south slope is being opened out and about 200 tons of coal hoisted and shipped daily. Other preparations are being made for a further increase of business this year. Shipments of coal by water from Parrsboro in 1886 were 40,508 tons, against 26,215 in 1885.

DYNAMITERS IN 'FRISCO.

A Letter from One of the Gang—Threats of Further Outrages.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—The Examiner this morning published a letter from the alleged authors of the dynamite explosion of the Cable road in 9th street on Wednesday night. The letter is written with red ink on coarse brick-colored paper, and is signed "August Howlitz." It is stated that the persons responsible for the explosion are members of a powerful organization which originated in Chicago directly after the Haymarket affair. The letter further states that the dynamiters have no connection with the Carmen's Union, and that the latter is utterly ignorant of who the dynamiters are. It concludes as follows:—"We have a programme laid out for a series of dynamite explosions, and shall go forward in earnest if the roads persist in refusing the carmen their just rights."

LABOUR DEMONSTRATION.

Unemployed Workmen Demanding Employment or Bread.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The West End had another labour scare to-day. A large body of unemployed workmen gathered in front of the offices of the Local Government Board this morning, crying "Give us work, or give us bread." The committee detailed their grievances to the president of the board, and requested that relief works be started by the Government. President Ritchie replied that he was unable to promise them anything, but he would place their grievances before the Cabinet at its next meeting. The crowd then repaired to Trafalgar square, where an indignation meeting was held. Resolutions were adopted protesting against the apathy of the Government. Many shopkeepers in and around the square hastily put up their shutters and closed their shops, under the belief that another Socialistic demonstration was about to take place. The crowd, however, was orderly, and after the adoption of the resolutions quietly dispersed.

THE CAVANAGH CASE.

To the Editor of the Review:

SIR,—Finding that my action in reference to the late prosecution of Mr. T. Cavanagh under the Scott Act is being much discussed on the street and elsewhere, and that it is stated that some interference by the Mayor or some other person was used to induce me to make the charge a second offence. I desire to say such is altogether untrue. No person spoke to, or attempted to influence me in any way. I acted on the spur of the moment, thinking it better that the town should get the $100 fine and costs, than that the other result should happen and the town receive nothing.

What I did was done in good faith, and if I erred or did wrongly I much regret it, and whatever may be the result I alone am to blame. My motive was to benefit the town and I had no other motive in the matter.

I am, sir,
Your Ob't servant,
W. H. COOPER,
Chief of Police.

LATEST WIRE FLASHES

No Dissensions in the Cabinet.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 7.—The reports of dissensions in the Provincial Cabinet are without foundation.

The Interstate Commerce Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 6.—It is reported that Senator Evarts will oppose the Interstate Commerce Bill, on the ground that it violates the treaty of Washington in the matter of the transportation of Canadian goods in bond.

Two Children Burned to Death.

KINGSTON, Jan. 7.—Flax, hanging over a stove in a house occupied by a family named Masque, near Pembroke, caught fire and ignited a bed. Two children were burned to death, and the mother and child escaped with many burns.

Two Boys Break Through the Ice.

MABOU, C. B., Jan. 7.—Two boys, sons of John Kennedy, of Loche Bain, aged respectively 14 and 17 years, while skating, broke through the ice and were drowned. Their bodies were recovered shortly after the accident occurred.

A Smuggler Released.

FLAGG'S COVE, N.B., Jan. 7.—The case of the seized Eastport schooner George Linwood was disposed of by the captain paying a fine of $200, when the vessel was released. The seizure was made on an old charge of smuggling at Deer Island.

Two Were Drowned.

ST. JOHN, Nfld., Jan. 7.—Last evening a melancholy drowning accident occurred at Quidividi Lake. A number of people fell through the ice, and two named Whitten and Bryan were drowned. Over twenty persons were in the water at one time, but they were rescued.

A Noble Bigamist.

SAN ANTONIA, Tex., Jan. 7.—Count Carl Frederick Guenther Von Schwarzenberg, arrested a few days ago on a charge of bigamy, has been bound over in $1000 to await the action of the grand jury. The accused is a Prussian nobleman. Both his wives are residents of Texas.

Dynamiters in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—An attempt was made last night to blow up the cable railway on Larkin street. A dynamite cartridge was used, and the concussion was terrific. The masonry was badly shattered, the pulleys upon which the cables runs were broken, and the foundation of the tunnel was cracked.

Dr. Dowling Loses His Seat.

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—Dr. Dowling, Liberal, has, on a recount of the ballots, lost South Renfrew by nine majority. This gives the seat to Mr. McAndrew, another Liberal, and makes no difference politically. Several ballots for Dr Dowling were wrongly initialed by the returning officers and thrown out. A scrutiny will be demanded.

Died from Drink.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Jan. 7.—After working all day in the woods, a young man named Whalen was supplied with rum obtained from an Alberton Justice of the Peace. Whelan imbibed freely, and then started to walk home, two miles. When within half a mile of home Whelan fell into a stupor from the effects of the drink. He was carried home and died that night in a drunken sleep.

A Gastronomic Feat.

CAMPBELLSVILLE, Ky., Jan. 7.—C. C. Flora of this place has accomplished the feat of eating 60 quail in 30 consecutive days, and is still eating the birds, which with a small quantity of water, constitute his only diet. He eats two each day, and has them cooked in different ways. John R. Davis and W. O. Haskins have put up $500 on the result. Haskins is betting that Flora can eat 80 birds in 40 days.

Peculiar Mayoralty Contest.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 7.—Winnipeg has had a most peculiar mayoralty contest. Messrs. Alfred Pearson and L. M. Jones were the contestants. On election night, December 14th, it was first announced that Mr. Jones was elected by five, but after that gentleman and his friends began to celebrate it was stated that there had been a mistake and Mr. Pearson was declared elected by six. A recount was demanded and resulted yesterday in the election of Mr. Jones by five.

Smallpox, Not Poison.

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Jan. 6.—The family of Jos. Mauri, supposed to have been poisoned on New Year's Day, is still in a dangerous condition. The father is gradually failing and can live but a few hours longer. An autopsy held on the bodies of the two dead children resulted in the discovery of smallpox of the most virulent description. There is great uneasiness throughout the city. The police have taken precautionary measures to prevent the spread of the disease.

Too Thin.

The Globe in commenting on the result of the election in Toronto tries hard to work itself and its party into favor with the friends of the working men's candidates by assuring them that they received a greater support from the liberals than from the conservatives and that if the workingmen had massed their strenght on one candidate instead of running two they would likely have defeated one of the conservative candidates. It expresses regret that the labor party did not get one of their men in. It is quite obvious that if the grits had really favoured a labor candidate it would have cost them nothing to have devided their votes between Leys and March. Each elector had two votes. He could give Leys only one and and instead of throwing the other vote away he could have given it to March. That this was not done is apparent from the fact that Leys received nearly 1,200 votes more than March.—Kingston News.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is recommended by physicians of great eminence, on both sides of the Atlantic, as the most reliable remedy for colds, coughs, and all pulmonary disorders. It affords prompt relief. No family should be without it.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

MGR. WALSH AND THE POPE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—Archbishop Walsh flatly contradicts the recent despatch from Rome stating that the Pope had requested him not to support the Nationalist rent movement, but that the injunction had been disregarded.

SNOW-STORMS IN EUROPE.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Fearful snow-storms are reported in Florence, Perugia, Venice Genoa and in the whole of Piedmont, interrupting railway and telegraphic communication. The incessant downfall of rain in Rome threatens to cause an overflow of the Tiber. A severe snow storm is raging in Silesia, causing the suspension of railway traffic.

SIGNS OF AN IMPROVEMENT.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—At the half yearly meeting of the Colonial Bank here yesterday, a dividend of ten per cent. was declared. The present prospects are favorable, and there are many signs of an improvement in trade.

THE CENSUS OF FRANCE.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—The census of France for 1886 shows a total population of 38,218,903 against 37,672,048 in 1881. The population of Paris increased only 75,000 against 280,000 recorded in 1881.

A NOVELIST'S LIBEL SUIT.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Mr. William Black, the novelist, has obtained a verdict for $500 damages against Bow Bells for libellous asartions respecting his early life and parsimonious habits.

BISMARCK EXPECTS WAR.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The German Government has ordered all officers in the reserves to report at headquarters in May. From that date all foreign leave of absence will be suspended. This is taken to mean that Prince Bismarck expects a European war in the spring.

OFFERING THE OLIVE BRANCH.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Bulgarian Government is about to offer the olive beanch to Greece by appointing a diplomatic agent at Athens. This is a step in the direction of the union of the Balkan States.

MODIFYING HIS SCHEME.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Standard says:—Mr. Gladstone is prepared to modify his Home Rule scheme with a view to the conciliation of the dissident Liberals. According to the Standard he is willing to confine the powers of the proposed Irish legislative body to questions exclusively Irish, which may be delegated to it.

A PURE INVENTION.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Correspondents at Berlin and Vienna agree in the statement that M. de Blowitz's announcement of a Russo-German alliance was a pure invention, without any foundation whatever.

REPEATING RIFLE ADOPTED.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 7.—The Russian military commisson has decided to adopt the new repeating rifle for use by the army, and orders for large numbers have been given.

THE QUEENSBURY DIVORCE SUIT.

EDINBURGH, Jan. 7.—The Marquis of Queensberry, who is being sued for divorce, has not lived with his wife for 17 years. Shortly after they began to live apart the Marquis admitted another woman into his house, who became a regular inmate of the establishment. His connection with this woman is made the basis for the suit. Neither the woman nor the Marquis will deny the charge of aduitery, which the Marchioness is to make against her husband. The case will be tried in Edinburgh, because the Scotch law grants the wife divorce for adultery alone.

MEMORIAL TO THE LONDON PRESS.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The strong memorial which has been addressed to the English press against indecent divorce Court reporting, is received by the leading papers with bare civility. Some suppress it. The Duke of Westminster, the Earl of Selborne and Archdeacon Farrar lead off in this movement, which finds supporters in the Archbishop of Canterbury. Mr. Gladstone, Professor Huxley, Professor Tyndall, Cardinal Manning, and many eminent men of all classes. The number of physicians and surgeons who sign is remarkable. The memorial does not ask for the suppression, but for the purification of the reports of divorce cases.

IMAGINARY CONCESSIONS.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The News this morning says the Irish concessions attributed to Mr. Gladstone is purely imaginative, and that nothing will be conceded by the Gladstonians that will minimize or weaken the Gladstone Home Rule scheme.

IRISH CONSPIRACY CASE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—In the rent conspiracy case to-day Gen. Buller testified as to the condition of Kerry. He said he had not inquired into the relations between landlords as to some of their tenants. He had pointed out cases of hardship on the Marquis of Lansdowne's property. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach was examined with reference to his Bristol speech. He admitted that pressure was put upon certain landlords to make terms with their tenants. He declined to say whether it was moral or physical pressure or by whom enforced, or whether in any case it was successful. He did not think a landlord would be doing his duty if he evicted a tenant for non-paying of an exorbitant rent. At the conclusion of Sir Michael's testimony the court adjourned. Mr. Plunkett, and probably Mr. Holmes, will be examined to-morrow.

ENGLAND'S PREPARATIONS.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Government is enquiring as to the facilities for the accomodation of additional marines, officers and men. The Guards on the roster for foreign service have been subjected to medical examination.

COLONIAL SECRETARY.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—It is reported Sir Henry Holland has been appointed Secretary for the Colonies.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Bulgarian delegates have expressed their willingness to accept the Duke of Leuchtenberg, the latest candidate proposed for the Bulgarian throne, who, it is said, is favored by Russia.

The Dead Cannot be Raised, nor if your lungs are badly wasted away can you be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." It is, however, unequalled as a tonic, alterative, and nutritive, and readily cures the most obstinate cases of bronchitis, coughs, colds, and incipient consumption, far surpassing in efficacy cod liver oil. Send ten cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's pamphlet on consumption and kindred affections. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

The Daily Review.

SATRUDAY, JANUARY 8, 1887.

RIELITES AGAIN NOMINATED.

The Reform leaders and organs deprecate the discussion, in Ontario, of the question whether Riel deserved to be executed, and they endeavor to draw the attention of the people from it. That is not the only issue, they say. It is not, but it is an important one. Will those who are endeavoring to overthrow the Government because they allowed Riel to be punished succeed? Do the people wish them to succeed? Do the electors of Ontario wish to have the principle established in Canada that rebellion is justifiable and that rebels must not be punished? These are questions that must be answered.

The Reform organs showed, previous to Nov. 16th, 1885, that they considered this a question of paramount importance, for they published columns regarding it; and the Quebec wing of the party make it the chief and almost only ground of attack upon the Government.

This is a question for Ontario to consider for the further reason that a number of representatives of Ontario constituencies voted that the Government should be expelled because the rebel leader was executed. The Reform party has shown since then that it approves of their action. Thirteen of these Ontario Reform members who, by their votes, adopted the Rielite platform have again been put forward as the standard bearers of the Reform party. These thirteen Rielites who have been renominated as Reform candidates are:—The Hon. E. Blake, West Durham; the Hon. David Mills, Bothwell; Mr. Casey, West Elgin; Mr. Landerkin, South Grey; Mr. Allen, North Grey; Mr. Cameron, West Huron; Mr. Lister, West Lambton; Mr. Cameron, West Middlesex; Mr. Armstrong, South Middlesex; Mr. Edgar, West Ontario; Mr. Trow, South Perth; Mr. Campbell, South Renfrew; and Mr. Cook, East Simcoe. These men voted to censure and expel the Government because Riel was punished, and still they are chosen by the Reform party as its standard bearers.

Four Reform nominations have been made in Quebec. Mr. Holton, an English speaking Reformer and a Rielite, has been re-nominated. Mr. Laurier, who twice, at least, publicly stated that had he been in the Northwest he would have borne arms against the Queen's volunteers, and Mr. Langevin, who in the House of Commons made a similar statement, have also been again chosen as candidates. Mr. Robertson, of Shelburne, N. S., and Mr. McIntyre, of Kings, P. E. I., also Rielites, are again standard bearers of the Reform party. Other nominations will no doubt yet be added.

Are these the men whom the people of Ontario wish to have for their governors? If they do not, they should vote against anyone who would use his vote or influence to place them in power.

JUDGING BY THE RECORD.

The Globe, in a grossly abusive article in which Conservatives are referred to as "cowards," "dancing dogs," "convicted bribers," "rogue elephants," "villainous," "sneaks," "henchmen," and in similar scurrilous terms, asks the following questions:—

"Does anyone imagine that Mr. Blake would keep silence if a journal, everywhere believed not only to represent but to be inspired by him, were going slap against his wishes in attack upon a particular body of citizens?"

Well we can only judge what Mr. Blake would do by what he has done and is doing. The session before last when the Quebec Conservative members of the House of Commons were making claims which were being resisted by the Macdonald Administration, the Toronto Globe, on behalf of Mr. Blake and in the name of Mr. Blake, offered to go still further than Sir John in satisfying these Quebec members, if they would only vote with Mr. Blake and against the Government. Mr. Blake let this offer stand in his name without repudiating it as long as there was any chance of its having the corrupt effect intended and only disavowed it after the vote in question and when the Quebec members had spurned the wholesale bribe. For more than a year the French papers supporting Mr. Blake have been assailing as "hangmen" and "orangists" all loyal Canadians, whether English-speaking or French-speaking, whether Roman Catholics or Protestants, who dare to say that a murderer and rebel should be executed. The Globe has continually manifested its sympathy with the views of its French allies upon this point. Yet Mr. Blake has never publicly repudiated either the Globe or his French journalistic supporters. We can therefore only assume either that these attacks are not against Mr. Blake's wishes, or that he keeps silence though disapproving of them. The past and present conduct of Mr. Blake answers the Globe's questions.

If the Globe keeps on it will probably, after a time, guess the right date for the Dominion general election. In two successive issues it has stated that the contest would take place on four different days, on Feb. 8th, 9th, 15th and 20th. It will hit the right day at last if it perseveres.

TWENTY-ONE LIVES LOST

By the Wreck of the Ship Harvey Mills Near San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—The officers and crew of the ship Harvey Mills, reported wrecked, numbered 21 men. The captain and three men attempted to leave the ship in a boat, which, however, capsized as soon as it left the ship's side. It is believed all were drowned. Four others took to a raft, but they have not since been heard of. The mate, Cushman, and three of the crew also left the ship on a raft, but before they were picked up one of them went crazy and jumped overboard. The remaining twelve stuck to the ship, and as the survivors saw her go down all on board must have perished.

HOW HE SUCCEEDED.

One way in which Mr. Mowat has managed to retain power is shown by the manner in which the constituencies were gerrymandered. West York was a Conservative riding and gave a majority at the last election in support of Mr. Meredith. Mr. Mowat was determined to put a stop to that, and he took away the villages of Richmond Hill, with a majority of 28, and Parkdale, 19, making a Reform majority of 16. In South Essex Balfour had 34 of a majority. He did not feel secure with this and Mr. Mowat kindly cut off Anderdon, with a Conservative majority of 156, in order to make him solid. In East Huron, North Ontario and South Ontario the same disgraceful tactics have been followed, while in North Grey a Conservative majority was reduced because Mr. Creighton had proven a dangerous critic of the Government. In Toronto Mr. Leys was elected in the Reform interest by an Act of Parliament, and in other ridings throughout the Province the game was worked for all it was worth in the hope of defeating the Conservatives. Mowat has reason to be proud of the result of his tricks.—Port Arthur Sentinel.

GOOD FOR MANVERS.—Mr. Joseph Magill, of Janetville, Manvers township, recently sold to Mr. John McHugh, of Cresco, Iowa, four shorthorn Durham calves for the sum of $500.

A PECULIAR CASE.—At the recent county court sittings a strange case, Clancy vs. O'Brien, was tried. It seems the plaintiff Clancy had a colt which got into Mr. O'Brien's field. The defendant's boy tried to drive it out, but owing to the presence of other colts, could not. It was then cornered in a shed where the defendant caught it, and placing a logging chain on its neck, with a noose over the nose, led it to the road. There the noose slipped, and the colt set off on a run. The defendant held on for a time, but finally let go the chain. The colt continued running for a distance, the chain meanwhile dragging and flying among its legs. Suddenly the animal halted and remained there all day. There the plaintiff found it with one hind leg broken above the knee. The defence claimed his colts had kicked it and likely had broken the leg; and brought veterinary evidence to show that an animal might run with a broken leg. On the contrary the plaintiff produced evidence to show that it had been broken by the chain. The jury returned a verdict for plaintiff of $90 damages. Hudspeth & Jackson for plaintiff.—Warder.

FIRE.—Tuesday morning about four o'clock a clapboard dwelling house on Cambridge street, owned by Mrs. Blackwell, took fire and in a very short time was burned to the ground. The house was occupied by Mr. Robert Douglass, who was alone; the family being away on a visit. Mr. Douglass had a narrow escape from being smothered and only awoke and got out in the nick of time. Nearly all the furniture was consumed. The fire is supposed to have started in the upper storey, from the usual defective drum or stovepipe. A portion of the loss is by insurance.

A SERIOUS STATE OF THINGS.—On New Year's Eve Chief of Police Bell hearing that the Salvation Army proposed to celebrate the coming in of the New Year by a parade during the early hours of the morning sent word to the barrack, requesting the Army to abandon the idea, as such action on their part amounted to a breach of the local by-law regarding perservation of the peace. The Army, however, decided to have their parade and appeared on Kent street about 12.30 with the usual instruments. Officer Bell appeared on the scene, and the Army refusing to go back to the barrack proceeded to make some arrests. He was assisted by Officer Clunan and special constables Steve McGrath, Wm. Aitkens, John Short, Peter Daly and Samuel Parsons. In all twenty-seven members of the army were escorted to the lock-up and spent the night in the cells. Next morning they were arraigned for trial and the case adjourned until Thursday morning Other arrests were made on Monday night and some excitement occasioned over the matter. On Tuesday night the army marched out as usual and stopped nearly opposite the old St. Paul's church. On being ordered to move on they obeyed and again halted near the east end of Kent street. Refusing to obey orders given by Officer Bell he proceeded to make arrests, assisted by Officer Clunan. A number of people who sympathized with the army undertook to take a hand in, and a number of men undertook to give gratuitous assistance to the police. For a few minutes there was the makings of battle under way and a possibility that heads and limbs would be broken. Four or five offenders were singled out and taken to the lock-up amidst a good deal of threatening language hurled at the police.—Post.

CAMPBELLFORD.

ACCIDENT TO A LITTLE GIRL.—A little daughter of Mr. Robert Hie, about seven years of age, was scalded on Monday night. She was returning from the baker's with a loaf of bread, and when she reached the doorstep to enter the house, one of the members of the family opened the door to throw out some boiling water in which meat had been cooked, and some of it falling upon the child burned her severely on the breast and hands.—Herald.

Murdered for his Property.

ANTIGONISH, N.S., Jan. 7.—Word has been received at Cape George, Antigonish, of the recent murder in Colorado of a young man named Stephen McDonald, who formerly belonged to Cape George. He went out some time ago with his father, who died, leaving all his property to his son. His mother married again, and it is supposed the murder was committed by the step-father in order to acquire the property. The deceased was out tending sheep when killed, and eighteen buckshots were taken out of his back. The young man was only married last spring.

The steam trawler Douglas, owned by the General Steam Fishing Company, landed a large specimen of the blue or ground shark lately at Granton. It measured 13 feet in length by about 8 feet in girth, and was caught in the steamer's trawl about 30 miles east of the May Island. It was killed with little trouble when got out of the net on the deck, having exhausted itself with its struggling to get free; but the net was very much damaged.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the ourden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d84

RIVALS TO THE END.

BY H. H. S. PEARSE.

That night John strolled home with her, as usual; but there seemed to have come all at once a coldness between them that puzzled his honest brain not a little. She longed to tell him all that had passed between Frank Copplestone and herself, but could not find it in her heart to trouble him so. Thus they walked through the wood in unaccustomed silence, lingering long in the old porch where a flood of moonlight cast weird shadows, and parted with a feeling of sadness that neither could quite account for. Esther stood listening until the last echo of John's footsteps had died away. As she turned to go indoors a sound of distant talk reached her, and then the clear tones of a voice that made her tremble strangely.

"I tell you," it said, "I saw her kiss him in the moonlight, and cling to him as if she had been his wife. I never thought she cared much for me, but I would have married her and striven to be a loving husband. In that kiss I felt the sting of dishonour, and could have killed them both. Though he escaped me then, I swore that he should answer for it."

The speaker ceased. That it was Frank Copplestone's voice she felt perfectly sure, and the threatening words could only have one meaning. But to whom were they addressed? Her ears were strained to catch the reply, and for a moment she thought there seemed to be some faint murmur of more talk in the distance; but if so, it was drowned by the rushing of the little moorland brook among the boulders. Then, with the stern threat, "I swore that he should answer for it," throbbing through her brain, and with a chill of apprehension at her heart, Esther crept indoors.

CHAPTER III.

Esther's mind was sorely troubled all that restless night. She never doubted for a moment that Frank Copplestone's fierce words applied to John and herself, and her imagination conjured up all kinds of nameless horrors. After an hour of disturbed sleep she went quietly down stairs before daybreak to find the house already a scene of bustle. There had been a sudden change in the weather; the ground was covered with a mantle of snow inches deep; black clouds banking up in the north gave promise of a still heavier fall, and men were being despatched in all directions to bring cattle home from the moor. What brought care to her father and every farmer round about was a source of some comfort to her. John would surely be out on a similar errand, and the danger of his being "stugged in a Dartmoor mire" or burried in the snow seemed nothing compared with the risk he would run from Frank Copplestone's vengeance. Still she could not shake off a feeling of uneasiness when the storm came on again towards evening, and the snow fell in particles so fine that it forced its way into every crevice, and swept over the moor like a dense fog. Could Esther have known that John had set out that day to look after some cattle and sheep at the furthest limits of their moorland "run" with only the man she most feared for a companion, her anxiety would have changed to terror.

They had started at daybreak, and, making their way without much difficulty along the most sheltered hillsides, had got the straggling herds and flocks together in a pound where the animals could huddle together for warmth, and be at least secure from drifts. That was all they could hope to do. Then they turned homewards. Scarcely half the distance had been covered before snow began to fall again, if that could be said to fall which was driven like spray by fierce gusts of winds across the hills. Lodging here and there against the weather-side of weird granite tors, it rose higher and higher, then curled over as waves break into foam on a beach, but with edges charply cut by eddies of wind. John knew these signs well, and hurried his companion forward faster. Still they could not make much headway. The sturdiest limbs soon tire of wading knee-deep in snow; the wind was in their faces, and the dense white clouds half blinded them, so that they could see nothing a yard or two in front. Presently the two sank up to their waists in a soft place. Both knew well enough, by little rounded "hummocks" here and there, that it was a rushy bog they had got into, and each looked at the other with a glance of something like despair. Neither could tell how far this bog extended, for they had lost all idea of locality; still it was no use going back or turning aside. Their only hope was in being able to jump from tuft to tuft of rushes. Every hundred yards seemed a mile as they struggled on thus. Under such a strain, their powers were fast failing them, when the young farmer thought he caught a glimpse of rocky ground ahead, as the snow-wreaths lifted for a moment. Turning to cheer his companion with this faint hope, he saw Copplestone reel and fall, overcome by the severe exertion. Their last chance seemed gone then, but he was too good a moorman to lose heart utterly, and too brave to think of saving his own life by forsaking a comrade. He managed to drag Frank some distance with difficulty, and felt his foot strike against a boulder. Then he sat down and tried to restore animation, but without success.

"Poor fellow," he said, "his life hasn't been so happy that it should end just when there was a chance of clearing his character. It makes me savage now to think that he should be blamed all these years for the deeds of that smoothed-faced villain he told me about last night. I am glad Frank didn't kill him, though. I have been thinking how pleased Esther would be to hear it all, and now" ——

John fairly broke down there, and, burying his face in his hands, almost gave himself up for lost. As he sat thus, he seemed to hear the rush of water. Was it fancy? No. The sound was scarcely louder than a ripple, but it was enough to nerve him for another effort. If they could only reach a brook, they might follow it, and find home after all. He tried to rouse Frank, but in vain. There was no time to be lost, so, lifting him on his own broad shoulders, John staggered down towards the stream. He had almost reached it, when suddenly the ground gave way under him and he fell into a deep gully. The shock roused Frank to semi-consciousness. He could not for some minutes realize the position. Thinking they must have fallen asleep and been walled in by a snowdrift, he reached out his hand to waken John from a slumber so fatal. He shrank back with an exclamation of horror. His fingers had touched something that he knew must be blood, and, looking closer, he saw it oozing from a deep cut in his companion's forehead. They had fallen down a rocky rift that seemed to end there in a sort of cavern overhung by brambles. There at least, he thought, shelter might be found, and if they should be snowed in, he could hardly be worse than dying on the open moor. He dragged John into it, and by dint of much chafing brought him back to life; but the poor fellow was to bruised even to rise, and his head was heavy with pain. How that night passed John Michelmore never knew. Snow fell heavily hour after hour. Frank, getting some of the brambles together, managed to keep up a little fire that prevented them from being frozen. By morning the snow had ceased, but it lay all round them many feet deep and John was too ill to move. Another day passed; their scanty store of firewood was exhausted, and both began to suffer terribly from cold and hunger. Then Frank made up his mind to stay there no longer. Though scarcely an hour of daylight was left the moon would soon be up, and he knew enough of the moor to find his way by the stars. Creeping softly back to make sure that John was sleeping still, he bent over him and murmured—

"As he would have done by me, so, for her sake, will I do by him,"

* * * * * * * * *

For three whole days nobody on that side of Dartmoor had been able to move in any direction further than he could cut his way through the snow. Esther began to wonder that John had not found some means of getting from his house to hers, but she knew nothing of the grief they were in at Whitefield. When it was possible to pass from farm to farm the truth could no longer be concealed her anguish was terrible to witness. All attempts at consolation seemed but shallow mockery. She only wrung her hands and wailed. "To late! to late!" or pleaded piteously that they would let her go to him. Then there came a day of hard frost, and some neighbors set out in search of the missing men, little hoping to find them alive. There was just a chance, however, that they might have taken shelter among a "clitter" of rocks somewhere, and been snowed up there, with a flock of sheep to keep them warm. Out on the open moor no man could have lived through such a storm and the bitter frost that had then set in. Still, the one chance was enough to buoy up the hearts of the searchers, who in spite of every difficulty, toiled manfully along, some following the stream and some keeping to the ridge on that side where it was possible to find firm grouud above the drifts. None saw that a figure stole before them like "wishtness" in the grey dawn. Suddenly from the hollow there rose a shrill cry of horror, and the heart of every man stood still.

It was a woman's wild shriek. Hastening towards the ravine, whence that weird sound had risen to break the solemn stillness of those silent moorlands, they found Esther Ford kneeling, transfixed with terror, beside the dead body of Frank Copplestone, where it lay in a drift, stark and frozen, with nothing on it but trousers and shirt, and these stained with blood. How could he have met with foul play there? Drawing her gently away, they searched for a wound but could find none. Then there slowly stole into their minds a shadow of the awful dread that had possessed Esther. The track of his footsteps could be marked on the snow a furlong off. She was first to note this, and, breaking from her companions, sped swiftly over the rough ground. While two men were left to keep watch—standing some distance away, though, in superstitious fear of the dead man, who, they could not doubt, was a murderer—the others hurried after Esther along that track expecting every moment to find evidence of a fearful crime. They came to a gully, where there seemed to have been a struggle, and the snow bore traces of blood. Leaping down, the boldest among them saw, in the shadow of the shallow cave, not another dead man, but John Michelmore, tossing in a restless sleep, with the trooper's heavy cloak thrown over him and a bloodstained handkerchief about his temples.

They bore Frank Copplestone's body reverently enough back to the village that night, knowing that he had died to save his rival; for on the rough frieze coat they had found a scrap of paper, with the words faintly written in pencil—"I only do what you would have done for her sake. Your life is worth more than mine. I will save both if I can; but if I fail, tell Esther I was not quite so bad as they made me out. Good-bye."

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

LITTLE LUCY.

I

A little child, six summers old—
So thoughtful and so fair,
There seemed about her pleasant ways
A more than childish air—
Was sitting on a summer eve
Beneath a spreading tree,
Intent upon an ancient book
That lay upon her knee.
She turned each page with careful hand,
And strained her sight to see,
Until the drowsy shadows slept
Upon the grassy lea;
Then closed the book, and upward looked,
And straight began to sing
A simple verse of hopeful love
This very childish thing:
"While here below, how sweet to know
His wondrous love and story;
And then, through grace, to see his face,
And live with him in glory."

II.

The little child, one dreary night
Of winter wind and storm,
Was tossing on a weary couch
Her weak and wasted form;
And in her pain, and in its pause,
But clasped her hands in prayer—
(Strange that we had no thoughts of heaven
While here were only there)—
Until she said: "Oh, mother dear,
How sad you seem to be!
Have you forgotten that he said
'Let children come to me'?
Dear mother, bring the blessed book—
Come mother, let us sing."
And then again with faltering tongue,
She sang that childish thing:
"While here below, how sweet to know
His wondrous love and story;
And then, through grace, to see his face,
And live with him in glory!"

III.

Underneath a spreading tree
A narrow mound is seen,
Which first was covered by the snow,
Then blossomed into green;
Here first I heard that childish voice
That sings on earth no more;
In heaven it hath a richer tone,
And sweeter than before;
"For those who know his love below"—
So runs the wondrous story—
"In heaven, through grace, shall see his face,
And dwell with him in glory!"

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

PRODUCES SWEET AND NATURAL SLEEP.

Dr. C. R. Dake, Belleville, Ill., says: "I have found it, and it alone, to produce sweet and natural sleep in cases of wakefulness caused by overwork of the brain, which often occurs with active professional and business men."

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

of danger by the condition of your blood, as shown in pimples, blotches, boils, or discolorations of the skin; or by a feeling of languor, induced, perhaps, by inactivity of the stomach, liver, and kidneys, you should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will renew and invigorate your blood, and cause the vital organs to properly perform their functions. If you suffer from

Rheumatism,

or Neuralgia, a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla will relieve and cure you. Alice Kendall, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass., writes: "I have been troubled with Neuralgia, pain in the side, and weakness, and have found greater relief from Ayer's Sarsaparilla than from any other remedy." J. C. Tolman, 336 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "In no other remedy have I ever found such a happy relief from Rheumatism as in with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, there need be no fear of Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Catarrh, Liver troubles, or any of the diseases arising from Scrofulous taints in the blood. Geo. Garwood, Big Springs, Ohio, writes: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been used in my family for a number of years. I was a constant sufferer from

Dyspepsia,

but Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a permanent cure. Seven years ago my wife was troubled with Goitre: two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured her, and she has never had any return of the disease. I regard this preparation as the best medicine in use for the blood." B. Barnard Wair, 75 Adams st., Lynn, Mass., writes: "For many years I suffered terribly from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Scrofula. Almost hopeless, I took Ayer's Sar-

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

APPOINTMENTS MADE AND INCREASES OF SALARY WANTED.

Strife on the Board as to Filling Vacancies in the Public School Staff—Messrs. Dumble and Errett Leave the Room.

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held on Friday evening.

There were present: Mr. Jas. Stevenson, in the chair, and Messrs. Denne, Dumble, Wrighton, Sawers, Kendry, Rutherford, Errett and Dr. Burnham.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communications were received:—

From Mrs. Tassie, thanking the Board for its letter of condolence.—Received.

From Miss Matthews, tendering her resignation as teacher in the public school.—Accepted.

From the Women's Christian Temperance Union, earnestly requesting, as the Manual of Hygiene had been recommended by the Minister of Education, that it be introduced into the Collegiate Institute and Public Schools.—School Supervision Committee.

From Miss McLeod asking for an appointment in the Central School in place of the one now held by her in the South Ward School—Received.

From Mr. Smith and Mr. Scott for increase in salary—Received.

From Miss Davidson, Miss Aldridge and Miss Graham asking for promotion—Received.

From Miss Martin and Miss Richardson requesting appointments to positions on the Public School staff—Received,

From H. C. T. Haultain in reference to the Governor-General's Medal and submitting the opinion of the Registrar of the Toronto University on the matter—Mr. Dumble moved that the question be left over till it was ascertained on what terms the medal was given; but an amendment to receive the communication was carried.

From T. A. Rowan asking for an engagement on the Collegiate Institute staff—Received.

ACCOUNTS.

An account of $15.00 from the trustees of school section No. 11, Douro, for instruction of pupils during the last half year, was ordered to be paid.

APPOINTMENT.

Dr. Burnham moved, seconded by Mr. Sawers—That Mr. T. A. Rowan be appointed to the Department of Modern Languages at a salary of $900.—Carried.

ATTENDANCE.

SAULT STE. MARIE RAILWAY.

Grand Trunk Connection With Duluth—Route of the Projected Line.

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—The Gazette this morning publishes the following, which is evidently from an official source:—"The Grand Trunk railway will shortly have a connection with Duluth. An independent line is to be built by some New York capitalists from Duluth to Sault Ste. Marie. They may not build all the way, and probably will not, as it is intended to use the Northern Pacific from Duluth to Ashland, on Lake Superior, and it is expected that the work will be completed during the coming season, as there is no lack of money and the company is vigorously pushing the work. They hold a charter from the American Government for a bridge at Sault Ste. Marie, and certain parties in the interest of the Grand Trunk railway hold a like charter from the Dominion Parliament. These are the only charters granted so far for the construction of an independent bridge. The Grand Trunk have a projected line from a point on the Midland in the neighborhood of Orillia or Lakefield, crossing French River about Courtor's Island, and skirting the shores of the Georgian Bay, a distance of about 350 miles. The length of the American portion of the line is about the same. The projected line is that of the Ontario and Sault Ste. Marie Railway, for which an independent charter was granted by the Ontario Legislature several years ago. The route has been surveyed and the line located over a great portion of the distance. The bridge at the Sault will be of 15 or 16 piers, a substantial structure of stone and iron. There will also be a drawbridge over the canal. The country through which the line runs is rocky, and a portion of it is good only for the timber on it, but the land along the Georgian Bay is capable of settlement, and there is plenty of good timber on it. The territory west of the Sault is pine lands, and where the line touches Lake Superior there are large deposits of iron ore. The company which is to build the line to Duluth will have a branch to Mackinac, and will reach the Michigan railway scheme by means of a ferry across the straits. Canada has a great interest in the Sault Ste. Marie route, as the distance from Duluth to Montreal is 250 or 300 miles shorter than by way of Chicago and New York.

BARGAINS in scalette goods at R. FAIR'S Golden Lion.

A Great Fire.
VALLEY FALLS, R.I., Jan. 7.—The Rhode Island Horseshoe Company's immense workshops were destroyed by fire early this morning. Loss is 330,000, insurance $160,000. The buildings occupied several acers of ground. The flames raged until there was nothing left to burn. The works had a capacity of 50 tons of horse shoes per day, and employed four hundred hands, and had a pay roll of $6,000 per week. The works will be re-built at once. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a careless night watchman in filling a lamp with oil.

Four Men Executed.
SYDNEY, N. S., Jan. 7.—Four of the young men condemned to death recently for an outrageous assault upon a servant girl were hanged here yesterday. Two others were reprieved.

Health is impossible when blood is impure, thick and sluggish, or when it is thin and impoverished. Such conditions give rise to boils, pimples, headaches, neuralgia rheumatism and other disorders. Ayer's Sarsaparilla makes the blood pure, rich, and vitalizing.

BRITISH POLITICS.

Prospects of the Coming Liberal Conference at Birmingham.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—With regard to the prospects of the forthcoming Liberal Conference I find that Mr. Chamberlain's action is a direct [illegible] brought to bear upon him from Birmingham. When he returned from the East he gave notice that he would address a public meeting on a certain day. Whereupon the political committee of his ward wrote to inform him that his first duty was to them and they desired him to adddress them privately at an earlier date. He suspected nothing, and was immensly surprised and disguested to find himself subjected to a process of heckling by the most direct and frank questions for over two hours. This has been a revelation to him. His position among even those in whose support he had the most confidence caused him to make a conciliatory speech and lead himself willingly to the conference proposal. He has expressed great satisfaction at the tone of certain letters which Mr. Gladstone has addressed to him privately. Nobody has yet discovered in what way reconciliation is to come. The Ministerial crisis, by the way, is by no means over, as there are many personal matters to be arranged inside the Cabinet. The position of Lord Iddesleigh is the most difficult of these. A matter of a different character, however, which Patrick Ford will read with the greatest interest, eclipses purely political questions for the moment. I learn that Mr. Henry Jenkinson, for several years past director of criminal investigation, is about to retire or be retired. The relations between the Home Secretary, Mr. Matthews, and Mr. Jenkinson have been strained for some time past. This is their culmination. The gravity of this event, it may be added, can only be known to those who take part in the Government of the Empire. For the past four years Mr. Jenkinson has been the soul and centre of what may be called the spy system of the British Empire. Among other things he is the man who has in his hands all the threads of the secret conspiracy of the dynamiters and the associations which threaten and attack life and property from New York and Paris. At a time when the British Government is being urged from the judicial bench upon a course of vigorous repression in Ireland, Mr. Jenkinson's retirement is strange indeed. The steps contemplated may be officially termed an amalgamation of the department. This is a mere euphemism for a fate like Sir Robt. Hamilton's.—Montreal Star.

Great International Bonspiel.

TORONTO, Jan. 8.—Arrangements have been perfected for an international bonspiel to be played in Toronto on Wednesday next. The bonspiel promises to be the largest, as it will be the most interesting, ever played on this continent. Four hundred or more curlers will participate in the contest. The present indications are that the United States will send fifty rinks, ten more than was originally expected, and to repel this invasion into Canadian territory about one-half of the ninety clubs allied with the Ontario branch are sending one rink each. The United States will be represented by rinks from Buffalo, Jersey city, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Chicago, Brooklyn, Ogdensburg, Albany, Utica, Newark, Manhattan, New Jersey, Moshalin and New York city. Gotham, with Ogdensburg and Milwaukee, will not be represented by more than one rink.

Preparing for the Jubilee.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 8.—A meeting of citizens was held to consider the celebration of the Queen's jubilee and the erection of a permanent memorial. A committee was appointed to report on each matter. The erection of a memorial hall seems assured.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a specialty. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc. Everything in season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

HEAVY overstockings and gaiters for everyone at the Golden Lion.

A THRILLING STORY

A Tale of Shipwreck, Suffering, Death and Plundering of the Wrecked Vessel.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 8.—Capt. Carew and the surviving members of the crew of the Newfoundland schooner Minnie, from Georgetown to St. John's, have arrived here, and tell a thrilling story of shipwreck, suffering, death and the plundering of the vessel. The Minnie struck on Kelly's shoal in the Bras d'Or Lake during a blinding snowstorm on the 28th ult. It was bitterly cold, and the men, while lashed to the pumps, were covered with icicles. The water steadily gained on the pumps. The vessel was struck by a tremendous sea, which stove her lee bridge, filled her with water and she sank within five minutes. As the schooner sank out of sight the men jumped in their dory, and after rowing some miles they reached land. They crawled ashore and found themselves on an island on which there were two houses. One of the crew persisted in crossing the woods to the nearest house, but had not gone far before he froze to death. His name was John Gathral, aged 24, and he leaves a wife and child at St. John's. The rest of the crew, including a brother of Gathral's, concluded that they could only escape a similar fate by keeping in the water. They walked miles along the shore in water up to their armpits, hauling their boat after them. While suffering terribly from cold and exhaustion they succeeded in saving their lives. They found the temperature in the water much milder than out of it. When they reached one of the two houses on the island, they looked more like moving icebergs than human beings. After being fed and warmed a general alarm was raised and the whole population turned out with lanterns to search for the body of the frozen man. They found him next day. While searching for the dead man the captain and crew found the wreckage of the vessel being plundered by the lighthouse keeper and the people of the mainland. Captain Carew says he could not induce any magistrate to arrest or punish the wreckers, and if he is ever again cast away on this coast he will be found armed with a revolver and bowie knife. The vessel and cargo were owned by the captain. Neither was insured. Both himself and the crew go back to Newfoundland with only what they stand upright in.

WAR RUMORS

England Mobilizing Two Corps.

War Preparations in Germany.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—British naval pensioners have been ordered to notify the Government of the names of the ships they would prefer to serve upon, or fort they would prefer to be employed in, in view of being called into possible active service.

MOBILIZING TWO ARMY CORPS.

There was a slight scare here last night arising out of the mobilization of two English army corps. Officers on furlough belonging to regiments next to the roster for foreign service are stated to have been warned to hold themselves in readiness to report for duty, indicating that preparations are advancing for the formation of a third army corps. It has further transpired that the War Office is pushing forward arrangements pointing eventfully to the army and navy reserves and auxiliary forces being called up. The activity of the Admiralty is still more ominous.

GERMAN WAR PREPARATIONS.

It is reported that German residents in Belgium have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to join their respective army corps, and in the meantime to notify their Government of any change of residence.

BISMARCK'S EFFORTS FOR PEACE.

Advices from Vienna state that the influence exercised by Prince Bismarck is having the effect of smoothing the relations between Austria and Russia.

THE GERMAN WAR SPECTRE.

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—The official press again conjures up the war spectre. Rumours are rife that the garrisons on the western frontier are to be largely increased. From authentic sources it is learned that the garrisons at Saargemand, Forback, Eleuze, Colmar and Huningue have been largely reinforced; but there are doubts as to the accuracy of the reports that the German garrison in Alsace-Lorraine muster 30,000, whereas the normal number of the troops in garrison in that province is 100,000. Troops are now being drilled daily for three hours in the use of the repeating rifle recently adopted by the Government for the purpose of making them proficient in volley firing.

TURKEY BECOMING CORDIAL.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 9.—At the Sultan's request Sir William White, British Ambassador, recently had two hours' private audience with his Majesty. The Sultan expressed gratification at the appointment of Sir William as Ambassador, and entrusted him with a cordial message to the Queen.

A Wall Street Bubble.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The Herald publishes a long article on the operations of the Cameron Coal Company. It says that the lands of the company are located in the wild, mountainous region of Northwestern Pennsylvania. The company has done practically nothing for two years, and is doing nothing now, but in Wall street it appears to be very active indeed. The stock, which two years ago was quoted on the New York Stock Exchange at three per cent., and one year ago at nine per cent., is being manipulated so that it is now about 44. The company is capitalized at about $2,500,000 in shares of $50 each. The total amount is entered for dealings on the regular list of the New York Stock Exchange. Besides this there is a mortgage of $500,000 upon the property. The estimated value of everything the company owns does not exceed $25,000, and if sold now probably would not bring more than half that sum.

Edison Ill.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Mr. Edison, the inventor, is seriously ill of pleurisy at his home near Orange, N. J.

At a meeting of the Dominion Cabinet on Friday. Dr. Casgrain, of Windsor, and Mr. S. Merner, of Waterloo, were appointed senators.

For all kinds of Fruit call at Cornell's.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

TYPHOID EPIDEMIC.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—An epidemic of typhoid fever is raging at Clermont Ferrand. Over 1,800 persons out of a population of 40,000 have been attacked. There are 400 cases in the barracks. It is supposed the epidemic was started by impure water.

KILLED BY A HIPPOPOTAMUS.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—An exciting incident occurred at the Paris Zoological Garden yesterday, resulting in the death of one of the keepers. A hippopotamus was observed to be acting in an unusual manner. The keeper entered the cage to endeavor to discover the cause, when the animal appeared suddenly to go mad. The keeper tried to escape, but before he could reach the door of the cage the animal attacked him furiously. Other assistants rushed to the rescue and endeavored to beat back the infuriated brute. Their efforts were finally successful, but when they drew their comrade from the cage life was extinct.

WAR IMMINENT.

MADRID, Jan. 8.—Senor Moret, Minister of Foreign Affairs, in an interview to-day said that advices received from Spanish representatives abroad tended to encourage the fears of the imminence of a European war, the extent of which no one could foresee.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Considerable surprise is expressed to-day at the news that the Admiralty has issued instructions to see the hulks in readiness to receive the naval reserves, who, with the officers and men of the brigade of the guards standing first for foreign service, have been medically examined. The latter precaution has previously been taken only at the last moment.

IN THE EVENT OF WAR.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Vatican has made an arrangement with the Prince of Monaco by which, in the event of the outbreak of war involving Italy, the Pope with his ministers and prefects of congregations will remove their residence to the principality of Monaco and there transact all papal business until peace shall have been restored and some kind of European agreement obtained guaranteeing the independence of the Holy See in its dealings with the Catholic world. A special clause of the convention with the Prince pledges the abolition of the gaming tables. It is expected that adequate compensation for the loss of revenue thus involved will be afforded by the crowds of visitors to the Pope, or by an indemnity to the Prince.

FIGHTING IN TONQUIN.

HONG KONG, Jan. 8.—The troubles on the frontier of Tonquin and China have assumed the most serious position. Large bodies of Chinese pirates attacked the French garrison at Hakoi, on November 24. After three days' seige they completely annihilated it. They also attacked Mongkai with a similar result. Hakoi, thirty miles south of Mongkai, is on the coast. The French had a small fortification there, with a garrison of sixty men under the command of Lieut. MacMahon, a nephew of Marshal MacMahon. After three days seige only twenty-three of the garrison remained alive. These made a sortie, but not one survived. The latest information state that Hakoi and Mongkai are in flames.

UNSATISFACTOBY EVIDENCE.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Times, commenting on General Sir Redvers Buller's evidence at the conspiracy trials yesterday, says it is to be regretted that such interference, however legitimate, in cases of ascertained individual hardship, should be resorted to by executive officials controlling the police. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's evidence, says the Times, is still less satisfactory.

WRITS AGAINST MR. SEXTON.

DUBLIN, Jan. 9.—Mr. Sexton has been served with writs by five electors of Belfast, each of whom claims £500 damages for alleged wrongful arrest, false imprisonment and malicious prosecution, in connection with the last election in the west division of Belfast.

AN IRISH RESIDENCE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 9.—The Evening Telegraph says the Prince of Wales has taken a year's lease of New Lands, Lord Kilwarden's mansion in County Dublin.

ATTACKED BY MOONLIGHTERS.

CORK, Jan. 9.—Moonlighters on Friday night attacked and maltreated Mr. Darrus, clerk of the County Sessions Court. Darrus's injuries are serious.

LANSDOWNE'S REPLY.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—A definite reply was received yesterday from Lord Lansdowne, declining Lord Salisbury's offer of a place in Cabinet. The reason Lord Lansdowne gave for declining was the state of Canadian politics, it not being expedient in the national interest that he should sever his connection with the Dominion at present. Lord Salisbury had no reason to complain at the reply. The Colonial secretary has not yet been appointed. Lord Iddesleigh will retire from the Cabinet for the present, and does not accept a lighter position.

FORMING A CAVE.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The war preparations are much discussed in political circles. Liberals believe that if the preparations really mean war, they will quickly lead to the fall of the Ministry, as Lord Randolph Churchill would be the first to join the Liberals in denouncing any interference by England in Continental quarrels. The authorities of the fighting departments explain the formation of the two army corps and other movements on sea and land as part of the arrangements for celebrating the Queen's Jubilee. In spite of all assurances to the contrary, it is true that Lord Randolph Churchill is busy forming a cave, and that he is being joined by prominent members of the Tory-Democratic wing, who are willing to jeopardise their political prospects by identifying their fortunes with his.

An Aged Farmer's Suicide.

A Wonderful Shot.

The man who put ten bullets in succession, inside the circumference of a Milwaukee girl's finger ring, at fifteen paces, was a pretty good shot, but he wasn't half so wise as the bilious man who put ten of Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" into his system in five days, and on the sixth walked ten miles "just because he felt so well." If your blood is out of order, if you feel low spirited and "blue," you will find these Little Liver Pills just what you need.

"REFORM" METHODS.

Two Reformers, Thos. Hallock, a peddler, and Henry Leslie, a farmer, are now under trial at Listowel for a conspiracy in regard to the recent Provincial election in North Perth. Hallock was proved to have called at night on a number of Conservative voters in Wallace township, offering them money to vote or work for the Conservative candidate, Mr. Hess, and on refusal to accept the bribe leaving it with them or on the ground. The identity of Hallock, who appeared to be the principal operator, was sworn to by a number of those whom he thus approached, and he was arrested driving without bells, disguised in another man's fur coat and with a large roll of bills upon him. This occurred on the night before the election.

Before all this took place Mr. Maybee, the local Reform lawyer, had telephoned Mr. Macpherson, a Reform lawyer at Stratford, and chairman of the Reform executive committee, to send down scrutineers to Wallace as the Conservatives were using money. Messrs. Nevin and Macdonald, law students, were accordingly sent with orders to get their instructions from the local Reform leaders. These imported scrutineers swore that such instructions were given them by Mr. Maybee, in the presence of Mr. Scott, the President of the Reform Association, to the effect that they were to swear the voters on the lists then handed to them. These instructions were countermanded at the polls and the marked lists were taken from them by Mr. Maybee, Mr. Darling, another Reform lawyer, and Mr. Thos. F. Hay, the Reform Reeve. This was after the Conservatives had issued bills offering a reward of $100 for the apprehension of the guilty party.

It was also proved that Mr. Hallock had called aside Mr. Scott, the President of the Reform Association, for a private conference the night before the election, and that the money had been represented as coming from the Dominion Government.

The evidence of the President of the Reform Association was wanted, but the constable reported that he was out of the way.

The proof of money being offered by a Reformer to Conservative voters to vote for the Conservative candidate is overwhelming. There is also not the slightest room for doubt that some of the Reform agents were mixed up with the affair were privy to the base trick of objecting to the votes of these Conservatives as having been bribed. Some of these Reformers may have been mere tools of the originators of this disgraceful plot, and till the proceedings are terminated, it would not be right to suggest which of them are individually in one category or the other.

Enough, however, has been established to show the dishonest and cowardly methods used by Reformers against their political opponents. Here we have attempts to blacken the Dominion Government and to defeat an opponent of Mr. Mowat by laying to their charge crimes committed for that very purpose by the Reformers themselves. And it must be remembered that such nefarious plots by members and leaders of the Reform party are not without precedent in their own ranks. It has been proved that they used the same device in Lennox. It has been proved also that they played the same trick with Weeks in Middlesex. It is morally certain, if not formally proved, that Mr. Mowat and his associates, through his agent Lynch, used the same manœuvre in getting up the bribery conspiracy. They practice corruption themselves, they find that Conservatives do not follow their example, so they do a little corruption themselves in the name of the Conservatives in the hope of fixing the guilt upon them.

When the Reform party, under its present leaders, adopt such methods of eking out their unfair advantages by means of members by statute, gerrymandering and other unworthy devices, is it astonishing that hundreds of honest Reformers in the two Ridings of Peterborough and many thousands throughout the Province should at the recent election have severred their association with their old, but now thoroughly disgraced party?

THE news that Dowling, one of the Mowat decoys and inciters to bribery, a man disqualified by the judges for corruption though relieved by statute from the penalty, and who was held by our judiciary to have committed perjury, was really defeated in South Renfrew, must be gratifying to all honest men. The Province of Ontario is now relieved from the disgrace of having him in its Legislature, in addition to escaping from the defiling presence of McKim and Cascallen.

THE CHRISTIAN POLITICIAN.

The career of the Christian politican has been marked not only by a bold defiance of common honesty, but by bold defiance of laws placed on the statute book by himself and his political friends. Proclaiming themselves purists without peers they made more stringent the laws against corrupt acts during elections. But, as the Mackenzie government was forced to relieve its own friends by an act to whitewash political corruption, so the Mowat government has more than once been compelled to stultify itself in the same way. We have seen the Ontario act enforced not only to unseat but to disqualify Mr. Fauquier in Muskoka whose only act was to treat a few friends at a time when he did not suppose himself to be a candidate; but a special act was passed to relieve from disqualification Mr. Dowling, a man who carried his election by open and shameless violations of the law.

The greatest outrage of this description was the act of 1884, entitled "an Act for the relief of certain deputy returning officers." An election had been held in Algoma, during which the most infamous outrages were perpetrated. On one island, having sixty resident voters, no polling place was opened. The electors hired a tug to take them to the mainland; but, arriving there, they found no ballots. Other islanders were as badly served, so that about ninety were choused out of their votes by the Christian politician. At another place the deputy returning officer failed to open the poll, and as several the ballots ran out so soon as all the Reform electors had voted. For a distance of several hundred miles along the Pacific Railway no poll was opened. The electors took train for the nearest polling place; but, arrived there, the deputy returning officer refused to issue ballots to them, alleging that he personally knew them not to be voters, though he knew nothing of the sort, and though the voters were willing to take the oath. The law—Mr. Mowat's own law—provided heavy penalties for these crimes; but so soon as the first verdict was rendered against one of the deputy returning officers, Mr. Mowat flew to their relief and passed an ex-post facto act declaring the crimes not to be crimes, and relieving the criminals from the penalties attached to their acts.

And this is the man who is held up to admiration as a Christian politician.—Hamilton Spectator.

Bell Telephone Co., vs. Belleville Electric Light Co.

The following extract from Chief Justice Wilson's judgment in this case granting an injunction against the Belleville Electric Light Company and compelling them to remove four of their poles to the opposite side of the street from those of the Telephone Company will be interesting as being the first decision of the kind in Canada. After referring to the statutes of the Dominion and of Ontario; under which the Plaintiffs are incorporated and derive their powers, and reviewing a large mass of evidence and quoting extensively from articles in American Electoral Journals, His Lordship says:—"It appears the plaintiffs were in possession of the ground for the erection of their poles, and that they had their poles erected about two years before the defendants put up their poles. That however did not give them the exclusive possession or right to use the sides of the roads on which they had placed their poles, even if they had the independent right to use the sides of the roads under the Dominion Act without the consent of the Municipal Council. It is not necessary to say whether the Dominion Act or the Provincial Act is the Act under which the plaintiff have the right to exercise their powers, that is, whether they have the right to use the roadsides for their poles without the leave of the Municipality, or only with such leave as under the Ontario Act. It is sufficient for the purposes of the present motion that the earliest possession of the ground required for their poles, the defendants have not the right to interfere with or do any act to the injury for the plaintiffs early rights. The defendant would not have the right to cut down or remove the plaintiff's poles, nor to make use of them, nor to place wires or do anything else which would damage the purpose or usefulness of the poles or wires, which the plaintiffs have placed there, nor to render useless or prejudice the business which the plaintiffs were and are authorized to carry on by means of these poles and wires, nor to cause danger to life or property by stringing their wires so near to those of the plaintiffs that life or property is endangered thereby. There is abundant testimony that placing the wires of these parties too near to each other (and the later erection would be the act of the wrong doer), while the instruments are in use or in electrical storms is dangerous and has not only caused danger, but has destroyed property by fire, and has destroyed human life. And the instances of such accidents are more numerous than those who do not give much attention to these matters would suppose. So numerous that in many parts of the United States special legislative interference has been urgently called for and to such an extent as to prohibit the placing of electric light wires on the same side of the road upon which either telegraph or telephone wires are strung. For, although the electric wires may be a few feet distant from the others, either in parallel lines or above or below the others, some accident may connect the the two wires by breakage of one of them, or otherwise, that danger may be produced. It is also said it is difficult to preserve complete insulation and that if the material used for it becomes melted through, the insulation is destroyed and the covering of the wire is no greater protection against induction than is the exposed wire. How far the defendants could be indicated, see Regina vs. Lister, Dears vs. Bell, C. C. 209; Hepburn vs. Lordan, 11 Jur. N. S. 132, 2 Hem. and M. 345. I am quite satisfied there is and must be danger from accident or neglect to be apprehended from these two wires running parallel to each other or the one above or below the other in the proximity of the one to the other as represented in the evidence, and that the defendants are the wrong doers in the respect, that they are the persons who while the plaintiffs were I may say in possession of the ground have placed their poles and wires in that position of danger towards the works of the plaintiffs; that not much harm has been done to the plaintiffs so far according to their own account is fortunate for both parties; that it may happen at any moment may reasonably be feared, but what the extent of that harm may be either to life or property cannot be limited or defined. The R. S. O., c. 157 sec. 59 and 70 which are part of the 45 Vic. c. 19 and 3, have some connection with this application. But independently of these general provisions the plaintiffs are entitled to relief on the general and common grounds upon which summary protection and relief in cases of the kind are granted. The fact that the City engineer located the defendants upon the side of the road in question will not give the defendants and indefeasible right to maintain their poles and wires as against the plaintiffs upon the side so assigned to the defendants. The plaintiffs had the prior right they have always opposed the defendants right to have their poles where they are, and the City Council had not the right to destroy or prejudice the privilege they had already granted to the plaintiffs. I think the plaintiffs are entitled to the relief they ask and I am glad to say it cannot be a very serious matter to the defendants if the whole of the cost of transferring their wires to the other side of the road will cost only about $10. In my opinion the defendants must be ordered to remove their poles and wires to the other side of the road in question, that is to the side of the road on which the plaintiffs have not their poles and wires, and that the defendants do pay the costs of this application. The order will be in the usual form to proceed with the trial of the action to pay damages, &c. The removal to be made on or before——."

PORT HOPE.

A PORT HOPE CONDUCTOR KILLED.—A sad accident occurred at the G. T. R. station at Kingston on Wednesday night, by which Conductor David Danby lost his life. He was in the act of coupling a passenger coach to an engine when he met his death. The coach was standing on a curved track. The engine backed up to it at one point closer than at another. Danby tried to couple them and failed to get the pin in its place in time. They came together crushing him to death instantly. Blood poured from his mouth and saturated his clothing. In the pockets of his coat were a number of weighbills, which were saturated with blood. When the driver picked him up he was quite dead. Evidently he did not live long enough to know what killed him. He was twenty-two years of age and a native of Port Hope. He was a great favorite with all the railroad employees and they are deeply grieved at his death. He had worked for a year for the Grand Trunk company. His remains were taken to his home by Mr. McDermott, who was Danby's fellow companion.—Times

FARM AND GARDEN.

Wet lands should be drained because we cannot unlock the fertility of the soil unless air takes the place of the water.

Seasoning butter with brime, instead of salt, is practiced by the best makers now. It makes a more even distribution of the saline flavour than dry salt, and has other advantages which commend it to practical and experienced dairymen.

To kill lice on animals make strong soap suds from soft soap and saturate the parts of the animal infested. After the lapse of a week repeat the application. This remedy is as harmless as pure water, and as effectual as an application of poisonous material.

Ayrshire Cattle.—The Ayrshire are to us exceedingly attractive on account of their broken colour, the white spots and flecks contrasting beautifully with dark red or brown of the body colour, the colour, as a rule, being intensified along the edges of the white, and yet, strange to say, there is a craze for solid colours among breeders. The breed is well adapted to make the most of short commons or the best of abundance—hardy, active, prolific, going all to milk when milking, and piling on flesh when dry—a breed every farmer and dairyman who owns one is proud of, filling the eye and filling the pail. The milk is of medium quality and abundant, making up in flow what it lacks in quality when compared with the special butter breeds; always rich in solids, hence admirable for cheese production. Were we to name a breed of cattle which would produce the greatest profit from a given area of farming or grazing land, or turn 100 tons of hay, fodder and corn meal into the greatest profit, we should hesitate to name one which would surpass the Ayrshire, even where the breed would have no opportunity to exhibit its hardiness and activity. But on short pasture, in cold stables, exposed to more or less hardships, the Ayrshire would almost surely carry off the palm. There is one thing about them that is very satisfactory, they are always recognizable, even as grades. The breed has an unmistakable strikingly handsome style of its own. An Ayrshire is an Ayrshire and never will be mistaken for anything else.—American Agriculturist.

Fire in Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 7.—A fire broke out last night in the Bathgate block on Princess street. Engines speedily got to work and had the flames under control in a short time. The warehouse of A. J. Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of excise duty on proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefited the consumers, as well as relieving the ourden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d84

WHAT A POLICEMAN SAW.

A Remarkable Sight Witnessed by a Georgia Officer of the Law.

Yesterday morning myself and another policeman were standing at the corner of Broad and Jackson streets. I won't be positive as to the exact time, but it was between 2 and 3 o'clock, I am sure. As you well know, the night was dark and stormy, with heavy rains and furious gusts of wind alternately. At the hour indicated the rain had ceased, and the fitful dashes of wind had been superceded by a strong, steady blow. From the south-east the blow came, increasing in its power every minute. I was certain that a storm was brewing or approaching, and began to feel somewhat alarmed. But a few minutes had passed when we discerned a bright reflection in the direction from whence proceeded the storm, and at once we formed the opinion that a conflagration had broken out in that portion of the city—towards the Central Railroad yards. While watching the unusual sight, and momentarily expecting the fire alarm to ring out, we were amazed to discover that the light did not spread or take on that fiery tint peculiar to fires.

Then a strange humming, roaring sound became audible, the same as that made a coal-burning locomotive in the distance. By this time several people gathered to watch the strange sight, and at the suggestion of an earthquake a stampede for the middle of the street was made. But no vibration being preceptible, and the roar, which had now become awful, being confined to the south-east, seemingly in company with the luminous visitor, the opinion was reached that Augusta was about to become the center of a disastaous, death-dealing storm of some kind. Then, too, it was noticed that the light, instead of growing larger, became brighter, and was advancing towards us with lightening-like rapidity. The wind had increased in fury and came around the corner with enough force almost to carry a man off bodily. We were frightened, but the scare was of brief duration, for in a few minutes the aerial visitor had come and gone. Far above us, sweeping onward with great rapidity, was seen a luminous cloud, while close behind followed an immense mass as black as the shawdows of Hades. The noise accompanying was fearful, and was enough to bring terror to the heart of the stanuchest man. Several of the group who witnessed the wonderful phenomenon claimed that the black cloud moved in the shape of a funnel, but of this I won't be certain.—Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle.

LITTLE SAILOR JEM.

"How is it that I don't hear you speak bad words?" asked an "old salt" of a boy on board a man-of-war, as they were sitting together up in the rigging.

"Oh, because I don't forget my Captain's orders," answered the boy brightly.

"Captain's orders!" cried the old sailor; "I didn't know he—"

"He did," said Jem, "and I keep them safe here," putting his hand on his breast. "Here they be," said Jem slowly and distinctly: "I say unto you, swear not at all: neither by heaven, for it is God's throne; nor by the earth, for it is his footstool; neither by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. Neither shalt thou swear by the head, because thou can't not make one hair white or black. But let your communication be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay; for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil."

"Them's from the good old log-book, I see," said the sailor "which I don't know much about, these days."

"Then, I'm afraid you've lost your reckoning, sir," said Jem, "and are drifting on to the breakers."

"What then?" asked the old man.

"You'll be wrecked," answered Jem, "wrecked forever."

The old sailor had been wrecked. He knew what it was to be in a ship breaking up and going to pieces on a wintry coast. He knew what it was to be lashed to a spar, half naked, hungry, cold, benumbed, tempest-tossed. He had heard the shrieks of the perishing. Yes; he well knew what being wrecked was.

"Wrecked forever," said the old sailor slowly; "that's a long time, boy."

"Yes, sir," said Jem; "it is so."

Jem looked wistfully at him, and the old man turned away his head. "That wrecking forever is a bad business," said he.

"Yes, sir," said Jem, "it is so."

"And is there no way of escape?" said the old man.

"Our minister that used to preach at the Bethel, I'll tell you what he says. He says the Admiralty of heaven has got out a life-boat for poor souls. That life-boat is Jesus Christ. It was launched on Calvary, and has been round picking up poor souls lost in the stormy waters of sin ever since; and he used to tell us, 'Stretch out your arms to get in; and pray, Lord, save me, or I perish.'"

"And does he?" asked the man.

"I know about myself," said the boy, humbly. "I was going down, and cried to the Lord, and he had mercy on me, and took me in, and I've shipped with him ever since. He is a good Captain, the Captain of our salvation, sir. Won't you ship too?"

"I should be a poor hand for that craft," said the old man feelingly.

"Besides saving you, he'll fit you for his service," said Jem. "There's no difficulty on that account. He's good—very good."

"Thank ye, boy, a thousand times," said the old man, with a tear on his weather-beaten cheek. "I'm afraid we old sinners are too water-logged and sin soaked to be worth saving; but you young ones jump into the Life-boat before it's too late, and ship for the port of heaven. It's a blessed chance."

A great meeting has been held at Randalston, in Derry, of the tenants of Lord O'Neill. Resolutions were proposed demanding a great abatement of rent, and were declared carried; but the decision of the chairman was challenged. Thereafter another meeting of tenants was held, at which the action of the Nationalists was loudly condemned, and approval expressed of the kind treatment extended by the O'Neill family to their tenantry.

The effect of the Plan of campaign has been that a great falling off in all kinds of business has taken place, with the exception of that of the corn merchants, who have been kept busy in consequence of the great quantity of corn which the farmers are now pouring into the market, it is stated, for the purpose of clearing off the produce of their farms to avoid a seizure by the sheriff. Notwithstanding the great quantity of corn disposed of, the shopkeepers do not appear to have benefited much by the large amount of money paid away, the farmers preferring to keep a firm hold of the money. In cases where traders have obtained decrees against farmers, they are unable to have them executed, as should a seizure be made the landlord would have the first claim. Traders and shopkeepers are all most anxious for a settlement of the present state of things, as trade, at present, is almost at a standstill.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Good Ice.

The ice on the Charlotte Street Rink is in splendid condition for skating. Season tickets can be had at any of the bookstores.

Dr. Ryerson.

Of Toronto, will be at the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Saturday, Jan. 22nd, for consultation in Eye, ear, throat and nose cases.

Postponement.

Mr. Bean's lecture, which was to have been given in the Y.M.C.A. hall to-night, has been postponed for a short time. Due notice will be given.

"The Boys of Derry."

The Rev. E. A. Telfer, the celebrated lecturer, will lecture on the above subject in the George Street Methodist Church on Monday evening next, Jan. 10th. All should hear him.

"The Stars."

We understand that Mr. J. H. Long, of the Collegiate Institute, will repeat his lecture on "The Stars" in the school room of St. John's Church on the evening of Thursday, the 20th of January.

Sale of Magazines.

The auction sale of magazines and periodical of the Young Men's Christian Association will take place on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock sharp, in the rooms. A good opportunity to get reading matter for the year 1887 at a low figure.

Scott Act.

Another charge of a third offence against the provisions of the Scott Act has been laid against Mr. Geo. Lipsett, of Ashburnham, Inspector Darling being the prosecutor. The case will likely come before the court to-morrow.

Scott Act.

A writ of certiarari has been applied for in the Queen vs. Chamberlain case, but as yet it has not been granted. The Queen vs. Snowden case is still before the Court ready for argument. This makes four appeal cases now to be dealt with.

Evening Class.

Mr. Edward Duff, Brock street, is about to open an evening class for pupils attending the Institute, whose friends are desirous of supervision and assistance in the preparation of lessons. There are still a few vacancies to be filled. Private lessons in music, singing, drawing, classics, French, mathematics, writing, and English subjects.

SEE R. Fair's advertisement for cheap woollens.

Cleaned Out.

An Italian named Charles Rumgoy appeared at the Police Station this morning and requested P. C. Adams to give him a search warrant. He said he lived in his little shanty in Apsley. He had worked hard this fall in the vicinity threshing peas with a flail, being recompensed by getting every tenth bushel. He had taken over four hundred bushels from the pods. His share he had traded off for beef, a quantity of butter, potatoes, and sundry articles, which he carefully stowed away for the winter in his shanty. He left one day to hunt for work and when he came back he found that the house had been broken into (though he had secured it with three locks); the potatoes, beef, butter, a crosscut saw, several pairs of socks and mits and other articles had taken wings. He had suspicions of who took the goods. The name of Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, was mentioned as the proper person to attend to his case.

Oshawa and Bobcaygeon Railway.

The Oshawa Reformer says: "The best railway project we have yet heard proposed in the interests of the town is that in which some of our citizens are now moving for the construction of a railway from the Oshawa harbor to Bobcaygeon, in the heart of the lumber region, with power of extention to Kinmount, and thence in a due line north to Callender station on the C. P. R. at Lake Nipissing. This line would cross the ridges and the C. P. R. at a very favorable point, a little east of Raglan and will run south and east of Lake Scugog, through Cartwright and Manvers, along the wide and fertile valley of Pigeon Creek to Omemee and thence to Bobcaygeon. It will connect with the C. P. R. and Midland systems, and passing through good territory in the counties of Ontario, Durham, Victoria, Peterborough and Haliburton will enlist in its favor the parliamentary representatives of these counties and will receive municipal bonuses and command grants from both governments."

Low Temperature.

The Rev. V. Clemen i's self-registering thermometer recorded 17½ deg. below zero on Saturday night and 5 deg. below zero on Sunday night.

Pharmacy.

The result of the semi-annual examinations, held in December, at the Ontario College of Pharmacy has been published. Among the passmen in the final examination are S. P. Down and F. C. Spilsbury, of Peterborough.

Gone North.

This morning a party consisting of Messrs. Geo. G. Gladman, Geo. W. Rubidge, J. J. Lundy and R. H. Fortye left town to explore the northern districts and to inspect several shanties located there. Pork and bean festivity will be in order.

Opening Day.

The Collegiate Institute and public schools re-opened to-day. The number of new pupils entering the Collegiate Institute is forty-two, an extraordinarily large number. The Collegiate Institute staff have got into harness without delay. The organization was accomplished this forenoon and this afternoon the classes have all commenced work.

Mr. McGill has received a communication from Mr. J. S. Russell, secretary of the Ontario branch of the Royal Caledonia Curling Club, stating that Peterborough had been admitted to the rank of a city club and would be permitted to send two representative rinks to take part in the International Match instead of one. The rinks chosen are made up as follows:—J. McClelland, Dr. Boucher, H. M. Allen and T. P. Attrill skip; Geo. Walker, C. McGill, R. S. Davidson and W. G. Ferguson, skip. The rinks will go to Toronto to-morrow to be ready for the match on the following day.

The Presidents and Vice-Presidents match will be completed this afternoon. The Rinks skipped by Messrs. McNeil and Millar play off the final tie.

Messrs. Brown and Ferguson have been appointed to choose rinks to represent Peterborough in the Tankard competition.

Anniversary.

On Sunday the Rev. Mr. Telfer, of England, preached the anniversary sermons in the George Street Methodist Church. At the morning service he preached the sermon, taking for his text Song of Solomon iv., 16—"Awake, O north wind; and come thou south; blow upon my garden that the spices thereof may flow out." The sermon dealt with defining the signification of the terms "north winds" and "south winds." The north wind was the wind that spread destruction, that blew down the dead trees and scattered the dead branches, so that their deadening influence would be stopped and that vigorous trees might spring up in their places. The preacher held that the north wind spoken of in the the text had a similar duty. It was the besom of the Almighty. It swept the dead branches and felled the dead trees. When a soul became dead, putrid, and began to spread its deadening influence, then the north wind came and swept it away so that others might be spared contamination. Many instances drawn from history were given where the north wind had smitten the evil. The south wind was not the wind to smite. It blew from the warm, sunny south. It came to the north, released the earth from winters fetters. The stiff, frozen ground yielded and softened before her benigh influence; the fields were sown; the aoundant harvest was reaped. So with the south wind of the Scripture. It was the emblem of the spirit of the Holy Ghost. This south wind was now stirring softly in this House of God; it was moving silently among God's people. It did not need a loud voice to invoke it; it was not millions of miles away; it was present always. This beautiful south wind carrying fragrance and radiance with it softened the hard hearts. Before it the consciences of men were unlocked. Men saw their sins, they laid a full confession before the Lord; they repented and were contrite before the Most High. They received the gladdening pardon "go and sin no more." The warmth and sunshine of Christian living reared the seed sown in their hearts, and abundance came forth and the south wind came "that the spices thereof may flow out." Collections were taken up in behalf of the Trust Fund. To-night the Rev. Mr. Telfer will lecture on "The Boys of Derry."

BARGAINS in fur mantles and caps at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

To-night.

St. Andrew's Sunday School entertainment will take place in the Opera House. Every one should go. Tickets 25 and 3 cents.

Council Meeting.

A regular meeting of the Town Council will be held this evening. It is likely that this will be the last meeting of the old Council.

It May be Remarked.

—That the German Comedy Company played to small houses on Friday and Saturday nights.

—That for a variety show it was A 1.

—That mammas are glad and the children don't feel gay.

—That the schools are open again.

—That the extraordinary acquisition of new pupils at the institute has caused comment.

—That the snow ploughs are doing good work.

It is Probable

—That the "Boys of Derry" will be listened to by a large audience to-night.

—That the Orange district meeting will be well attended to-morrow.

—That the International curlers will come home with feathers in their caps.

—That George Rubidge and the rest will have a picnic up north.

—That the Kirk entertainment will be an interesting affair.

—That Mr. Rumgoy isn't likely to find his potatoes, etc.

—That the curlers will agitate for the big bonspell.

—That dealers in brooms won't object.

REVIEW.

THE CANADIAN METHODIST MAGAZINE.—The twenty-fifth volume of this popular magazine opens with a brilliant number. The numerous cuts accompanying Lady Brassey's "In the Trades, the Tropics, and the Roaring Forties," which will run through the year, are in the highest style of the engraver's art. The editor begins a series entitled "Our Own Country," which promises to be of great patriotic interest, with a fully illustrated paper on his recent trip across the continent. Dr. T. Bowman Stephenson, late delegate from the British to the Canadian Conference, also begins an illustrated series "At the Antipodes," describes his observations in Australia, Tasmania, etc. "The Preacher's Daughter," a story of Yorkshire Methodism, by Mrs. A. E. Barr, whose strongly written "Jan Vedder's Wife" attracted such attention, begins with a chapter of absorbing interest. Dr. German, one of the (Canada) Superintendents of the Methodist Church, has a vigorous article on "The Sunday School as a Centre." Also a brief article on "First Principles of Faith." The Rev. Dr. Cook's vigorous article entitled "Why I am a Methodist," will attract much attention. Dr. Burwash writes well on a subject with which he is familiar—the Science of Education. A variety of New Year's reading and poems enhance the seasonable interest of this number. The last year has greatly increased the circulation of this magazine. Its fine announcement for 1887 should lead to a still greater increase.

NEWS NOTES.

The jubilee of the Queen's reign will be celebrated throughout India on February 6th.

A Kingston grocer was fined forty dollars on Friday for selling liquor to boys ten years old.

Ontario Legislature Summoned.

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—It is officially announced that the Ontario Legislature has been summoned to meet on Thursday, February 10th, for the despatch of business.

To Visit Montreal.

Governor-General's Foot Guards will visit this city on May 24th. It is said that a monster demonstration will be held here to celebrate the Queen's jubilee.

An Explosion.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The street car strikers yesterday afternoon attempted to blow up a dummy on the Geary street cable road. The woodwork of the dummy was wrecked, but no one was injured. The explosion was heard at a distance of several blocks, and the windows were rattled.

Shipping Coal to England.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A New Orleans special says that Kentucky cannel coal, which for some time has been shipped to England in increasing quantities, has become in such demand there that an English company with $2,500,000 capital has been formed to develop the cannel coal deposits in Breckenridge county, Kentucky.

Lost With all Hands.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 8.—Word has just been received here from Cape Henry, Va., of the loss of the German ship Elixabeth from Bremen with her entire crew. It happened at 2 o'clock this morning near the little Island life-saving station, fourteen miles south of Cape Henry. Not less than twenty and probably more, lives were lost, among them five life-saving men, who, in the discharge of their duty, were drowned.

Bad Girls.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 10.—Della Corbett, Ella Kountsewan and Jennie Quay, all under 20 years of age, are in gaol at Lewiston, charged with murdering John Ackley, a coal miner, while out riding on Christmas Day. The charge is that while Ackley was helplessly drunk the girls inflicted certain horrible injuries upon him, and threw him out of the vehicle. He died next day. The details became known through Della Corbett's boasting of the affair to some of her friends.

West Durham Re-count.

The application for a re-count of the ballots polled in the late election in West Durham came up before Judge Benson on Saturday morning. It was found that the re-count could not be allowed, in consequence of the time specified by the statute in which the application should be made having elapsed before the necessary papers were filed. There were strong reasons for believing that had not this unfortunate oversight occurred the result would have been similar to the outcome of the re-count on Mr. Dowling's election in South Renfrew. Even yet an application to a higher court may grant the re-count. Dr. McLaughlin's friends may sing low yet a while.—Port Hope Times.

A Careful Soldier.

Two little boys the other day were discussing the patriotism of their respective sires, both of whom had seen several in the civil war and have been pensioned by the Government, one for leaving an arm on a Virginia battlefield and the other for a spinal injury received at the front. "My father," proudly exclaimed one of the youthful disputants, "fought and fought till his arm was shot off." "Oh, my father knew better than that," answered the other; "he just lay down on the ground out of the way of the bullets when there was any fightin,' and he wouldn't have got one bit hurt if one of the other soldiers, who was shot, hadn't fell on the top of him." One might like to examine the records of the commissioner of pensions and see how the father's version of his injury agreed with that given by his loquacious little boy.—Boston Post.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

ANARCHIST MEETING.

Violent Denunciations of Civil and Military Authorities.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—"A grand mass meeting of the International Working People's Association" was announced for yesterday afternoon at Zepf's Hall—the old Socialists headquarters, About 100 men and one woman were present. The speeches were made entirly in German, not one word of English being spoken. A man named Otto acted as Chairman. Previous to the beginning of the speeches, he stated that the names of none of the speakers would be announced, for reasons which the audience would readily understand, and cautioned his hearers not to mention the names of those who might address them to any one unless he was a "brother."

The questions discussed were: "How Shall We Agitate?" and "The Increase of Militia and Creation of a Military Station in the very Vicinity of Chicago." These subjects were soon lost sight of, however, and the speakers proceeded to preach in violent terms against the police department, the courts, militia and other representatives of the law, as well as against capitalists, rich corporations and the "capitalistic press." During the meeting two men passed around through the audience, offering for sale copies of the lives of Johann Most and August Reinkskopf, and also the speeches made by the condemned anarchists.

IN FAVOR OF PEACE.

What is Said at the British, Austrian and Russian Legations at Washington.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A Washington despatch to the World says: "There is interest in the question of whether there is to be peace or war in Europe during the coming year. The prevailing opinion throughout the foreign legations in Washington inclines to the view that peace will prevail. The British Minister, on being asked the question whether there was to be peace or war in Europe this year, replied with great emphasis: 'Peace, most decidedly peace. There is no occasion for war. I am confident that peace will prevail.' The Charge d'Affaires at the Austrian legation said: 'I believe there will be peace.' No one who is familiar with European politics would say that the tendency of affairs at present inclines to war. Why, just think what a general European war at the present time would mean. Austria has 1,200,000 men ready to be put into the field; Germany has 1,400,000; France has 1,500,000, and Russia has over 1,000,000 ready. The responsibility of sending these great bodies of men into motion against each other would involve a more awful responsibility than any statesman in Europe could at present be induced to bear.' At the Russian Legation there was greater reserve shown than at any of the houses of the foreign colony. The Russian Minister, Baron de Struve, begged to be excused from any personal expression of opinion at the present time. He stated that he had no opinions to communicate. It was said, however, at the legation by one of the Minister's secretaries, that they were in constant communications with their Government, and that their belief was in favor of peace.

SERGEANT BALLANTINE DEAD.

The Life of the Lawyer who Received the Largest Fee on Record.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—William Ballantine, the well known sergeant-at-law, is dead, aged 75. He was born in London in 1812, and was called to the bar in 1834. For some years he practised in the criminal courts, in 1856 was created a sergeant-at-law, and was engaged in many cases of considerable importance. He received a patent of precedence from Lord Westbury. Amongst other notable cases he was counsel for the claimant in his original suit to acquire the Tichborne baronetcy and estates in 1871 In 1869 he was appointed by vote of the House of Commons, to conduct, in conjunction with Mr. Barry, the Irish attorney-general, the legal proceedings against the mayor of Cork, Mr. O'Sullivan, who had made himself conspicious by the violent expression of his political sentiments on various occasions, and had eulogized, at a public banquet, the Fenian O'Farrell, who had attempted to assassinate the Duke of Edinburgh in Australia. The House of Commons ordered a prosecution to be instituted, but Mr. O'Sullivan resigned his office, and consequently the affair came to an end. In 1875 Sergant Ballantine received a brief to go "special" to India to defend a native prince, Mulhar Rao, the Gaikwar of Baroda, charged with an attempt to poison Col. Phayre, the British resident. The retainer was 5,000 guineas, and a further scale of fees was arranged, being estimated at not less than a further sum of 5,000 guineas. This honorarium is probably the largest ever paid to counsel. The commission which tried the case was divided in opinion, the native members holding the Gaikwar's guilt not proved, and the result was an acquittal, but the Imperial Government deposed the Gaikwar on the ground of incapacity and misconduct. In 1882 Sergeant Ballantine published his autobigraphy under the title of "Experiences of a Barrister's Life," which went through many editions and was full of interesting incidents.

Suicide in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Jan. 10.—A sad case of suicide occurred this morning in L. R. Baridous' drug store, corner of St. Denis and St. Catherines streets. A young man named Henry Verner of Ogdensburg, N. Y., cut his throat from ear to ear with a razor. He was the son of a well known chemist, who last year removed his business from Quebec to Ogdensburg. He was a very close student and was warned against over working, but he continued at it until he commenced to show signs of mental aberration. He was about being sent home when he took his life.

Held for Manslaughter.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 10.—The grand jury of Pointe Coupee have found true bills for manslaughter against all the officers of the steamer J. M. White for causing the death of 65 persons who perished when that steamer was burned.

HEAVY overstockings and gaiters for everyone at the Golden Lion.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

WHAT THE SPANIARDS WANT.

MADRID, Jan. 10.—The Ministry has received a deputation from the Basque provinces, praying to be allowed to retain administrative, municipal and financial authority, and declaring that to be the best means to prevent a revival of the Carlist and Republican agitation. The Government is inclined to grant the petition.

AN INCURSION REPULSED.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A despatch from Belgrade says: "Russia has sent 6,000 rifles to Cettinje. An attempt by an armed band of Montenegrins to make an excursion into Servia was fustrated by the vigilance of the frontier guards. It is rumored that Russia will endeavor to incite another invasion, the object being the overthrow of King Milan, and put upon the throne a king of Russia's selection."

FIRE IN A PALACE.

MADRID, Jan. 10.—The Alcazar palace, at Toledo, forty-four miles from Madrid, and occupied by a military academy and a library, was destroyed by fire to-day. Several persons are said to have perished in the flames.

A GOVERNOR IN TROUBLE.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Mahommed Tarwarkhau, Governor of Herat, is detained under surveillance at Cabul pending an inquiry into the disposition of certain missing revenues of the province, with the custody of which he was charged and which it is alleged he has appropriated to himself.

A COMMON BALKAN POLICY.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The Frankfort Zeitung says that Turkey has joined Germany and Russia in the adoption of a common Balkan policy, and that they are trying to induce France to co-operate.

TORPEDOES FOR ITALY.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The Italian Government has sent orders to the firm of Schwartzkopf for torpedoes amounting in value to $1,200,000.

TURKEY AND THE BULGARIANS.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—It is stated that the Turkish Government will refuse to receive the Bulgarian delegates.

EXPELLING THE FRENCHMEN.

BERLIN, Jan 10.—The German Government has forbidden Frenchmen belonging to territorial armies to stay in Alsace-Lorraine longer than a few days, some [illegible] France, have given preference for French workmen.

ACCIDENT TO A SPANISH PRINCESS.

MADRID, Jan. 10.—A carriage containing the Infanta Isabel and three aides, who were following the huntamen at El Pardo, broke down and toppled over into a ditch. A lackey was sent to get assistance. In the meantime the Royal Family became intensely alarmed at the absence of the Infanta. After several hours search the Infanta Isabel and her companions were found in a woeful plight beside the broken carriage at 10 o'clock at night. The accident becomes interesting when it is remembered that stock gamblers recently conspired to steal the infant King Alphonso. The Infanta Isabel is a sister of the late King.

PRINCE ALEXANDER'S DENIAL.

DUBLIN, Jan. 10.—Prince Alexander of Battenberg, telegraphs from Darmstadt a denial that his proposed visit to Egypt is undertaken in accordance with the desire of the Czar.

AFTER THE EDITORS.

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—A circular to the Irish Police has been issued from Dublin Castle, requiring the names of the editors, proprietors and writers of all the Nationalist papers in the country, especially of those who are Members of Parliament.

GLADSTONE AND CHURCHILL.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Mr. Gladstone writes saying that Lord Churchill's resignation was justifiable, and adds:—"I myself favour more economy in the army and navy expenditures."

THE ENGLISH CABINET.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The composition of the new Cabinet was announced this evening. Lord Salisbury is Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs; Mr. W. H. Smith, First Lord of the Treasury; Mr. G. J. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Mr. Edward Stanhope, Secretary of State for War; Sir Henry Holland, Secretary of State for the Colonies. There is no change in the other Cabinet offices.

THE LIVERPOOL CONTEST.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Mr. Ralph Neville, a barrister, has been chosen as the Gladstonian candidate for the vacant Liverpool seat in the House of Commons.

ALLIANCE AGAINST FRANCE.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—La France declares that it has authentic information that Germany, Italy and Spain have formed an alliance against France, and that ex-Marahas Bazaine is among the prime movers. The story is discredited here.

WILL NOT RETURN.

BUCHAREST, Jan. 11.—A telegram received here states that Prince Alexander of Battenberg has informed the Austro-Hungarian Minister of Foreign Affairs that he will not return to Bulgaria, even should a powerful party recall him.

MR. SEXTON BANQTETTED.

BELFAST, Jan. 11.—Mr. Thos. Sexton, M. P., was banquetted this evening by 900 friends and constituents. Letters expressing good wishes were received from Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Morley and other leaders who were unable to attend. Mr. Gladstone, in his letter, said his physician had forbidden him to take part in such festivals. Mr. Sexton in responding to the toast, dwelt upon the importance to the Nationalists of their electoral victory in Belfast at the most critical point of Irish history. He said he was sure that they would respond with all their hearts to the appeal made by Mr. Gladstone in his letter, to endeavour to efface all memory of the recent riots. "With regard to the political present," added Mr. Sexton, "the case for the Government is gloomy, but for Irishmen it is splendidly hopeful."

A Wonderful Shot.

The man who put ten bullets in succession, inside the circumference of a Milwaukee girl's finger ring, at fifteen paces, was a pretty good shot, but he wasn't half so wise as the billous man who put ten of Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" into his system in five days, and on the sixth walked ten miles "just because he felt so well." If your blood is out of order, if you feel low spirited and "blue," you will find these Little Liver Pills just what you need.

TO SECURE HARMONY.

THREATS are sometimes used successfully to influence individuals, but rarely in the case of nations. They are far more likely to excite a feeling of resistance to such attempt at coercion.

The Globe is not likely to benefit its party by its editorial advice as to "How to secure harmony," in which its plan for promoting concord in Canada is that the people of the Dominion should entrust Mr. Blake with the management of their affairs. With cynical effrontery it ascribes the friction, which it is constantly laboring to aggravate, to the fact that the central government has not been in accord with the Provincial Administrations. It is openly threatened that the Provinces under Reform guidance will not consent to have harmonious relations with the authorities at Ottawa unless they are also Reformers. A threat is even held out to the business men of Nova Scotia that they shall have no quiet times till the Nova Scotian Reform politicians have their friends in power at Ottawa.

Now the true way to establish lasting harmony in a country, with a Government like ours, is for the different authorities to attend to the several duties laid upon them, and not seize opportunities for bickering and intrusion. It is among the first and most important duties of a Provincial administration to see that the rights of the Province are respected. But in Canada our Provincial rights are guaranteed by our written constitution. Differences will naturally arise as to the interpretation of this document, but there are means of obtaining an authoritative decision in such cases, so there is no necessity for screaming hysterics or ceaseless railing, like that of a litigious, quarrelsome busybody, who is always at loggerheads with every neighbor and everyone with whom he happens to have dealings. A man with a well balanced mind calmly insists upon his rights and maintains them with dignity and self-respect, in the courts if necessary, but is not everlastingly picking quarrels and railing. So can the various Provinces and the Dominion maintain their respective rights without any [illegible] exhibition. But Mr. Mowat, while on the one hand he is constantly intruding upon the sphere of municipal and local self-government, seems on the other hand to think that it is the height of statesmanship for a Provincial Premier to be incessantly nagging at the Dominion authorities and to be seeking occasions to pick a quarrel with them, as he did when he begged and emplored the Minister of Justice to contest the validity of his Factory Act. So with his allies elsewhere; in the Northwest they rebelled, in Manitoba they warned off settlers, in Quebec they threaten vengeance for the execution of a criminal, in Nova Scotia they advocate secession, and so forth. That all this clamour is from no especial regard for Provincial rights, but is merely for the sake of attacking their political opponents by any method available, is evident from the fact that when the Reformers were in power at Ottawa they took the opposite view and had no hesitation in curtailing Provincial action. As the Globe with strange effrontery puts it, there was not them harmony because Reformers were not in power in several of the Provinces. In those days Mr. Blake more than once gave a wholesale scolding to Provinces for persistently invading Provincial jurisdiction, and he interfered far more frequently and generally with Provincial legislation than either of the Conservative Administrations. Even with friendly Provincial Governments he took a very different view as to the autonomy of the Provinces, rapping Mr. Mowat himself over the knuckles scores of times with very little ceremony. The Reform leaders are in fact only consistent in their ceaseless craving for power, and in their incessant practice of scolding the people who will not trust them with it.

As to these threats of the Globe that there shall be no harmony or peace in Canada till the people are worried into placing its friends in office, they should be sufficient to ensure their rejection. Patriotic Reformers even will see the wisdom and prudence of firmly resenting such an attempt at intimidation. In private life those who weakly yield for the sake of peace to the demands of a blackmailer, invariably find reason to regret their cowardice, and this is even more manifest in the case of nations. It is true, no doubt, that there would not be rebellion or secession if the Reformers were in office, for the Conservatives would not try to avenge themselves on the country for withdrawing its confidence, and the Grits would cease from their crimes when then had gained the booty they were aiming to obtain by such means. But would not the price be too high to pay for such a shameful peace? Besides the utter sacrifice of manliness that would be involved, the people of Canada would not, even for the sake of peace, consent to entrust with the management of their affairs the men who would have refused to construct our great railway, trusting to foreigners for access to our own territory, who would have systematically given foreign industries the preference over those of Canada, and whose whole policy would be the reverse of that under which our Dominion is making such progress.

"THE BOYS OF DERRY."

A Lecture in the George Street Methodist Church by the Rev. Mr. Telfer.

The Rev. Mr. Telfer, of England, delivered a lecture in the George Street Methodist Church on Monday evening on "Th' Boys of Derry." There was a very good attendance. Mr. Geo. Hilliard, M. P., occupied the chair. The Rev. I. Tovell, pastor of the church, led in prayer. The Chairman then introduced the lecturer.

Mr. TELFER said that the Irish were a warm-hearted, generous race. He trusted that Canadians still felt an interest in the old land. The Irish made good Methodists. It was seldom that they found a dullard among the Irish Methodists. The early history of Ireland was very obscure. One historian said that the traditionary history of Ireland went back to B. C. 1499. The historian might have said 1500, but he was a very exact historian. He briefly sketched some of the traditions, among which was one that the first Queen of Ireland was a neice of Noah. A real Irishman was always a boy—he never got old. Referring to a trip he once made to Ireland, he described the beauties of the lakes of Killarney and some of the peculiarties of Irish dress and manners. In 423 Patrick, a Scotchman, went to Ireland to convert the Irish to Christianity. After studying on the Continent he was ordained and returned to Ireland. At that time there was no Pope, there was a Bishop or Patriarch of Rome. This Bishop sent thirty missionaries to Ireland, including Patrick, and Ireland, almost first of the European lands, became subject to the truths of Christianity. In the reign of Henry III, of England, the Pope handed Ireland over to England, and then was laid the foundation of the hatreds of the races. In our times the Protestants were so supine that they were losing their heritage. Some Irishmen opposed the union, and rebellion ensued, causing bloodshed. After describing a massive cathedral built in Ireland, he said he was glad that in Peterborough they were using stone for the foundation of their buildings and brick for the superstructure, erecting buildings that would compare favorably with those of any country under the sun. Londonderry was a beautiful city. Charles II. had gone to his account he who had persecuted the Scotch because they would not worship God according to a certain form. Many of the Scotch fled to the north of Ireland and found a refuge there. James II became an avowed Catholic, contrary to the constitution, and he welcomed a legate of the Pope as the representative of a temporal sovereign. They were trying to have a legate similarly received in England now, but he did not think they would succeed. James tried to make a compact to hand Ireland over to France, an infamous intrigue, intended for the purpos of subjugating Protestantism in England. James I and to flee to France, and he appointed Tyrconnel his agent in Ireland. This man displaced Protestants from offices and made it a penal offence to be a Protestant. A regiment of Protestant Irish was formed and marched into Derry. The Protestants became alarmed and feared a massacre. Houses were barricaded and many took refuge in Derry, which has since been known among Roman Catholics as the heart of the Black North. If James had succeeded with the aid of France he would have turned the whole tide of Protestantism, and England might to day have been a poor, priest-ridden country, instead of the strong nation and bulwark of Protestantism that she is. In Dec., 1688, the Council of Derry discussed the question of submitting to King James, who had sent the Redshanks of Antrim to demand the keys. Fifteen or sixteen apprentice youths met to hear the discussion of the Council. When they saw the head of the troops approaching the boys rushed to the gates and closed them, one of them putting in his arm to hold them till the bars were placed. A flag of truce was sent from King James' troops, but a 'Prentice boy, Morrison, mounted the wall and called for the big gun, and the 1,100 soldiers of James ran. The King (James) sent word that Derry must be taken at all hazards, and 10,000 men marched against it. The seige began in May and lasted 105 days. In the history of British arms there was nothing grander than the defence of Derry. The men in Derry were Christians first and Protestants after, and prayed to God for aid. The trouble to-day was that men were Protestants first and politicians after. Political partizans were everlastingly playing into the hands of Rome. He described the terrors of the seige—the havoc of the shells, the horrors of starvation and the lack of water—and the sorties by brave men. Many interesting incidents were related; and the relief of the city was graphically described. The events in Ireland following the relief of Derry were briefly described, concluding with the battle of the Boyne. Protestantism had fought so many grand battles and so many victories that they could afford to be generous. They should cultivate the spirit of the Master, and he hoped that yet the veil would be lifted from the minds of Catholics. They should stand by their principles, stand for freedom, stand for Christ. He concluded by reciting a poem of his own composition on the subject of his lecture, and resumed his seat amid applause.

The Rev. I. Tovell moved a vote of thanks, which was seconded by Mr. John Bird and carried by a standing vote accompanied by applause.

Mr. TELFER acknowledged the vote, and moved a vote of thanks to the Chairman.

Mr. Tovell seconded the motion, which was carried.

The National Anthem was sung and Mr. Telfer pronounced the benediction.

A diamond valued at $45,000 was deposited at the Tombs Police Court, New York, on Saturday, as bail by a saloon keeper accused of violation of the excise law.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the ourden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of afny medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d84

Another Strike.

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—A general tie up of the consolidated horse railroad occurred this morning. The roads comprise the Middlesex and Highland roads, connecting the Malden, Everett, Charlestown, Somerville and Highland district with the Boston highland district. The exact grievances of the men is not known, but it is believed to be the failure of President Powers to keep his part of the agreement recently made with the men. A Charlestown car started this morning and several Shaumut avenue cars passed over the line since that manned by non-union drivers and conductors, who are protected by policemen.

A VARIETY OF OPINIONS IN REGARD TO THE CAVANAGH CASE.

The Last Long Meeting of the Old Council — Councillor Rutherford's Valedictory — Members Pronounce His Usefulness — The Street and Bridge Inspectorship.

A regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday evening. There were present: His Worship the Mayor and Councillors Hartley, Kendry, Menzies, Moore, Rutherford, Yelland, McNeil. McNaugton, Davidson, Kelly and Cahill.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communications were read:—

From E. Thompson, Wm. Breckenridge, T. H. Pratt, W. C. Downer, Geo. McBurney, T.M.D. Croly and John Robertson applying for the position of Street and Bridge Inspector.—Committee on Appointments.

From the Secretary of State stating that an application to have Jane Billings released from the Reformatory had been complied with.—Received.

From Mr. Daly applying for pecuniary assistance.—Mr. McNaughton with power to act.

From A. McNeil asking remission of taxes, as he is now 82 yeass of ago and is out of work.—Granted.

From J. P. Metheral, J. P. Britton and Thos. Armstrong applying for the position of Street and Bridge Inspector.—Committee on Appointments.

From Thos. Coe asking for a pro rata rebate of buther's license.—Granted.

From E. B. Edwards, Town Solicitor, asking the Council to define his position in regard to the enforcement of the Scott Act. A few days ago the Chief of Police had changed a complaint as laid for a third offence to a second offence and withdrew the prosecution from his hands though it was against his views as to the proper course to pursue. He did not wish to unduly press a case against any particular violator but if he was to attend any case for the town he would like to see adopted and adhered to such o straightforward, consistent course as would result in treating all alike, and so that it would be alike beyond his power or that of any council to interfere in it. He wanted to know if it was the Council's wish to make money out of it or to strictly enforce the law.—Received.

ACCOUNTS.

FIRE WATER AND LIGHT.

Councillor RUTHERFORD, Chairman of the Fire Water and Light Committee said that he had no written report to-night but in view of the fact that a good deal had been done toward the equipment of the Fire Department and that this would be the last time he would be present during the year he might be permitted to say a few words. A hook and ladder waggon, now in the hands of Messrs Fitzgerald & Stanger, was nearly completed. A room had been made for the engineer by petitioning off part of the Collector's office, thus increasing the capacity of the engine house. Mr. Roberts had done the work satisfactorily. In addition to this, the place had been cleaned up and was now in a very presentable condition. The firemen's rooms also had been furnished in such a manner as to give satisfaction to the firemen. The Department was now in an efficient state and was a credit to the town. There was now 2,000 feet of first-class hose, and in a case of emergency, 2,250 feet would be available The new hook and ladder waggon, new salvage waggon and other additions rendered the department quite efficient. His successor to the chairmanship of this committee would have an easy task. He had fought for these improvements for four or five years and he had at last got them. He wished here to state that although he may have had differences with councillors around this board he left it without the least hard feeling toward anyone. He believed the council of 1886 had done its best to further the interests of the town; for his own part he had done his uttermost to shape everything he did to the town's advantage. A great cry had been raised on account of high taxes—and not without reason—but this was caused from loss of revenue and over estimates rather than by extravagance. If the council of 1887 were anyway economical the taxes would not exceed 12½ mills on the dollar. Indeed he did not know, in his long experience, of any council of Peterborough's being extravagant, and he could point to the excellent financial position of the town as a convincing proof of careful husbandry on the part of 21 prudent councils of which he had been a member. The town had all the advantages of modern conveniences — electric light, gas, water works, fire apparatus and other things, and with all the rate was exceedidgly low. He thanked the council for their patient hearing.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—Resolved, that this Council while bowing to the popular will as expressed at the polls, desire to place on record their very sincere regret of the loss to the corporation of the services of Messrs. Rutherford and McClelland, who have rendered valuable services to the town in their respective positions as chairmen of of the Fire, Water and Light, Property and Charity Committees.

Councillor CAHILL paid a tribute to Councillor Rutherford's ability and usefulness in the administration of the town's affairs. Though differing with him on many questions, he was sincerely sorry to have the town lose the services of so capable a man. He could state here that whatever might be said of Councillor Rutherford he never knew him to shirk any duty imposed upon him and that he was always punctual as chairman of committees. He regretted the loss of Councillors McClelland and Rutherford.

Mayor STEVENSON commended the manner in which Councillor Rutherford had raised the efficiency of the Fire Department. In his humble opinion Councillor Rutherford had served the town to the best of his ability. He was sorry to see him leave the Council.

Councillor YELLAND said that it wasn't his fault that Councillor Rutherford had been left at home. (Laughter.) He would rather have seen one of the others left.

Councillor DAVIDSON—It was Moore you were after.

Councillor YELLAND—No it wasn't; it was Mr. Douglass, if you want to know.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON—He's too solid a man for that.

Councillor YELLAND concluded and a standing vote unanimously declared the motion carried.

PAY LISTS.

Councillor DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Councillor MCNAUGHTON—That pay list No. 1, amounting to $11.50, be paid, and that in future these orders be paid on the order of the Chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee, wh will certify to such orders until the appointment of a Street and Bridge Committee.—Carried.

THE PRESS.

Councillor MOORE moved, seconded by Councillor YELLAND—That the thanks of the Council for 1886 are due, and are hereby tendered to the town daily papers and the reporters, for the reports of the meetings of the Council published for the benefit of the public.—Carried.

WHO WAS TO BLAME?

Councillor YELLAND brought up the matter of disposing with Mr. Edward's communication. He was of opinion that the question should be settled right here.

Councillor HARTLEY wanted to know whether this law was simply a money making affair or not? If it was not he did not believe in Chief Cooper making only pretentions of carrying it out. If the law was to be enforced he wanted to see it enforced. He did not believe in currying favor with anybody. The Chief had no right to moderate the charge at all. Instructions should be given to him to carry it out, and if he did not the Council should give him his ticket of leave.

Councillor KENDRY said that the difficulty arose from a difference of opinion in regard to who had the right to conduct the cases, for the town. This was the fist one so far as he knew and trouble had arisen. Was it the place of the Town Solicitor or the Chief of Police to conduct the cases? Definate instructions should be given so as to prevent trouble in the future. In his opinion the Town Solicitor should be given the full power and whatever he did the Court should be satisfied with.

The MAYOR agreed with Councillor Kendry.

Councillor CAHILL had come to the conclusion that Mr. Edward's communication was a silly piece of business. He had come to the Council asking them what the law was.

Councillor MENZIES—Let him look up the by-law and he'll find out what his duties are.

Councillor CAHILL continuing said that there was a good deal of humbug in the communication and the purpose it was not difficult to see through. Was Mr. Edwards acting for the Scott Act Association? Heretofore offences were charged from third to second and no one said a word.

Councillor YELLAND—I beg your pardon, sir!

Councillor CAHILL—Well, not in this Council. Continuing he said that it appeared to him that Councillor Hartley's wrath was entirely misplaced. Here we had a Town Solicitor acting for the town. If he had done his duty he would have proved that third conviction; but instead of that he picked up his hat and walked off out of court. And then then the whole blame was saddled on Chief Cooper. It wasn't Chief Cooper's business to prove the second conviction. There was the records of the court in black and white. Then Chief Cooper was blamed because it was not proven.

Councillor HARTLEY—He took the blame.

Councillor CAHILL—Well, what of that. If the Town Solicitor had gone on, what could the Chief of Police have done? It was the town's case. The town did not tell him to stop the proceedings.

Councillor KENDRY took the position that if the case was the town's case the Chief had done wrong.

The MAYOR said that he had never been consulted in the matter. The first word he got from Mr. Edwards was the communication he had received and which was before them. He understood all along that Mr. Edwards was acting for the Scott Act Association.

Councillor YELLAND, in a lengthy speech, charged Chief Cooper with not carrying out the law properly. If the Mayor had done his duty he would have suspended the Chief of Police —

The MAYOR—Listen to me for one moment Mr. Yelland. I consulted the Town Solicitor on the matter and I found that I had not the power to suspend Chief Cooper for what he did.

Councillor MOORE thought a good many mistakes had been made in regard to this prosecution by both Mr. Edwards and Mr. Cooper. But it struck him that much fault lay with the Police Magistrate. (Hear hear.) He claimed that neither Mr. Edwards nor Mr. Cooper had any right to interfere if the Magistrate had insisted that the court records be produced, which were then at hand, to prove the previous conviction. He held that the Chief of Police was simply an agent and had no legal right to interfere, and that his objection might have been overruled by the Magistrate. Neither Mr. Edwards nor the chief could have done anything if he had adopted this course. One thing was certain someone was to blame. None of these concerned were entirely to blame. If could not be exactly fixed on any of them. He hoped that this interference would end here that no more trouble might arise.

The Council then adjourned.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

Forewarned

of danger by the condition of your blood, as shown in pimples, blotches, boils, or discolorations of the skin; or by a feeling of languor, induced, perhaps, by inactivity of the stomach, liver, and kidneys, you should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will renew and invigorate your blood, and cause the vital organs to properly perform their functions. If you suffer from

Rheumatism,

or Neuralgia, a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla will relieve and cure you. Alice Kendall, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass., writes: "I have been troubled with Neuralgia, pain in the side, and weakness, and have found greater relief from Ayer's Sarsaparilla than from any other remedy." J. C. Tolman, 336 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "In no other remedy have I ever found such a happy relief from Rheumatism as in with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, there need be no fear of Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Catarrh, Liver troubles, or any of the diseases arising from Scrofulous taints in the blood. Geo. Garwood, Big Springs, Ohio, writes: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been used in my family for a number of years. I was a constant sufferer from but Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a permanent cure. Seven years ago my wife was troubled with Goitre: two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured her, and she has never had any return of the disease. I regard this preparation as the best medicine in use for the blood." B. Scott Act.

Dyspepsia,

At the Police Court this morning R. D. Tully, of Warsaw, was charged by Inspector Darling with committing a first offence against the provisions of the Scott Act. He pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and some-thing over $4 costs.

The Queen vs. Lipsett case was adjourned till Monday, on account of the defendant being ill.

Scott Act.

The young man McFarlane, who was fined for an infraction of the Scott Act, in conjunction with Condon, was arrested this morning by P. C. McGinty for the non-payment of the fine. He understood that in his absence Condon had been fined, but was informed that in order to be sure both had been fined. It was explained that if he had appeared at the trial and explained that he had nothing to do with the business, only as an agent of Condon, he would have got off. It is understood that the fine and costs, amounting to over $60, will be paid.

It May be Remarked.

—That the "applicant army" all want to be Street and Bridge Inspector.

—That only one out of the ranks can get the position.

—That it will be safe to predict cold weather on the night of the appointment—for some.

—That Councillor McNaughton celebrated the final meeting of the old Council by coming out in broadcloth.

—That he looked aldermanic.

—That the toboggan slide is having fine weather for business.

—That the tobogganers take advantage of this advantage.

—That Terry Smith and the snow-ploughs are popular.

—That the Vice President's side can crow.

Concert.

A concert was given in Bradburn's Opera House on Monday evening by the young people of St. Andrew's Church in aid of the Church Sunday School. There was a respectably large attendance. The evening's entertainment opened with a tableau entitled "Two sides of Life." The first part of the programme consisted of songs from Miss Annie Howden, of Millbrook, Miss Vair, Mr. Newbold, a violin trio by the Misses Edmison and Mr. J. A. Doucet, and a piano solo by Miss Caron, organist at St. Andrew's Church. Miss Howden's song, in this part was very prettily sung, eliciting enthusiastic applause. The violin trio, too, had an agreeable effect. The audience showed their appraciation of the numbers taken by Miss Vair, Miss Caron and Mr. Newbold, in liberal applause. In the second part the Misses Edmison and Mr. Doucet gave another trio (two violins and piano) which was well received. Mr. Newbold's song in the second part seemed to take the audience by storm. He was applauded long and loudly. Miss Howden gave another song in a captivating manner which called forth applause and an encore, to which she was compelled to respond by singing another. The Misses Lech's pianoforte duet drew forth lively plaudits. No. 15, the second last on the programme, was a vocal duet (Soprano and Contralto) by Misses Vair and Strickland, entitled "By the Pale Moon." It was given in a creditable manner. The tableau "Save our money," "Three Graces," "Eastern Scene" and "Good Night," were all very pleasingly put on. Those having charge of the concert desire to thank Mr. Parker, who played the accompaniments, Mr. Doucet, and others who gave their services voluntarily.

BONA FIDE bargains at the Golden Lion this month. R. FAIR.

A Daring Leader.

The Toronto public library has secured a manuscript diary, supposed to have been written by an officer in the 42nd Highlanders (Black Watch), who took part in the war against the [illegible] in the year terminating with the eventful one of 1759. The following extract, published in the Mail, refers to Major Robert Rogers, an ancestor of the Rogers family of Peterborough and Ashburnham:—"The first date given is January 16th, 1757. At that time the author was stationed in Fort William Henry with his regiment, Major Eyre being in command of the fort. Life there during that winter had been very dull and dreary until Capt Robert Rogers, who played such a prominent part in the frontier warfare of that period, made a successful reconnoissance towards Ticonderoga. He and his men went as far as within three miles of that fort, and succeeded in capturing a number of sle gis with their drivers. Some, however, in the same convoy managed to escape, which as the sequel showed was a most unfortunate thing for Rogers and his men. The French who escaped hastened back to Fort Ticonderoga, gave the alarm, and a detachment of troops was sent out to capture the daring New England Rangers. The enemy ambushed on the side of a mountain, opposite to another mountain, the trail which the Rangers had to take being in the valley between. The plan worked well, but the French had miscalcuated the determination of the New Hampshire man leading the Britishers. Rogers gave the word to retire to the other hill, and this was done in good order. Here the combatants were on even terms, and although the French outnumbered the British five to one and made several attempts to turn their flanks, they were unsuccessful every time. The writer gives a graphic description of the fight, and says that Rogers and his men had a splendid advantage by wisely acting on the defensive. The regulars came on in platoons which enabled flue shooting "at such clusters." The Rangers succeeded in beating off their assailants and returned to Fort William Henry with reduced numbers, but with the credit of having preformed a daring exploit."

POLICE COURT.

ASSAULT CASE.

TUESDAY, Jan. 11.—The Lipsett assault case, which was to have been heard this morning, was adjourned till Monday on account of the illness of the defendant.

SHOT AT A DANCE.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 10.—Last night when the thermometer indicated thirty degrees below zero Edward Meagher, aged 30 years, started to walk from this city to Fort Snelling, a distance of six miles. At Mendota, a mile from Fort Snelling, he stopped in a public hall where a dance was in progress. Several of the men present were intoxicated and some of them set upon Meagher. After a quarrel shot-guns were produced and four of the ball's drunken dancers helped to fill Meagher's body full of shot. One charge took effect in his head and neck and the other in his limbs. Eight of the ruffians then bound Meagher hand and foot, and placing him uncovered in a long box sleigh, drove him three miles to the house of Justice Bryant, where he was left. The man bled profusely, and as the blood flowed it froze instantly, fastening the wounded man to the boards of the sleigh. His hands, face and feet were badly frozen, and it seems almost a miracle that any life was left in him. He was brought to this city yesterday, and is now at the hospital. Justice Bryant released the assailants on their own recognizance because, he says, they told him Meagher began the fight. Meagher cannot recover.

A FLEET OF FAST CRUISERS.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The Admiralty has decided to build a fleet of fast cruisers to be completed in two years.

BISMARCK WILL INTERVENE.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Official newspapers say that Prince Bismarck will certainly intervene in the debate on the Army Bill in the Reichstag, and that he will insist upon the adoption of the seven years' terms, conceding n thing to the opponents of the measure.

ATTACKED BY MOONLIGHTERS.

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—A gang of armed and disguised Moonlighters attacked the house of a farmer named Connor at Mount Collins last night. The family resisted and overpowered the assailants and captured four of them. The four were found to be cousins of Connor. There were six men in the attacking party. Upon nearing the house they opened fire on Mr. Connor and the members of his family. The farmer, who is an old man, and his wife and children seized chairs and fire irons and vigorously attacked the marauders. A desperate struggle ensued, during which Mrs. Connor and one of the boys were badly cut with a scythe.

LONDONDERRY AND HIS TENANTS.

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—The Marquis of Londonderry, Lord Lieutenant, has declined to grant the request of his tenants in County Down for an abatement in their rents, but expresses willingness to sell them their holdings at reasonable rates. The tenants have offered him fifteen years pur hase.

LEAVING EGYPT.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The reduction of the British army in Egypt was begun to-day, when 800 troops departed for here. By April 1614 men will have been withdrawn, leaving a total of 5000 still in Egypt.

CHURCHILL DEFIANT.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Lord Randolph Churchill, replying to an address of confidence from a Primrose Lodge, says the signers of the address are more generous in their judgment than many Conservative Members of Parliament who have precipitately condemned him, although they have no information as to the causes of his resignation. He says he cares little whether such hasty and adverse criticism is modified or not after he has been allowed to make a public personal explanation, the approval of such persons being as worthless as their disapproval.

THE LAND BILL.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The negotations between Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Morley are tending towards an agreement on the land bill, and on the basis of Mr. Chamberlain's former proposals to limit the operations of the bill to the purchase of the smaller holdings, thus requiring a total capital, guaranteed by the Imperial Exchequer, of $20,000. The differences as to the functions and powers of the proposed Irish Parliament continue.

SENSATIONAL CASE.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—M. Cavaid undergoing six days' imprisonment imposed upon her for slander by the Court of the Ninth Correctional Chamber, Mme. Rattazzi de Rute has left French territory. Mme. Rattazzi de Rute, nee Bonaparte Wyse, married first the Comte ee Solms, second, Urbano Ratazzi and thire, Senoy de Rute, a Spaniard. In her book, called "Matinees Espagnoles," she wrote very freely about Madrid society and was especially severe upon the late Marquis Guelliby Rente, the Spanish litterateux, who married the Infanta Josephine, sister of King Francois D'Assise and sister-in-law of Queen Isabella II. The present libel suit was brought by the late Marquis Guelliby's two sons, the present Marquis Guelliby Rente and the Marquis Valcarlos, the latter the military attache of the Spanish embassy in Paris, and by the sisters and brothers of the late Marquis Guelliby's widow.

INFERIOR GOODS.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Viscount Cross, Secretary of State for India, in a speech at Ashton this evening, said during his experience in the Indian Office, he had been grieved to find that a bad class of English goods was being exported especially to China, where great Britain is being beaten by Russia.

DO NOT APPROVE OF CONCESSION.

ROME, Jan. 10.—The prelates asked to express opinions on the compromise signed last November between Cardinel Jacobini, Papal Secretary of State, and Baron Von Schloezer, Prussian representative at the Vatican, have submitted a memorandum stating that in their view any ulterior concession by the Vatican would be derogatory to the prerogative of the whole episcopate.

LIGHT TREASURY RECEIPTS.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The receipts of the French Treasury for 1886 show a decrease of 32,000,000 francs, as compared with the receipts of 1885, and a deficiency of 71,000,050 francs, as compared with the amount estimated in the budget for 1886.

A RUSSIAN REFUGEE.

Princess Dolgorouki's Brother Arrives in America.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 10.—A special from Tahlequah says: Some time ago a man of more than ordinary culture and refinement took up his residence in this city, but until yesterday no one thought of questioning as to his identity, when a reporter sought an interview with him. He said he was a native of Russia and a brother of Princess Dolgorouki, wife of the late Czar. He had, when a young man, been banished from Russia to Siberia on account of his Nihilistic proclivities. "As soon as I was landed in Siberia," he said, "I was put to work in mines about 2500 feet under ground, where I could not see the daylight. I began at once to plan some means by which I could make my escape, and being especially educated in the art of engraving, by this art I accomplished my purposes. Upon small blocks of stone I engraved characters until I had the requisite number to forge the fac simile of genuine passports. I was five years in accomplishing my object. I took no one into my confidence; armed with my passport I made my way with great difficulty to the sea coast, and got on board a vessel bound for China, which country I ultimately reached, and among those people I remained nine years. From there I went to South America, and after staying there a while, not liking that semi-civilized country, I sailed for the shores of North America. I first touched at San Francisco, and after varied experience drifted here." He says he received letters regularly from his sister, the Princess Dolgorouki, who resides in France in semi-exile. The reason for this, he says, is that her eldest son will soon become heir to the Czar's throne, and for fear of it being placed thereon by popular demand the Czar has practically, though not officially, banished her and her children. Rev. W. L. Miller, Presbyterian minister, vouches for the correctness of Prince Dolgorouki's statement.

Fate of the Benders.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Paul Betts, a resident of this city, says that late in the 70's he was called to see an acquaintance who was dying in a Kansas City hotel. The man wished to tell him about the fate of the Benders, the family that murdered so many travellers. He said the Benders were lynched in Indian Territory by a vigilance committee. They were all hanged except Kate Bender, who fought so hard that they could not get the rope around her neck, and so she was shot. Mr. Betts has not felt free to tell the story until the present time.

The tenants on the Londonderry estates of the Skinners Company have declined the company's proposal to sell at eighteen years' rental.

The Church of Ascension, Hamilton, was burned to the ground on Saturday night, only a portion of the stone walls and the tower being left standing.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1887.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD.

The Premier Spends His 72nd Birthday in Kingston.

KINGSTON, Ont., Jan. 11.—Sir John Macdonald spent his seventy-second birthday in this city. Accompanied by his private secretary he arrived here this morning on the Jamaica, and at half-past nine o'clock drove up to the residence of the Rev. Dr. Williamson, where his only living sister resides. She is in poor health. Sir John was in good health, in fact the best for some years. It was quite fitting that he should spend the day in the city whose history has been largely identical with his. He has a great love for the old constituency that returned him from 1841 to 1878 as its representative in Parliament. Here he received his education, made his first public address as a lawyer, and fought his first political battles. A few friends called on him, but the majority left him to the privacy of his family circle on this joyous occasion.

INCENDIARISM IN HALIFAX.

Startling Discoveries in Connection with Last Thursday's Fire.

HALIFAX Jan. 10.—Last Thursday's blaze in Granville and Barrington streets, entailing a loss of between $30,000 and $40,000, promises to turn out one of the most outrageous cases of incendiarism ever exposed in Halifax. The fire started in a granite building in Granville street, occupied by Hiseler Bros., and spread to Baldwin & Co.'s establishment in Barrington street. Hiseler's premises were gutted and Baldwin's badly wrecked. It has been found that the fire started in the rear of Hiseler's store behind a partition, and some of the preparations evidently made to start a big conflagration were not entirely obliterated. The surroundings indicate that a match was applied to pile of shavings and inflammable goods, but the flames shooting upwards failed to consume the whole. The investigation has not yet been concluded. Hiseler Bros. claim to have a stock worth $8,000, on which there was $6 000, and they say they owe nearly the whole of the latter sum to Montreal and Ottawa merchants. The burned buildings are in the heart of the business portion of the city, and had there been a stiff breeze the morning of the fire an immense conflagration would probably have resulted.

Robbing a Till.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 11.—As Pat Huntley, night watchman at the Canada Atlantic depot, last night was going the rounds he saw a light in the office of Mr. Macdonald, the ticket agent, and a short step ladder under the window. He mounted the ladder and saw a man engaged at the till, who, on being challenged, turned round and said, "If you come in here I will shoot you." Huntley went round and entered by the door, receiving, as he did so, a violent blow across the eyes with the butt of a revolver. He was staggered by the blow, but recovering himself, knocked the burglar down and secured him. The services of County Constable Mackenzie were called in, and the arrested man was found to be Detective F. C. Macpherson. Fifty dollars, said to have been taken from the till, was found upon him. The detective was lodged in the cells all night, and this morning remanded by the police magistrate till to-morrow.

Winnipeg Mayoralty.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 11.—Mayor Jones issued a card to the ratepayers this morning, in which he says that as some doubt has been thrown upon his title to the position by his opponent, and as the result has been extremely close, he has decided immediately after taking the oath of office to-day to place his resignation in the hands of the Council and allow the ratepayers an opportunity of rendering their verdict either for or against himself in indisputable terms. The contest between himself and Mr. Pearson is expected to be a hot one.

True love is eternal, infinite, and always like itself; it is equal and pure, without violent demonstrations; it is seen with white hairs, and is always young in the heart.—Balzac.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

AN IMPORTANT AGREEMENT.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Standard says that an important political agreement has been made between Austria and Roumania with the approval of Germany.

DEATH OF RASALOULA.

ROME, Jan. 11.—The Diritto has advices saying that Rasaloula, the Abyssinian General, has died from wounds received at Kassala.

AN UPRISING FEARED.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Daily News says that Turkish gunboats are watching the coast of Candia in expectation of an uprising of the people.

THE DANGER FROM WITHIN.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Times says:—"The Cabinet is threatened from within and not from without. What is seriously to be feared is the failure of the Irish executive to grapple with the conspiracy to prevent the payment of rent. It is only too clear, from the evidence given at the trial of the Woodford tenants at Dublin, that the vigorous enforcement of the law is discouraged by the Government, who cannot surely desire the landlords to provide an armed force on their own behalf. Yet if the executive draw back, what choice is there between this dangerous approach to civil war and a complete victory for the Irish National League?"

COLLISION AT AN EVICTION.

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—As an outcome of the prohibition of the Nationalist meeting, announced to be held on the occasion of the threatened wholesale evictions at

PRINCE OF WALES' IRISH VISIT.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—It is believed that there is no truth in the report that the Prince of Wales is to spend a couple of years in Ireland and has taken Newlands, once the residence of Lord Kilwarden. The Prince of Wales, however has notified his intention of visiting Punchestown races this year.

A PRESENT FROM RUSSIA.

MOSCOW, Jan. 11.—The National Society has sent to the French General Laushier a silver broth pot, the Russian symbol of fraternity, as a mark of the society's appreciation of the compliments paid to the Russian army by General Laushier.

DISQUIETING RUMORS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 11.—There are rumors on the bourse that Russia has occupied a portion of Afghanistan.

INCREASED MILITARY CREDIT.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—The French Government has decided to increase this year's extraordinary military credit from 59,000,000f. to 86,000,000.

ALCAZAR PALACE FIRE.

MADRID, Jan. 11.—The Alcazar Palace at Teledo, which was destroyed by fire yesterday, had only been recently rebuilt at a cost of £20,000. Owing to the scarcity of water and fire extinguishing apparatus, the fire was allowed to burn itself out. Three officers and seventeen men connected with the Military Academy, by which the building was occupied, were injured.

RUSSIAN INTRIGUE.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Telegraph emphasizes the war rumours of the last few days by affirming that Russia is trying to force a war between France and Germany in order to enable her to carry out her own Eastern plans.

MISCHIEF-MAKERS ALWAYS.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Daily News says the belief prevails in St. Petersburg that Russian agents played a prominent part in the recent revolts in Kashgar and Gilzai.

THE BRITISH IN BURMAH.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Standard says the British military operations in Burmah will be virtually finished within a month, when Gen. Roberts will return to Calcutta.

EXTREME RADICALS OFFENDED.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The constitution of the new London Liberal organization gives much offence to extreme Radicals. There will, therefore, be some opposition to its adoption at the great meeting at St. James' Hall to-morrow. Mr. Bradlaugh will defend the scheme, and this will do much towards its popularity with the voting masses.

IDDESLEIGH AND THE CABINET.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—It is still uncertain whether Lord Iddesleigh will remain in the Cabinet, despite the assertions that he will go out. Conservative sympathy for him runs very strong.

EMIN BEY'S RELIEF.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Dr. Junker, the African explorer, has landed at Suez and will proceed with his brother and Dr. Schweinfurth to Cairo. He urges that an expedition for the relief of Emin Bey, who is now in Central Africa, be fitted out without delay and that it be composed of picked men thoroughly equipped as the least hitch might entail disaster and result in the massacre of all the missionaries in that district.

FRANCE DESIRES PEACE.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—In the Senate to-day M. Sapi Carnot, who presided, said there were two conditions essential to the prosperity of France—stability within the nation and peace abroad. To exhibit France as impatient for war was merely an artifice made to remove hesitations in certain parliaments. The natural spirit of the French people had no need to be revived, he said, by fear of any foreign power. No military party existed in France, for the army was essentially a civic body. The country desired peace, but should events occur contrary to its wishes it would prove that it had not lost time during the past fifteen years.

EXTRA WAR VOTE.

VIENNA, Jan. 11.—At the Cabinet Council to-day, the Emperor presiding, it was agreed to grant the War Minister funds for extra expenditures, subject to the subsequent approval of the delegates.

LIBERAL RADICAL UNION.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The inaugural meeting of the London Liberal-Radical Union was held at St. James's hall this evening. The hall was crowded. The organist attempted to play "God save the Queen," when a storm of hissing and hooting arose, completely drowning the cheering. There were on the platform a number of members of Parliament and other Liberals, all of whom, with the exception of Mr. Bradlaugh rose and joined in cheering. Mr. Bradlaugh's action was endorsed with terrific applause by the majority of the audience.

M. ZANKOFF HOOTED.

PHILIPPOPOLIS, Jan. 11.—M. Zankoff passed through this city to-day on his way to Constantinople. A mob assembled at the depot, although a heavy rainstorm prevailed, and violently hooted and hissed. The police had great difficulty in restraining the furious people from attacking M. Zankoff. Shouts of "Down with the traitor" were uttered, and showers of mud were thrown as the car containing M. Zankoff departed.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—All the defendants in the Irish rent conspiracy cases, except Messrs. Harris and Redmond, who were absent on account of illness, were committed to-day for trial, bail being fixed at £500.

SERIES OF EVICTIONS.

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—A series of evictions was begun on the Wiun estates, in Kerry, to-day. As the tenants were evicted their houses were burned. Intense excitement prevails in the district, and it is probable there will be bloodshed.

THE FRENCH CHAMBERS.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—The Chambers were reopened to-day. M. Blanc, Provisional President of the Chamber of Deputies, expressed the wish that the session would be more fortunate than the last one, and inaugurate a policy of progress and economy. Union was an absolute necessity to the Republican party, and also supremely needful at the present time. He appealed to the deputies to work in harmony in order that reforms may be realized. M. Floquet was then re-elected President.

FIRE IN HASTINGS.

$5,000 Worth of Property Destroyed—Two Families Houseless.

Hastings has again been visited by a disastrous fire. On Tuesday morning, about 1 a.m., the barn in the rear of Mr. P. Kennedy's store was discovered to be on fire, and being but a few feet removed from the sheds of the Albion Hotel, those buildings became ignited. Alex. Wilson's (senr.) frame dwelling and John McGrath's frame tenement immediately followed, and the whole was almost in an instant a mass of seething flame. So rapidly did the fire spread that all Mr. Wilson saved was a piano and a few chairs and pictures out of his parlor. Mr. Booth, who occupied Mr. McGrath's building, saved nearly all his household effects. Mr. Kennedy's storehouse, a wooden building in rear of his store, had a miraculous escape, but was saved by a liberal application of wet blankets. Mr. Wilson's stable was similarly endangered. Our people worked like heroes, and with the limited appliances at their command (being simply pails and ladders) accomplished wonders.

Mr. Wilson's loss is estimated at $2,500 insured as follows, building $700, contents $450, piano $200 (the piano is damaged beyond repair). Insured in the Lancashire.

Hotel sheds, valued at $400, insured in the Citizens for $200. Dr. Coughlan, the owner of the building, lost a valuable covered buggy, not insured.

Mr. Kennedy's barn, valued at $150. No insurance. Damage to store house and blankets about $100. Insured in the Phœnix.

Mr. John McGrath's frame building, valued at $800, insured in the North British and Mercantile for $600.

Mr. T. Coughlan's frame building and Mrs. Green's brick, across the street had a narrow escape.

Messrs. Wilson, Kennedy, Coughlan, and Mrs. Green desires to return their sincere thanks to all who aided in saving their property from the flames.

Where the fire originated is not definitely known, as when first seen both the hotel sheds and the barn were on fire. If in the barn, then an incendiary was at work, if in the sheds, it was presumably the thoughtless act of throwing a lighted cigar stump where it came in contact with the woodwork.—Star.

FENELON FALLS.

LARGE OXEN.—Among the cattle shipped to Toronto last Wednesday morning by Austin Bros. were two yokes of exceedingly fine oxen; one of which was bought from Mr. Wm. Junkin for $117 and weighed 3,785 lbs., and the other was bought from Mr. Cornelius Curtis for $90 and weighed 3,550 lbs. All the animals were seven or eight years old.

A BEAD IN HIS EAR.—Last Sunday, while Mr. Thomas Austin was picking at his ear, which has been some times partially and sometimes totally deaf during the past ten or twelve years, he dislodged a metal bead about the size of a large pea, though it appeared a good deal bigger before it was cleansed. He has not the least idea how or when it got into his ear, but since its removal his hearing has been perfectly restored.

HOOKED BY A COW.—On the afternoon of Friday, the 31st ult., as Mr. Thomas Robson, Jr., of Somerville, was in the act of tying one of his cows in the barn the animal threw up her head, and the point of her horn struck him just below his right eye, inflicting a deep and painful wound, which bled freely. Fortunately the eyeball was not injured, but it had a very narrow escape. Mr. Robson, who was in the Gazette office next day, said the cow was not vicious and probably did not mean to hurt him; but, as the afternoon was stormy, he had put her and her companions into the barn before, instead of after, filling the manger with fodder, and he thought she had merely given her bear an indignant toss at finding nothing to eat.—Gazette.

HEAVY overstockings and gaiters for everyone at the Golden Lion.

A Bigamist.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—About a year ago a laborer arrived here from Quebec, where he had left his wife and family, and engaged himself for the winter in a lumber shanty up the Gatineau. In the spring he returned but instead of going home married nother woman and settled down here. Things went smoothly until last Saturday, when wife No. 1 appeared on the scene, and telling her story to wife No. 2, both women attacked their liege lord with a broomstick and an axe, seriously injuring him. He will recover.

A Wonderful Shot.

The man who put ten bullets in succession, inside the circumference of a Milwaukee girl's finger ring, at fifteen paces, was a pretty good shot, but he wasn't half so wise as the bilious man who put ten of Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" into his system in five days, and on the sixth walked ten miles "just because he felt so well." If your blood is out of order, if you feel low spirited and "blue," you will find these Little Liver Pills just what you need.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1887.

THE DOMINION DEBT.

MANY extravagant and reckless statements are made by Reform papers regarding the debt of the Dominion. A few facts, taken from the public accounts, will show the foolishness of the attempts made to create alarm on account of the financial position of Canada.

In discussing the debt there are two things to be considered, the liabilities and the assets. The man who would make a statement of his liabilities, and, without taking into the account his assets, call that his actual debt, would be considered a fool. To ascertain the position of the Dominion regarding its debt the assets must, therefore, be deducted from the liabilities. And it might be well to point out, also, that the average interest received on those assets is greater than the average interest paid on the liabilities, which shows the soundness of the assets.

The following figures regarding the debt are official, being taken from the Public Accounts—

INCREASE IN THE DEBT.

Liabilities in 1873	$129,743,432
Assets in 1873	29,894,970
Debt in 1873	$ 99,843,461
Liabilities in 1878	$174,958,268
Assets	34,595,199
Debt in 1878	$140,363,069

From 1873 to 1878 was the period during which the Reformers were in office, and the increase in the debt during that time was:—

Increase in debt in 5 years	$40,518,608
Average per year	8,103,721

The Conservatives have been in office since 1878. The public debt at the end of the fiscal year 1885—the last year for which the accounts have been published—was as follows:—

Liabilities in 1885	$264,703,607
Assets	68,295,915
Debt in 1885	$196,407,692

The debt in 1878 was $140,362,069, and in 1885 $196,407 692, showing an increase during the seven years of Conservative rule to be:—

Increase in 7 years	$56,045,623
Average per year	8,006,517

The position of the parties, therefore, as to the increase of the debt stands thus:

Av. increase by Reformers.....$8,103,721
Av. increase by Conservatives 8,006,517

So that, taking the debt as it stands, without comparing the sums spent by the two Administrations on public works, the Reformers increased the debt at about the same rate—in reality more rapidly—than have the Conservatives.

INTEREST.

A few facts regarding interest will make the advantages of careful administration by the Conservatives plainer. To ascertain the actual interest charge, the interest received on assets must be deducted from the interest paid, in the same manner as the assets are deducted from the liabilities to ascertain the actual debt. The following tables show the increase in the interest charge under Reform and Conservative rule:—

Int paid in 1873	$5,549,374
Int. received	467,900
Net interest charge	$ 5,081,473
Int. paid in 1878	$7,100,033
Int. received	566,718
Net interest charge	6,533.314
Increase in 5 years	$ 1.451.841
Average per year	$290,368

That was under Reform management. Under Conservative rule the figures are:—

Int. paid in 1885	$10,152.275
Int. received	2,694.333
Net interest charge in 1885	$ 7,467,942
Interest charge in 1878	6,533,314
Increase in 7 years	$ 934,628
Average per year	$133,518

The difference, therefore, in the increase in the charge upon the country for interest is as follows:—

In. by Reformers in 5 years	$1,451,841
In. by Conservatives in 7 years	934,628
	$ 517,213
Av. inc. per year by Reformers	$ 290.368
Av. inc. per year by Conservatives.	133,518
	$ 156,850

It will be seen that the increase of the burden on the country for the payment of interest has been much less under Conservative rule.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURE.

Under the head of capital expenditure is included payments for the construction of public works, buildings and such purposes. The expenditure under this head by the Mackenzie Government and the present Administration, as compared with the increase in the debt, has been as follows:—

In. debt by Reformers	$ 40.518,608
Capital exp. by Reformers	38,516,992
Deficit	$2 001,616
In. debt by Conservatives	$56.045.623
Capital exp. by Conservatives	80,786,172
Surplus	$24,740,549

With these indisputable facts before them, the people of Canada need not be frightened by the attempts of the Reformers to alarm them regarding the public debt.

Under Conservative rule, as compared with Reform management, the debt has increased less rapidly, the charge on the country for the payment of interest has increased with much less rapidity, and the sums expended in making permanent improvements for the development and welfare of the country have been much larger.

Archbishop Taché has recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital at St. Boniface.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

VOLUNTEERS WANTED.

After the scandalous way in which the Grit organ spoke of the volunteers who took part in suppressing the rebellion it is rather cheeky of it to make a special appeal to them to turn out Sir John Macdonald and put its party in office. In the columns of the organ volunteers were referred to as "Middleton's excited incendiaries," and charged with behaving themselves like uncivilised beings. Some of the French journals which are just now playing the same tune as the Grit organ in Toronto, accused the volunteers of things which if true, would brand them as a lot of barbarians, but now that votes are wanted the volunteers have suddenly become objects of deep solicitude on the part of these rascally sheets. When the votes of the French were wanted nothing was to bad for the Grit organ to say of the volunteers. Now that the votes of the volunteers are wanted nothing is too good to say of them.—Toronto Telegram (Indep.)

KEEP ON.

The Globe's prediction of dissolution have so far shown it to be dissolute in its use of language. But by keeping on predicting it will surely hit the date between now and next All Fool's Day. Such prophecy as this is only a question of time and endurance.—Toronto World (Indep.)

WHERE THEY WENT.

The talk indulged in by the organs of both sides of politics, to the effect that whenever the leaders of the opposite party spoke during the campaign the result was adverse to their cause, is senseless twaddle, and not argument. Naturally the leaders of both parties went most into localities where their side was weakest. They would have been wasting their time and energy had they spoken in their own strongholds. The journalist who pretends to believe that because Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues, Mr. Blake or Sir Cartwright spoke in a locality there was, in consequence, a falling off in the vote of the party represented by the speakers, writes himself down as an ass.—Toronto News (Indep.)

THE PACIFIC PROVINCE.

From an unknown and well nigh inaccessible portion of the Dominion, the Province of British Columbia has become one of the most important and interesting branches of Confederation. That this fact has been largely due to the opening of the Canadian Pacific Railway all will acknowledge.—Montreal Star (Indep.)

COUNT HIM IN.

As that truly good man and model Reformer Dowling has been counted out, why should not the "Christian politician" introduce an act to have him counted in. As Mr. Mowat legislated for the special benefit of his friend Dowling before, why not again? —Ottawa Citizen.

THE "MAIL'S" POSITION.

The Montreal Herald devotes two columns to proving that because the Toronto Mail has been the organ of the Conservative party in the past, it is the organ of the Conservative party now. This is about as much as that the Hon. Peter Mitchell is still the devoted partisan of Sir John because the Hon. Peter was once one of Sir John's humblest courtiers.—Le Monde.

SCENE IN A LEGISLATURE.

The Governorship of Indiana—A Tumultuous Inauguration.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 10.—The hallways and corridors of the Capitol were thronged by an immense crowd of people this morning anxious to witness public developments in the political struggle. All interest centered in the House, where the galleries were densely packed, while prominent politicians were present and located in available positions for giving advice and assistance to their friends on the floor. After prayer the doorkeeper stepped to the front of the Speaker's chair, and announced the presence of the Senate, the "Senate" consisting of the nineteen Republican members of that body. Mr. Kellison (Democrat) arose and called "Mr. Speaker," but he was not recognized. The Republican senators entered and took seats to the right of the Speaker, Mr. Kellison meanwhile vainly claiming the Speaker's attention. Speaker Sayre immediately announced that the business of the convention was to canvass the votes for Lieutenant-Governor, and Mr. Kellison again sought a hearing, but was told he was out of order. Other Democratic members also claimed the Speaker's attention, but all were refused recognition. The reading of the returns consumed half an hour, and at its close, while the clerk was making his computation, Mr. Jewell (Dem.) addressed the Speaker, but was told that nothing would be in order until the canvass was completed. The result of the vote was then announced as follows:—Robertson (Rep.), 232,916; Nelson (Dem.), 229 593; Robertson's majority, 3,323. Upon this Mr. Robertson was sworn in by Judge Walker, of the Superior Court. Speaker Sayre said, "I declare Robert Robinson the Lieutenant-Governor of the State of Indiana, and he will now address you."

Mr. Robertson instantly advanced to the front of the Speaker's desk, and taking the gavel rapped for order. Mr. Gordon (Dem.) raised his hand and called "Mr. Speaker," but no attention was given him. Mr. Jewell was treated in a similar manner, but both managed to exclaim: "Mr. Speaker, we do not recognize the legality of this joint convention." Pointing to the Republican Senators, "When there is no representation of the Senate except the fag end of that body, we protest against this usurpation of power, this disorganization and overturning of law." This was the signal for all the Democrats to begin a noisy demonstration. The uproar was so great that individual speakers could only be heard occasionally, and then in a disconnected manner. Governor Robertson held his position at the desk and kept up a vigorous rapping with the gavel. Notwithstanding the tumult he proceeded to deliver his inaugural address, but the noise was so great that it was heard by very few. At its conclusion he declared the joint convention adjourned, to reassemble in the same hall Wednesday, the 19th, to vote for United States Senator. Speaker Sayre then took possession of the gavel, and on motion of Mr. Gardner the House adjourned.

WEATHER NOTES.—Another year is numbered with the things of the past, and its successor is swinging on the universal joint of time with the ever occuring events both individual and national. During the month of December we had some cold days, the first on the morning of the 4th, the thermometer dropping to 14 deg. below zero, and on the 8th to 16 deg. below. Again on the 15th a sharp cold wind blew from the north-west, although the themometer only registered 4 deg. below; and on the 25th it fell to 10 deg. below, and the coldest of the month, and of the winter so far, was on the morning of the 30th, when the thermometer stood at 17 deg. below. 40 deg. is the highest reached, it being 40 deg. on the 13th, leaving the average temperature of the month at 16 9 31 deg. Snow fell on 12 days to the depth of 17½ inches. Rain fell on two days, but only to the depth of 26-100 of an inch, being considerably below the average of rain for December. We had fog on 4 days, very little white frost and a remarkable absence of auroral light. The following was the different points from which the wind was blowing during the month at sunrise, respectively, namely:—South-east 8 days; North-west, 8 days; north, 1 day; east, 5 days; south west, 6 days; west 2 days; and south, 1 day.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the ourden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d84

CAIN AND ABEL.

DR. CURTISS' NOTES ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Lesson III for Sunday, Jan. 16—Lesson Text, Gen. iv, 3-16—Golden Text, iv, 9: "Am I My Brother's Keeper?"—Without God in the World.

Is Sin Hereditary?—Did Adam introduce sin into the world? Old Testament history answers yes. The disobedience of the progenitor of the race is followed by an unbroken chain of transgression. The experience of nations and individuals attests the fact, and Old Testament passages point in the same direction, although not in as clear terms as the New.

THE LESSON.

The Offerings (vs. 3-5.—At an indefinite time after the fall we read of two sacrifices, offered by the first brothers, which they seem to have brought without divine command, of their own free will. So far as the Scriptures are concerned, this is the first clear indication of sacrifice. Some have thought that the skins with which God clothed our first parents were taken from animals offered in sacrifice. This is pure conjecture. A new relation now exists between God and man. Man is banished from Eden. He feels the need of approaching God with a gift—of securing an atonement. This is one of the most widespread usages of mankind. One of the most general terms for offering is used in the record. Hence we cannot judge whether it was distinctly a sin-offering, for the technical terms are not found until later, in the book of Leviticus, but sin offerings undoubtedly existed from the earliest period of the race, although in the book of Leviticus the word used here (mincha) is applied to bloodless offerings (ii, 1, 4, 5, etc.). It is not stated why God did not accept the offering of Cain, while he accepted that of Abel. It does not seem to have been on account of the bloodless character of the gift, as some affirm, although the shedding of blood was an essential factor in the divinely instituted system of sacrifice for sin (Lev. iv; Heb. ix, 22). Cain brought from the fruits of the ground, for as a husbandman he had nothing else to bring. It is evident from the narrative that the spirit with which he came was not pleasing to God. God did not accept Cain's offering; he did accept Abel's. Instead of yielding to the divine will with humility, Cain is very angry. In such a state of mind his sacrifice could not be acceptable; and in this oldest account that is given of sacrifice we see that God makes the same high demands that the heart of the suppliant should be right as in the writings of the prophets. In this passage, sacrifices which are brought as a mere form, while the heart is far from God, are an abomination to him (Prov. xxi, 27).

God saw lurking in Cain's heart envy and murder. He seems to have regarded him with something of the same abhorrence that he did Israel in the time of Isaiah (Isa. i, 15)—"And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide my eyes from you; yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear; your hands are full of blood."

The Warning to Cain (vs. 6,7).—But God is merciful to Cain in calling him to account, in reproving him and in still offering the hope of pardon and favor. "If thou doest well, shalt thou not be accepted?" (Revised Version). Yet God gives him warning of the danger which threatens him. "If thou doest not well, sin 'coucheth' at the door" (Revised Version)—as a hungry lion waiting to spring upon his prey—"and unto thee is its desire, but thou shouldst rule over it" (Revised Version, margin). Here he is represented as master of his own heart, as able to rule over this wild beast—passion—and keep him out. There is implied in this a responsibility for the result. Cain might not afterward urge as an excuse that he was beside himself with rage, for in yielding to sin he yields of his own will (James i, 14).

In the Field (v. 7).—The more natural rendering seems to be that of the margin in the Revised Version, which is supported by the most ancient authorities (the Septuagint, Samaritian, Syriac and Vulgate)—"and Cain said unto Abel his brother, Let us go into the field; and it came to pass when they were in the field that Cain rose up against Abel his brother and slew him."

It would seem according to this passage that Cain had no conception of God's presence everywhere, of which the psalmist speaks so clearly (Ps. 139). He appears to have thought that by thus going into the field he could commit that dreadful deed, of which his heart was full, without God's seeing him.

The murder (vs. 9, 10).—This view seems to be sustained by the following verses. When God puts the question, "Where is Abel thy brother?" he replies, "I know not; am I my brother's keeper?" This shows that he does not realize that God must know what he has done. At the same time it betrays the spirit of the murderer in its extreme selfishness. The selfishness manifested by priest and Levite when they saw the man wounded, in the parable of the good Samaritan, and passed by on the other side, is the spirit of Cain, which will stoop short of nothing when self interest stands in the way.

In almost dramatic language God is represented as asking Cain, "What hast thou done?" and as saying, as we would translate the passage, "Hark! thy brother's blood is crying unto me from the ground."

The Punishment (vs. 11, 12).—It might seem here, as in the case of Adam, that the chief punishment was inflicted by God; and that if his hand had not been laid upon Cain he would have had some comfort in life. The fact that the ground will not yield its strength is not the worst part of his punishment, or that he is condemned to be a fugitive and a wanderer. Like Orestes in classic story, he is doomed to be pursued by the furies of his own conscience. He has opened the door of his heart wide to the demon who was lurking there. He can find no rest as he passes from land to land and as new scenes greet his eyes, for his soul will be filled with remorse for a murdered brother. Well may he cry, "My punishment is greater than I can bear" (v, 13). The margin of the Revised Version suggests the reading, "My iniquity is greater than can be forgiven." The Hebrew word for punishment and iniquity is identical. Iniquity involves punishment, not merely as inflicted by God, but in that with which an awakened conscience visits the soul.

(V. 14). The idea of a punishment inflicted on him by God, however, is most prominent in his mind. He says, (1) I am driven out from the face of the earth; (2) from thy face I shall be hid; (3) I shall be a fugitive and a wanderer; (4) every one that findeth me shall slay me. In these items we see no evidence of repentance. The same selfish spirit that led him to slay Abel is predominant. He says, I am to suffer these four different evils, of which he considers loss of life the most serious, more to be dreaded than absence from God's face.

Who Might Kill Cain? (v. 15).—The question at once arises, Who were to slay Cain? We have no account of other brothers who were likely to take his life. It is not necessary that we should have recourse, as some have done, to the theory of pre-Adamites, who were said to be created before Adam. The Scripture does not give us details. It omits many things which might be of interest, but which are not essential to the purpose of the narrative. We may suppose, therefore, that there were others, members of the family, who, as avengers of Abel's blood, might seek Cain's life in punishment of his crime (Gen. ix, 6; Num. xxxv, 33).

Without God in the World (v. 16).—The worst thing that could befall Cain now happens to him. He goes out from the presence of the Lord never to return again. He is without God in the world (Eph. ii, 12), a prey to his evil passions and the temptations of Satan.—Sunday School World.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

PRODUCES SWEET AND NATURAL SLEEP.

Dr. C. R. Dake, Belleville, Ill., says: "I have found it, and it alone, to produce sweet and natural sleep in cases of wakefulness caused by overwork of the brain, which often occurs with active professional and business men."

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

The Rink.

The Bank will be at the skating rink to-night.

Peterborough at Lindsay.

Last week Mr. Wm. Cluxton shipped from Lindsay to England five hundred bushels of clover seed and two hundred and forty firkins of butter. The amount disbursed was over $8,000.

Postponed.

Owing to the stormy weather only a few were at the Y. M. C. A. Rooms on Tuesday evening, when the sale of magazines was to have taken place. The sale did not take place, but will on some future date.

The Re-count.

The re-count of the ballots cast in West Peterborough in the Provincial election is finished. What remains to do now is to decide upon how a dozen or so of ballots shall be counted. Most of the rejected ballots were properly taken objection to.

SEE R. Fair's advertisement for cheap woollens.

The Coming Contest.

A meeting of the friends and supporters of Mr. Stevenson, Conservative candidate for the representation of West Peterborough in the House of Commons, will be held on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the club room, over Mr. Stetham's store. Let there be a large attendance.

Appreciated.

Some of the articles contributed by Mr. Cluxton to the Market column of the REVIEW have been widely copied by exchanges. That on "Corners and Cliques" found its way into the columns of the leading paper published in Bradford, Pennsylvania.

Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society.

We beg to call the attention of the members of the Society, as well as the public generally, to the advertisement in another column calling the annual meeting thereof, to be held to-morrow evening in the Council Chamber. Let there be a large attendance and thereby show some interest in its affairs.

Regular Practice.

The Peterborough Musical Society held its regular meeting in the concert hall in Bradburn's Opera House block on Tuesday evening. There was a good attendance. The tenors were much strengthened in confidence and tone by the aid of a cornet. It would be a good idea to extend this help to the others.

Orangeism.

At the meeting of the District Orange Lodge of West Peterborough on Tuesday the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:—

Alex Hamilton	Dist. M.
John Agnew	Depy. M.
John H. Campbell	Chap.
John Sharp	Rec. Secy.
Jas. Wainwright	Fin. Secy.
John A. Davidson	Treas.
W. Mellwain	Lecturer.

Legal.

In the case of Halton vs. Bertram judgment was given this week in Toronto, declaring that 10 acres pass under the will as part of the estate of Walkerfield. Expenses for building house to be paid out of the residuary estate. Costs of plaintiff and so much of defendant's as were necessarily incurred in procuring construction of the will, to be paid out of the residuary estate. Defendant to pay plaintiff's costs of injunction.

The Queen.

A beautiful picture is that issued by the Montreal Witness in commemoration of Queen Victoria's jubilee year, and can be obtained by all subscribers to either the daily or weekly edition of that paper who remit to the publishers the trifling sum of ten cents over and above their subscriptions. We have ourselves a copy of the portrait, and are of the opinion that it will prove a great inducement to everybody to take the Witness, a journal which, without any premium at all, is well worth the money.

Personal.

Mr. John Garvey, wholesale merchant of London, Ont., is in town for a day or two.

The Rev. Mr. McAmmond, of Fenelon Falls, is in town seeing his old friends.

The Hastings Star says:—"Mr. S. W. Smith who managed the Clarendon House since its erection, retired from business last week. Mr. J. Simpson, of Peterborough, has leased the premises. In Mr. Simpson's hands we have no doubt but the house will prosper, and the travelling public may rely on obtaining the comforts of home under his hopitable roof."

FINE Bulk Oysters at OSTROM'S.

Wedding Bells.

On Monday, at St. Peter's Cathedral, the marriage of Mr. J. A. Doucet to Miss Ida Estella, eldest daughter of Mr. James McIlmoyle, of this town, was solemnized by the Rev. Father O'Brien. Mr. J. D. McIlmoyle, uncle of the bride, was groomsman, and Miss Minnie, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. After the ceremony the bridal party proceeded to the residence of the bride's father on King street, where the wedding breakfast was partaken of. Mr. and Mrs. Doucet's many friends wish them all prosperity and happiness.

Scott Act.

The case Queen vs. Chamberlain, in which the defendant, Wm. Chamberlain, was charged with a third infraction of the Scott Act, was before the court this morning. A good deal of testimony was taken, but no evidence, in so far as the sale of intoxicating liquor is concerned, was deduced. The prosecutors' case rested on the fact of beer being found in the cellar on the premises of the defendant, and pipes connecting the barrels with the bar, leased by Thos. Dunn. Evidence was given to the effect that the liquors belonged, not to Mr. Chamberlain, but to Mr. Dunn. Judgment was reserved.

It May be Remarked

—That the Mount Hebronites have received their honors for '87.

—That Octonabee Lodge will receive their's on Monday night next.

—That all the brethren are cordially urged to be present.

—That the rink will likely be crowded to-night.

—That the Scott Act still lives.

—That P. C. McGinty's horse doesn't.

—That the curlers are awa'.

—That T. Borrosokane, Esq., has returned from the Sunny South.

—That it's rumoured that the southern girls are not good looking.

The Last Straw.

A few days ago a quadruped masquerading under the name "horse" was conveyed to the market square, where it was auctioned off. It brought the sum of $1. Probably the victim who bid only did it as a joke. It was taken away by some boys who gave it away to some other boys. On Tuesday evening at six o'clock the latter were engaged in riding it up Smithtown hill when the poor animal sank under the burden. The boys deserted. P. C. McGinty was informed of the matter. He promptly had the defunct animal carted away.

Mount Hebron.

At the regular meeting of Mount Hebron Encampment, No. 56, held on Tuesday evening, the following officers were installed:—

P. S. Clegg	C. P.
" Jos. Mills	H. P.
" J. D. Tully	S. W.
" R. Hamilton	J. W.
" R. Kidd	Scribe
" R. Nimmo	Treasurer

" T. Workman	1st G. of T.
" G. W. McBurney	2nd G. of T.
" R. Mein	I. S.
" H. Evans	O. S.

The installation ceremonies were performed by Patriarch R. J. Lee, D. D. G. P., in a highly satisfactory and impressive manner.

A KENTUCKY SOLOMON.

Wise Decision in the Case of a Boy Who ran Away and Got Married.

LONISVILLE, Jan. 11.—The most ludicrous case ever tried in a Kentucky court was decided in Hopkins county yesterday. In November last Ed. Allender tried to chastise his son Joseph, who was 18 years old. Joseph fled to the house of J. H. Dame, and there fell in love with Dame's daughter. Old man Allender tried to get possession of his son, who refused to return to him, by suing out a writ of habeas corpus. In the meantime young Allender and the girl went to Springfield, Tenn., and were married. The boy's father had a writ served on the girl's father, and the case was taken into court. Allender wanted his marriage annulled and the custody of the boy given to him. The court-room was crowded, and the evidence was highly amusing. The judge's decision read: "The young man Joseph is found guilty of matrimony, and sentenced to live with his new wife until separated by death. Ed. Allender the plaintiff, is sentenced to lose the work of the boy from this time and for evermore."

A SUCCESSFUL SWINDLER.

Pittsburgers Heavily Victimized by the Notorious "Lord Courtenay."

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 11.—Some time ago a person named Charles Talbot, who represented himself as a near relative of the Earl of Shrewsbury and a member of the Queen's Guards, arrived here, and has since been having a splendid time in the city, gaining admission to the best circles. On his representation that his remittances were delayed, he had borrowed a good deal of money in sums from $5 to $1,000. He failed so many times to pay at the time promised that inquiries were made as to his financial condition. The climax was reached to-day, when the pretended Englishman was identified as the same person who has been victimizing different persons in Norfolk, Baltimore, New York, Montreal and elsewhere. He is known as Hugh L. Courtenay, alias Lord Courtenay, alias Lord Beresford, alias Sir Henry Vane, of her Majesty's Life Guards, as described in police records. His indebtedness in this city is large. He represented yesterday that he had received a despatch from the British Minister at Washington asking him to come to see him, and he raised $500 on this invitation and left for other fields.

WIT AND WISDOM.

The sweets of married life should never be kept in family jars.

The Sabbath is the golden clasp which binds together the volume of the week.

If a chap is "too lazy to walk" how is it that so many run into temptation?

"Twelve inches make a foot, but a foot does not make twelve inches," said a young lady looking down at her pedals.

Many a young man who has been to bashful to propose to a girl has had her father come into the parlor at eleven o'clock and help him out.

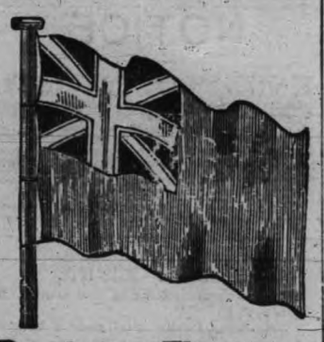
We do not choose our place in life, and have nothing to do with those parts; our simple duty is confined to playing them well.

A gentleman, who had been victimised by a notorious borrower, who always forgot to pay, called him one of the most promising men of his acquaintance.

Wrong-doing is a road that may open fair but it leads to trouble and danger. Right-doing, however rough and thorny at first, surely leads to pleasant places.

Supposed Nihilist Murderer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—It is thought here that the man described in a despatch from Tahlequah, Indian Territory, yesterday, as Prince Dolgorouki is the Nihilist De Gaiff, who murdered the chief of police at St. Petersburg, was sent to Siberia and subsequently escaped.



Alice Oates Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 11.—Alice Oates, the well known comic opera singer, died last evening at the residence of her husband. She had wasted away greatly under a painful complication of diseases.

THE GLOBE SOLID.

It is a very important fact that the Dominion Treasury now shows signs of there being a handsome surplus at the end of the present financial year. The Globe, which has been howling about the national deficits of late as a proof of national decay, will now have to go back to the old cry that Tory surpluses are produced by over-taxation, and still mean national decay. Whether the Tories provide deficits or surpluses, the Globe is still about national decay.—Ottawa Journal (Indep.)

Business Men, Attention.

WE CAN NOW OFFER several first-class positions to Advertisers in the REVIEW, and, as there is always a rush at the beginning of the year, in order that the best positions may be obtained, business men will do well to call immediately and secure their space for 1887.

During the present year renewed efforts will be made to make the REVIEW still more a thoroughly efficient medium whereby the Merchants and others can put and keep themselves prominently before the public. Extra precaution will be taken, and the best taste will be displayed in getting up all advertisements intrusted to us for publication, and in other respects as well, the "shrewd" business man will do well to patronize the columns of the

THE annual meeting of the West Riding of Peterborough Conservative Association will be held on Wednesday, January 19th in the Conservative Club room, over Mr. Stethem's store, for the purpose of electing officers for the year and transacting [illegible] business. Let there be a large attendance from all parts of the Riding.

Another Northwest Enterprise.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 12. — Alexander Mitchell, of Montreal; John Mather, of Keewatin, and other capitalists intend immediately building, at Keewatin Falls, a flour mill with a capacity of one thousand barrels per day. This will be the largest mill in the North-west. They will also erect elevators all over the Northwest, which will be built in time for next summer's crop.

The Victoria Cross.

KINGSTON, Jan. 12.—Arthur Hamilton, who joined "A" Battery a few days ago, is the only soldier in Canada who is in possession of the Victoria Cross. He also carries the Afghan medal, the Afghan star, the Egyptian medal and the Khedive's star. He was at Chudahar, and after the Cabul affair carried despatches in company with Lord Beresford, who with Hamilton spiked 18 guns before Cabul. The latter was also in the battles of El Teb and Tel-El-Kebir. He was awarded the cross for giving his horse to an officer who had been dismounted, and then fighting his way through a number of Afghans.

Sudden Death of Two Children.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Intelligence has just reached here of a tragedy that occurred yesterday at Granton, a few miles north of this city. It appears that two children of Mr. Wrigney were ill from some unknown cause, and their father went to Dr. Lang for advice. From the father's description of the children's symptoms the doctor supposed they were suffering from worms, and directed his clerk to give the father some worm powder. The medicine was taken home and given to the children, one of whom died five minutes after taking it, and the other in half an hour.

The Spread of Diphtheria.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Jan. 12.—There are about twenty cases of diphtheria in the vicinity of Malakoff, Balaclava and Woodworth streets, and nearly a score of houses are decorated with the cards of the medical health officer. The Balaclava street school has been closed. Should the disease continue to spread the Grace, Methodist and St. John's Sunday schools will also be closed on Sunday next. Half a dozen families in the neighborhood have from one to three children down with the malady. The most serious one, however, is that of the family of George Luskey, no less than five being down with the disease.

A Big Monopoly for Montreal.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 12.—Jay Gould, when asked here yesterday what his opinion was of the Interstate Commerce bill, said, "I am in favor of it, provided it is revised and made clear, which the original bill is not. The long and short haul clause is especially ambiguous. The wisest course to pursue would be to appoint an intelligent commission and let that body pass upon all questions arising." "How do you regard the failure of the bill to regulate the waterways of the country?" "I think that mistake is a grave one, but nothing will demonstrate this as clearly as a trial of the measure. There can be no control of Canadian railways, the bill will be of incalculable advantage and profit of those lines, and the ultimate result will be to direct export trade from eastern points to Montreal. New Orleans and Galveston will hold the Texas trade, and the Mississipi river will enable St. Louis to protect herself far better than any interior city."

IMPERIAL INSTITUTE.

A Jubilee Memorial—A Speech by the Prince of Wales.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—A meeting was held in St. James' palace to-day of gentlemen interested in the promotion of the establishment of the Imperial Institute. The Prince of Wales presided. Explaining the object of the meeting, he said the general feeling of the people of the Empire favored the giving of some signal proof of love and loyalty to the Queen on the occasion of the jubilee of her reign. The Imperial Institute was the fittest memorial that could be erected. This would form a practical means of communicating with the colonies. He commended the idea of such an institute, which, he said, would be regarded as a centre from which the knowledge of England's commerce and industry would be extended. He replied upon assistance being found to support the institute, and predicted that it would be a lasting benefit to this and future generations.

A resolution was passed that the Imperial Institute would be a fitting memorial of the Queen's jubilee, and directing that the people of the Queen's domains shall be appealed to for funds to support and maintain such an institute.

LORD IDDESLEIGH DEAD.

Taken Suddenly Ill While on a Visit to Lord Salisbury.

LONDON, Jan. 12, 4.30 p.m.—Lord Iddesleigh is dead. Thus far but meagre particulars are known regarding his death. It has been ascertained, however, that he was taken suddenly ill this afternoon while in conference with Lord Salisbury, and death ensued shortly after.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—It is now ascertained that Lord Iddesleigh was not taken with his fatal illness while engaged in conversation with Lord Salisbury, but that he fainted while ascending the stairs of Lord Salisbury's official residence on Downing street, as he was about to visit his Lordship. He was taken into the Prime Minister's room and almost instantly expired.

The Right Hon. Sir Stafford Henry Northcote, Bart, G. C. B., M. P., F. R. S., was the eldest son of the late Henry Stafford Northcote, Esq., by his first wife, and was born in London October 27, 1818. He was educated at Eton and at Balliol College, Oxford. While Mr Gladstone was president of the Board of Trade (1843-5) he acted as that gentleman's private secretary, and became Legal Secretary to the Board in 1847. Sir Stafford succeeded to the family title and estates on the death of his grandfather in 1851. He has held several high appointments, among them being Financial Secretary of the Treasury, Secretary of State for India, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, and was, until a few days ago, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. He was also a member of the Joint High Commission, whose labors resulted in the Treaty of Washington in 1871. Sir Stafford, who was a magistrate and Deputy-Lieutenant for Devonshire, married in 1843 Cecil, daughter of Thomas Farrer, Esq., Lincoln's Inn. He was created Earl of Iddesleigh in 1885.

THE OUTLOOK MORE WARLIKE.

Bismarck's Speech has the Effect of Making the Situation Look Darker.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Times thinks it probable that Prince Bismarck will be defeated. It says "His statement is discouraging, both to those who looked to Germany as the main stay of peace on the basis of treaty rights and those who hoped to see Europe gradually relieved of the grievous burden of enormous armies and increasing taxation. He sees the threatened storm and is determined to provide for the safety of his own country."

The Daily News, referring to Prince Bismarck's speech, says it will have a bad effect upon the peace of Europe, and that it tends to confirm the fears that Germany meditates an attempt upon France.

The Telegraph thinks the speech will chill to the freezing point the martial ardor of the Relanche party in France and that the utterances of both Count Von Moltke and the Chancellor will have a good effect in preserving peace.

The Standard says the speeches of Prince Bismarck and Count Von Moltke in the Reichstag have made the situation look darker if possible than ever. Count Von Moltke's assurances of Germany's desire for peace is doubtless sincere and made in good faith, and Prince Bismarck's utterances in the same strain, may possibly be sincere also; but the stringent measures to endeavor to maintain peace only show how precarious the continuance of peace is.

The German Imperial Government has sent to the Government of every state in the Empire a circular asking its approval of the proposed increase of the army.

RUSSIA'S LATEST MOVE.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—Among the warlike rumors prevailing is one that Russia contemplates making a descent upon northern and northwestern Norway. It is said the Russian agents are intriguing to cause an uprising among the Finns there that will serve as a casus belli for her occupying the territory.

FRANCE MAKING READY.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—It is said that the Government will ask a credit of 87,500,000 francs to enable it to commence the manufacture of rifles and increase the defences.

Rumours are current that General Boulanger will resign the portfolio of War because Premier Goblet refuses to countenance heavy military credits.

Destitute Crees.

FORT KEOGH, Mont., Jan. 12.—A despatch from Fort Shaw states that there is terrible suffering and privation among the Cree Indians in the south fork of the Sun river. They are entirely destitute of good clothing and are not in any way fortified against the inclemency of the weather. These Indians subsist almost entirely by hunting and fishing, and the low temperature, combined with the heavy snow, has rendered it almost impossible to secure food of any description. This band of Crees are in reality British subjects. They were engaged in the Riel rebellion, and came across the line last summer. They then numbered 400, but many of them have since died.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

PRODUCES SWEET AND NATURAL SLEEP.

"Dr. C. R. Dake, Belleville, Ill., says: "I have found it, and it alone, to produce sweet and natural sleep in cases of wakefulness caused by overwork of the brain, which often occurs with active professional and business men."

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

APPROVED OF.

VIENNA, Jan. 12.—It is learned from semi-official sources that Prince Bismarck's speech in the Reichstag yesterday meets with lively recognition in Government circles, as it is thought to show that he is trying to effect an entente cordiale between the Cabinets at St. Petersburg and Vienna.

THE QUEEN AND LADY COLIN.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Queen showed interest in Lady Colin Campbell by asking one of the ladies of the Royal household to arrange to meet her at dinner and express the Queen's sympathy and her opinion that the result of the trial ought to be accepted as a complete vindication of Lady Colin. The dinner was given by one of the most popular women in London, whose house is a well known social headquarters, and the company included a Cabinet Minister and a dozen ladies and gentlemen, almost all notable for their position in literature or society.

STEAMER DISABLED.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The steamer Albano, from Sunderland for Baltimore, was spoken January 8, 513 miles west of Fastnet by the steamer City of Chicago. The Albano had lost her rudder and was trying to rig a temporary substitute.

COLLISION AT AN EVICTION.

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—As an outcome of the prohibition of the Nationalist meeting, announced to be held on the occasion of the threatened wholesale evictions at Rosslea, there was a collision between a crowd of about 4,000 persons, who were waiting to receive Mr. Dillon, and a force of police and a draft of village peasants, the latter of whom were armed with sticks. The police used their sticks freely, and succeeded in dispersing the crowd. Mr. Dillon and a Catholic clergyman, who were present, while strongly protesting against the action of the police, persuaded the people to return to their homes.

MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS.

ROME, Jan. 12.—The Propaganda has received letters from Catholic missionaries in Uganda, Africa, in which is related the story of a massacre of native Christians there. The writers say that King Mannaga recently discovered a servant studying a catechism, and being greatly enraged caused the massacre of one hundred negro converts. Most of the victims were burned alive. Monnaga, the missionaries say, vows that he will destroy all Christians in his kingdom.

AN EVICTION SCENE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 12.—At Bossmahagher, County Limerick, a landlord named D'Esterre attempted to evict a tenant named Frost, who owed him more than £700 for rent. The police, followed by a large crowd of people, upon arriving at Frost's house found it barricaded, and outside the front entrance a high pile of stones. In front of this pile and securely bound to it by chains was Father Little, the parish priest. The police surveyed the scene and found the priest had been chained in such a manner that entrance to the house could not be forced without disturbing him. This they were disposed to do, but the crowd threatened to assault the police if they laid hands on the priest, and finally became so demonstrative that the police drew their batons and charged upon the people. The priest still chained to the pile of stones vehemently denounced the landlord who had accompanied the police to the house, and Mr. D'Esterre finally agreed to settle the matter by allowing Frost to purchase his holding on the basis of eighteen years rental.

PROSECUTION OF MR. DILLON.

DUBLIN, Jan. 12.—It is reported that the Executive will prosecute Mr. Dillon with the purpose to estreat his sureties.

RADICAL-LIBERAL UNION.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—It is now believed that there is a real desire on the part of Mr. Chamberlain and Sir George Trevelyan to find a modus vivendi with the Home Rule Liberals. It is generally believed that the ministerial policy of Lord Salisbury's Cabinet, as it develops itself, will do more to reunite the dissentient Liberals than any cut-and-dried resolutions which they may adopt among themselves. If the conferences do not lead to co-operation, they will at all events promote a friendly feeling between the two sections of the Oppositionand it is likely to bring about a more definite understanding in the near future. The great meeting which was held in St. James's hall last evening will help the reunion considerably. The meeting has never been surpassed in London for enthusiasm and unanimity. The Liberals are now hopeful that they will be able to carry many of the metropolitan seats at the next general election.

AFFECTED BY IDDESLEIGH'S DEATH.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Queen was deeply affected by the news of the Earl's death and immediately sent a telegram expressing her sympathy with the widow and family. The Prime Minister arrived soon after Lord Iddesleigh was taken ill, and while the doctors were trying to rally him. He is greatly affected by the death of his former minister. Mr. Gladstone, who always highly esteemed Lord Iddesleigh, was much affected, and Mrs. Gladstone sent the following telegram: "We are sorely grieved by the news of the death of one so eminent, respected and beloved. We must reserve a more particular expression of our feelings until later."

SIR HENRY DRUMMOND WOLFF.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Sir Henry Drummond Wolff will depart for Constantinople in a few days.

CONFERENCE OF DELEGATES.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—A conference of colonial delegates will be held here on April the first.

EMIN BEY'S POSITION.

CAIRO, Jan. 12.—Dr. Junker, the explorer, has arrived. He says that when he left Emin Bey a year ago the latter was in a condition to hold out 18 months. It will take four months for a relief expedition to reach Emin Bey after leaving Zanzibar.

RESIGNATION OF LORD CADOGAN.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Standard announces that Earl Cadogan has resigned the office of Lord Privy Seal.

A JUDGE'S REBUKE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 12.—At the Listowel session, yesterday, Judge Warren, in hearing ejectmen cases, refused to rescind the arrears of rent on the ground that when he did so last session the tenants attributed the most evil intentions to him.

THE PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Hon. Bernard Coleridge, M. P., son of Lord Chief Justice Coleridge, in a speech at Sheffield last night, said he freely gave his moral support to the National League's plan of campaign.

COAL.

The proceedings before the courts in Philadelphia throw considerable light upon the manner of conducting their business adopted by the coalowners of that portion of the United States from which we draw a considerable portion of our fuel, and therefore have a considerable interest for us in Ontario. It is shown on the clearest evidence that the anthracite coalowners of Pennsylvania, and the railways carrying the coal, form a gigantic pool which limits and apportions the output so as to maintain prices. We can therefore easily see, though it is not a point before the court, how the same combination can fix, as we know they do, the price of coal to suit the circumstances of different localities. Where there is competition they lower the price, and where there is no competition they raise the price without regard to relative distance or cost of transport, so long as they can retain a market for their output and obtain sufficient remuneration on the average.

This policy of the Pennsylvania coal owners, and of others in the United States, has an interest for us in two ways. In the first place, as it is obvious that they can exact from us any price that is not so high as to drive us to the use of other fuel, we have an interest in the amount the pool chooses to charge us. In the second place, there is the question, so much debated, of the effect of our import duty on coal. As the combination takes into consideration the competition at various points in their own country, so they do as to their exports to this country. To retain the Ontario market they fix the price so as to allow the greater part, if not the whole, of the duty. Thus it is really they, and not we, who pay the duty, for it is the same as if they charged the Canadian importer an amount proportionate to the prices in the States, and then made him an allowance to pay the duty. Instead of doing this they deduct it from their price list. If, therefore, the duty were repealed to-morrow it would simply go into the pockets of the coal owners and carriers, who would at once raise their prices that much and retain just the same hold of the market here. It is sometimes said that if the importer were relieved from paying the duty he could sell coal much cheaper. No doubt he could do so as to the coal then in transit, for he would have the allowance for the duty he would not be called upon to pay it, so he would have it in his pocket to keep there or give his customers the benefit of it. But on his next order he would have no such advantage, for the coal owner would not allow him for a duty he had no longer to pay, and he would find the price raised. Again our free traders sometimes argue that if the coal owners pay the duty it would be well to raise it and make them contribute more largely to our revenue. Well it is possible that the limit is not reached, and that the coalowners might be willing to increase their allowance somewhat without cutting down their profits to an extent which would make them refuse to do business with us. But it is evident there must be a limit beyond which they would not go, and they would either refuse to sell to us leaving us to use other fuel, or they would decline to pay all the duty, when the prices here would be raised permitting greater play to competition.

These are the facts and no one who looks into the matter, testing it practically by the figures, can fail to perceive that the coal owners of the United States pay the duty and thus contribute very materially to our revenue for the sake of retaining our custom.

The Globe is again giving special prominence to a very cowardly attack upon Lady Macdonald, made by Mr. Blake in a public speech that he delivered in Toronto.

While we object strongly to the use of personalities, believing that the public record of a public man should be discussed by the press and not his private affairs or those of his relations, still we feel that a politician who attacks a woman to gratify his malice outlaws himself, and places himself outside the pale of consideration due to a man of good repute. Because Mr. Blake cannot, by his policy on public question, supplant Sir John Macdonald in the esteem and affection of the people of Canada, he is vindictive enough to place himself on the level of a discharged flunkey and to babble about the New Year's presents made to Lady Macdonald, simply because she is the wife of the man he hates so virulently, yet impotently. How would Mr. Blake like to have the misdeeds of his own relations brought up against him? If he wishes to know the character for honesty borne by his brother and partner we may refer him to the Police Magistrate of Peterborough, who has had occasion to express himself very plainly and strongly on the subject.

BRAVE VOLUNTEERS.

The 90th regiment of Winnipeg is brave. It proved that fact conclusively at Fish Creek and Batoche. And now it gives fresh proof of its indomitable courage. It proposes to visit Ontario—a Province where the members of the regiment have been held up to public view as cut-throats, incendiaries, looters, brutes and ravishers: a Province the legislature of which recorded its opinion that the unfortunate man whom the 90th pursued to the death was a hero and a martyr. One would suppose that the same Province could not contain the 90th regiment and the Toronto Globe; but it seems that it is to be.—Hamilton Spectator.

MR. MOWAT'S MR. PACAUD.

That miserable little demagogue, Pacaud, of North Essex, was elected to the Ontario legislature because Riel was executed. He goes to the legislature as the representative of an idea that should be anything but popular in Ontario: and he is to sit beside loyal Canadians in a city that sent about a thousand of the "thieves and murderers"—as he was not long ago pleased to call them in his paper—who put down a rebellion in the Northwest. Pacaud is not a credit to the party whose banner he carries.—Chicago Canadian-American.

THRASH ANYWAY.

The fact seems to be that no matter what Sir John Macdonald does the Grit organ assumes it to be its duty to assail him. It clamoured for the execution of Riel and declared that Sir John was afraid to let the law take its course. Then when the law took its course it denounced Sir John for hanging an insane man. "When I go home," said an inebriated and belated citizen, "if my wife is sitting up waiting for me I will thrash her for wasting the gas; if she is not sitting up waiting for me I will thrash her for going to bed; blame me if I don't thrash her anyway."—Toronto Telegram (Ind.)

VILLAGE POLITICS.

Some of the Liberal newspapers are greatly exercised over the prospect of Sir Charles Tupper's return to re-enter public life in Canada. They are, after the fashion of party organs, giving him a warm welcome by anticipation. The foremost among them is the Toronto Globe. That paper devotes more than half a page of Monday's issue to the reproduction of the accounts for furnishing and fitting up the residence of the High Commissioner in London. The organ of the Liberal party does not say in so many words that the articles named in the bills have become the property of Sir Charles Tupper, but it is quite evident that it desires to convey that impression to its readers. Nothing could be more disingenuous than this. The furniture is no more Sir Charles Tupper's than it is the editor of the Globe's. Every penny's worth of it belongs to the people of Canada. It has been purchased for Sir Charles Tupper alone, but for any gentleman who may occupy the position of High Commissioner. The Government have come to the conclusion that the gentleman who represents Canada in London should be able to live in a style befitting his position. This he cannot do on the salary allowed him by the Government. Two thousand pounds a year to a man who occupies a public position in London is a very small income indeed. It was found necessary to provide the High Commissioner with a furnished residence. The house, considering the style in which Canada's representative is required to live in the capital of the British Empire, is by no means extravagantly furnished. It is for furnishing this house in which the High Commissioner may be said to be merely a lodger, that Sir Charles Tupper is arraigned by the Globe. It was competent for the Globe to call in question the wisdom of giving the High Commissioner a furnished residence in addition to his salary. The establishment of the office of High Commissioner itself is a fair subject for criticism, but it is the Government that is to be called to account for the addition to the expenditure which these acts cause and not Sir Charles Tupper. It is a very small and a very dishonest piece of business to attempt to create a prejudice against Sir Charles Tupper for the purchase by the Government of furniture for the residence of the Canadian High Commissioner. It is no wonder that the party press of the Dominion is fast getting into disrepute when the organ of the Liberal party descends to such a paltry device to injure a powerful political opponent.—Montreal Star (Indep.)

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d84

ITS SIGNIFICANCE.

The Toronto Globe did not delay to point out the moral of Mr. Mowat's victory. It is a victory for the Rielites, a victory for the shameful faction in Ontario who, after clamouring for months for the blood of the rebel leader, after taunting the Government with subservience to the French, after declaring that they dare not hang Riel, and threatening them with popular vengeance if they failed to bring him to justice, suddenly turned round as soon as Riel was hanged and denounced his execution as a crime, and at once proceeded to join hands with the party in Quebec who were calling for vengeance on the Government for sending him to the scaffold. Mowat's victory was the triumph of these men; he has constituted himself one of their chief leaders and declared his sympathy with that section of the French population of Quebec who glorify Riel as a hero and a martyr and shout for vengeance on the Government which executed him. He supported in North Essex the candidature of Gaspard Pacaud, who has made himself notorious all over Ontario for his insults to the volunteers who took part in the suppression of the rebellion. Pacaud has been elected by French and Grit votes to represent North Essex in the Ontario Parliament. Therefore we say that Mowat's victory is the victory of the Rielites. The Toronto Globe does not conceal the fact; on the contrary, it glories in it.—Pembroke Standard.

The man who put ten bullets in succession, inside the circumference of a Milwaukee girl's finger ring, at fifteen paces, was a pretty good shot, but he wasn't half so wise as the bilious man who put ten of Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" into his system in five days, and on the sixth walked ten miles "just because he felt so well." If your blood is out of order, if you feel low spirited and "blue," you will find these Little Liver Pills just what you need.

COAL.

THE proceedings before the courts in Philadelphia throw considerable light upon the manner of conducting their business adopted by the coalowners of that portion of the United States from which we draw a considerable portion of our fuel, and therefore have a considerable interest for us in Ontario. It is shown on the clearest evidence that the anthracite coalowners of Pennsylvania, and the railways carrying the coal, form a gigantic pool which limits and apportions the output so as to maintain prices. We can therefore easily see, though it is not a point before the court, how the same combination can fix, as we know they do, the price of coal to suit the circumstances of different localities. Where there is competition they lower the price, and where there is no competition they raise the price without regard to relative distance or cost of transport, so long as they can retain a market for their output and obtain sufficient remuneration on the average.

This policy of the Pennsylvania coal owners, and of others in the United States, has an interest for us in two ways. In the first place, as it is obvious that they can exact from us any price that is not so high as to drive us to the use of other fuel, we have an interest in the amount the pool chooses to charge us. In the second place, there is the question, so much debated, of the effect of our import duty on coal. As the combination takes into consideration the competition at various points in their own country, so they do as to their exports to this country. To retain the Ontario market they fix the price so as to allow the greater part, if not the whole, of the duty. Thus it is really they, and not we, who pay the duty, for it is the same as if they charged the Canadian importer an amount proportionate to the prices in the States, and then made him an allowance to pay the duty. Instead of doing this they deduct it from their price list. If, therefore, the duty were repealed to-morrow it would simply go into the pockets of the coal owners and carriers, who would at once raise their prices that much and retain just the same hold of the market here. It is sometimes said that if the importer were relieved from paying the duty he could sell that much cheaper. No doubt he could do so as to the coal then in transit, for he would have the allowance for the duty he would not be called upon to pay it, so he would have it in his pocket to keep there or give his customers the benefit of it. But on his next order he would have no such advantage, for the coal owner would not allow him for a duty he had no longer to pay, and he would find the price raised. Again our free traders sometimes argue that if the coal owners pay the duty it would be well to raise it and make them contribute more largely to our revenue. Well it is possible that the limit is not reached, and that the coalowners might be willing to increase their allowance somewhat without cutting down their profits to an extent which would make them refuse to do business with us. But it is evident there must be a limit beyond which they would not go, and they would either refuse to sell to us leaving us to use other fuel, or they would decline to pay all the duty, when the prices here would be raised permitting greater play to competition.

These are the facts and no one who looks into the matter, testing it practically by the figures, can fail to perceive that the coal owners of the United States pay the duty and thus contribute very materially to our revenue for the sake of retaining our custom.

NEWS NOTES.

There were 358 suicides in Vienna last year.

A strike of 30,000 miners in Northumberland is imminent, owing to a dispute about wages.

Catharine Taugher, of Belleville, has been committed for trial at Buffalo on a charge of smuggling.

China has agreed to pay $25,000 to the American missionaries who suffered losses during the recent riots.

The Bulgarian delegates wish France to request Russia to withdraw Prince Nicholas of Mingrelia as a candidate.

A terrible snowstorm prevailed in the midland counties of England on Saturday, resulting, it is feared, in loss of life.

The Danish Lower House has been dissolved, owing to the rejection of the Government's financial proposals and army estimates.

An extra of the Canada Gazette, containing a proclamation calling into effect the North-West Representation Act of last session, was published on Tuesday.

Advices were received in Toronto on Tuesday that the seventh ship bringing tea from Japan by the Canadian Pacific route arrived at Port Moody, B C., on Monday.

A motion was made at Osgoode hall on Tuesday for a writ of mandamus to compel the County Judge of Northumberland and Durham to hold a re-count of the ballots cast at the West Durham election for the Local Legislature.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is recommended by physicians of great eminence, on both sides of the Atlantic, as the most reliable remedy for colds, coughs, and all pulmonary disorders. It affords prompt relief. No family should be without it.

A true bill was returned by the grand jury at the Toronto Criminal Assizes on Tuesday against Patrick Burns, John H. Venables and Thomas G Johnson, for conspiring to defraud the city in connection with the delivery of coal.

At the annual meeting of the Montreal Board of Trade on Tuesday, a resolution endorsing the proposal to provide a residence in the city for the Governor-General, and pledging the members to give it all the aid in their power, was carried unanimously.

At the last meeting of the Kingston city council a resolution was adopted to memorialize the Ontario Government to establish a School of Practical Science for Eastern Ontario in that city, and a deputation was appointed to press the matter on the Government.

Health is impossible when blood is impure, thick and sluggish, or when it is thin and impoverished. Such conditions give rise to boils, pimples, headaches, neuralgia rheumatism and other disorders. Ayer's Sarsaparilla makes the blood pure, rich, and vitalizing.

Three actions against Ayer & Co., in connection with the seizure of their patent medicines, are reported to have been entered in the Court of Exchequer by the Department of Customs. The total amount [illegible]

The report of the commission of officers sent to Canada recently to purchase remounts for the British Cavalry and the trial horses taken to England have proved so satisfactory to the War Office that orders have been given for the purchase of three hundred more Canadian horses next year.

Strange Stories.

A Maine woodman saw a rabbit, on the ice and it did not run away as he drew near. It had hopped into a shallow puddle of water and had stood still till its feet were firmly frozen to the ice.

Among the sights seen only in the temple gardens of China are orange-trees not larger than currant bushes, growing in tubs. The bushes are not two feet high, but they are very fruitful, in bearing season being loaded with the yellow mandarin.

A New York housekeeper writes that she has a maid-servant now working for $14 a month that has several thousand dollars in railroad stock, which she had accumulated. She reads the news, dresses well and does good work from scrubbing to cooking or sewing.

James G. Richardson, of Lake City, Minn., has invented several contrivances so that while lying in bed, by pulling wires he feeds his horse, lights the kitchen fire and opens the draughts of the base burner in the sitting room. Mr. Richardson is from Connecticut.

Two weeks ago William Bryan went gunning on North Mountain, Penn., and became lost. For five days they wandered around; and on the sixth day he killed his dog for food. He lived on the dog meat for three days. Then he was found by two other hunters. His hands and feet were so badly frozen that they had to be amputated.

In Westchester county, New York, the other day, a handful of red pepper was placed in the nostrils of a sick cow by advice of a veterinary surgeon. While the doctor, the owner, and the latter's son's nephew, and the hired man were working with the animal she suddenly sneezed, and nearly blinded all hands by sending the pepper into their eyes.

Several months ago Samuel Clevenger, his wife and adopted daughter, a young white man and a negro, started for Arizona to go to Washington Territory. Clevenger had with him some $6,000 and between thirty and forty mules and horses. Recently his remains were found near the Utah line, but where the rest of the party is is still a mystery.

A gang of colored boys in Indianapolis have been making considerable money by furnishing a fur dealer there with cat skins. He pays them twenty-five cents for a Maltese cat skin, fifteen cents for a well-spotted skin and five cents for the average everyday cat skin. The dealer says that Maltese cat skins make the finest of gloves.

A footpad near South Prairie, Wyoming, held up a citizen the other evening about dusk, but before he could rifle the pockets of his victim some men came along. They caught the robber, stripped him to the waist, gave him a sound thrashing and advised him to leave, otherwise he would be hanged on the spot. He took the advice.

Jabez Beaumont, of East own, Penn., who has just celebrated his ninety-second birthday, thinks that he was never die. He says that when he was a young man a woman offered him a drink saying: "That's likely to kill you. If you drink it and recover from the effects you will never die." He drank, was quite ill, but recovered, and now in his vigorous old age is firmly convinced that he will live forever.

Buried in a Snowslide.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 11.—The Pacific express, due here from the West on Saturday evening, did not arrive till Sunday evening, and then in a rather demoralized condition of ventilation. The windows of all cars on one side, as well as the stovepipes, were broken, which was done by fallen trees between Kamloops and Donald, B.C. The train was delayed by a snowslide east of Donald. Fortunately for the passengers the side was not a great one, but while the majority of them remained under but a few minutes, the rest did not escape so lightly. One of the men buried entirely out of sight for one hour and thirty-five minutes before the gang of searchers came across him. He was removed in a very weak and semifrozen condition to a car, and with proper attention soon revived from the shock.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to take. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Forewarned

of danger by the condition of your blood, as shown in pimples, blotches, boils, or discolorations of the skin; or by a feeling of languor, induced, perhaps, by inactivity of the stomach, liver, and kidneys, you should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will renew and invigorate your blood, and cause the vital organs to properly perform their functions. If you suffer from

Rheumatism,

or Neuralgia, a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla will relieve and cure you. Alice Kendall, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass., writes: "I have been troubled with Neuralgia, pain in the side, and weakness, and have found greater relief from Ayer's Sarsaparilla than from any other remedy." J. C. Tolman, 336 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "In no other remedy have I ever found such a happy relief from Rheumatism as in

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Forearmed

with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, there need be no fear of Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Catarrh, Liver troubles, or any of the diseases arising from Scrofulous taints in the blood. Geo. Garwood, Big Springs, Ohio, writes: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been used in my family for a number of years. I was a constant sufferer from but Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a permanent cure. Seven years ago my wife was troubled with Goitre: two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured her, and she has never had any return of the disease. I regard this preparation as the best medicine in use for the blood." B. Barnard Wair, 75 Adams st., Lynn, Mass., writes: "For many years I suffered terribly from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Scrofula. Almost hopeless, I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and am a well man to-day." Be sure and get Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most thorough and effective blood purifier. The best is the cheapest.

Dyspepsia,

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Very Cold.

The Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering thermometer recorded 15½ degrees below zero on Wednesday night.

Personal.

Mrs. J. E McIntyre, who has been ill for the past few weeks, is convalescent.

Scott Act.

Thos. Mason, of Lakefield, on Wednesday pleaded guilty to a first offence against the provisions of the Scott Act. He was fined $50 and costs, which he paid.

Stepping into Space.

Mr. Wm. Rose, of the Oriental Hotel, had the misfortune to step into an open cellar way on Wednesday, and in his unexpected and rapid flight sprained his ankle so badly that he will be confined to bed for several days.

Tobogganing.

The Riverside Park presented a stirring appearance on Wednesday night. The toboggan slide had been chartered for the evening, and for a couple of hours a party of about sixty had "a glorious time." The slide was in fine condition and the electric light illuminated the park brilliantly.

Band at the Rink.

The Fire Brigade Band was at the rink on Wednesday evening. There was a fairly large attendance of skaters and two of the curling rinks were in use. Arrangements have been made with the band for attendance on two nights in the week:—Friday night and Wednesday night.

Evangelistic Meetings.

Mr. Geo. H. Marsh, an evangelist from England, has been secured by the Young Men's Christian Association. He will probably begin work here on the 21st inst. The meetings will be for men only, but it is probable that Bible Readings will be arranged for in the afternoons especially for the lady friends of young men.

This Evening.

A meeting of the friends and supporters of Mr. Stevenson, Conservative candidate for the representation of West Peterborough in the House of Commons, will be held at 8 o'clock this evening, in the club room, over Mr. Stethem's store. The Reform party is organized for the coming contest, so let there be a rally to-night of the supporters of Mr. Stevenson and good government.

After His Horse.

John Angus Grant, of Brockville, is at present making enquiries after his horse. He says that on Monday, January 10th, in the evening, he left it in front of the Commercial Hotel of that town and that when he went to drive away again it was gone. He describes the animal as being a bright bay, with four white legs and a white strip down his face. The cutter to which the horse was attached was brown painted and had in it two black buffalos labelled "John Angus Grant."

PRESBYTERY OF PETERBOROUGH.

Regular Meeting—Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

The Guide says:—"The Presbytery of Peterborough met for ordinary business in Mill Street Church, Port Hope, on Tuesday at 10 a. m., the Rev. Mr. Sutherland in the chair. The attendance of ministers was large. The business before the court was large and varied and fully occupied it till the hour of adjournment at 6 p. m.

Among the items of public interest transacted, was the appointment of a committee consisting of Messrs. Mitchell, Cleland, D. Chisholm and J. F. Clark, to take all necessary steps to hold a congregational meeting at Oak Hill church for the appointment of trustees to hold and manage the property.

The Rev. Mr. Hyde received and accepted a call from Warsaw and Dummer, his ordination and induction to take place on Feb. 1st, at 2 p. m.

The name of the Rev. Mr. Beattie, of Campbellford, was placed on the roll of Presbytery as that of minister without charge residing within the bounds.

The Presbytery unanimously agreed to the remit discontinuing the exercise of dicipline in the case of those contracting marriage with a deceased wife's sister.

The next ordinary meeting will be held in St. Paul's Church, Peterborough, on Tuesday, March 22nd, at 10 a. m.

A meeting of the Presbyterial Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was held morning and afternoon, in the Presbyterian Hall, Walton Street. The attendance of ladies was large in spite of the storm raging. The reports for the year were of a very cheering chacter, indicating marked progress in the number of societies, membership and contribution. The following officers were chosen for the year:—Mrs. McEwen, of Lakefield, President; Mrs. Galbraith, of Port Hope, and Mrs. Fairbairn, of Peterborough, Vice-Presidents; Mrs. Jas. Craick, of Port Hope, Secretary, and Mrs. Henderson, of Cobourg, Treasurer.

In the evening a joint meeting of the Presbytery and W. F. M. S. was held in the Mill street Church. Addresses were delivered by the Rev. Messrs. Thompson and McEwen, and an abstract of the annual report of the W. F. M. S. for the presbytery, was read by the Rev. Mr. Mitchell, from which we learn that there are now 14 societies and three mission bands within the Presbytery, a gain of 5 societies and 2 bands within the year. The membership has increased by 25. The contributions amount to $328, an advance on last year of $200. Clothing to the value of $300 had been sent to the destitute Indian women and children of the North-West.

The meeting was brought to a close after passing a hearty vote of thanks on the part of the Presbytery to the ladies of Port Hope who had so kindly entertained the members of the Presbytery during its meeting."

It May be Remarked

—That the curlers are home again.

—That they did come back with feathers in their caps.

—And the REVIEW is skrigh of their skeel.

—That P. C. McGinty has a "hi like a beagle."

—That the tabogganers had a gl—orious time la t night.

—That No. 3 held forth last night.

—Had a jolly time and eloquent speeches.

—That, speaking of eloquence, the reponse to the last toast was good.

SALT and Fresh Water Fish at OSTROM'S

The Troublesome Twain.

A few nights ago two boys at the rink "sassed" Mr. John Cousins, the manager, and also exercised their tongues on John's partner. On Wednesday evening to pay off the boys John and his man refused to let them in. The boys were not to be left however. While one stood arguing at the door the other went around to the back part, wormed himself through a window and commenced skating. John gave chase around the rink, creating fun for the spectators. It was found that one was insufficient to catch him and John called on his reinforcement. That let the other one in. After a good deal of seesawing the boys were driven off.

Number Three Company of the City Battalion held a banquet in the Ashburnham Town Hall on Wednesday evening. The board was well loaded with the delicacies of the season and lined with red coats and large appetites. Capt R. B. Rogers occupied the chair. Among the invited guests there were Messrs. Lieut.-Col. Robt. Rogers, of the 40th. John Burnham, M. P., and Councillor Calcutt, Lieut.-Col. J. Z. Rogers and Lieut.-Col. Harry Rogers were unavoidably absent. After the removal of the cloth the usual loyal toasts were proposed and drank. Among other toasts proposed were: "The Dominion Parliament," coupled with the name of Mr. Burnham; "The Navy," coupled with the name of Mr. Calcutt; "The 40th," coupled with the name of Lieut.-Col. Robert Rogers; "The Non-Commissioned Officers," coupled with the names of Sergts. Geale and Wand; "Staff Sergt. Graham, the oldest member of the company," with his own name attached; and "G Company of North-West Rebellion Honor," coupled with the name of Pte. Crowe. The latest toast was that of "The Ladies," which was replied to by Pte. C. W. Orde, whose speech was pronounced to be in every respect bon ton, and thoroughly in accord with his gallantry. The cause of the ladies could have had no better defender. The company dispersed after the usual loyal fashion.

THE BIG BONSPEIL.

Canada Beats the States by 289—Peterborough's Finger in the Pie.

The international match between the curling clubs of the United States and Canada, took place in Toronto on Wednesday.

The United States sent 29 rinks. It was expected that several more rinks would take part in the contest, but owing to the recent snow storm the trains on which they were coming were blocked. In consequence of this several Canadian rinks were not allowed a place, and among those left out was one of the Peterborough rinks.

The match was played in the Adelaide street rink, the Mutual, the Old Granite and the New Granite commencing at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. Out of the twenty-nine rinks only nine played on the outside ice. The match resulted in a victory for the Kanucks of 289 shots, the score standing 790—501.

The rink representing Peterborough is as follows:—John McClelland, W. Salisbury, H. M. Allen, T. P. Attrill, skip. It was pitted against the New York Caledonians made up as follows: John Graham, Jas. Perkett, A. Walker, D. Faulis, skip. The score stood: Caledonians 12, Peterboroughs 33. Peterborough won by 21.

While this was going on the Hamilton Thistles, reputed to be the best club in Western Canada, and No. 2 Peterboroughs had a trial of steel in the Moss Park rink resulting as follows: Hamilton—T. H. Stinson, A. Gartshore, T. D. Walker, H. Fairgrilal, skip, 14. Peterborough—G. Walker, C. McGill, R. S. Davidson, W. G. Ferguson, skip, 33. Peterborough won by 19.

GERMAN ARMY BILL.

Bismarck Insists on its Adoption—A Strong Opposition.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—The debate on the Army Bill was resumed in the Reichstag to-day. Dr. Windthorst again spoke in favor of a triennate term.

Bismarck replied. "In three years," he said, "we might be confronted with altered circumstances. To be sure it is also impossible to calculate the position of affairs seven years hence, but in that period the efficiency of the army would be secured and a compromise would be possible. At the time when so many rights and priveleges were granted to the Reichstag by the constitution, there was no idea that they would lead to such miserable disputes as have now arisen."

Referring to the question of working classes, he declared that the Government did not wish to drag it into the present discussion. He was sure that if called upon by the Emperor the workingmen of Germany would be ready at all times to come forward in defence of the fatherland. In concluding, he again assured the House that he would not abandon a hairbreadth of the bill, and must insist upon the full scope of the measure. The debate was then adjourned.

Prince Bismarck has long daily conferences with the Emperor with reference, it is supposed, to the position of the Reichstag. In Government circles it is supposed that the division on the bill will be taken to-morrow. The Government supporters despair of the passage of the measure.

Ubiquitous Charlie.

On Wednesday night a small porker was hanging outside a Hunter Street butcher shop. He was fair, and weighed something over fifty pounds. A boy came along with a hand-sleigh. He looked at the porker. The sight was inviting. The boy stopped. The pig left the hook and was assisted on the sleigh. As the boy was hauling the pork along the street he encountered police vigilance in the form of P. C. McGinty. The latter was open to suspicion and at once passed on to the butcher shop, when, after a hurried interview with the butcher, both started out in hot pursuit. The boy saw the pursuers and sought retreat in the nearest yard. When the officer and the butcher found him he knelt down in the light of the pale moon on white snow, beside the stiff stark pork, and prayed for forgiveness. The butcher, recovering his property, declined to prosecute.

The Greater Man.

I was asked yesterday which I thought was the greater man, Horace Greeley or William Shakespeare. Well just like most everybody else, when such conundrums are put to them suddenly, I stuck. But I wish I had that fellow here now. The answer is "Greeley," but how inconvenient it is to think of an answer to a conundrum just three hours later when there's no one around? Greeley made a great revelation on which Shakespeare worked all in vain throughout the greater part of his life, as his plays all show. Over and over again, he says "Go to," "Go to," but there he always floundered. How many sleepless nights he must have spent with that inkling of the mighty truth haunting his weary brains—the truth which was reserved for an American to enlighten his people with. "Go to—go to"—cried Shakespeare, but the world had to wait years and years for the great Greeley to unfold in all the fulness of its glory—"the West, young man, the West."—Philadelphia North American.

Lord Lansdowne's Estates.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—The Governor-General's military secretary denies there has been, as reported by cable, any cases of hardship arising out of rent payments on the Marquis of Lansdowne's Kerry estates He gives the particulars of the five cases of alleged hardship reported to General Butler, an investigation into which showed the treatment of tenants to have been extremely lenient. There are about 1,000 tenants on the Kerry estate.

Mangled to Death on the Track.

MONTREAL, Jan. 12.—Peter Andrews, an employee of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in connection with the erection of the new bridge at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, was run over and killed by a train last night while proceeding along the track to his home for some tools he required. His body was horribly mangled, his head being split open and his right leg severed from the body. Deceased was thirth five years of age, unmarried, and had only arrived a short since from New York.

Business Men Attention.

WE CAN NOW OFFER several first-class positions to Advertisers in the REVIEW, and, as there is always a rush at the beginning of the year, in order that the best positions may be obtained, business men will do well to call immediately and secure their space for 1887.

During the present year renewed efforts will be made to make the REVIEW still more a thoroughly efficient medium whereby the Merchants and others can put and keep themselves prominently before the public. Extra precaution will be taken, and the best taste will be displayed in getting up all advertisements intrusted to us for publication, and in other respects as well, the "shrewd" business man will do well to patronize the columns of the

FRIDAY, JANUARY 14, 1887.

A SEASONABLE TOPIC.

LAST YEAR'S FRUIT AND FLOWER INTERESTS DISCUSSED.

Together With Future Prospects — A Move Towards the Introduction of the Public Parks Act.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society was held in the Council Chamber on Tuesday evening. There were present: Mr. J. H. Roper, President, in the chair; the Rev. V. Clementi, the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, Dr. Burnham and Messrs. John Burnham, M. P., Mayor Stevenson, Thos. Hay and G. M. Roger.

After a few introductory remarks from the chairman the Directors annual report was read by the Secretary as follows:—

DIRECTORS REPORT.

First annual report of the Directors of the Horticultural Society of the Town of Peterborough and the Village of Ashburnham.

GENTLEMEN,—Early last year it was thought desirable by the Directors of the Peterborough Horticultural Society to invite (under the provision set out in the Agricultural and Arts Act,) the Village of Ashburnham to unite with it and so form a stronger Society, hoping thereby to increase general interest in the operations of the same. Accordingly a public meeting was called by the Mayor of Peterborough and the Reeve of Ashburnham to be held in the Town Council Chamber in Peterboro' on the 19th day of April, 1886. Said meeting was held and was well attended by residents of both places, the Mayor occupied the chair. After organization it was agreed to form a society to be called the Horticultural Society of the Town of Peterborough and Village of Ashburnham. The following officers were elected:—

PRESIDENT—J H Roper.
1ST VICE PRESIDENT—Jas. Stevenson.
2ND VICE-PRESIDENT—John Burnham, M.P.
TREASURER—F. J. Lewis.
SECRETARY—J. D COLLINS.
DIRECTORS—Rev. V. Clementi, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, Messrs. John M'Clelland, D. W. Dumble, J. R. Stratton, Geo. A. Cox, W. VanEvery, Dr. Geo. Burnham and Col. H. C. Rogers.

One practical result of the foregoing was a largely increased number of members, being in all 90 whose names appear on the schedule.

Under the continued supervision of our worthy Mayor the work of improvement on the grounds of the Court House Park has been carried on with pleasing results. Too much praise cannot be given to Mr Stevenson for his unwearied and continuous interest manifested in so many ways in the improving of the grounds, and in promoting in general the interests of the Society, all of which is highly appreciated.

The Committee appointed to wait upon the Town Council did so and succeeded in obtaining a grant of $300 which however was inadequate even with the County and Government grants, to enable the Society to prosecute work which should be done, and it is hoped that the present Council when waited upon will feel disposed to respond even more liberally than their predecessors.

During the year the Society ordered and completed a flight of wooden steps from the stone steps above the fountain to the entrance gate in front of the Court House, which has added much to the appearance and convenience of that part of the park.

During the summer months the Fire Brigade Band performed choice selections on Friday evenings, which, judging from the crowds who attended, were highly appreciated.

The Water Company have kindly continued a gratuitous supply of water for the fountain and grounds, which has been duly appreciated.

The Electric Light Company has also liberally placed the necessary apparatus in the park and gratuitously lighted the grounds when requisite, thereby adding much to the pleasure and comfort of the public generally.

Considerable injury was done to the grounds last season by horses and cows tramping over the grass and flower beds, although in three instances the owners were discovered and fined. It is to be regretted that animals should be allowed in defiance of the by-law to wander about and damage property. In addition to the foregoing we have to regret that some of our citizens (old and young) do not take the interest it was hoped would be manifested in assisting the Society in preserving the grounds from injury, as, for instance, we may mention walking over flower beds, and up and down the terraces, and in wet weather walking on the soft sod on either side of the walks, thereby destroying it.

The annual exhibition was held in the Water street roller skating rink on the 7th of September, which we regret to say was far short of what we reasonably expected it would have been from the increased membership and extension of the Society. A pleasing addition was the rendering of a well selected vocal and instrumental programme under the kind and gratuitous direction of Mr. Parker.

By reference to the Treasurer's statement it will be seen that the balance in his hands is $102.07, after paying amongst other claims prize money to the amount of $141 75. There were 312 entries, being 45 less than the previous year.

While by this statement there is shown to be a balance in the Treasurer's hands, your Directors must not omit to state that the Society is in debt to Mr. Stevenson to the extent of $350 for work done and paid for by him.

In conclusion the Directors again hope that their hands may be better than ever sustained during the coming season by the public generally, thereby encouraging them to continue their efforts towards further improvements for the good of their fellow citizens, who, without doubt, derive great benefit and pleasure therefrom.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

J. H. ROPER, President.
J. D. COLLINS, Secretary.

Peterborough, Jan. 13, 1887.

The report was adopted,

THE STATE OF FINANCES.

A statement of the amount owing to Mayor Stevenson ($350.00) was submitted, showing the Society to be about $250.00 in debt.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election was proceeded with as follows:—

PRESIDENT.—J. H. Roper.
1st VICE-PRESIDENT.—John Burnham.
2nd VICE-PRESIDENT.—Jas. Stevenson.
SECRETARY.—J. W. Collins.
TREASURER.—F. J. Lewis.
DIRECTORS.—Dr. Burnham, J. McClelland, D. W. Dumble, J. R. Stratton, Geo. A. Cox, the Rev. V. Clementi, Dr. Halliday, A. McNeil and Lieut.-Col. Harry Rogers.

PUBLIC PARKS' ACT.

Mr. BURNHAM moved, seconded by Mr. HAY,—That in the opinion of this meeting the adoption of the Public Parks' Act is desirable, and that the Directors be requested to continue their efforts toward its adoption.—Carried.

JUVENILE BRANCH.

Mr. HAY moved, seconded by Mr. LEWIS,—That the Directors of the Society take into consideration the formation of a juvenile branch of the Society with reduced rates of membership, in order to cultivate a taste for horticulture amongst young people.—Carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

PORT HOPE.

SCOTT ACT CASES.—The following cases for infraction of the Scott Act, were before Police Magistrate Holland, this morning.—Messrs. William Mackie, W. R. Pethick, James Bradley, Lawrence Haw, A. A. Adams, Horton Gerbutt, Thos. Plain, Geo Owens and Robert Munro. In each case the charge was admitted, and the fine of $50 and cost paid. The Ontario Elections being over, now comes the old state of things.—Times.

A Crash at Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Jan. 13.—At 12-15 last night over 223,000 yards of solid limestone and solid rock went out of the bank near the Horseshoe Falls, on the Canada side. It fell with a terrible crash that was heard and felt for miles around. The break has considerably changed the appearance of the bank at this spot, and now a dark chasm can be seen behind the Falls form the bank above. All this rock, 60 feet wide by over 100 feet long and 170 feet deep, parted from the main rock, leaving a perpendicular wall. Most likely the tremendous weight of ice accumulating the past three weeks, with the steady frosty weather and the low water, was the cause of the break.

Coal Famine Threatened.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—At the coal exchange yesterday dealers said that if a settlement were not effected very soon nothing could save this city. New England and northern New York from a coal famine. There is not more than a week's supply in this city. Retail prices have been advanced from $1 to $2 per ton.

LATEST WIRE FLASHES

TROUBLE IN CRETE.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The Governor-General of Crete has informed the Porte that the Greeks in the district of Yorapetra had penetrated the fortress of Episcopi, overpowered the guards and set fire to the place. Troops captured the ringleader. There are fears of a collision with the Musslemans. It is expected the Porte will declare martial law in Crete.

MR GOSCHEN'S POSITION.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Mr. Goschen, in an address to the electors of the Exchange division of Liverpool, maintains that he is still a Liberal, but that he rallied to the support of the Government under the influence of a deep conviction that it was the duty of men of every party to unite and face in common the danger which is menacing the integrity of the United Kingdom. "I am," he says, "as anxious as any many for the welfare of the Irish people, but I repudiate the idea that popular government is not able to maintain the laws."

PACIFIC INTENTIONS.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—The Temps says: "Prince Bismarck's speech in the Reichstag will produce a singularly reassuring effect in Europe. In response to his declarations that Germany has no intention of attacking France, France can declare that she no longer dreams of attacking Germany." All the evening papers in their interpretations of the speech concur in attributing pacific intentions to Germany.

CONDEMNED TO DEATH.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—A man named Duval, who had been found guilty of robbery and incendiarism and of seriously injuring a gendarme, was yesterday condemned to death. Duval, who is an Anarchist, committed a burglary in a lady's house and afterwards fired the building. In court he made a violent speech, in which he endeavored to justify his action with extreme Anarchist tenets. Numerous Anarchists were present and vigorously applauded.

THE OUTLOOK IN IRELAND.

BELFAST, Jan. 13.—The Viceroy, replying to an address presented here yesterday, said that in his opinion the political outlook is better than it was few months ago. Through the patriotic efforts of the Chief Secretary a real advance has been made in overcoming many difficulties, and he was confident that the endeavor of the Government would be attended by lasting success.

DYNAMITE DALY'S DEFENCE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 13.—The convict Daly, who is undergoing a sentence for life at Limerick for complicity in the dynamite conspiracy, has obtained an interview with William Abraham, an Irish member of Parliament, with a view of making a public statement. According to his story, Daly never sympathized with the dynamiters and had a violent quarrel with O'Donovan Rossa on this account. He claims that his arrest was the result of deception, trickery and betrayal.

THE CONFERENCE.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The political conference between Gladstonites and Liberal Unionists took place at the residence of Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt to-day. Those present were Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt, John Morley, Baron Herschel, Joseph Chamberlain and George O. Trevelyan. The conference adjourned till Friday.

SIR DONALD SMITH.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Sir Donald Smith sails from England to-morrow week, his business being persumably in connection with his candidature for Winnipeg.

RUSSIAN FINANCES.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—A St. Petersburg despatch says:—The budget for the past year has been published. It shows a deficit of £5,222,654. The extra expenditures amount to £1,000,000, and the expenditure for railway and harbor making to £6,916,313. The Minister of Finance attributes the continued commercial crisis to the unavoidable reduction of public and private incomes, resulting from the depression. He considers it inexpedient to increase the present taxes or to levy new ones, as there are resources available sufficient to cover the deficit. He proposes to raise the £5,071,828 paid for extra expenditures by means of a loan.

HIS WORK FINISHED.

Lord Iddesleigh Dies Leaving no Arrears of Work—Tributes of Respect.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Lord Iddesleigh worked in the foreign office the whole of yesterday forenoon, arranging for his retirement. He had been staying at Lord Fortescue's house, his own town residence being under repairs. He had had a good night's rest, and remarked at breakfast in the morning, with evident satisfaction, "I shall leave no arrears, which is more than every one can say who resigns office."

Dr. Mortimer Granville, who frequently attended Lord Iddesleigh, says His Lordship suffered from valvular disease of the heart. His prospects of life depended at any time upon the general condition of his health. He had advised his lordship to accept office, believing that mental employment would be beneficial.

The Standard says: "With the sad honors paid to Lord Iddesleigh's memory will mingle lively sympathy for the Premier who must feel, as an aggravation of bitterness, that in his last days anything interfered with the happy relations which bound Lord Iddesleigh to the Conservative cause."

The Daily Telegraph says:—"A more honorable, straightforward man never sat in either Houses. His loyalty to his party was not in the least affected by recent events, nor was his confidence in the Government shaken."

Drought in Texas.

GALVESTON, Texas, Jan. 13.—The general drought that has prevailed over almost the entire State of Texas for the past six weeks remains unbroken, and the situation in some sections is rapidly growing serious. All reports indicate that cattle men and farmers are becoming alarmed at the outlook. Except along the coast no rain of any consequence has fallen since early last September, and the cattle ranges are covered with dead grass. The winter wheat is seriously injured, but the dry weather has facilitated the movement of cotton, and nearly the entire crop has been marketed.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

PRODUCES SWEET AND NATURAL SLEEP.

Dr C. R. Dake, Belleville, Ill., says: "I have found it, and it alone, to produce sweet and natural sleep in cases of wakefulness caused by overwork of the brain, which often occurs with active professional and business men."

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 14, 1887.

THE NORTH-WEST INDIANS.

The charges made against the Indian officials in the North-West of neglecting, oppressing and cheating the Indians and of leading dishonest and immoral lives, caused us to look into the public records to ascertain what foundation there was for all these diatribes. It was a long task, for there are hundreds of pages of the blue books for a number of years to be perused, but, though it was long, it was not wearisome. The story thus told in detail of our dealings with the aborigines of the country was full of interest, and was most satisfactory in many respects. It is so rare to find that the savage inhabitants of any land have been well treated by their civilized intruders that Canada may well be proud of having systematically shown not only justice to the red men, but even generosity and consideration. Spain, Portugal, Holland, France, the United States and other countries brought into contact with savages can boast of no such record, and even our own country men have not always been so humane throughout the wide expanse of our colonial empire.

It is most satisfactory to find that our fair and kindly treatment of the Indians in the North-West has had good results. As the consecutive yearly reports on the same tribe are read it is most interesting and satisfactory to watch the steady and general improvement. In some bands the progress in religion, in education, in steadiness, in industry, and consequent comfort, is most marked. And even in the least hopeful cases, a desponding account from an agent one year is sometimes succeeded in subsequent years by welcome details of unexpected progress. Even the rebellion, with the disturbing influences exercised by more civilized men, who thereby had a control over them which they should have used better, seemed to be limited in the extent and duration of its evil effects. Our general policy as regards the Indians has certainly been marked with success. That these children of nature have sometimes been stubborn, wasteful and ungrateful, is only what might have been expected, but these drawbacks were surprisingly little manifested, and seem to be in a fair way to disappear.

It is a most gratifying feature of the case to find that these good results are largely due to the much maligned Indian officials, who with zeal discretion, perseverance and kindly sympathy carried out the wise and just policy they were entrusted to administer. Page after page of the official reports show signs of the interest taken by the agents and instructors in those under their charge, their patience with them, their readiness to endorse even their too exacting requests, and their efforts for their improvement. There is nothing to lead to the slightest suspicion of dishonesty, immorality, neglect or oppression. One can well understand why it was that the politicians who were so free with their vague slanders against these worthy men, never dared to descend to particulars, to demand an investigation into any one case, as they would have been so glad to do if they could have hoped for success. The only case in which they ventured to particularize was a cowardly, and as they thought, safe attack upon the dead, upon poor Delancy, a zealous, able and genial official, who was murdered at the post of duty, which he would not desert. It would be strange that there should not be a black sheep in so large a body, were it not well known how carefully they were selected. We have been told by an old official of the Hudson Bay Company that when he recommended a would-be Indian official, he was reminded by the head of the Department, as to the necessity of the greatest care in the selection, and was closely questioned as to the various qualifications for the post possessed by the person he suggested. If a recommendation by one so thoroughly acquainted with the Indians, so well informed as to the qualifications required, and of such high personal standing was thus carefully scrutinized, we may imagine how scrupulous was the investigation in other cases without such an endorsement. This conscientious carefulness had the desired effect.

We have heard it said by careless readers that it was not unscrupulous politicians but the missionaries who first made the charges against the Indian officials of being immoral and cruelly neglectful. A little more care in investigation would show this idea to be unfounded. It was not the missionaries who had been working among and had experience of the Indians who made any charges, but clergymen who were newly arrived, or who had been little beyond the settlements, and their criticisms were only general, applying to the white men as a body. On the fringe of civilization there are unfortunately always undesirable specimens of it, and though happily our Northwest has been unprecedently free from such an element, there were no doubt evils which would distress these clergymen and call forth their well-deserved reprobation. They did not censure the officials, but their general expressions of blame of white men were distorted by the politicians to serve their purpose.

More than once while perusing the official documents we felt disposed to blame both the Governments and their agents, but it was for being too generous. Contrary to impressions that have been sedulously poured into the ears of the people of Canada, our Indian treaties do not call for a supply of food for the red men, except in the case of one of them, which includes assistance when starvation is imminent. Of course none of us wish that any of the Indians should be left to starve, but it should be remembered that if fed it must be at the cost of some among us who do not find it too easy to provide their own food and that of their families. It is just like the case of the Charity Committee of our Town Council. We wish them to relieve, at our expense, all cases of real distress, but we do not wish them to be over lavish, and especially not to encourage idleness and dissipation by aiding those who might help themselves. In the very instances in which estimable clergymen were horrified at seeing Indians gnawing garbage at the posts and villages, they were hanging round them for purposes of immorality and dissipation, though food was waiting for them on their reserves. The officials refused to pay or feed them at the posts, but in some cases consented at last, and it is questionable if they were not wrong in yielding. One is tempted to say that such Indians refusing to go to their reserves for such reasons, might have been allowed to starve, they probably they would have gone off to their reserves before pushing matters so far. Then again some of the demands for oxen, implements, etc., forwarded by the agents and granted, which have been falsely used as evidence of breach of treaties, were really mere begging for goods in excess of the treaty stipulations. It certainly seems as if such requests were granted too easily, so as to place little check upon wastefulness. But where the whole result has been so eminently satisfactory, it is perhaps hardly fair to be critical over details. The officials were on the spot, they knew all the circumstances and were good judges from their experience of the probable result of their action, so too great stringency with them might be unwarranted. It is at least certain that in our dealings with the Indians if we have erred it has been on the side of generosity, not of neglect or stinginess, and if this policy has been burdensome at the time it will be found the least costly in the end, and it is being rewarded by success.

The London Advertiser says that "Mr. Mowat succeeded in the elections because he was in the right." Mr. Mowat has so little confidence that he was in the right, and was so afraid that a free expression of public opinion would pronounce him in the wrong, that he did not dare appeal to the people without packing the jury. He succeeded by means of making members by statute and by gerrymandering nearly half the constituency, thus obtaining a majority of supporters in the House from a minority of the electors. It is Premier of Ontario not by right but by fraud.

ALL EUROPE AGITATED.

The Effect of Bismarck's Speech on the Army Bill.

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—In his speech yesterday Prince Bismarck said he would never have interfered in the Caroline Islands if he had known Spain would object. He asked Dr. Windthorst whether he believed the Catholic constituencies would elect opposition deputies when the Culturkampf was settled, and the Pope had made peace with the German Government. Herr Hasenclever declared, on behalf of the Socialists, that they would oppose every increase of the army. He vehemently criticised the contemptuous manner in which the Chancellor referred to the Reichstag, and said that in every other Parliament in the world a minister who so treated the majority would be forced to resign. The chairman called Herr Hasenclever to order. Both Herr Hasenclever and Dr. Windthorst reproached Prince Bismarck for his blunt explanation of the German and French relations, which they said would excite instead of calming France. Prince Bismarck made no reply.

At a meeting to-day of the Ultramontane members of the Reichstag, it was unanimously decided only to vote for a triennate. The conviction gains ground that the majority for the Reichstag will support this decision.

GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN COMMENTS.

The Kreuz Zeitung says: "For the first time the Chancellor has assured us that no danger is to be apprehended from the East."

The National Zeitung says: "Although our relations are good, the relations existing between Austria and Russia might entangle Germany in war with Russia."

VIENNA, Jan. 13.—The Fremdenblatt says: "Prince Bismarck's clear and impressive words show that the peace of the world has nothing to fear from Germany."

PARIS, Jan. 13.—Several leading Paris newspapers, including Le Temps, regard Prince Bismarck's speech as certain to have a reassuring effect throughout Europe in response to his declaration that Germany has no intention of making a warlike attack upon France.

The Neue Friee Presse says:—"Prince Bismarck's speech seems to imply that there is no alliance, in the ordinary sense of the word, between Germany and Austria, and that in the event of a conflict with Russia, Austria will have to depend upon other allies than the Germans."

FRENCH AND RUSSIAN VIEWS.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The Times' Berlin special says:—"The struggle between Germany and France may yet be avoided, but the speech of Count Von Moltke and Prince Bismarck leave no room for doubt that we are on the eve of a recurrence of the conflict era preceding the Danish and Austrian campaigns."

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The St. Petersburgh correspondent of the Times says:—"The speeches in the Reichstag give no gratification to the Russian press after the remarks of M. Floquet whom the Russian papers lauded to the skies. The Novoe Vremyar, the Novosti and other papers receive the German speeches with the greatest scepticism and mistrust. The Vienna papers heartily approve of Prince Bismark's language relative to France, but the passages relating to Austria are not read with much pleasure."

THE TRIPLE ALLIANCE AGAIN.

VIENNA, Jan. 13.—The Cabinet have decided to increase the budget for the war department by over $5,000,000. It is stated that Russia, within a few days, has abandoned her passive attitude and made overtures to the Government at Berlin, which, it is expected, will result in an agreement between the three Emperors on the Bulgarian question.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within the last few years has been unparalleled. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

Suit by Sproule's Brother.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—Evidence has been filed with the Secretary of State showing that Robert E. Sproule, the American, who was hanged in Victoria, B. C., for the murder of Thomas Keatinge, was innocent. A brother of the dead man, Frank Sproule of Weeks Mills, Me., has instructed counsel to begin suit against the Province of British Columbia for $50,000 damages.

A Wonderful Shot.

The man who put ten bullets in succession, inside the circumference of a Milwaukee girl's finger ring, at fifteen paces, was a pretty good shot, but he wasn't half so wise as the bilious man who put ten of Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" into his system in five days, and on the sixth walked ten miles "just because he felt so well." If your blood is out of order, if you feel low spirited and "blue," you will find these Little Liver Pills just what you need.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

THE ANTI-MORMON BILL.

Passed by the House of Representatives Without a Division.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The Anti-Mormon bill, passed by the House to-day without a divison, by the adoption of the Tucker substitute for the Edmunds Senate bill makes the lawful husband or wife of any person prosecuted for bigmy, polygamy, or unfawful cohabitation a competent witness against the accused, and further provides for registration of all marriages. It annuls all territorial laws providing for identification of voters of electors at any election, and also all laws conferring on territoral courts the power to determine divorce cases and abolishes woman suffrage in the territory of Utah. Penalties are prescribed for unlawful intercourse, and polygamy is declared to be a felony. The financial corporation known as the Church of the Latter Day Saints, and the Perpetual Emigration Fund Company, are dissolved, and the Attorney-General is directed to wind them up by process of court, and all laws for organization of the militia of the territory and creation of the Nauvos legion are annulled. Polygamists are made ineligible to vote, and the test oath is prescribed to all persons desiring to vote that they will obey the laws of the United States, and especially the laws in respect to crimes defined in this and the ordinary Edmunds Act.

DIABOLICAL REVENGE.

A Train Thrown Down an Embankment by a Loosened Rail.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 12.—A south bound passenger train on the Missouri Pacific railroad, due here this morning, was wrecked near Dunbar, Neb. about midnight. The wreck was caused by the loosening of a rail by parties unknown. The train, which was going at the rate of 30 miles an hour, plunged 15 feet down an enbankment and landed in a snow drift. James Deurtt, the engineer, was caught under the boilers and killed, Frank Henoweth, the express manager, of this city, was internally hurt and may die. A lady, whose name is unknown, is badly hurt. Seventeen others were injured, but not seriously. The entire train left the track, and probably the loss of life would have been greater except for the plunge. The officials say that this is the result of revenge on the engineer on account of his sticking by the company during the strike last summer. Two men who were yesterday turned out of the depot at Dunbar are suspected of the crime.

Mr. James Stanley, merchant, at Constance, writes:—"My wife has taken two bottles of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for dyspepsia, and it has done her more good than anything she has ever used."

Applications for the purchase of between 4,000 and 5,000 acres of Canadian Pacific railway lands about Calgary were received during December.

The embargo on the importation of horses from Montreal to the United States owing to the alleged prevalence of glanders in the former city, was revoked Wednesday.

F. Burrows, of Wilkesport, writes that he was cured of a very dangerous case of inflammation of the lungs, solely by the use of five bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Feels great pleasure in recommending it to the public, as he has proved it (for many of the diseases it mentions to cure) through his friends, and in nearly every instance it was effectual.

School sections No. 3, Queensborough, and No. 4, Elzevir township, North Hastings, has decided to expel the Ross Bible from their schools and read the whole scriptures.

The Kingston Board of Trade has decided to co-operate with the Ottawa Board in endeavoring to remove the discrimination against both cities in through bills of lading from Liverpool.

THE proper channel for the escape from the system of impurities which would, if they remained, poison the blood, is through the bowels. When this outlet is obstructed it may be disencumbered with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, a remedy which regulates the system, invigorates digestion, and is pure and safe as well as effective. It cures all diseases arising from impure blood.

A commemorative medal and diploma will be given by the Imperial Government to all exhibitors at the Colonial and Indian Exhibition. It is expected that the medal will be ready for distribution this month.

During 1886 the immense quantity of 100,700,000 feet of Canadian lumber was shipped from Montreal, employing 181 steam and sailing vessels. In 1877, only nine years ago, but 3,400,000 feet were shipped, only ten vessels being engaged in the trade.

Jas. Shannon, Leaskdale, writes: For many years my wife was troubled with chilblains, and could get no relief until about two years ago; she was then not able to walk, and the pain was then so excruciating that she could not sleep at night. Your agent was then on his regular trip, and she asked him if he could cure her. He told her Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil was a sure cure. She tried it, and judge of her astonishment when in a few days, the pain was all allayed and the foot restored to its natural condition. It is also the best remedy for burns and bruises I ever used.

THE MARKET REPORTS.

REVIEW OFFICE,
Thursday Evening.

This weeks markets have been fairly well attended, and an average amount of grain has came in every day. Wheat on Monday and Tuesday went up again as high as 85, but this afternoon the highest price on the market or at the mills was 82. Barley, peas, oats and rye remain at steady prices. Pork has taken another turn upward here. In fact Peterborough is paying higher pries than any place in Canada for this commodity.

It May Be Remarked

—That the horticulturists talk of "the coming season" when the snow is three feet deep.

—That the just mentioned take "roseate" views of things.

—That the band will be at the rink to-night.

—That no criminal registered at the hall of justice this morning.

—That the flower and fruit men don't hate Mayor Stevenson very much.

—Judging from what the directors said last night.

THE COMING CONTEST.

An Enthusiastic Conservative Meeting for Organization.

A largely attended meeting was held in the Conservative Club room on Thursday evening, to organize for the coming election for a representative for the West Riding in the House of Commons.

The room was filled to overflowing, and the enthusiasm was marked.

Mr. Geo. Hilliard was called to the chair, and addresses were made by Mr. Stevenson, Mr. Hilliard and others.

The following officers of the Central Committee were elected:—

CHAIRMAN—W. H. Moore.
JOINT CHAIRMAN—A. P. Poussette, Q. C.
SECRETARY—C. S. Wallis.
ASSISTANT SECRETARY—A. Graham.

The following were elected Chairmen of the Ward Committees:—

No. ONE WARD—John Corkery.
No. TWO WARD—Andrew McNeil.
No. THREE WARD—T. Rutherford.
No. FOUR WARD—Wm. Langford.

The committees will meet this evening in the Parlor Roller Rink, Water street, and all supporters of Mr. Stevenson are invited to attend. The roller rink will be used as the committee room until the contest is over.

MR. STEVENSON AND THE LOCK WORKS.

The following letters have been handed to us for publication:—

THE LOCK WORKS.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—I notice a letter in your paper of the 13th instant from a correspondent enquiring into the correctness of a statement alleged to be made by James Stevenson Esq., "that he had erected a building for the Peterborough Lock Works, and was giving that Company the use of it for a long term of years for nothing with a sole object in view of encouraging manufacturing industries in Peterborough." I also notice your remarks below the above mentioned letter, and would say that the director referred to must be very ignorant of the Company's business transactions or a great perverter of the truth.

I wish to inform you and the public that the one thousand dollars rental referred to is paid to me for the use of the second story of the main building, of the foundry, coke shed and yard room of the premises I leased from Mr. Stevenson in 1881 for a period of ten years, together with power for running machinery and steam for heating the premises leased from me and the new building occupied by them.

In regard to the value of the power supplied being only worth about $150 00 to $200.00 per annum, I would say that the power used by the company in 1886 was over 250 horse power, besides the supply of steam required to heat two rooms 90x30 and one 50x35, seven months in the year, also steam for Plating and Lacquer room and use of fan for blast in Iron Foundry with power to run same.

The above figures will not buy fuel to heat the rooms.

The rental of $1000 00 per annum is an agreement with me for which I consider I give full value and has nothing to do with the new building or Mr. Stevenson's interest therein.

Yours truly,
WM. H. LAW.
Central Iron Bridge Works.
Peterborough, Jan. 14, 1887.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—With reference to a statement made by a correspondent signing himself "A Voter," in your issue of the 13th instant, that Mr. Stevenson had stated "that he had erected a building for the Peterborough Lock Works, and was giving the company the use of it for a long term of years for nothing."

I beg to say that it is substantially correct.

Regarding the lease from Mr. Law, I have read his letter addressed to you this day, and so far as this Company is concerned it correctly sets forth the terms of our agreement, and that agreement was entered into by the directors at a meeting held in the Company's office on the 11th of October, 1886.

Yours truly,
THOS. BROOKS.
Peterborough, Jan. 14, 1887.

HOW TO HEAT CHEAPLY.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I noticed an editorial note in Thursday's Examiner dealing with the cost of heating and supply of power to run the Peterborough Lock Works. The Editor goes on to say: "The value of the power supplied may be placed (at the outside figures) at from $150.00 to $200 00 per annum."

Now Sir, I burn wood in an ordinary box stove (in the day time only) all the year round, and coal in the base burner during the winter months, and being a little curious to know how much the fuel cost to run these two stoves during the past year I have taken the trouble to count up the bills for this fuel and find that it cost me $142 25. If the Editor of the Examiner will kindly supply to the public a detailed statement showing how the Lock Works, which is three times larger than my place, can be heated alone for $150.00 let alone the power he will confer a great favor on

Yours respectfully,
STOREKEEPER.
Peterborough, Jan. 14.

Defaulter Captured.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 13.—Howard T. Blackstone, the defaulting bank clerk of the Canal National Band, Portland, Maine, who fled in November, after defrauding the bank of $76,000, was arrested here yesterday afternoon on a charge of forgery. A week or so ago his wife left Portland and came west to St. Paul, with Mr. Warmell, the sheriff of Oxford County, Maine, after her. She stayed in that city some time with a brother and there was constantly shadowed by a detective. On Monday she took the train for Winnipeg. In a box car of the same train rode Mr. Warmell and the St. Paul detective. Upon arriving here they soon located their quarry. A warrant was yesterday applied for and granted by Provincial Police Magistrate Moore, and he was arrested as stated above. The money was spent in speculation.

Thousands Rendered Idle.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Jan. 13.—As a result of the coal handlers strike at Perthambery, collieries number 3, 4 and 5, owned by the Philadelphia coal company, suspended operations yesterday for an indefinite period. Several thousand men and boys are thrown into idleness.

PUGNACIOUS LEGISLATORS.

Disgraceful Scene in the New Jersey House of Representatives.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 12.—There was a big fight in the House of Representatives yesterday. While the regular Democrats were holding their caucus and nominating final officers, the Republicans and disaffected Democrats and the two labor men, numbering 31 in all and constituting a majority, held a meeting in the Speaker's room and nominated and elected an entire mixed ticket. The Democrats over-reached themselves by forming a combination of Hudson, Camden and Sussex counties, and three dissatisfied members bolted. The caucus adjourned, but re-assembled at 2 o'clock without the disaffected members. The three minority assemblymen presented themselves at the doors of the chamber while the Democratic caucus was being held and demanded entrance. This being refused the doors were forced in and the assemblymen, backed by a surging crowd, pushed into the chamber and filled it. All was confusion, and cries of "Chairman," for "order," and to clear the room was greeted with hoots and yells. The spectators applauded and acted in an outrageous manner, urging the minority to stay. The chairman said the Democratic caucus was not finished, and that they proposed to remain until they had finished. He then asked the people to retire, but was laughed at. Finally the House was cleared. Then came the fun. While the Democrats continued their caucus, the Republicans got together in the Speaker's room. They secured the disaffected Democrats and the two Labour men, which gave them a majority and made up their ticket. Before swearing in, the majority effected entrance to the Assembly chamber and escorted the newly-elected Speaker, Dr. Baird, to the chair, then occupied by Chairman Beckwith, of the Democratic caucus, which was still in session. Dr. Baird took the seat, and then began an unseemly struggle between Beckwith and Baird. Beckwith tried to eject Baird from the chair, but the new Speaker was surrounded by his friends, who maintained him in his position. In the struggle the chair was thrown from the platform, and several members engaged in fist fights. Three policemen sent by the Government to quell the disturbance and eject the members directed their attention to the new sergeant at arms. They succeeded in lifting him from his seat and were carrying him towards the door when he was rescued by his friends. Meanwhile the struggle on the platform was going on, but Baird's friends prevailed and he kept the chair. At this moment the doors of the room were burst open and the nearly frantic crowd rushed in, and from press of the mob the battle was stopped. During the turmoil the galleries were filled with people, who cheered the combatants in the arena below. The defeated Democrats tried to renew the conflict, but amid the greatest excitement the Speaker declared the House adjourned till to-day at 10 a. m., and the Republicans withdrew, followed by rounds of congratulating friends.

Common School Education.

Governor Hill of New York has attracted considerable attention by his recent utterance on the question of Common School Education. The objections raised to the system are these: The absence of moral training; its tendency to make children impertinent, and its influence in creating in the minds of the scholars an aversion to manual labor. In relation to the last tendency Governor Hill quotes statistics to show that the great majority of skilled workmen in America to day are foreigners who have immigrated into the country, while the production of native-born workmen is annually growing smaller. The remedy suggested is, that in addition to the ordinary subjects taught in the schools, there should be some training "for that labor to which a great majority in all countries are destined." Children should be educated to manual labor as well as for the lightest offices. The result of the present system of education are hardly so marked in Canada; but the tendency is as plainly perceptible, and Governor Hill's remarks apply with as much force here as in New York.—Woodstock Sentinel Review.

Business Men Attention.

WE CAN NOW OFFER several first-class positions to Advertisers in the REVIEW, and, as there is always a rush at the beginning of the year, in order that the best positions may be obtained, business men will do well to call immediately and secure their space for 1887.

During the present year renewed efforts will be made to make the REVIEW still more a thoroughly efficient medium whereby the Merchants and others can put and keep themselves prominently before the public. Extra precaution will be taken, and the best taste will be displayed in getting up all advertisements intrusted to us for publication, and in other respects as well, the "shrewd" business man will do well to patronize the columns of the "REFORM" IN NORTH PERTH.

The proceedings against Hallock and Leslie who tried to force money on Conservative electors to support the Conservative candidate, in North Perth, the night before the Provincial election, have made further progress. Mr. Scott, the local banker and President of the Reform Association, gave evidence that the day before the elections he had discounted a note for $200 for Hallock, signed by him, by Mr. Humphries, the local lawyer, who arranged for the scrutineers to be sent from a distance to swear the Conservative voters accordingly to the specially marked lists and by two prominent Reform hotel keepers, one of whom had lent Hallock the fur coat in which he was disguised. Mr. Scott also swore that he had gone to the bank on Sunday to give Hallock small change for large bills.

After some other evidence, including that of a Deputy Returning officer who had marked voters lists for the Reformers after his appointment, Hallock and Leslie were committed for trial for conspiracy to defraud electors of their votes.

The ways of Reform electioneerers are peculiar.

CAMPBELLFORD.

McNEIL THE WINNER.—The skating race the St. Andrew's rink, between George McKeel, of this village, and J. Walker, of Kingston, on Monday night last, resulted in the defeat of the visitor by one lap, fifteen laps measured one mile. After gaining the lead of his opponent McKeel pursued him closely, and to all appearances, completed the race without much effort.

A DISHONEST LAD.—An immigrant lad named Robert Braniwell, who was employed by one of the farmers of Seymour west, made a hasty depar ure one day recently, and took with him a quantity of his employer's clothes. He appeared to be a quiet lad, was agreeable in his ways, industrious and kind in every particular; but above all this there was a disposition to lay hold of things not his own, and unless checked very soon, he may make a victim of some other farmer. His late employer offers a reward for his capture.

A CASE OF BLOOD POISONING.—Mr. John Drennan, of Seymour, is at present very ill from blood poisoning, at Mr. D. Adams' hotel. He has been in a very feeble condition for four weeks past, and during that time has tasted nothing but liquid food. His illness is the result of a frozen foot and exposure. Some of the flesh of the frozen foot will have to be removed as soon as the patient regains strength so as to permit of its safe operation. Two weeks ago a visiting physician asserted that Mr. Drennan could not live two days, but on Thursday and the day previous symptoms of improvement were noticeable, and the attending physician has some hope of his recovery.

DIED SUDDENLY.—On Tuesday morning last Mrs. Godkin, late of Ailsa Craig, mother of Mrs (Rev.) W. Tucker, Campbellford, died suddenly at her daughter's residence on Rear street. During the past few months the aged lady has been subject to brief seasons of illness, and at one time suffered from a stroke of paralysis. On the morning of her death she sat up and partook of breakfast in her usual way, but before finishing the meal she complained of being ill. Mrs. Tucker assisted her to bed, and in fifteen minutes afterwards she expired. She was 83 years of age. Her remains were taken to the station and conveyed to Ailsa Craig, the late home of the deceased, for interment.—Herald.

MILLBROOK.

From a Correspondent.

L. O. L.—The Orangemen of Cavan district met in the Orange hall, at Millbrook, on Tuesday, January 11th. Although the weather was anything but favorable, still the meeting was well attended and much business of importance was done. The following officers were elected:—Brother R. Shaw, District Master; H. A. Strike, Deputy; T. B. Collins, Treasurer; J. Smythe, Secretary; T. Smythe, Chaplain; J. Fallis, Lecturer; D. Donnelly, M. of C.

GREAT Remnant Sale now going on at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

NEW CHURCH ORGAN.

Put up by Messrs Lye & Sons in the George Street Methodist Church.

The new organ which the George Street Methodist Church congregation have been so patiently waiting for has been placed in position and will be used to-morrow for the first time. Though some of the most important pipes are still to come, still the setting up is so far advanced as to admit of using the organ.

The cost of the new organ will be, all told, about $3,000. It stands at the east end of the church, completely filling the large alcove.

The framework is tastefully ornamental, consisting of oiled finished ash. The design harmonizes with that of the interior of the church, the principal ornamentation being gothic—indented trefoils, circles, cones in relief, etc. The top of the front piece is finished with a number of appropriately carved finials.

The keyboard is of ivory and ebony, with celluloid fronts, and is arranged in such a manner as to give the greatest facility to the organist.

The pipes facing the auditorian will be ornamented with gold and other enrichments.

The detailed description is as follows:—

THE PAY OF LAWMAKERS.

In Belgium each member of the Chamber of Representatives receives 200 florins or £16 15s. per month, or for the session of eight months £134.

In Denmark the members of the Landsthing and the Folkething are paid the same salary, 15s. per day. The average number of working days in a session is 145; the total amount for the same is £113 15s.

In Portugal peers and deputies receive an annual stipend of £67.

In France senators and deputies each get 10,000 francs, or £330 a year, the colonial representatives getting, in addition, their travelling expenses.

In Sweden the members of the Diet receive 1,200 rix dollars, equal to £65 14s., for a session of four months, and their travelling expenses. Members of both chambers are fined 10 rix dollars, or 11s. a day if they do not attend.

In Switzerland members of the National Council receive 10 shillings per day, which is paid out of the Federal treasury. Members of the state councils are paid by the cantons, and their salaries range from 6 to 10 shillings per day.

In the United States representatives and delegates each receive $5,000 per year and their travelling expenses at the rate of 10 cents per mile.

In Norway the members of the Storthing receive 13s. 4d. a day while it is sitting, which is usually about twelve weeks.

In Italy neither senators nor deputies are paid, but they get free passes all over the railways in the Kingdom, and some other concessions as to taxes and patronage, a most objectionable mode of payment, and long since condemned in this and other countries, where similar privileges used to be conceded to legislators.

In Spain the members are not paid.

In Greece the senators get £20 per month, and members of the representative chamber £10 per month.

In all the local Legislatures in Germany the members, with one or two exceptions, are paid, the salaries averaging in Prussia about 9s. per day, and in Austria 20s.

The members of Parliament of Great Britain, as is well known, receive no pay and have no direct patronage. Were the members of the House of Lords paid at the same rate as American congressmen, their salaries would amount to about £18,000 and the members of the House of Commons would absorb about £670,000. — English Paper.

Two Fishing Schooners Seized

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—The Fisheries Department were to-day advised of the seizure near St. Andrew's, N. S., of two fishing schooners, the Jennette and the Maggie Mitchell, by the cruiser General Middleton. The charge is infraction of the Customs and Fisheries regulations. The vessels have been handed over to the Collector of Customs at St. Andrew's.

PARLIAMENTARY ECONOMY.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Lord Randolph Churchill, in a letter explaining his resignation from the Cabinet, says his object was to secure economy combined with efficiency, and that he will gladly co-operate with anyone in an endeavour to induce or compel the House of Commons to revert to the better financial principles which prevailed before 1874. He continues:—"If economy is unpopular in Downing street we must make it popular. Calamities incalculable will result if the present system of lavish, uncontrolled expenditure be allowed to continue." Mr. Gladstone thinks this letter does honour to Lord Randolph, and he offers the latter a chance to again raise the flag of economy.

TO ACT LEGALLY.

ROME, Jan. 14.—The Pope has instructed the Irish episcopate to act with strict legality in dealing with the agrarian question in its present state.

GLADSTONE'S HEALTH.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Mr. Gladstone is in robust health. He took a long walk to-day and afterwards indulged in his favorite pastime of felling trees.

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

DUBLIN, Jan. 14.—In the Bankruptcy Court to-day, in the case of the farmer Moroney, who sold his cattle at auction, turned over a portion of the proceeds to the Plan of Campaign fund and went into bankruptcy in order to escape paying rent, Judge Boyd rendered a decision finding Maroney guilty of fraud.

THE ARMY BILL VOTE.

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—The fate of the Army bill was settled to-day by the Reichstag adversely to the Government and action will be immediately taken to dissolve the Chambers. On reassembling the Reichstag, Herr von Stuffenberg's amendment limiting the duration of the bill to three years was voted upon. The amendment was carried, the vote being 186 to 154. Conservatives, Imperialists and National Liberals voted with the minority. Socialists and most of the Alsatian members abstained from voting. Prince Bismarck immediately read an Imperial message dissolving the Reichstag.

SOCIALISTS AT WORK.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—A large number of unemployed workingmen held a meeting at Norwich to-day, and after listening to the speeches of two Socialists commenced an attack on the shops. The police dispersed the mob before they could do any damage further than the breaking of a number of windows.

KISSED HANDS.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—A Ministerial Council was held at the Queen's residence at Osborne to-day. The seals of office were transferred to the new members of the Cabinet and to those who had changed office. The Ministers kissed the Queen's hands as she formally notified them of their appointments.

MR. O'BRIEN'S LIBEL SUIT.

DUBLIN, Jan. 14.—Mr. Wm. O'Brien, editor of United Ireland, expressed himself satisfied with the apology made by the Dublin Express for libelling him. He has given notice he will drop the action for damages.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Mr. John Bright, in a letter declining an invitation to attend a meeting of the advocates of Imperial Federation, on the ground that he had no sympathy with the objects and purpose thereof, asks the projectors of the movement how the proposed federation would deal with the fisheries dispute between Canada and the United States. If Canada were independent, he asserts, she would yield to the arguments of her powerful neighbour, and if there were no Dominion of Canada the dispute would soon have been settled by English concession of America's reasonable claims. The federation project, he says, is mainly the offspring of the Jingo spirit, which clamours for vast and continually widening empire, and seems almost ready to boast that the Empire can fight the world outside its own limits. Mr. Bright says he would recommend sensible men to let the question rest.

THE LAND PROBLEM.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Notwithstanding rumours to the contrary, there is reason to believe that Mr. Chamberlain has not wavered in his conviction that the land problem is the root of the Irish controversy.

LORD IDDESLEIGH'S FUNERAL.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Lord Iddesleigh will be buried on Tuesday. The funeral service will be held in Westminster Abbey; but the body will be interred at Pynes, near Exeter.

M. ZANKOFF MOBBED.

PHILIPPOPOLIS, Jan. 14.—M. Zankoff has demanded the punishment of the persons who mobbed him at the depot when he passed through here a few days ago on his way to Constantinople.

RUSSIA'S PROPOSALS.

VIENNA, Jan. 14.—The most recent proposals Russia has offered for the settlement of the Bulgarian difficulty were made by Count Peter Schonvaloff at Berlin. In these Russia maintained the candidature of Prince Nicholas of Mingrelia to the Bulgarian throne, provided that the Prince's well-known demands on the Regency be generally supported. Negotations are now proceedings on the basis of these proposals. The continental powers are disposed to accede the Russia's proposals, and it is said that England is also desirous that a general understanding should be reached.

RESISTING THE BAILIFFS.

DUBLIN, Jan. 14.—The eviction of tenants on the Winn estates at Glenburgh, County Kerry, continued to day. In some cases the bailiffs were stoutly resisted. The occupants of one house barricaded the doors and windows and refused to allow the officers to enter. The bailiffs made several attempts to force their way into the dwelling, but its defenders received them with boiling water and showers of stones and forced them to retreat. A number of them were severely wounded. This siege lasted some hours. Finally, the police loaded their weapons and threatened to fire if an immediate surrender was not made. At this the defenders yielded and submitted to arrest. They were 23 in number, and all were taken into custody. The wife of the tenant was carried out of the house by the officers in a fainting condition. She was afterwards left dying in the yard. The people are maddened at the brutality of the officers. Mr. Harrington, member of Parliament, exhorted them to avoid violence, and with difficulty prevented bloodshed.

TAXATION.

One ground upon which the supporters of Mr. Blake attack Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues is that taxation has been greatly increased under their management. Even if this were admitted, it by no means follows that an injury has been done to the people. Taxation is the means by which the people as individuals contribute to the joint fund, out of which expenditures are made by the organized community for the benefit of the whole as to matters in which conjoint action is better than individual action. Expenditure by the community as by an individual may be wisely increased if value is obtained for the money, and the payment is not too burdensome. It cannot be successfully maintained either that the slight apparent increase in taxation under the present Administration, amounting only to $1.03 a head, is a burden that is severely felt, or that the money thus obtained has been expended without a satisfactory return. Canada has been so greatly benefitted under the statesmanlike policy of the present Administration, its development of the country, its encouragement of home industries, its assistance to opening means of communication, &c., &c. that in the general progress the slight increase of taxation is hardly felt as a reduction of the augmented earnings due to the improved condition of the country. The burden, if felt at all, is felt far less than the improvement. What burden there is falls almost entirely upon those who can afford it, since our taxation is raised in far the greatest proportion from luxuries, from goods of exceptional superiority, which are not necessary for those with whom economy is an object. A large portion also is raised from intoxicating liquors and tobacco, and the consumers of these can hardly claim that they are forced to pay such taxes. They pay of their own free will.

When complaints are made of burdens, it is a salutory practice for the grumbler to look around and compare his particular burden with those borne by his neighbours. Let us make this comparison with the other great sections of the Empire to which we belong. In Canada our apparent taxation was $5.40 a head for 1885, the last year for which we have the complete statistics. In Great Britain it was nearly twice as great, in the South African Colonies it was greater than in Canada, and in the Australasian Colonies it was nearer three times than twice as great as with us. Are we forced to sink under less burdens than our fellow countrymen in other parts of the Empire endure?

As to the increased burden of taxation, in 1878, the last year that Mr. Blake was in power, the taxation was $4.37 a head (for the five years the average was $4.81), and in 1885 the apparent taxation was $5.40 a head. If we compare the little encouragement that was given then to Canada or Canadians with the assistance now afforded to our progress and prosperity, who can say that $1.03 a head is too heavy a price to pay for such an improvement, even if we had to pay it.

But we have called both the amount and the increase of taxation "apparent" merely, and those who look into the facts will at once perceive the source of the error of those who are attacking the Macdonald Administration. We have recently shown, as many times before, that the duty on the coal we import is really paid by the producers, since they make a special allowance on the price to meet the duty. Every business man knows that this is a common practice, that he is frequently receiving offers of goods from the United States with either an undertaking to pay the duty, or what is the same thing by a less direct means, the offer of a special reduction of price equivalent to the duty and not allowed to purchasers in the States. In these cases the duty is not paid by the people of Canada, but by those of the United States, and by this amount our apparent taxation is reduced. The exact figures it is impossible to ascertain, but if they could be calculated we are convinced that they would fully compensate for the apparent increase in taxation.

While considering the amount of our Dominion taxation it struck us that it would be interesting to compare it with the amount of our municipal taxation. In the town of Peterborough we are called upon by the collector of our municipal taxes to pay as much as $6.82 a head. We have thus to pay for such public expenditure as is controlled by our municipal organization $1.42 a head more than we have to contribute towards our expenditure as a nation. It must also be remembered in this connection that a considerable portion of our Dominion taxation comes back to us to diminish the demand on us for our local purposes. Much of the increase of taxation is necessitated by the increased amounts paid by the Dominion to the Provincial treasuries, about half of the public income of Ontario coming from this source. Without it Mr. Mowat and his colleagues would not be able to continue their grants in aid towards our educational and other expenditures.

From whatever point of view we look at this bugbear of Dominion taxation we will find that it is a misrepresentation to hold it up as an unfair, extravagant or oppressive burden.

DESPICABLE TACTICS.

It is sad that at the very outset of his endeavors to obtain the position of member of Parliament for West Peterborough, Mr. Cox should adopt such tactics as that of misrepresenting his opponent in the hope of creating an unfounded prejudice against him. The letters we have published from Mr. Brooks and Mr. Law show that it is utterly false to say that Mr. Stevenson is receiving rent from the Lock Works Company for the building he erected for them. These facts must have been well known to Mr. Cox, yet we are forced to the conclusion that he was the director who falsely accused Mr. Stevenson, since there is not another member of the board who could for an instant be suspected of such conduct.

It is too bad when Mr. Stevenson has been so liberal to the Lock Works Company, and has with praiseworthy public spirit provided accomodation without which that valuable industry might never have been established in our town, that one of its Directors should thus misrepresent him in the hope of injuring him in the eyes of his fellow townsmen. But such weapons are more likely to damage those who use them, than those against whom they are employed.

MONTANA CATTLE RANGES.

Blue Days for the Cowmen in the American Northwest.

MILES CITY, Montana, Jan. 13.—The stockmen of the territory are becoming considerably alarmed for the future. Despite quarantine laws and warning that the ranges were already stocked to the utmost limit of safety, last year witnessed a heavy influx of cattle to this territory, brought here to winter on the ranges. Even late in summer and in the early fall drovers with large herds which had just reached the territory were seeking unoccupied room. These trail herds, coming over the long trail from the Rio Grande river to the Yellowstone, along which the sun had parched most of the vegetation and evaporated the water from the streams, could not but be in poor condition. On their arrival they were placed as best they could be on ranges already fully stocked, their owners well knowing that nothing but a phenomenally mild winter could save them from heavy losses. In addition to the increase of cattle caused by driving into the territory, and contrary to the generally accepted theory that this is not a breeding country last year's calf crop was unusually large.

Now the ranges are so crowded with cattle that all the vegetation along the streams is completely eaten off before winter comes on, and the only winter grazing is in the hills and bad lands where cattle cannot stay in summer for want of water, and where it requires great efforts and hard riding in all kinds of weather to keep them in winter. When a storm comes cattle drift before it despite the utmost efforts of determined cowboys, and when the temperature is very low, say 40 deg. below zero, whether the wind is blowing or not, they are made crazy by the intense cold and travel all the time. This, of course, reduces them in flesh and weakens them. Last winter was very mild, and there was no loss to speak of. These are the bluest days for those who live in a range country.

LINDSAY.

THE S. A. CASES.—The case growing out of the arrest by Police Officers Bell and Clunan and special constables of members of the Salvation Army on New Year's eve, was heard before Police Magistrate O'Leary on Thursday of last week. Mr. P. S. Martin appeared for the prosecution and Mr. F. D. Moore for defendants. The Magistrate heard the evidence of the police officers only and afterwards dismissed the case. In giving judgment the Magistrate said that while the officers had not exceeded their duty in arresting members of the Army, and thereby putting an end to a demonstration that might have exceeded the limits permissable by a town by-law, that being New Year's eve, he was inclined to make some allowance for the occasion. As the arrests were effected before any noise sufficient to denote a breach of the by-law and no disturbance of the inhabitants had been made, the case was dismissed.—Post.

Army Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The Army Appropriation bill, as reported to the senate today, appropriates $23,737,713, being $95,100 in excess of the appropriation made by the bill as it came to the House, and $1,786,683 less than the estimates. An increase from $300,000 to $400,000 in the appropriation for manufacture of arms is the only important monetary change in the bill as it came from the House.

Found in a Miser's Hovel.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 12.—The cash and securities thus far found in the hovel of Joseph Perry, the miser, who with Richard Price was found last week frozen to death, amounted to $130,000. United States bonds, greenbacks and gold and silver were found hidden in cupboards and other places.

GOUGH { THE KING OF CLOTHIERS AND WORKINGMAN'S BEST FRIEND

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

NO GREAT AIM.

Some great moral issue which would infuse some real enthusiasm into the party is just what the Liberals need. They bother around and obstruct, and find fault, and criticise, and have, apparently, no great aim. 'Free Trade cannot be got for some years, therefore keep as quiet as possible about it for fear of sacrificing some votes' 'The country is not ready for Prohibition, therefore wait until it is ready; don't jeopardize the success of the party by setting it to work to educate the country and help on the movement. Let the temperance enthusiasts do that, and in the meantime let us work for office." The Liberals are in favour of prohibition by townships, prohibition by counties, even "prohibition by Province," according to their latest timid exponent, but they don't ask for prohibition by the nation. They would gladly see the prohibition question taken out of Dominion politics altogether and made one of Provincial or municipal politics. It seems to us that it would be better for the Liberal party and better for the country if some energetic, courageous Reformer of the old stamp were to rise and inspire the Liberals with a little enthusiasm.—Montreal Witness (Reform.)

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

A Wonderful Shot.

The man who put ten bullets in succession, inside the circumference of a Milwaukee girl's finger ring, at fifteen paces, was a pretty good shot, but he wasn't half so wise as the bilious man who put ten of Dr Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" into his system in five days, and on the sixth walked ten miles "just because he felt so well." If your blood is out of order, if you feel low spirited and "blue," you will find these Little Liver Pills just what you need.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

DRIFT.—The last two weeks have been the most continuous spell of hard weather that has been experienced for many years. On Tuesday night it snowed and blew and we had the first bad drift of the season. Several teams from South Verulam started for Peterborough with grain, but were stuck in the drifts through Emily, and had to leave their loads at a farm house till the roads were opened.

BUTTER.—Mr. Wilson has concluded his annual purchase of butter, and shipped it away. From this point he shipped 17,338 lbs., together with 7,650 lbs. from Lindsay, the whole cargo going direct to Liverpool. The sum paid out in Bobcaygeon was $2,984. The quality was throughout good and much improved in the last few years, though it must not be supposed that there is no room for further improvement. It is highly important that there should be a uniformity of quality and color in each tub, and it may be mentioned that it is entirely a mistake to fix the top of the keg with fancy patterns. The top should be left smooth and hard. The highest price paid this season was 18¼ cents.—Independent.

NEWS NOTES.

Catharine Taugher, of Belleville, has been committed for trial at Buffalo on a charge of smuggling.

Fifty miles additional of the Manitoba and North-Westerd railway have been accepted by the Government engineer, and will be operated at once.

The annual meeting of the Ontario Artillery Association was held in Toronto on Thursday, when favorable reports were presented and officers elected.

The statement that the Dominion Government had decided to revert to the old system of licensing foreign fishing vessels is declared to be utterly without foundation.

A short time since a Mr Knott was tried for a violation of the law. The verdict of the jury was :— " " We find the defendant Knott guilty. " The judge was at loss whether to sentence or not.

The late Dr. Wm. Anderson of Glasgow is credited with the remark that he would " rather have the praise of God led through the pipes of the organ than through the carnal throat of an ungodly precentor. "

Some says, "Consumption can't be cured." Ayer's Cherry Pectoral proves, by forty years' experience, a cure for this disease, when not already beyond the reach of medical aid. Even then its use affords great relief, and insures refreshing sleep.

"Yes," said the chairman sadly, " our temperance meeting would have been more successful if the lecturer hadn't been so absent minded." " What did he do? " " He tried to blow the foam from a glass of water.

No sufferer from any scrofulous disease, who will fairly try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, need despair of a cure. It will purge the blood of all impurities, thereby destroying the germs of disease, and will infuse new life and vigor throughout the whole physical organization.

DOMESTIC AND USEFUL.

IF you scorch clothes in ironing, place in the sun to draw the marks out.

GINGERBREAD made with oatmeal instead of flour is a very useful aperient for children.

TO be particular about the little things, such as the soap-dish, match-box, salt-box, twine-basket and towel-rack, is a sure sign of a well-ordered kitchen.

BUTTER SCOTCH.—One cup treacle, two cups sugar, one and one half teaspoonsful soda, one teaspoonful vanilla, piece of butter the size of an egg. Boil without stirring until it hardens on a spoon. Pour out on buttered plates to cool. Always add flavouring last.

CHOCOLATE caramels are made thus:—Two cups treacle, one cup brown sugar, one cup milk, one half pound chocolate, piece of butter the size of an egg. Beat all together; boil until it thickens in water. Turn into large, flat tins, well buttered. When nearly cold cut into small squares.

AN agreeable toilet water can be made by taking a wineglassful of fresh lemon juice; rain water, one pint; otto of roses, five drops. Mix, and keep well corked. Wipe the face with a soft towel dipped into this lotion. Said to remove freckles, tan, and discolouration of the skin.

To prepare a delicious apple sauce, pare and slice thin as many apples as you wish. Put them into a tin basin or pudding dish, with enough sugar to make them sweet, and a little water. Bake slowly until soft—they will turn a rich red, and have a flavour far exceeding stewed apples.

BARLEY BROTH.—Take a good piece of neck of mutton and put it into a pan, with two quarts of water and a teacupful of pearl-barley. Let it boil, skim well, then have ready, cut in small slices, a breakfast-cupful each of carrots, turnips, cabbage, and two or three onions minced fine. Let it boil for about three hours; then skim off the fat, and add a little chopped parsley.

GINGERBREAD LOAF.—Take five teacupfuls of flour, one do. of treacle, one do. of sugar, one do. liquified butter, half pound raisins, half pound currants, half pound candied peel finely shred, half pound powdered ginger, one teaspoonful of powdered coriander seed, two teaspoonfuls of vinegar or small teaspoonful of tartaric acid, and one teaspoonful of carbonate of soda. Warm the treacle and butter, and mix with the other ingredients, and bake in a slow oven for about an hour and a half.

PARIS BUNS.—Take two eggs, one and one half cup of sugar, two-thirds cup of shortening, either butter or lard, one-half cup of milk, one-half teaspoonful of soda dissolved in the milk, and one teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Flavor with nutmeg. Take a teaspoonful of the dough and put in the pan, and place a raisin in the centre of it, then another teaspoonful for the next cake, and place a raisin in the centre, and so on till your pan is filled. Bake twelve minutes in a hot oven. This will make twenty-four cakes.

And Headache

After using one box of Ayer's Pills I was quite well." C. F. Hopkins, Nevada City, Mo., writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills, and think they are the best in the world. They have cured me of Sick Headache and Neuralgia." W. L. Page, Richmond, Va., writes: "I have been a severe sufferer from Headache. Ayer's Pills afford me speedy relief." A. J. Forster, Dauphin st., Mobile, Ala., writes: "For a number of years I have been troubled with Constipation and Headaches. After trying a number of so-called Liver Invigorators, without benefit, I was at last

Cured by Using

Ayer's Pills." Rev. Francis B. Harlowe, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "For years I was subject to Constipation, from which I suffered increasing inconvenience, in spite of the use of medicines of various kinds. Some months ago, I began taking Ayer's Pills. They have entirely corrected the costive habit, and have vastly improved my general health." Hermann Bringhoff, jewelry engraver, Newark, N. J., writes, "Costiveness, induced by my sedentary habits of life, at one time became chronic and exceedingly troublesome. Ayer's Pills afforded me speedy relief, and their occasional use has since kept me all right." Ed. O. Easterly, Rockford, Ill., writes that he has been cured of chronic Constipation by the use of

Ayer's Pills.

A Feat.

A day or two ago a young lady went to the office of a town dentist where she had twenty one teeth pulled out. The operation was performed in not much more than five minutes.

Burns Anniversary.

Members of the St. Andrew's Society, and all lovers of Burns, are requested to attend a special meeting to be held on Tuesday evening, January 18th, at 7.30 o'clock, in the office of the Town Collector, Simcoe street, to hear the report of the Committee appointed to make preliminary arrangements for the celebration of Burns' birthday. Scotchmen, muster!

Counterfeits.

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—"Mr. Sibbett, of the Queen's Hotel, has been caught on a counterfeit $10 Bank of Commerce note. A reporter of the Intelligencer heard of the affair and on making enquiry was informed by a front street merchant that the trading public were very suspicious of notes of that denomination which bore the name of Mr. Cook, the Treasurer. It appears that all the counterfeits in circulation which had been detected had that name upon them."

Masonic.

Mr Geo. J. Bennett, news editor of the Toronto Evening Telegram, who is also Grand Registrar of the Grand Lodge of Canada, A. F. & A. M., has just issued "The Freemason's Pocket-Book Diary and Calendar for 1887." It is a comprehensive guide to the Grand and Subordinate Lodges of the Dominion, and may be correctly termed the Masonic "Enquire Within." No Mason should be without it. The book comprises nearly 300 pages of useful matter elegantly encased in leather, gilt edges, and costs but seventy-five cents.

Missions.

Mr. George Buskin, Missionary of the Algoma and North West Evangelical and Scriptural Colportage Mission among railway men, lumbermen and other laborers in that district, is in town again to obtain help to sustain the work. Three thousand scriptures and scriptural books have been supplied in the district during the past four years, besides many thousands of religious tracts and magazines and many religious services held in out-of-the-way places. A contribution was made in Peterborough two years since to help the work. Communications can be addressed to care Sec't Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. Shaver vs. Mrs. Kearns.

At the Division Court sittings held on Friday a case came up to test a landlord's power to destrain. Mrs. Kearns was Mrs. Shaver's tenant. According to the evidence given Mrs. Shaver wanted to get Mrs. Kearns out of the house and to this end overtures were made. If Mrs. Kearn' would go she might pay the rent at any time. A more desirable tenant appeared and Mrs. Shaver became more generous—Mrs. Kearns might go without paying any back rent at all. Mrs. Kearns left and took up her abode in another quarter. But three weeks after her goods were seized upon under a landlord's warrant. She was charged with having gone away with intent to defraud. His Honor held that there was no such intent and gave damages in lieu of the amount of goods sold under the warrant.

Personal.

The Calgary, N.W.T., Tribune says:—"Mr. Henry Morton, of Hastings, Ont., returned from a trip to Victoria this morning. He reports very unfavorably of the continued wet weather of Victoria, where it has rained for sixty-six consecutive days. Mr. Morton says he has seen no place that suits him as well as Calgary and if he can procure a suitable location, he will in all probability remain and go into business here."

The Lindsay Post says:—"On Tuesday evening the members of the Y. M. C. A. placed on record in the association books a motion of appreciation of the very valuable services rendered by Mr. E. E. McGaffey, who has left town to engage in business in Peterborough. Mr. McGaffey was an indefatigable worker and deserves to have a memorial page in the association records. His departure, which is a matter of general regret to the members, leaves a blank in the management which it will be hard to fill."

SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD.

Mr. T. Dolan Elected Chairman—Financial Statement for 1886.

The inaugural meeting of the Separate School Board was held on the evening of Thursday, Jan. 13th.

The Secretary took the chair and stated the result of the recent election of Trustees, and asked for nominations for Chairman of the Board for the current year.

Mr. Thos. Dolan was elected Chairman.

Mr. John Corkery was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer.

The Rev. Father Conway was re-elected local Superintendent.

Messrs. Hackett and McIlmoyle were elected Auditors.

Mr. R. W. Muncaster was elected High School Trustee.

The following Standing Committees were appointed:—

FINANCE.—Messrs. Hackett, Leplante and McGrath.

SCHOOL MANAGEMENT.—Messrs. Leplante, Griffin and McGrath.

SUPPLIES.—Messrs. Halpin, O'Brien and Sullivan.

The first named on each committee being chairman thereof.

The statement of the receipts and expenditures for the year ending 31st Dec., 1886, was submitted:—

	$3,488 93

The auditors, Messrs. O'Meara and Henry, certified to the correctness of the accounts as presented.

Several accounts and communications were presented and received.

A by-law was passed authorizing the Board to borrow money from the Bank of Montreal to pay current expenses for the year.

The Board then adjourned.

Scott Act Appeal Cases.

The following cases, heard at Toronto on Friday, are thus reported in the Mail:—"Queen v. Halpin, Queen v. Chamberlain,—Edmison (Peterborough) moved in each case for a certiorari to bring up a conviction under the Canada Temperance Act. Watson contra. Writs granted."

First Meeting.

The Town Council for 1887 will meet in the Council Chamber for the first time on Monday at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. The following named gentlemen constitute the Council:—Mayor, Mr. James Stevenson; Councillors, No. 1 Ward, Messrs. McNaughton, Davidson and Cahill; No. 2 Ward, Messrs. McNeil, Kelly and Stenson; No. 3 Ward, Messrs. Douglass, Moore and Yelland; No. 4 Ward, Messrs. Keudry, Menzies and Hartley.

Curling.

On Friday a friendly match took place between rinks representing the Lakefield and Peterborough Curling Clubs. In the afternoon the play resulted as follows:—

LAKEFIELD	PETERBOROUGH
T. J. Bird	D. Belleghem
J. Clarin	J. B. Pentland
Geo. Cochrane	R. S. Davidson

R. C. Strickland skip, 14 A. McNeil skip, 24.

In the evening the same Lakefield rink played against D. Belleghem, D. Cameron, H. W. Allen and C. McGill, skip. The score stood: Peterborough, 15; Lakefield, 14.

The Queens Jubilee.

The Lindsay-Seldon Furniture Company are celebrating the Queen's Jubilee in a novel and profitable way. The designer has planned what he calls "the jubilee suit." The furniture is handsome both in style and finish, being ornamented with emblems suited to the name given it. Samples have been shown in Toronto where the designer's idea meets with such approval that the company has received an order for 30 sets from one dealer. The "jubilee suits" will be taken to the Montreal market also. The Lindsay-Seldon Company are doing a fine work. The factory, by over time works does seven days work in the week, and a constant increase in the number of hands shows a healthy state of affairs. Two travellers represent the company "on the road."

Queen vs. Daly and Halpin.

The item in Friday's paper to the effect that the appeal in these cases had been dismissed with costs is somewhat misleading, as it would induce one to infer that the appeal had been dismissed on the merits after a hearing before the court. The fact is that in a recent case decided on the 23rd of December it was held that there was technically no appeal to the Court of Appeal in cases such as these. In consequence of this decision, which rendered it useless to proceed, Mr. Edwards, acting for the appellant, applied to a judge for leave to withdraw the appeal, before any considerable amount of costs was incurred, and this was granted. The result is that Judge Galt's decision stands unimpaired, holding (1) that the Scott Act is in force in the County of Peterborough, and (2) that a defendant is not obliged to give evidence criminating himself under the act. The defendant's costs to be paid by the Association will probably not amount to more than $15 or $20.

REMNANTS by the hundred (cheap) at R. FAIR'S, Golden Lion.

AN INTERESTING CASE.

Compelled to Pay His Step-Mother's Funeral Expenses.

At the Division Court on Friday His Honor, Judge Weller, listened to fifteen cases, all of which were dealt with during the afternoon.

One case on the docket was peculiarly interesting. The plaintiff was Martin McFadden, of this town, undertaker, and the defendant, Mr. McCarthy, of Otonabee. The circumstances were as follows:—Some time ago the defendant got married and his step mother, who had kept house for him up till that event took place, was given notice to leave. The old lady had, at the time of her marriage with the defendant's father, brought a considerable amount of household goods with her to adorn the family mansion. She accepted the notice, but also she would take the furniture away with her. The furniture was packed up, she came to town to live, and the defendant was to bring the furniture anon.

It happened, however, that nine days after the old lady's advent to town, she died. The undertaker, Mr. McFadden, was called to take charge of the funeral. He did so and when it was all over he billed the step-son, with the result that it was fought out in court, Mr. McFadden being the winner. His Honor held that as the step-son still held the goods of the deceased and derived benefit from them he had no right to complain at paying the funeral expenses.

Auld Scotland.

Mr. W. G. Ferguson of this town, played second stone in a curling match at Toronto between rinks representing Stirlingshire and Lanarkshire. The match was played for the Stewart medal, presented by Mr. A. M. Stewart for competition among natives of Scottish counties. Lanarkshire won by 11 shots.

It May Be Remarked

—That the installation ceremony in the Otonabee Lodge, I. O. O. F., will be held on Monday evening.

—That it will be unusually interesting.

—That the Italian peanut man shouldn't throw stones.

—Because he lives in a glasshouse on the corner of George and Hunter.

—That Friday evening still continues to be the popular "rink night."

—That there was a large number out last night.

—That Mr. Jaques and the congregation will likely be pleased.

—That the choir won't object to a new organ.

—That the new council will meet on Monday at 11 a.m.

—That the Gun club meet on Monday afternoon.

The Churches.

The following is a list of services in the several churches to-morrow:—

METHODIST CHURCH, Charlotte Street.—The Rev. Mr. Wallace will conduct the services.

METHODIST CHURCH, Mark street (Ashburnham)—The Rev. Mr. Wilson will conduct the services.

ST. ANDREWS CHURCH.—The pastor will conducted the services as usual.

The British Empire.

It is pointed out that the British Empire extends over a far larger territoy than that which was governed by ancient Rome, the superficies of the latter being one million and a half square leagues. No English colony is under foreign rule, while Britain governs nearly three hundred million individuals belonging to all nations and speaking all the languages of the world: as for instance, Germans (Heligoland), Saxards (Gibraltar), Greeks, Italians, Turks (Cyprus) Arabs Aden), Dutch (Africa), French (Mauritius), Chinese, Indians, Persians Asia), &c.

A Dastardly Outrage.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—A dynamite cartridge placed on the track of the Larkin street branch line of the Sutter street cable road, exploded this morning. The dummy was completely wrecked, and the windows of the houses in the vicinity were demolished. Mrs. Hilderbrault, a passenger, was seriously injured.

Cluverius Hanged.

RICHMOND, Va., JAN. 14.—The young lawyer, T. J. Cluverius, was hanged at 12.30 today for the murder of Fannie Lillian Madison, his cousin, with whom he had been intimate.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

CARDINAL JACOBINI'S ILLNESS.

ROME, Jan. 14.—Cardinal Jacobini, who recently underwent a surgical operation, has had a serious relapse.

DEATH OF A CARDINAL.

ROME, Jan. 14.—Cardinal Ferrieri is dead. He was born at Fano, Italy, Sept. 14, 1810, and was created a cardinal March 13, 1863.

REACHING TO AFGHANISTAN.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 14.—The Governor of Herat has been summoned to Cabul to answer charges of secretly favoring Russia, and of fomenting hatred against England among the Afgans. If he is found guilty of the charges he will be sentenced to death.

THE CAMPAIGN.

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—The streets adjacent to the Parliament buildings were thronged with people awaiting the decision of the Reichstag on the Army Bill. Prince Bismarck, upon his arrival, was enthusiastically greeted by the populace. All the political parties are sanguine as to the result of the coming elections. The campaign will be certainly unequalled for fierceness. It is expected that the Emperor William will inaugurate the political contest with a decree reciting the merirt of the dispute.

OFFICIAL ORGAN'S VIEW.

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—The North German Gazette, in an article on the dissolution of the Reichstag, says: "Before all the German people demanded that every Reichstag shall grant without fear or hesitation what is necessary for the external and internal security of the Empire. Upon this point common sense will surely teach that the voters will place more value upon the opinion of the Emperor and his advisers than upon that of imperious parliamentary politicians."

A DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

A House Blown to Atoms—A Family's Miraculous Escape.

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—At a late hour last night residents of Ottawa was startled by a deep detonation, accompanied by a vivid flash of light in the heavens A panic ensued in consequence. It turned out to be a dynamite explosion and one which has been most disastrous in its effects. The explosion took place in the house of a man named John F. Patton, who with his brother Samuel had established a dynamite factory a few miles outside the city. Owing to cold weather they had recently adopted the plan of mixing some of the least dangerous compounds in their dwelling house. One of the brothers was thus busily engaged, calmly smoking a cigar at the time, when the ashes fell into the mixture and immediately filled the room with blue flames. The family consisting of a wife and two little children, together with the two brothers escaped through the window with difficulty. A quantity of nitro-glycerine was stored in the kitchen, as well as some fifty pounds of dynamite. This being acted upon by sulphine flames, exploded, blowing the house, a substantial stone structure, to atoms. Immense masses of debris were thrown so far as four hundred yards. The earth was shaken for a considerable distance round, and the houses in the neighbornood were shattered by concussion. The Patton family mirraculously escaped, although all were more or less seriously injured.

GRIT PRINTING.

The good Grit Sentinel-Review of Woodstock has not been eminently successful in its "boodle" operations. This Sentinel-Review is the journal which, while shouting that the Spectator was getting from four to twenty prices for Government printing, was charging its own town of Woodstock rates four times greater than the Spectator's "boodle figures." When the pure Sentinel-Review sent in its bill to the council the other night, that body refused to pay the exorbitant bill. The good Sentinel-Review will now be obliged to come down to Dominion Government prices. It will be a hard thing for a grit to do; but it must be done.—Hamilton Spectator.

OUR TARIFF POLICY.

"That unmitigated curse called the National Policy," is the term applied by the leading Liberal journal in the Maritime Provinces to the fiscal system of Canada. The organ reflects the opinion of its party. Almost daily the Globe, Hamilton Times, London Advertiser and other recognized exponents of the views of the Opposition print bitter attacks upon the policy of protection, and urge, as a ground for supporting Mr. Blake, that his advent to office will result in a return to a tariff for revenue only.—Montreal Gazette.

Kingston's Contribution.

KINGSTON, Jan. 13.—During last year Bishop Cleary forwarded £608 9s 6d as a contribution from the people of this diocese for the support of the Irish cause in the British Parliament.

Business Men
Attention.

WE CAN NOW OFFER several first-class positions to Advertisers in the REVIEW, and, as there is always a rush at the beginning of the year, in order that the best positions may be obtained, business men will do well to call immediately and secure their space for 1887.

During the present year renewed efforts will be made to make the REVIEW still more a thoroughly efficient medium whereby the Merchants and others can put and keep themselves prominently before the public. Extra precaution will be taken, and the best taste will be displayed in getting up all advertisements intrusted to us for publication, and in other respects as well, the "shrewd" business man will do well to patronize the columns of the

DOMINION ELECTIONS.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS OF CANADA DISSOLVED.

The Nominations to be Held on February 15th and the Elections on February 22nd.

Special to the Review.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—The Dominion House of Commons has been dissolved by the Governor-General. The nominations will be held on February 15th and the elections on February 22nd.

THE GENERAL ELECTION.

THE news that the Dominion Parliament has been dissolved and that the polling for the general election will take place on Feb. 22nd will not be a surprise to the country. It has been generally understood that in consequence of the enormous addition to the electorate, caused by Sir John Macdonald's liberal measure for the extention of the franchise, an appeal would be made to the verdict of the country at the earliest convenient opportunity. The Conservative leaders were too thoughtful to fix a date that would disfranchise new voters through the lists being incomplete, or that would interfere either with business or with holiday rejoicings, so they have deferred the elections till now, while bringing them on soon enough to hold a reasonably early session. There has also been ample time for both political parties to make their preliminary arrangement.

In the two Ridings of Peterborough we have no reason to fear the result. The Conservative candidates are both well known and highly esteemed, and they well represent a policy which has the support of a majority of the constituents. But confidence should not beget carelessness or lead to neglect of zealous, thorough work, as we must count upon fierce opposition, and that very evidently of the most unscrupulous nature. Every voter in both Ridings who takes an interest in the welfare of the country should exert himself to roll up a satisfactory majority for the Conservative candidates.

Neither have we any fear for the general result throughout the Dominion. Though the disintegrating cries of Mr. Blake's various supporters sound terrific from the very fact of their discord, they are not likely to prevail over the good sense of the greaty body of the people of Canada, who are strongly in favour of Confederation and its author, and who will support the progressive, enterprising, yet judicious policy which, among other benefits, has given encouragement to Canadian industries and has united all our Provinces by a great main line, which makes us independent of foreigners.

MR. BLAKE'S present opinion, if he has not made another change very recently, is that Riel was guilty, but that his sentence of execution ought to have been commuted. That is, Riel ought to have been kept in prison by the Macdonald Administration to give Mr. Blake a chance to suggest in Quebec, through his organ, the Globe, his message carrier, Mr. Edgar, and his fellow-leader, Laurier, that if he were returned to power he would release Riel.

WE are told by the Reformers that the taxes in Canada are oppressive. Well, in 1885 they were just eight cents a head more than they were ten years previously, when Mr. Blake and his colleagues were in the middle of their reign.

THOUSANDS OF IDLE EMPLOYEES.

All the Hands in Lorillard's Tobacco Factory Out on Strike.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 15.—The employees of Lorillard's Tobacco Works struck yesterday afternoon. The entire force of about 8,000 employees are now out and the huge factories are idle. Last week Superintendent Brown notified the employees in the plug department that their wages would be reduced 25 cents per 1,000 pounds and the wages of these working by the week be cut down from $9 to $6. Yesterday Brown discharged seven men in the plug department and he filled their places with two men named Grogan and Brandie. The workmen made it so unpleasant for Brandie that he left at noon and the discharge of Grogan was demanded by the employees who refused to work with him. The superintendent refused to comply with this demand and thirty-five men quit work yesterday morning. The remainder of the employees in the plug department quit work. The disaffection spread and 400 girls in the filling department left and at noon they were followed by 400 men from the box factory. The strikers positively refuse to return on the old terms. The firm claim that the trouble is due to their refusal to treat with two walking delegates who called upon them last week to adjust the differences with the employees.

THE CAMPBELL SCANDAL.

A Move to Reopen the Suit—The Queensbury case.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—There is a determined attempt to reopen the Colin Campbell divorce case. Mr. Finlay, Q.C., Lord Colin's chief counsel, has from the very opening of the late trial felt that he was being unfairly treated by Justice Butt. The principal grounds of the application for a new trial will be based upon the rulings of Justice Butt. There is a positive shudder here at the thought of the public being treated to another dose of this loathsome case.

The Queensbury case is to come up for trial at Edinburgh next Wednesday. The woman whose testimony is relied on to convict the Marquis of Queensbury is not to appear at the trial at all, a commissioner having been appointed to take her evidence here in London. The Marchioness of Queensbury is ill—at least it is so reported—and she will also no doubt be absent from the trial. In fact it appears that all the principal parties are to be absent. The testimony will be in the shape of depositions, and the proceedings will be only the mere formalities which the law requires.

CANADIAN MARBLE.

Valuable Deposits not far from Montreal —A New Industry.

A considerable quantity of marble for statuary and other purposes is annually imported chiefly from Italy and the United States. It will doubtless be a surprise to many to learn that there is within a short distance of Montreal marble which competent judges pronounce to be of a very superior quality. The quarries at Phillipsburg, in this Province, have been known for some years and were opened and worked in a small way some ten or twelve years ago. Phillipsburg is situated in the county of Missisquoi, on the border of Lake Champlain, and almost on the dividing line between Canada and the State of Vermont, and close to the well known farm of a former citizen, Mr. W. F. Kay.

The late Sir Wm. E. Logan estimated the depth of beds at 400 feet and spoke in high terms of the quality of the marble. In a very interesting article on the marbles of the United States in the Scientific American of the 8th of January, it is stated that "the narrow belt of limestone from which is obtained the supply of Vermont marble extends from a point beyond the Canadian line, throughout the entire length of the state." The article also says that of the $2,000 000 worth of marble annually produced in the United States more than half is from the State of Vermont. It will thus be seen that the favorite marble of the United States is lying near to Montreal and is awaiting development. The location of the quarry is admirable for shipment, and the lake being on one side, whence the blocks can be sent by boat to Montreal or New York, while the main line of the Central Vermont Railway is only between two and three miles distant on the other side. When the quarry was first opened the superior quality of the marble was not known, and the surface layers were used for building stone. It may be seen in the church of Notre Dame de Lourdes, on St. Catherine street, the house of Mr. Judah, on Dorchester street west, and some other buildings, where the soft grayish white of the marble makes an elegant trimming and forms a beautiful contrast to the red brick or the Trenton limestone. The marble in those buildings looks as clean and perfect as when it was first placed there. A closer examination of the quarry, however, revealed the fact that the underlying beds of the quarry were of a very superior quality, both as regards color and fineness of grain. The upper bed is of a beautiful mottled colour, containing shades of gray, pink, green, white and yellow. The second bed is of a uniform white, with delicate shades of pink and green; as for the lower beds it is impossible yet to say anything definite as they have not been reached. The marble is noticeable for its closeness and fineness of grain. It is non-absorbent and will not soil, and it takes a beautiful polish. It resists strong heat. Its beautiful, warm, soft color renders it most desirfor interior decoration of buildings, as well as for furniture, etc. The quarry has recently been opened by some enterprising Montrealers who are determined to work and develop it. The mantel piece on view of the office of the Star is made from some of the first pieces taken out. The industry is an important one and is capable of great extension as it is hoped that an export trade will be established before long for the marble slabs. It is to be hoped that the industry will be heartily supported by the Canadian people.—Montreal Star.

The Winnipeg Mayoralty.

WINNIPEG, Man Jan. 15.—L. M. Jones was elected Mayor of Winnipeg to-day by acclamation, his opponent, Mr. Pearson, having retired from the contest.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

REMOVAL OF THE REMAINS.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The remains of the Earl of Iddesleigh were removed to-day to his late home in Exeter, Devonshire. A large number of persons gathered along the route to the railway station and manifested much sympathy. The blinds of many houses were draped, and flags were hung at half-mast.

FRANCE AND GERMANY.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The Temps protests against the idea that the defensive preparations of France are being made with a view to an aggressive movement. The Liberte doubts whether Prince Bismarck will gain anything by dissolving the Reichstag. It says the vote on the army bill shows that the German people have an ardent desire for real peace and are sick of the excessive military demands of Prussia.

BISMARCK SUSTAINED.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Prof. Labaud, the well-known juris consult, supports Prince Bismarck's contention that the Emperor is empowered to fix the peace effective of the army.

MR. GLADSTONE'S HEALTH.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Mr. Gladstone's health is much worse than is generally known. He has a severe cold complicated by diarrhœa. The family hope his wonderful recuperative powers will soon cause him to improve, but the fact is, at this moment he is much lower than at any time for several years.

WARLIKE PREPARATIONS.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Government has decided to purchase 40,000 additional horses and 30,000 Mannlicher repeating rifles, which are to be ready by March 1st.

DESIRE FOR REUNION.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Daily News, referring to the Gladstonian-Unionist conference, says: "The parties to the round table conference have been animated by a sincere desire for reunion of the Liberal party, and have been altogether free from a tendency to secure anything like 'knocking under' from one side or the other."

A BANQUET.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—The Emperor and Empress of Germany gave a banquet last evening in honor of the Japanese Prince Komatsu and his suite. The affair was attended with great pomp.

NO IMPORTANCE.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 15.—Governor Janssen, of the Congo state, has returned to Brussels. He says the Stanley Falls incident has no importance and will not impair the task of the authorities in the Congo country.

FAST OCEAN STEAMSHIPS.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The secretary of the Cunard Steamship Company, furnishes a record of the time made by the principal steamers of the Cunard line between Queenstown and Sandy Hook for the year ending on the 31st December last. By this record it appears that the Etruria made nine voyages and an average of 20.42 miles per hour going out, and 20.73 miles returning home. The Umbria made nine voyages at a rate of 20.04 miles per hour going out and 20.33 miles per hour returning home. Both the Aurania and the Servia fall about two miles per hour below the Umbria, the Servia being the lowest. From the figures it appears that the Umbria is after all the fastest ship in the Cunard fleet on a general average and by a very few points, but that the Umbria has made the fastest time on her homeward trips. Both vessels have an average time of nearly twenty-one miles an hour.

STANLEY'S EXPEDITION.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 15.—Mr. Henry M. Stanley arrived here to-day and had a long and touching farewell interview with the king. The expedition for the relief of Emin Bey will start on the 20th inst. Mr. Stanley has received 600 applications from persons wishing to serve on his personal staff. There were orginally only five vacancies, however and these had already been filled. Mr. Stanley in an interview said that it was not true that the British Government had subscribed largely to the costs of the expedition Mr. Stanley returned to London this evening. He will hold a consultation with Mr. Junker at Cairo.

A SUMMONS.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—W. H. Smith, First Lord of the Treasury, and Conservative leader in the House of Commons has sent a circular to the supporters of the Government asking them to make every effort to attend the opening of Parliament, as they will be invited to proceed directly to the consideration of questions of great importance.

A BULL FIGHT.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—A bull fight took place at Landaiz to day. The exhibition was witnessed by 10,000 spectators. The toreadors appeared in Spanish costumes, and many of them were tossed by the infuriated beasts, but sustained no injury. The exhibition elicited but little entnusiasm.

NATIONALIST CONFIDENCE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 16.—At a Nationalist meeting at Eastaey, County Sligo, to day, Mr. Sexton in his speech said the present Government would speedily be overthrown and Home Rule would soon be granted to Ireland. Resolutions were adopted approving the Plan of Campaign, and the strong language used by Sexton, Crilly, and Macdonald, with reference to the Government and their advisers.

TIRED OF FIGHTING.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—A despatch from Mandalay says that H. La-Oo has made overtures for a surrender, and Boh-Shway is negotiating for peace.

PRUSSIAN LOYALTY.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—Baron Schlemacher, supported by forty-six members, will propose in the Upper House of the Prussian Diet that an address be presented to Emperor William, stating in effect that the Reichstag, in rejecting the Army Bill, sought prerogatives to which it originally had no title, and that "the Oberhaus assures the Emperor of unswerving loyalty, and expresses its conviction that Prussia will make any sacrifice to maintain the army at the strength necessary for the safety of the Fatherland."

Mothers,

do you not see the pallid face, once so bright, growing thinner? Do you not hear the hacking cough, and note the wasted, languid indifference, where once was mirth, brightness, and keen enjoyment for all the pleasures of life? Do not be mistaken or deceived. That child is dying of consumption—slowly, but surely. Yet thousands are living to-day who have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," which surpasses all other medicines for the cure of that disease. Send ten cents for phamphlet and testimonials. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, JANUARY 17, 1887.

THE N. P.

In canvassing the workingmen, and more especially those employed in our factories, we learn that Mr. Cox is representing himself as being in sympathy with protection. We must caution those, whom he is thus attempting to beguile into supporting him, against being deceived by such an artifice.

In the first place we cannot believe that Mr. Cox is sincere. In view of the discordant and contradictory expressions of his views by which in his canvass he is endeavoring to represent himself as in accord with all opinions and all tastes, however opposed to each other, so that he may delude the elector whom he is immediately addressing, it is probable that his assumed liking for protection is but another of those vote-catching devices.

But supposing that Mr. Cox were the most enthusiastic protectionist in Canada, would it be safe for those to trust him who wish to see Canadian industries and Canadian workmen preferred to foreigners? In the first place Mr. Cox is so strong a partisan that he would be almost certain to follow his party leaders right or wrong, and those party leaders are almost to a man frankly hostile to the N. P. But even if he were protectionist to the extreme of voting against his leaders in favor of protection, could his vote affect the party policy? It will be remembered how Messrs. Patterson, Charlton and two or three other Reformers obtained their election by means of their loud-mouthed claims to be protectionists. It will also be remembered what influence after their election their views had with their leaders and the rest of the party. They took care not to oppose their friends, and instead of converting them, they came far more near being converted themselves. There were sincere protectionist Reformers, but they took the only effectual means of proving their sincerity and furthering their views by uniting themselves with the Conservative party, with which they were in accord on this momentous question.

If Mr. Cox were really a protectionist his political course has certainly been most dishonest. He has persistently supported the party that has been fiercely assailing the N.P. He has been working zealously against the party that has made it the leading feature of its policy to foster Canadian industries. If he had been honestly in favor of protection would he not have left its enemies and joined himself to its friends, waiving all minor differences in view of this the most important question of the day for the people of Canada.

Mr. Cox's pretence is, however, though unintentionally, a striking evidence of the wisdom of the Conservative policy, of the folly of the Reform policy. Hitherto he has been the faithful follower of those who so bitterly assailed the N.P. as to denounce Canadian manufacturers and those employed by them as robbers and injurious parasites, their advocates as knaves or fools. During the existence of two parliaments he has been a supporter of that side. And now he is forced to own that he and his friends were wrong and that his opponents were right. Or rather, he is obliged to admit that the electors, wiser than he, would be asked in vain to give their votes to an enemy of Canadian industries. Neither, as he will find, can he lure them into marking their ballots for a pretended or lukewarm friend.

Much disgust is expressed at the Globe for having set four spies to watch Sir John Macdonald during his recent visit to Toronto. As might be expected from men of such a character as alone could be induced to undertake such dirty work, they seem, if they could ferret out nothing to report, to have taken in any inventions that they thought would suit their employer. Mr. Langtry, for instance, who was reported as having sent up his card and been denied admittance, says that he never even called at the Queen's.

A ROMANCE OF CRIME.

A Forger Falls Heir to $35,000 While Awaiting His Trial.

At the Criminal Assizes yesterday afternoon an interesting case came up before Chief Justice Cameron. It was that of a young man named William C. Dalziel, a resident of this city, who was called to answer three separate indictments of forging and uttering the name of J. G. Owen, of Streetsville. The first forgery was a check of $80, made on the 22nd of December last, and drawn on the agency of the Central Bank at Brampton. The second and third were for $100 and $120 respectively, made on the 29th of November and drawn on the same bank. In the first case he forged the name of his grandfather, Walter Dalziel, on the back of the check for $80, sent the latter by Owen on the last instalment of a payment on the old man's farm. William got the check from the postoffice, forged his grandfather's name as an indorsation, and went on a holiday. This case went to the jury, who after ten minutes deliberation returned a verdict of guilty. On the advice of his counsel, N. G. Bigelow, the prisoner then withdrew his former plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to the two other indictments.

Dalziel is a young man of about 24 years of age, medium height, intelligent, and fairly good looking. He is what might be termed an unfortunately lucky individual, and one who will now have plenty of time to reflect on the truth of the Biblical quotation that "the way of the transgressor is hard." While in jail awaiting his trial information was conveyed to him that he had fallen heir to the tidy sum of $35,000. There is a tinge of romance about the affair and the manner in which he fell into this enviable streak of luck. A few years ago while visiting in Buffalo, he one night came across an old man who had been seized with an epileptic fit, lying on the sidewalk. Young Dalziel took compassion upon the unfortunate old gentleman, called a cab and drove him to his hotel. Here he stayed with him for about two weeks, and nursed him through his weakness and until he recovered from the injuries inflicted by his fall upon the pavement. When Dalziel was obliged to leave the old man assured him that he would remember him for his kindness and attention some day.

The years rolled around, and Dalziel heard nothing of his Buffalo patient until the other day, when he was told that he was now the heir to any amount of the lucre he so much coveted, and was willing to commit a crime to obtain. The old man kept his promise, and displayed his gratitude in a most substantial manner. His name was Kennedy, a Chicago millionaire. William C. Dalziel was formerly a resident of the township of Toronto, near the village of Streetsville, but last fall he and his grandfather sold the farm and moved to Toronto, and took up their residence at Bellevue Place in the west end. In the court room during the trial were the grandfather and the prisoner's aunt and sister. The parting scene when the prisoner was leaving the court room was most affecting. The poor grief-stricken old grandfather, who must be close on his eighties year, was completely overcome at the sight of the poor boy being led out with the brand of a criminal upon him; and even the hard hearted legal lights round the table, who are accustomed to such scenes, whispered their sympathy for the old man in his sorrow. It will be an aggravating confinement for the wealthy young prisoner, but it is to be hoped that after a few years the prison doors will open to free a better and a wiser man.—Toronto News.

BILL AND CAPTAIN.

A Tale of the Affection Existing Between an Ohio Horse and Dog.

At the Marietta street hose-house in Zanesville, Ohio, writes a correspondent of the Dispatch, until very recently, there was a very powerful gray horse named Bill. He was an old servant, with an exceptional record for speed, endurance and intelligence. His keeper was a first-class "fire-laddie," named Nevitt, now a constable in the same city. Being a lover of animals, Mr. Nevitt also came into possession of a young coach or bird dog (I am not clear as to the breed), which he named Captain, and almost upon sight there sprang up a wonderful attachment between the two animals, which greatly intensified as time wore on. Without a word of instruction, Captain first assumed the duty of jealously guarding Bill night and day. He slept regularly between Bill's legs, but should the latter not seem to take rest enough Captain would run under him in the stall and lie down. Bill would carefully eye his location, and also lie down, never being known to hurt the dog. If any one offered Bill a cracker, a piece of bread or an apple, Captain would storm furiously if he did not get piece for piece with his partner. Should he, however, whine piteously Bill would drop him a piece. But the cutest and most amusing tricks they took to, entirely by themselves, was for Captain to go and stand in front of Bill for him to lick his back; then, in turn, Captain would vigorously apply his tongue to Bill's nose, after which the latter would again caress Captain, but this time tenderly taking hold of the skin with his teeth and gently raising it several times. During this latter freak the dog's face was a study. His eyes would roll, his ears thrown back, his lips would quiver, and as he gently swayed his head it was strikingly apparent he was expecting something sudden. All at once Bill would give a sharp nip, throw up his head and put on the most comical mischievous look imaginable, as if conscious that he had done something that was extra smart. And a "smart" experience it was for Captain, who would jump viciously for Bill's nose, growl, snap and bark in the greatest rage, for a moment or so, when he would again stand perfectly still, while Bill once more tenderly applied his tongue to the spot as if conscious he should "kiss the place to make it well." This was gone through two and three times a day—entirely of their own accord, much to the amusement of the fire laddies and many others, including the writer. Captain rode to every fire holding on with his paws to the back of the hose cart, but no coaxing could induce him to ride home—then he would run with the air of a champion, as though impressed that he had performed a laudable act. At a fire he always mounted the hose cart seat and sat sentry till the boys returned. But should it be very cold, or rain or snow, he would lie the whole time of the fire on Bill's broad back—at which Bill never rebelled. On two occasions he was given a bone in the street, the gong was struck, and Captain dropped his rich morsel like a hot potato to report "on duty" with a vigorous bark. Whenever the gong struck and he was in the house, he made a dive for Bill's stall, and would bark and nip at the shafts of the cart. The horse and dog are still living, but unfortunately parted and out of the department, while Mr. Nevitt and scores of others might be named who could bear testimony to the facts given.—Pittsburg Despatch.

Great Slaughtering Sale

—OF—

OVERCOATS!

Now going on at GOUGH'S, previous to his Removing into his New Store, the BON MARCHE. ☞ Nothing like it ever heard of in Canada. To avoid the rush and give all a chance to secure one, I have opened out another Store (for two weeks only) next door to the Review Office. Do not miss it, or you will lose the chance of a lifetime to secure an Overcoat or Suit at away down below wholesale prices. The sale is now going on at both Stores.

GOUGH { THE KING OF CLOTHIERS AND WORKINGMAN'S BEST FRIEND

A RUSSO-FRENCH ALLIANCE

Thwarted by a Clever Move on the Part of Bismarck.

PESTH, Jan. 15.—The Pesther Lloyd, in an article, supposed to have been inspired, says a Russo-French alliance was recently on the point of conclusion, when Prince Bismarck, with a quick and clever move, thwarted the design, since which time he has been occupied in mediating between Russia and Austria. The Pesther Lloyd continues: "Whatever he may have said we know for certain that in case things are pushed to extremes, Austria is as sure of Germany's assistance as Germany in case of need would be of Austria's help."

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The Temps protests against the idea that the defensive preparations of France are being made with a view to an aggressive movement. The Liberte doubts whether Prince Bismarck will gain anything by dissolving the Reichstag. It says the vote on the army bill shows that the German people have an ardent desire for real peace, and are sick of the excessive military demands of Prussia.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Prof. Laband, the well known Liberal juris-consult, supports Prince Bismarck's contention that the Emperor is empowered to fix the peace effective of the army.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc. Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

DOMINION ELECTIONS.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS OF CANADA DISSOLVED.

The Nominations to be Held on February 15th and the Elections on February 22nd.

Special to the Review.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—The Dominion House of Commons has been dissolved by the Governor-General. The nominations will be held on February 15th and the elections on February 22nd.

THE GENERAL ELECTION.

THE news that the Dominion Parliament has been dissolved and that the polling for the general election will take place on Feb. 22nd will not be a surprise to the country. It has been generally understood that in consequence of the enormous addition to the electorate, caused by Sir John Macdonald's liberal measure for the extention of the franchise, an appeal would be made to the verdict of the country at the earliest convenient opportunity. The Conservative leaders were too thoughtful to fix a date that would disfranchise new voters through the lists being incomplete, or that would interfere either with business or with holiday rejoicings, so they have deferred the elections till now, while bringing them on soon enough to hold a reasonably early session. There has also been ample time for both political parties to make their preliminary arrangement.

In the two Ridings of Peterborough we have no reason to fear the result. The Conservative candidates are both well known and highly esteemed, and they well represent a policy which has the support of a majority of the constituents. But confidence should not beget carelessness or lead to neglect of zealous, thorough work, as we must count upon fierce opposition, and that very evidently of the most unscrupulous nature. Every voter in both Ridings who takes an interest in the welfare of the country should exert himself to roll up a satisfactory majority for the Conservative candidates.

Neither have we any fear for the general result throughout the Dominion. Though the disintegrating cries of Mr. Blake's various supporters sound terrific from the very fact of their discord, they are not likely to prevail over the good sense of the greaty body of the people of Canada, who are strongly in favour of Confederation and its author, and who will support the progressive, enterprising, yet judicious policy which, among other benefits, has given encouragement to Canadian industries and has united all our Provinces by a great main line, which makes us independent of foreigners.

MR. BLAKE'S present opinion, if he has not mad an ther change very recently, is that Riel was guilty, but that his sentence of execution ought to have been commuted. That is, Riel ought to have been kept in prison by the Macdonald Administration to give Mr. Blake a chance to suggest in Quebec, through his organ, the Globe, his message carrier, Mr. Edgar, and his fellow-leader, Laurier, that if he were returned to power he would release Riel.

WE are told by the Reformers that the taxes in Canada are oppressive. Well, in 1885 they were just eight cents a head more than they were ten years previously, when Mr. Blake and his colleagues were in the middle of their reign.

THOUSANDS OF IDLE EMPLOYEES.

All the Hands in Lorillard's Tobacco Factory Out on Strike.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 15.—The employees of Lorillard's Tobacco Works struck yesterday afternoon. The entire force of about 8,000 employees are now out and the huge factories are idle. Last week Superintendent Brown notified the employees in the plug department that their wages would be reduced 25 cents per 1,000 pounds and the wages of these working by the week be cut down from $9 to $6. Yesterday Brown discharged seven men in the plug department and he filled their places with two men named Grogan and Brandle. The workmen made it so unpleasant for Brandle that he left at noon and the discharge of Grogan was demanded by the employees who refused to work with him. The superintendent refused to comply with this demand and thirty-five men quit work yesterday morning. The remainder of the employees in the plug department quit work. The disaffection spread and 400 girls in the filling department left and at noon they were followed by 400 men from the box factory. The strikers positively refuse to return on the old terms. The firm claim that the trouble is due to their refusal to treat with two walking delegates who called upon them last week to adjust the differences with the employees.

THE CAMPBELL SCANDAL.

A Move to Reopen the Suit—The Queensbury case.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—There is a determined attempt to reopen the Colin Campbell divorce case. Mr. Finlay, Q.C., Lord Colin's chief counsel, has from the very opening of the late trial felt that he was being unfairly treated by Justice Butt. The principal grounds of the application for a new trial will be based upon the rulings of Justice Butt. There is a positive shudder here at the thought of the public being treated to another dose of this loathsome case.

The Queensbury case is to come up for trial at Edinburgh next Wednesday. The woman whose testimony is relied on to convict the Marquis of Queensbury is not to appear at the trial at all, a commissioner having been appointed to take her evidence here in London. The Marchioness of Queensbury is ill—at least it is so reported—and she will also no doubt be absent from the trial. In fact it appears that all the principal parties are to be absent. The trial will be in the shape of depositions, and the proceedings will be only the mere formalities which the law requires.

CANADIAN MARBLE.

Valuable Deposits not far from Montreal —A New Industry.

A considerable quantity of marble for statuary and other purposes is annually imported chiefly from Italy and the United States. It will doubtless be a surprise to many to learn that there is within a short distance of Montreal marble which competent judges pronounce to be of a very superior quality. The quarries at Phillipsburg, in this Province, have been known for some years and were opened and worked in a small way some ten or twelve years ago. Phillipsburg is situated in the county of Missisquoi, on the border of Lake Champlain, and almost on the dividing line between Canada and the State of Vermont, and close to the well known farm of a former citizen, Mr. W. F. Kay.

The late Sir Wm. E. Logan estimated the depth of beds at 400 feet and spoke in high terms of the quality of the marble. In a very interesting article on the marbles of the United States in the Scientific American of the 8th of January, it is stated that "the narrow belt of limestone from which is obtained the supply of Vermont marble extends from a point beyond the Canadian line, throughout the entire length of the state." The article also says that of the $2,000 000 worth of marble annually produced in the United States more than half is from the State of Vermont. It will thus be seen that the favorite marble of the United States is lying near to Montreal and is awaiting development. The location of the quarry is admirable for shipment, and the lake being on one side, whence the blocks can be sent by boat to Montreal or New York, while the main line of the Central Vermont Railway is only between two and three miles distant on the other side. When the quarry was first opened the superior quality of the marble was not known, and the surface layers were used for building stone. It may be seen in the church of Notre Dame de Lourdes, on St. Catherine street, the house of Mr. Judah, on Dorchester street west, and some other buildings, where the soft grayish white of the marble makes an elegant trimming and forms a beautiful contrast to the red brick or the Trenton limestone. The marble in those buildings looks as clean and perfect as when it was first placed there. A closer examination of the quarry, however, revealed the fact that the uncovered beds of the quarry were of a very superior quality, both as regards color and fineness of grain. The upper bed is of a beautiful mottled colour, containing shades of gray, pink, green, white and yellow. The second bed is of a uniform white, with delicate shades of pink and green; as for the lower beds it is impossible yet to say anything definite as they have not been reached. The marble is noticeable for its closeness and fineness of grain. It is non-absorbent and will not soil, and it takes a beautiful polish. It resists strong heat. Its beautiful, warm, soft color renders it most desirable for interior decoration of buildings, as well as for furniture, etc. The quarry has recently been opened by some enterprising Montrealers who are determined to work and develop it. The mantel piece on view of the office of the Star is made from some of the first pieces taken out. The industry is an important one and is capable of great extension as it is hoped that an export trade will be established before long for the marble slabs. It is to be hoped that the industry will be heartily supported by the Canadian people.—Montreal Star.

The Winnipeg Mayoralty.

WINNIPEG, Man Jan. 15.—L. M. Jones was elected Mayor of Winnipeg to-day by acclamation, his opponent, Mr. Pearson, having retired from the contest.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

REMOVAL OF THE REMAINS.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The remains of the Earl of Iddesleigh were removed to-day to his late home in Exeter, Devonshire. A large number of persons gathered along the route to the railway station and manifested much sympathy. The blinds of many houses were draped, and flags were hung at half-mast.

FRANCE AND GERMANY.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The Temps protests against the idea that the defensive preparations of France are being made with a view to an aggressive movement. The Liberte doubts whether Prince Bismarck will gain anything by dissolving the Reichstag. It says the vote on the army bill shows that the German people have an ardent desire for real peace and are sick of the excessive military demands of Prussia.

BISMARCK SUSTAINED.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Prof. Labaud, the well-known juris consult, supports Prince Bismarck's contention that the Emperor is empowered to fix the peace effective of the army.

MR. GLADSTONE'S HEALTH.

LONDON, Jan 15.—Mr. Gladstone's health is much worse than is generally known. He has a severe cold complicated by diarrhoea. The family hope his wonderful recuperative powers will soon cause him to improve, but the fact is, at this moment he is much lower than at any time for several years.

WARLIKE PREPARATIONS.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Government has decided to purchase 40,000 additional horses and 30,000 Mannlicher repeating rifles, which are to be ready by March 1st.

DESIRE FOR REUNION.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Daily News, referring to the Gladstonian-Unionist conference, says: "The parties to the round table conference have been animated by a sincere desire for reunion of the Liberal party, and have been altogether free from a tendency to secure anything like 'knocking under' from one side or the other."

A BANQUET.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—The Emperor and Empress of Germany gave a banquet last evening in honor of the Japanese Prince Komatsu and his suite. The affair was attended with great pomp.

NO IMPORTANCE.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 15.—Governor Janssen, of the Congo state, has returned to Brussels. He says the Stanley Falls incident has no importance and praises highly the task of the authorities in the Congo country.

FAST OCEAN STEAMSHIPS.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The secretary of the Cunard Steamship Company, furnishes a record of the time made by the principal steamers of the Cunard line between Queenstown and Sandy Hook for the year ending on the 31st December last. By this record it appears that the Etruria made nine voyages and an average of 20.42 miles per hour going out, and 20.73 miles returning home. The Umbria made nine voyages at a rate of 20.04 miles per hour going out and 20.88 miles per hour returning home. Both the Aurania and the Servia fall about two miles per hour below the Umbria, the Servia being the lowest. From the figures it appears that the Umbria is after all the fastest ship in the Cunard fleet on a general average and by a very few points, but that the Umbria has made the fastest time on her homeward trips. Both vessels have an average time of nearly twenty-one miles an hour.

STANLEY'S EXPEDITION.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 15.—Mr. Henry M. Stanley arrived here to-day and had a long and touching farewell interview with the King. The expedition for the relief of Emin Bey will start on the 20th inst. Mr. Stanley has received 600 applications from persons wishing to serve on his personal staff. There were orginally only five vacancies, however and these had already been filled. Mr. Stanley in an interview said that it was not true that the British Government had subscribed largely to the costs of the expedition Mr. Stanley returned to London this evening. He will hold a consultation with Mr. Junker at Cairo.

A SUMMONS.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—W. H. Smith, First Lord of the Treasury, and Conservative leader in the House of Commons has sent a circular to the supporters of the Government asking them to make every effort to attend the opening of Parliament, as they will be invited to proceed directly to the consideration of questions of great importance.

A BULL FIGHT.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—A bull fight took place at Landaiz to day. The exhibition was witnessed by 10,000 spectators. The toreadors appeared in Spanish costumes, and many of them were tossed by the infuriated beasts, but sustained no injury. The exhibition elicited but little entnusiasm.

NATIONALIST CONFIDENCE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 16.—At a Nationalist meeting at Eastaey, County Sligo, to day, Mr. Sexton in his speech said the present Government would speedily be overthrown and Home Rule would soon be granted to Ireland. Resolutions were adopted approving the Plan of Campaign, and the strong language used by Sexton, Crilly, and Macdonald, with reference to the Government and their advisers.

TIRED OF FIGHTING.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—A despatch from Mandalay says that H. La-Oo has made overtures for a surrender, and Boh-Shway is negotiating for peace.

PRUSSIAN LOYALTY.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—Baron Schlemacher, supported by forty-six members, will propose in the Upper House of the Prussian Diet that an address be presented to Emperor William, stating in effect that the Reichstag, in rejecting the Army Bill, sought prerogatives to which is originally had no title, and that "the Oberhaus assures the Emperor of unswerving loyalty, and expresses its conviction that Prussia will make any sacrifice to maintain the army at the strength necessary for the safety of the Fatherland."

Mothers,

do you not see the pallid face, once so bright, growing thinner? Do you not hear the hacking cough, and note the wasted, languid indifference, where once was mirth, brightness, and keen enjoyment for all the pleasures of life? Do not be mistaken or deceived. That child is dying of consumption—slowly, but surely. Yet thousands are living to-day who have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," which surpasses all other medicines for the cure of that disease. Send ten cents for pamphlet and testimonials. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, JANUARY 17, 1887.

THE N. P.

In canvassing the workingmen, and more especially those employed in our factories, we learn that Mr. Cox is representing himself as being in sympathy with protection. We must caution those, whom he is thus attempting to beguile into supporting him, against being deceived by such an artifice.

In the first place we cannot believe that Mr. Cox is sincere. In view of the discordant and contradictory expressions of his views by which in his canvass he is endeavoring to represent himself as in accord with all opinions and all tastes, however opposed to each other, so that he may delude the elector whom he is immediately addressing, it is probable that his assumed liking for protection is but another of these vote-catchings.

But supposing that Mr. Cox were the most enthusiastic protectionist in Canada, would it be safe for those to trust him who wish to see Canadian industries and Canadian workmen preferred to foreigners? In the first place Mr. Cox is so strong a partisan that he would be almost certain to follow his party leaders right or wrong, and those party leaders are almost to a man frankly hostile to the N. P. But even if he were protectionist to the extreme of voting against his leaders in favor of protection, could his vote affect the party policy? It will be remembered how Messrs. Patterson, Charlton and two or three other Reformers obtained their election by means of their loud-mouthed claims to be protectionists. It will also be remembered what influence after their election their views had with their leaders and the rest of the party. They took care not to oppose their friends, and instead of converting them, they came far more near being converted themselves. There were sincere protectionist Reformers, but they took the only effectual means of proving their sincerity and furthering their views by uniting themselves with the Conservative party, with which they were in accord on this momentous question.

If Mr. Cox were really a protectionist his political course has certainly been most dishonest. He has persistently susported the party that has been fiercely assailing the N.P. He has been working zealously against the party that has made it the leading feature of its policy to foster Canadian industries. If he had been honestly in favor of protection would he not have left its enemies and joined himself to its friends, waiving all minor differences in view of this the most important question of the day for the people of Canada.

Mr. Cox's pretence is, however, though unintentionally, a striking evidence of the wisdom of the Conservative policy, of the folly of the Reform policy. Hitherto he has been the faithful follower of those who so bitterly assailed the N.P. as to denounce Canadian manufacturers and those employed by them as robbers and injurious parasites, their advocates as knaves or fools. During the existence of two parliaments he has been a supporter of that side. And now he is forced to own that he and his friends were wrong and that his opponents were right. Or rather, he is obliged to admit that the electors, wiser than he, would be asked in vain to give their votes to an enemy of Canadian industries. Neither, as he will find, can he lure them into marking their ballots for a pretended or lukewarm friend.

Much disgust is expressed at the Globe for having set four spies to watch Sir John Macdonald during his recent visit to Toronto. As might be expected from men of such a character as alone could be induced to undertake such dirty work, they seem, if they could ferret out nothing to report, to have taken in any inventions that they thought would suit their employer. Mr. Langtry, for instance, who was reported as having sent up his card and been denied admittance, says that he never even called at the Queen's.

A ROMANCE OF CRIME.

A Forger Falls Heir to $35,000 While Awaiting His Trial.

At the Criminal Assizes yesterday afternoon an interesting case came up before Chief Justice Cameron. It was that of a young man named William C. Dalziel, a resident of this city, who was called to answer three separate indictments of forging and uttering the name of J. G. Owen, of Streetsville. The first forgery was a check of $80, made on the 22nd of December last, and drawn on the agency of the Central Bank at Brampton. The second and third were for $100 and $120 respectively, made on the 29th of November and drawn on the same bank. In the first case he forged the name of his grandfather, Walter Dalziel, on the back of the check for $80, sent the latter by Owen on the last instalment of a payment on the old man's farm. William got the check from the postoffice, forged his grandfather's name as an indorsation, and went on a holiday. This case went to the jury, who after ten minutes deliberation returned a verdict of guilty. On the advice of his counsel, N. G. Bigelow, the prisoner then withdrew his former plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to the two other indictments.

Dalziel is a young man of about 24 years of age, medium heigh', intelligent, and fairly good looking. He is what might be termed an unfortunately lucky individual, and one who will now have plenty of time to reflect on the truth of the Biblical quotation that "the way of the transgressor is hard." While in jail awaiting his trial information was conveyed to him that he had fallen heir to the tidy sum of $35,000. There is a tinge of romance about the affair and the manner in which he fell into this enviable streak of luck. A few years ago while visiting in Buffalo, he one night came across an old man who had been seized with an epileptic fit, lying on the sidewalk. Young Dalziel took compassion upon the unfortunate old gentleman, called a cab and drove him to his hotel. Here he stayed with him for about two weeks, and nursed him through his weakness and until he recovered from the injuries inflicted by his fall upon the pavement. When Dalziel was obliged to leave the old man assured him that he would remember him for his kindness and attention some day.

The years rolled around, and Dalziel heard nothing of his Buffalo patient until the other day, when he was told that he was now the heir to any amount of the lucre he so much coveted, and was willing to commit a crime to obtain. The old man kept his promise, and displayed his gratitude in a most substantial manner. His name was Kennedy, a Chicago millionaire. William C. Dalziel was formerly a resident of the township of Toronto, near the village of Streetsville, but last fall he and his grandfather sold the farm and moved to Toronto, and took up their residence at Bellevue Place in the west end. In the court room during the trial were the grandfather and the prisoner's aunt and sister. The parting scene when the prisoner was leaving the court room was most affecting. The poor grief-stricken old [illegible] who must be [illegible] eighteenth year, was completely overcome at the sight of the poor boy being led out with the brand of a criminal upon him; and even the hard hearted legal lights round the table, who are accustomed to such scenes, whispered their sympathy for the old man in his sorrow. It will be an aggravating confinement for the wealthy young prisoner, but it is to be hoped that after a few years the prison doors will open to free a better and a wiser man.—Toronto News.

BILL AND CAPTAIN.

A Tale of the Affection Existing Between an Ohio Horse and Dog.

At the Marietta street hose-house in Zanesville, Ohio, writes a correspondent of the Dispatch, until very recently, there was a very powerful gray horse named Bill. He was an old servant, with an exceptional record for speed, endurance and intelligence. His keeper was a first-class "fire-laddie," named Nevitt, now a constable in the same city. Being a lover of animals, Mr. Nevitt also came into possession of a young coach or bird dog (I am not clear as to the breed), which he named Captain, and almost upon sight there sprang up a wonderful attachment between the two animals, which greatly intensified as time wore on. Without a word of instruction, Captain first assumed the duty of jealously guarding Bill night and day. He slept regularly between Bill's legs, but should the latter not seem to take rest enough Captain would run under him in the stall and lie down. Bill would carefully eye his location, and also lie down, never being known to hurt the dog. If any one offered Bill a cracker, a piece of bread or an apple, Captain would storm furiously if he did not get piece for piece with his partner. Should he, however, whine piteously Bill would drop him a piece. But the cutest and most amusing trick they took to, entirely by themselves, was for Captain to go and stand in front of Bill for him to lick his back; then, in turn, Captain would vigorously apply his tongue to Bill's nose, after which the latter would again caress Captain, but this time tenderly taking hold of the skin with his teeth and gently raising it several times. During this latter freak the dog's face was a study. His eyes would roll, his ears thrown back, his lips would quiver, and as he gently swayed his head it was strikingly apparent he was expecting something sudden. All at once Bill would give a sharp nip, throw up his head and put on the most comical mischievous look imaginable, as if conscious that he had done something that was extra smart. And a "smart" experience it was for Captain, who would jump viciously for Bill's nose, growl, snap and bark in the greatest rage, for a moment or so, when he would again stand perfectly still, while Bill once more tenderly applied his tongue to the spot as if conscious he should "kiss the place to make it well." This was gone through two and three times a day—entirely of their own accord, much to the amusement of the fire laddies and many others, including the writer. Captain rode to every fire holding on with his paws to the back of the hose cart, but no coaxing could induce him to ride home—then he would run with the air of a champion, as though impressed that he had performed a laudable act. At a fire he always mounted the hose cart seat and sat sentry till the boys returned. But should it be very cold, or rain or snow, he would lie the whole time of the fire on Bill's broad back—at which Bill never rebelled. On two occasions he was given a bone in the street, the gong was struck, and Captain dropped his rich morsel like a hot potato to report "on duty" with a vigorous bark. Whenever the gong struck and he was in the house, he made a dive for Bill's stall, and would bark and nip at the shafts of the cart. The horse and dog are still living, but unfortunately parted and out of the department, while Mr. Nevitt and scores of others might be named who could bear testimony to the facts given.—Pittsburg Despatch.

A RUSSO-FRENCH ALLIANCE

Thwarted by a Master Move on the Part of Bismarck.

PESTH, Jan. 15.—The Pesther Lloyd, in an article, supposed to have been inspired, says a Russo-French alliance was recently on the point of conclusion, when Prince Bismarck, with a quick and clever move, thwarted the design, since which time he has been occupied in mediating between Russia and Austria. The Pesther Lloyd continues: "Whatever he may have said we know for certain that in case things are pushed to extremes, Austria is as sure of Germany's assistance as Germany in case of need would be of Austria's help."

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The Temps protests against the idea that the defensive preparations of France are being made with a view to an aggressive movement. The Liberte doubts whether Prince Bismarck will gain anything by dissolving the Reichstag. It says the vote on the army bill shows that the German people have an ardent desire for real peace, and are sick of the excessive military demands of Prussia.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Prof. Laband, the well known Liberal juris-consult, supports Prince Bismarck's contention that the Emperor is empowered to fix the peace effective of the army.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a specialty. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces, natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

THE SCIENCE OF SLEEP.

The Sense that First Loses Consciousness in Slumber.

Each successive gradation in sleep is marked by the inclusion of the nervous system which is for the time being shut off, so to speak from participating in the general life function of the individual until, when the maximum intensity is attained, nothing is left but the purely animal—one might almost say the vegetative—life. Sleep of this degree of intensity, although a perfectly normal process, is not, in health, of long duration. After the lapse of a variable space of time, the systems one by one resume their functions, until finally the sum of perceptions brings about the condition of awakening. The brain shares in the need, which is everywhere apparent, of periods of rest.

The products of cerebral activity accumulate more rapidly than they are eliminated, and a period therefore arrives when the tissues are no longer able to do their work. The result is an invincible feeling of indisposition to exertion, physical or mental. The temporary and involuntary cessation of activity is at once followed by a diminution of the blood supply; the anæmia so induced being, therefore, a consequence, and not a cause of the state of repose.

The various parts of the nervous system are not all involved simultaneously or to the same extent. The centres governing voluntary movement are the first to be affected, as seen in the nodding of the head and the closure of the eyelids, and the body if not prevented, tends to assume the position of repose determined by the laws of gravity. The special senses soon follow, but here again they are not abrogated en masse. Sight is the first to go, the stimulus no longer reaching that portion of the cerebrum where it can give rise to a definite sensation, even where the closure of the lids has not shut off external stimuli altogether.

Hearing and smell are remarkably persistent, and, except in the deepest sleep, may be said to be only dulled and not extinguished. Everyone is familiar with the ease with which sleep is put an end to by unaccustomed noise even of slight intensity or, better still, by the cessation of any monotonous sound, as, for instance, the awakening of travellers by rail or steamboat on any stoppages of the train or machinery. Instances are on record, too, were the inhabitants of a house have been roused simply by the smell of tobacco, indulged in by inexperienced or incautious burglars.

The persistent sensibility of these senses may, to some extent, be accounted for by the fact that they are not shut off from communication with the outside world as are, for example, the eyes. To allow sleep, or at any rate quiet sleep, a certain harmony must exist in the condition of all the organs which must, so to speak, be turned to the sleep tone. If one organ be in a state of activity, or, on the other hand, its condition be abnormal in some other way, the sensorium will not participate in quiet.

This is famously true in the case of cerebral activity, or cold feet at bed time, both being inimical to sleep. Inasmuch, therefore, as insomia may result from either set of causes, we can either employ drugs, such as opium, which acts directly on the nerve centres and so bring about sleep, or we may resort to medicines like hyphone, which has said to favor sleep rather than induce it by allaying the irritable or hyperæsthetic conditions of certain organs or parts.—British Medical Journal.

NEWS NOTES.

The conference of Gladstone and Liberal-Unionists has been postponed until Parliament meets.

Egypt, in response to the request of Mr. Henry M. Stanley, has sent one hundred trustworthy blacks to take part in the expedition for the relief of Emin Bey.

The proclamation bringing the North-West Representation Act into force, which was prematurely issued last Tuesday, is published in Saturday's Canada Gazette.

The traffic receipts of the Grand Trunk Railway for the week ending January 8th were $282,109, an increase of $37,867 compared with the corresponding week last year.

The sheriff has seized $10,000 worth of debentures of Rapid City, Man., which were about being handed over to the Saskatchewan and Western Railway, in the interest of two creditors of the town.

The snowstorm which set in on Thursday evening was general throughout the Dominion, seriously delaying and in some places entirely stopping railway traffic and rendering the country roads impassable.

An Order-in-Council is published in Saturday's Canada Gazette reserving from sale and settlement certain lands belonging to the Dominion Government in the neighborhood of the harbour at Port Moody, B. C.

The annual report of the Harbour Master of Toronto has been published. It shows that the business of the past year has been very good, and that the receipts were largely in excess of the previous year.

Dun, Wiman & Co. report a total of 323 failures throughout the country for the past week, as compared with 299 for the week previous. Twenty-nine of the number were in Canada, one more than the preceding week.

A Tramps Bill of Fare.

"Have you got a morning paper, ma'am?" It was a tramp who addressed the lady of the house.

"Yes," she replied. "Do you wish to see it?"

"I would be thankful if you would permit me to look over the weather predictions."

"Certainly. Being so much exposed you are doubtless always interested in the state of the weather."

"It isn't so much the exposure, ma'am, as solicitude for the condition of the inner man. You see, times are so hard that I am obliged to live on air most of the time, so it's natural that I should wish to consult the weather. It's my bill of air, you know."—Boston Courier.

Manitoba Contested Elections.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 15.—The Manitoba Opposition have determined to file election petitions in Souris, West Boandon, East Minnedosa, Carillon, North Dufferin, Springfield, Cartier, Russell, North Winnipeg and Emerson. It is just possible that petitions may be filed in other constituencies. It is understood that the Government are taking steps to petition against the return of Opposition members, including Mr. Martin in Morris, Mr. Luxton, in South Winnipeg, Mr. Thompson, in Cypress and Mr. Kenneth McKenzie, in Lakeside.

VAGRANCY.

MONDAY, Jan. 17.—An old man thinly clad climbed up the stairs to the court room with great difficulty a few minutes after ten o'clock. He sank on the nearest seat, completely exhausted, and laid his snowy head on his hands. For a few minutes he was unable to speak. When he regained his voice he said, in reply to inquiries from the Court, that he came from thirty miles above Cookstown and came here to look for his son, James Keeves. He was born in 1819, and was in Peterborough in 1849. He was sent to gaol for one month on a charge of vagrancy. He was so weak that a conveyance had to be got to take him to the gaol.

A LICENSE QUESTION.

Mr. Beavis charged Mr. Moore with having sold goods without having a transient trades license, the defendant not being a taxpayer of Peterborough. It was proved that A. Assur rented the store and was proprietor of the business. Mr. Moore being an agent. It was also proved that Mr. Carton had purchased the stock in trade, and was now carrying on the business. The case was dismissed.

COURT OF REVISION.

Councillor MOORE read the report of the Court of Revision as follows:—

The Court of Revision was held on January 14th. Present: Councillors Moore, Menzies and Davidson.

John Newton—Taxes to be remitted, except school tax.

Mrs. Mary Millar—Upon taking usual statutory declaration affirming her petition the sum paid by her for dog tax for 1885 to be refunded.

Henry Edmindson—Cannot interfere as he possessed the dogs at the time of assessment.

A. Morton—On taking declaration $1.00 to be remitted for dog.

J. H. Baily—Statute labor tax to be remitted.

Edward Duff—For Barnardo Home, taxes to be remitted.

T. Ratcliffe—To be remitted less school tax.

Thos. Kent—Cannot interfere.

Margaret Bird—To be remitted less school tax.

Mary Richie—To be remitted less school tax.

Frank Smith—Half tax to be remitted provided the landlord is not the person by whom by agreement between him and the tenant the tax is to be paid.

G. F. WARDE,—That cheque issued to Mr. Warde for taxes for assessment on $300 for 6 months and on $500 for 6 months if always paid, if already paid; if not paid the same to be remitted. We do not interfere with the matter of 5 per cent. additions for non-payment before Dec. 1st.

Elias Burnham, Rev. P. Conway, Peter Hamilton, A. E. Dixon, Michael Bolton,—In these cases the court considers that it is not by law now permitted to interfere, that it is not in any case allowed to remit the school rate.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

W. H. MOORE,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

AUDITORS.

Messrs. James Stratton and Jas. J. Hall were appointed auditors for the ensuing year. A by-law confirming their appointment was passed.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

Councillor MCNEIL moved, seconded by Councillor STENSON,—That Mr. Jas. Stevenson be appointed to the position of High School Trustee, to fill one of the two present vacancies.

Councillor MOORE moved, seconded by Councillor DOUGLASS,—That Mr. J. D. Collins be appointed.

Councillor DAVIDSON moved in amendment, seconded by Councillor KELLY,—That Messrs. James Stevenson and J. E. Stratton be appointed.

Councillor MOORE moved, seconded by Councillor DOUGLASS,—That the names be taken up separately.

The motion was lost, Councillors McNeil, Stenson, Moore and Douglass alone voting for it.

The amendment was put and carried on the following vote:—

YEAS.—Councillors Cahill, Davidson, McNaughton, Kelly, Stenson, Yelland, Menzies and Hartley.

NAYS.—Councillors McNeil, Moore, Douglass and Kendry.

Councillor MCNEIL moved to have Mr. Beavis procure locks for the Council Chamber desks; and also that he clean out the inkstands and fill them with fresher ink.—Carried.

A committee was appointed to draft the Standing Committees for 1887.

The Council adjourned till to-night.

A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

One Hundred Thousand Pounds of Giant Powder Ignited.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—The schooner Parallel, which sailed from this port for Astoria, Oregon, on Friday, was compelled to return owing to strong head winds. She reached the entrance to the Golden Gate yesterday evening. The wind had died out, and being caught by a strong tide the vessel was swept ashore at the southern end of Point Labos, inside the famous Seal rocks and opposite the Cliff house. The life station is near by, and the crews were promptly notified, and hastened to the scene of the wreck. The captain and all hands aboard the schooner had taken to the boats, but as it was impossible for them to make a landing in the heavy surf running, they stood away for the entrance to the harbor. After being abandoned the vessel drifted in a southerly direction and into a small cove, where she pounded against the rocks, and at midnight was rapidly breaking up. It was known that the vessel had a large quantity of giant powder on board, but no danger was apprehended. The men from the life-saving station, seeing that nothing could be done, and knowing that the schooner had been abandoned by the officers and crew, withdrew from the scene. They had hardly reached the station building when a fearful explosion occurred scattering destruction on all sides. The schooner breaking against the rocks had caused the powder to ignite, and the entire quantity on board, nearly 100,000 pounds, had exploded. To those living in the neighbourhood the effect was frightful. The signal station was completely demolished, the life saving station was wrecked, and the west side of the Cliff house, notwithstanding its elevation, was blown out and every window pane in the building was broken. The large concert room on the beach, and other buildings lower down all had their windows broken and were otherwise more or less damaged. The long carriage shed adjoining the Cliff house was tumbled into a mass of ruins. Adolphe Sutro's conservatory on the heights above was shattered to atoms and all the windows in his house were broken. Three members of the life-saving crew who had built a fire on the beach and had decided to remain near the wreck were hurled into the air by the concussion and were severely injured by being dashed to the earth. The remaining members of the crew, who had returned to the station, rushed to the rescue of their injured companions. They carried them to the station, where everything possible was done to relieve their sufferings.

"MY LIFE IS WRECKED."

Ex-Convict Davis Tells a Terrible Tale of Suffering.

"My life is wrecked and I am a broken down man," was the summary of a tale of suffering told to a Journal reporter last night by Herman Davis, a late inmate of Sing Sing prison. If his story be true the keepers must be brutes in human form and the prison a den of torture rivaling the Bastile or the French galleys.

Davis was sentenced in June, 1881, to five years' imprisonment for refusing to marry a woman in Troy, where he was a travelling salesman at that time for Weraberg & Clara furriers. For good behavior his sentence was commuted to three years and seven months, and he was released last week.

"I would sooner marry any woman or fifty if necessary," said he "than serve another month in this awful place and submit to the cruel treatment of the keepers. I am 26 years old and went in there a healthy man. I am now a wreck, broken down physically and mentally."

Davis said that the day after he arrived at the prison he was put to work in the stove shop at the emery wheel. The task was hard, but he did his best without complaining till he became sick from overwork. His friends used to send him money and delicacies from Troy, but he was obliged to give part of them to his strong fellow workmen, so that they would help him complete his task, for he was told a score of times by head-keeper Connaughton, he avers, that there was no such word as "can't," that he must do his work or die.

"Look there," said Davis, exhibiting a scar on his left hand near the wrist. "That is from being 'hung up.' It is an awful torture which no man can stand longer than ten minutes. I had been working in the foundry and was sick and unable to complete my task. I was dragged out, handcuffed and my hands tied up above my head till my feet cleared the floor. I think I was up six minutes. When released I fell in a heap on the floor. Connaughton beat me on the legs with a stick and drove me out of the room."

At that time Davis said he was subject to hemorrhages. It generally took a month to see Warden Brush, he said, after an application had been made. Once after a ticket admitting to the hospital had been given him, a keeper named Eslich, who is known as "bulldozer," snatched it from him, adding back to the doctor said: "He a man is not sick."

"If you talk back to the doctor," said Davis, "you are made to face the wall for a long time, and then they drive you out to work. Because I couldn't learn the 'lock-step' quick enough to suit the keeper, I was unmercifully clubbed, kept in on Sunday and deprived of my regular tobacco. The foremen run everything their own way, and some are perfect brutes."

For two years Davis said he was sick, and though really unfit for work was forced to do it. The meat, he says, is as a rule bad smelling and unfit to eat, the bedclothes and mattresses fairly alive with vermin; stockings are only given them once in four months, and a small piece of soap twice a month.

When discharged Davis was given $5.25, the regular allowance, and an old, dirty suit of clothes and a hat that a tramp would be ashamed to wear. When he refused to put them on the keepers threatened to drive him out without any clothing.—New York Journal.

CONFLAGRATION IN BUCHAREST.

LONDON, Jan 16.—A despatch from Bucharest says the Sidoli Circus is in flames, and it is feared the conflagration will spread.

STEAMERS ON THE ROCKS.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Dublin packet Banshee, with 300 persons on board, ran on the rocks at Holyhead. There was great alarm among those on the vessel, but she floated off after being aground for three hours. The steamer Eleanor, while trying to render assistance to the Banshee, also ran on the rocks, where she remains fast. There was a heavy fog at the time the accident occurred.

SCENES IN THE REICHSTAG.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Among the closing scenes of the Reichstag was an amusing incident. During the answering of the roll call of voters laughter was evoked by Gen. Von Moltke's replying with an emphatic "ja," having mistaken the question. The teller instantly corrected the error. Herr Homo shouted "Nein!" Gen Von Moltke, after a moment of confusion, bowed acceptance of the correction. The instant that the President finished reading the result of the division, Prince Bismarck arose and read with rapid yet distinct utterance the brief decree dissolving the Reichstag. He added no words of his own. He closed the writing case, enfolding the document with a sharp emphasis, and abruptly strode from the chamber to his carriage, driving off without speaking to anyone.

A Girl Captain.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 15.—The schooner Maggie Dalling, a small craft sailing in the interests of the Alaska Commercial Company and hunting seals near the Petaloff Islands, went ashore in Behring Sea on the night of the 10th. She was commanded by Calm McDonald, the pretty 18-year old daughter of a former Captain, who died about six months ago and had a crew of two men. One of the men was washed overboard before the schooner struck, and the remaining sailor, after a hard struggle, managed to reach land. In the morning a relief party put out for the wreck to find the form of Calm McDonald hanging over the wheel, where she had been crushed to death by a falling spar.

MR. GLADSTONE'S HEALTH.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Alarming rumors were circulated this afternoon concerning Mr. Gladstone's condition, but they proved to be unfounded. Mr. Gladstone was slightly indisposed for a few days from the effects of a cold, but he has fully recovered his health and is looking remarkably well. Notwithstanding the frosty weather he walked through Hawarden park to the church this morning.

REFORM ELECTIONEERING.

THE Stratford Beacon thinks there is no evidence to connect leading Reformers with the other Reformers who endeavored to bribe Conservatives to support a Conservative candidate, arrangements being made to have them sworn. Perhaps not, but the trial has not taken place yet. One thing is certain, that an employee of the Stratford Beacon was one of the scrutineers who was sent down to Listowell to swear these voters, having been sent for by Mr. Maybee, the Reform lawyer whose name was on the note by which the funds were obtained from Mr. Scott, the Reform banker and President of the Reform Association. The Stratford Beacon employee swore that a marked list was given to him to guide him in swearing, but it was taken from him and his instructions countermanded at the polling booth. The Conservatives had then published offers of a reward for the detection of the criminals.

A SHREWD OFFICER.

What Detective McCarthy Unearthed in Waterloo County.

Detective McCarthy, of the Grand Trunk Railway, has recently succeeded in tracing up and recovering a quantity of goods stolen from the company in a manner that reflects considerable credit upon his shrewdness and ability as an officer. About two months since a case of gloves and two cases containing boots and shoes were stolen from the G. T. R. freight shed at Berlin, and finally Detective McCarthy undertook to trace the missing property. He visited the village of Breslau on Tuesday last, and while in that place observed a stranger, upon glancing at whom he observed that the fellow wore a pair of gloves answering the description of those stolen. He accosted the man, and learned that the gloves had been obtained from one Homyre, whose premises he proceeded to search. The investigation was a most thorough one and finally had his patience rewarded. In the woodshed was piled up some three cords of wood, which he removed, and buried beneath this he discovered some gloves and a portion of the boots and shoes. Homyre was arrested, and taken back to Berlin, after which the officer, acting upon information obtained by him, proceeded to take into custody a section man named Dillon. In the tool house used by that worthy he found several blocks of wood, and, as the ground beneath presented the appearance of having been recently disturbed, he proceeded to dig into it, and found a barrel filled with gloves. But this was not the only good luck he met with, for he brought to light in the cellar of one Ferdinand Scholling a quantity of gloves and a hat which had been stolen from the G.T.R. cars at Breslau, and he also recovered from several other parties gloves that had been purchased from the thieves. Homyre and Dillon were remanded until to-morrow for examination by the Magistrate, and Scholling was held as a witness. The recovery of the goods and the arrest of the men in such a prompt and satisfactory manner beats testimony to the efficiency of Detective McCarthy. — London Free Press.

Four Men Roasted Alive.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 17.—At 2.15 a.m. today as a special freight train of nineteen cars loaded with cotton was pulling into Paducah, Ky., one of the cars was discovered to be on fire. It was the fifteenth car back from the engine, and had been taken on, locked, at Memphis. The engineer backed the train on to a side track, and the crew endeavoured to extinguish the flames. All they succeeded in doing, however, was to prevent the fire from spreading to the other cars. While removing the debris of the burned car four dead bodies charred beyond recognition were discovered. They were supposed to have been tramps, whether white or black it is impossible to say. The men must have entered to their horrible fate through a window in the end, which could have been opened from the outside.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

A SIGNIFICANT SPEECH.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 17.—On the occasion of the Russian new year Gen. Gourko, Governor of Moscow, in addressing his officers, assured them that the country would, during the present year, cease to exhaust its strength in a bloodless struggle. It would conquer its enemy with the sword.

TO IGNORE THE JUBILEE.

LONDON, Jan 17.—At a meeting at Oldham to-day, the Mayor presiding, a motion to ignore the Queen's jubilee was carried, whereupon the Mayor said that there were enough present in favor of a celebration to warrant his going on with the preparations for the event. A great uproar ensued, the Mayor being roundly hissed and hooted.

LOST INTEREST.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Vienna correspondent of the Telegraph says the whole Bulgarian question has lost much of its interest now that the chances of its being the direct cause of war have diminished. Nobody here in a position to form a correct opinion will admit the possibility of an Austro-Russian war in connection with Bulgaria nor indeed in competent quarters will they allow that any other subject of irreconcilable difference exists between the two countries. Austria was differently disposed when she had reason to count upon the support of Germany. Russian military preparations continue.

BELGIAN MOBILIZATION.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 17.—The Belgian Government has ordered the military department to try the experiment of a general mobilization of the army instead of the usual manœuvres this year.

THREATENED OUTBREAK.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 17. — Reinforcements have been sent to Crete, an outbreak against Turkish authorities being feared.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Lord Salisbury has sent circulars to the Conservative peers expressing the hope that all will be present on the occasion of the opening of Parliament, as important business will immediately be laid before the House of Lords.

SNOWSTORMS IN SCOTLAND.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Heavy snowstorms prevailed over the western portion of Scotland. In some places the storms are so violent that outdoor labor is suspended.

MR. GLADSTONE.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Although this was one of the coldest days of the winter, Mr. Gladstone this morning walked from Hawarden house to the village to attend early prayer.

GENEROUS MINERS.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Pontypool miners have decided to allow the masters $7,500 to enable them to re-open their works and employ men.

THE ARMY BILL.

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—Emperor William, receiving the President of the Prussian Landtag to-day, referred to the dissolution of the Reichstag and the rejection of the Army Bill. "The rejection of this measure, so important for the preservation of peace to Germany," the Emperor said, "has deeply saddened me. After so many happy days have been vouchsafed to me in my old age, especially after completing 80 years of service in the army, the rejection of the Bill impressed me deeply and most painfully. It is impossible, from a military point of view, to regard the three years' term proposed by the majority of the Reichstag as sufficient. I hope the Bill will be passed in the near future."

FRENCH FISHERY QUESTION.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—In the senate to-day Admiral Veron complained of the attacks made upon the rights of French fishermen in Newfoundland waters, and he instanced the case of a St. Malo vessel which had been forbidden to fish. M. Flourens, Minister of Foreign affairs, replied that the case of the St. Malo vessel was not the subject of enquiry, that the Government intended to enforce respect for existing treaties, and had sent the necessary orders to the commanders of the French naval station.

FRENCH SECRET SERVICE.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day, President Goblet spoke in support of the secret service fund. He opposed the creation of a committee to have control over the fund and demand a vote of confidence. An amendment to reduce the secret service fund one appoint a Committee of Control over it was rejected by a vote of 378 to 220. The credit was then adopted.

THE RENT AGITATION.

DUBLIN, Jan. 17.—The rent agitation has reached serious proportions. In Limerick the sheriffs dread to take part in evictions owing to the menaces of the tenants. The latter are removing their stock and other belongings in order to prevent their seizure. There were 200 farmers engaged in this work on Saturday near Murroe. Magistrate Bennett sentenced a man to two months at hard labour for assaulting a police-man on eviction. The man appealed, and the judge changed the sentence to a small fine. Bennett is now strictly boycotted and cannot sell his cattle. Two process servers were roughly handled at Clommel to-day.

IDDESLEIGH AND CHURCHILL.

LONDON, Jan. 17.— Rev. Walter Stafford Northcote, son of the late Earl Iddesleigh, in an interview to-day, denied that his father had had any quarrel with Lord Randolph Churchill, and declared no animosity existed between them. Mr. Northcote confirmed the statement that the Earl of Iddesleigh had acted as peacemaker between Lords Churchill and Salisbury, and said that but for the intervention of his father Lord Randolph would not have remained in the Cabinet as long as he did Mr. Northcot said he had received a very kind letter of condolence from Lord Churchill.

MUST BE READY.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Several Germans in England have received telegrams from the German Consulat in Londone requesting them to be ready to return to Germany at twenty-five hours' notice and report for duty.

PRUSSIA AND THE VATICAN.

ROME, Jan. 17.—Baron von Schloezer, the Prussian representative at the Vaticau, received despatches from the Prussian Government expressing the desire for a prompt agreement with the Vatican on religious questions at issue, and intimating Prussia's readiness to make important decisions in order to secure an agreement.

AUSTRIA'S WAR PREPARATIONS.

VIENNA, Jan., 17—The Government continues to hasten its preparations for war. Orders have been issued instructing the Red Cross Society to raise the staffs of the hospitals under its management, to their full strength and to quadruple the number of beds in these institutions. Large contracts have been made for provisions deliverable to the War Department in March. The railway officials, who were recently summoned to Vienna to consult with the Government respecting the transportation of the troops in event of a mobilization of the army have just reported that the preparations then decided on have been completed.

A FARMER SHOT.

DUBLIN, Jan. 17.—A tenant named Keown, who had paid his rent, was shot and severely wounded last night in County Kerry.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS.

MARSEILLES, Jan. 17. —Earthquake shocks were felt to-day at Montpellier and several other towns in the south of France.

THE FISHERIES DISPUTE.

Retaliatory Legislation Introduced in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Mr. Belmont introduced in the House to-day a bill to protect American vessels against unwarrantable and unlawful discriminations in the ports of British North America. The following is the text of the bill:—

"That hereafter, whenever the President shall be satisfied that vessels of the United States are denied in ports of the British Provinces in North America bordering on the Atlantic Ocean, or in waters adjacent to said Provinces, rights to which such vessels are entitled by treaty or by the law of nations, he may by proclamation prohibit vessels being the British flag and coming from such ports from entering the ports of the United States, or from exercising such privileges therein as he may in his proclamation define. And if on and after the date at which such proclamation takes effect, the master or any person in charge of any such vessels shall do, in the ports, harbors or waters of the United States, for or on account of such vessel, any act forbidden by such proclamation aforesaid, such vessel and its rigging, tackle, furniture, boats and all the goods on board shall be liable to seizure and forfeiture to the United States, and any person or persons preventing or attempting to prevent, or aiding any other person in preventing or attempting to prevent, any officer of the United States from enforcing this Act, shall forfeit and pay to the United States one thousand dollars and shall be guilty of a misdemeanour, and upon conviction thereof shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

"Section 2.—That the President may also by such proclamation forbid the entrance into the United States of all merchandise coming by land from the Provinces of British North America, and may also forbid entrance into the United States of the cars, locomotives or other rolling stock of any railway company chartered under the laws of the said Provinces, and upon proof that the privileges secured by article twenty-nine of the treaty concluded between the United States and Great Britain on the eighth day of May, 1871, are denied as to goods, wares and merchandise arriving at the ports of British North America, the President may also by proclamation forbid the exercise of the like privileges as to goods, wares and merchandise arriving in any of the ports of the United States. And any person violating or attempting to violate the provisions of any proclamation issued under this section shall forfeit and pay to the United States the sum of one thousand dollars, and shall be guilty of a misdemeanour, and upon conviction thereof shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

"Section 3.—That whenever after the issuance of a proclamation under this Act the President is satisfied that the denial of rights and privileges, on which his proclamation was based, no longer exists, he may withdraw the proclamation or so much thereof as he may deem proper, and re-issue the same thereafter when in his judgment the same shall be necessary."

A Big Wolf Hunt.

TUSCOLA, Ill., Jan. 17.—On Wednesday next one of the biggest wolf "drives" got up in this section for many years will be held. The extent of territory to be surrounded includes the whole of Sargeant township, where 50 or 60 wolves have been ravaging the sheep herds. The object is to exterminate the whole pack. One thousand five hundred people will take part in the chase.

THEIR POLITICAL HONESTY.

During the late campaign the Globe wildly appealed to its followers to use violence towards Conservative canvassers, suspected of being boodlers. They were to be "fired out, or thrown into jail." Now it has come to pass that two Grit boodlers are under arrest for bare faced bribery, and the Globe suppresses all intelligence of the case. This is a sample of the consistancy and political honesty of the Deacon.—Toronto World (Indep.)

There is probably no root more poorly adapted to making good milk or butter than potatoes. Cows should be fed only sparingly with a good ration of corn meal, or the milk will be thin and the butter of poor quality.

It is one advantage of turnips that they are a crop not damaged but rather benefitted by slight freezing of the ground. Of course they should not be handled when frozen, but in a day or two after they will have a finer flavor that before.

Some persons have the habit of throwing down corn every time they visit the barnyard, or desire to call up the fowl. The result will be that they will soon learn to expect such good treatment, and will not scratch and keep themselves in exercise. Too much feed is injurious, making the birds too fat, and incapable of laying. Feed only at regular periods.

Mothers,

do you not see the pallid face, once so bright, growing thinner? Do you not hear the hacking cough, and note the wasted, languid indifference, where once was mirth, brightness, and keen enjoyment. Is all the pleasures of life? Do not be mistaken or deceived. That child is dying of consumption—slowly, but surely. Yet thousands are living to-day who have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," which surpasses all other medicines for the cure of that disease. THE PUBLIC DEBT.

Vigorous efforts are being made by the friends of Mr. Blake to scare the people of Canada into believing that we have a fearfully onerous public debt and that it has been increased at a terrific rate under the Macdonald Administration. By the grossest exaggeration and misrepresentation they not only endeavor to terrify Canadians, but they even go to the unpatriotic length of attacking our credit in the eyes of the civilized world by falsely representing our country as on the verge of bankruptcy.

Their favorite method of exaggerating the amount of our indebtedness is to state the gross debt without making any allowance for the cash assets. They actually treat money in bank, sinking fund, and interest bearing investments as if they were non existent, though they amount to $23,000,000.

We will briefly state the facts. In 1885, the last year for which the complete statistics are accessible, the net public debt of Canada was $196,371,785. Our indebtedness per head was $41.82. The real measure of the burden, however, is the interest required from us yearly, and this amounted to $1.59 per head of our population. And yet we are told, and the whole world is told by these enemies of their country in order to frighten settlers or capital from coming to Canada, that we are being crushed into the earth by this yearly payment of $1.59 each.

If we are being crushed by such a fearful burden, how do the other subjects of Queen Victoria exist? In the United Kingdom the public indebtedness per head is considerably more than double our own; in the South African colonies it is a little more than double, and in the Australasian colonies it is very nearly five times as great.

An important consideration is the manner in which this indebtedness has been incurred. In the first place a large portion of it was not incurred at all by Canada as a Dominion, but was spent or is being spent by the Provinces, including Ontario. The Dominion has assumed and allowed to the Provinces an indebtedness of no less than $108,811,392. Since Confederation we have spent on canals, railways, light-houses, and other public works and buildings, and on the acquisition of Manitoba and the Territories no less than $148,000,000, so that we have spent in this way many millions out of revenue in addition to the indebtedness incurred. Our canals and railways alone are more extensive and valuable in proportion to our population than those of any other country in the world. And yet we are held up to the eyes of the universe by recreant Canadians as verging on bankruptcy.

The actual increase of debt in 1885 since Confederation was $120,679,031, or an average yearly increase of $6,704,392. Of this amount no less than a quarter was due to the assumption of Provincial debt and the payment of the Hudson Bay Company's claim on the Northwest. What reasonable man could maintain that the remainder has not been well and profitably invested in our valuable public improvements—that we have not good value for our money?

Having made the position of our country look as black as possible by their misrepresentations, these internal enemies of Canada proceed to bring false charges against the Macdonald Administration of having culpably increased the burden of our indebtedness. A few figures from the public records will show this assertion to be as unfounded as the others.

In 1873, when Mr. Blake and his colleagues obtained office, the net public debt amounted to $99,848,462. In 1878, the last year of the Reform Administration, it was $140,362,-603. Thus in the five years of mismanagement by the Reformers the increase in our indebtedness was $40,513,607, or an average of $8,102,721 a year. In 1885 the debt was $196,407,692, an increase in seven years of $56,045,089, or an average yearly increase of $8,006,518. During the previous Macdonald Administration the increase was from $75,728,641 to $99,848,462, being for the six years $24,119,821, or a yearly average of $4,019,970. In the thirteen years of the two Conservative Administrations the average increase was consequently $6,166,573. Thus we see that the yearly rate of increase under R-form management was $4,082,751 greater than under the first Macdonald Administration, $1,936,148 greater than under the two Conservative Governments combined, and $36,243 greater than under the present Administration. It must be remembered, too, that under the Conservatives a far larger amount than the increase of the debt was expended on permanent improvements and the assumption of Provincial debts, the difference being provided out of revenue, while under Sir Richard Cartwright's financing Mr. Blake and his colleagues applied part of their new loans to meet ordinary current expenditure. Yet these hypocrits talk of an excessive increase of debt by the Conservatives.

As we said before the real measure of the burden is the interest to be paid. When the Reformers were in office the yearly interest required per head was $1.58. Owing to the statesmanlike management of the present Administration and the consequent beneficial effect upon our credit, the yearly interest paid in 1885, notwithstanding the increased debt, was only $1.59. There was actually an increase of ONE CENT a year per head. And this one cent a year is crushing and grinding to destruction every unfortunate Canadian, according to the Reform orators and journalists.

An overwhelming majority of the people of Canada would gladly pay not only this one cent, but a hundred times as much, rather than exchange the statesmen who have given us our National Policy, and our great national highway, for the incompetent self-styled "flies on the wheel" who could only favor foreign manufacturers and trust to foreign railways for access to our own territories.

A FRENCH SCANDAL.

A Natural Child of the late Prince Imperial in Existence.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—For some time back Paris has been gathering interest in vague stories that a natural child of the Prince Imperial was about to be produced. Gradually these have taken form, till now their complete publication is only a matter of a day or two. The story is given so much credibility that the Empress Eugenie has telegraphed from the Duc de Mouchy to make strict enquiries. What gives weight to it is the fact that no money is demanded or apparently desired and the effort is continuous to hide the child. The mother is a schoolmistress in Australia. Her documents are in the care of Mr Reynolds, an English solicitor here, and consist of two letters and two telegrams, the former unmistakably in the Prince's handwriting, but they refer only to trifling questions and appointments. The child, which was at Bercy, is or was a few days ago at the Chateau de Sans Souci, Bellevue—where, there is reason to believe, important interviews are going to take place. The boy is said to be the image of his reputed sire, and there are sundry strong influences in shadow behind him. The story gets a good deal of credence.

Dr. Chalmers Baffled.

When Dr. Chalmers became minister of Kilmany, in the north of Fife, he used to get his supplies from Anstruther. On one occasion—so the story runs—he sent a written order for a sack of corn to a Mr. Thompson there. The corn never came, and Chalmers was much annoyed. Next time he was in Anstruther he called on Mr. Thompson for an explanation. It was given. The merchant had been unable to decipher the ministers hieroglyphics and had put the note in his desk until Mr. Chalmers should call. "Not make out my writing!" exclaimed Chalmers indignantly—"Show it to me." He read a few words, but then he stuck, completely baffled. He was, however, equal to the occasion. With a pawky smile he returned the letter to the merchant, saying "But the letter is addressed to you, Mr. Thompson; it is your business to read it, not mine."

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

OUR REFORMERS ALSO.

Viscount Cross, Home Secretary in the British Cabinet, speaking in the heart of the cotton manufacturing district of England, tells his hearers that Russia is wresting the trade of Asia from them. Now Russia has next door to no natural facilities for cotton manufacturing. She has, however, so well nursed such facilities as she and made such honest goods that she has become somewhat more than a rival to England in Asia. It is curious that, while every great nation of Continental Europe is nursing its manufacturing resources and facilities by protective growing independence of England, a school of American politicians should be so urgent in insistence upon abolition of our protective tariff. It is the quintessence of Anglomania.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

THE REFORM CREED.

Eight years of steady discussion of the theory of free trade versus protection, with so admirable an illustration of the working of the latter as we have under our eyes in these provinces, has done much to clear the minds and strengthen the faith of the Liberals of those provinces in free trade, or what is the nearest practical approach to it, a tariff for revenue only. We know now that protection to all countries, and under all circumstances, cannot be anything else than evil, and that to a country so circumstanced as Canada, an evil of enormous magnitude. There would be no weakness in the Liberal party toward the 'encouragement of new industeries.' The 'home industry' that cannot stand on its own legs, but can only live by getting an Act of Parliament to enable it to levy forced contributions from its neighbours, has no right to exist at all.—Halifax Chronicle (Reform.)

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

AUDITORS' REPORT.

To the Directors of the Little Lake Cemetery Company:

GENTLEMEN,—We beg leave to state that we have examined the books, vouchers and accounts of your Treasurer, submitted to us, and also debenture of the Town of Peterborough for $2,000, now in your Treasurer's possession, and find the same correct.

The statement of receipts and expenditures, as taken from his books, we also find correct.

The weekly statements of your Superintendent and Caretaker have been carefully checked with your Treasurer's books and found correct.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN J. HALL,
JAS. A. HALL,
Auditors.

Peterborough, 13th January, 1887.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

The Directors' report was read as follows:—

To the Members of the Little Lake Cemetery Company:

Your Directors beg to present the following report for the year 1886:—

As will appear by the Treasurer's balance sheet the receipts for the year from ordinary sources have been about the same as for the preceding year, while the expenditure has been somewhat less. But during the preceding year a debenture for $1,000 was converted into cash, thus swelling the receipts for that year.

The sale of lots and graves with the improvements thereon amounted to $1,519.00, vault fees, $17.25 and money received for labor in different ways $958 30. Making the total receipts from these sources $2,494.55, as against $2,553.57 last year. There is still due for sale of lots $350, and for work $120. The interest received, $115.90, brings the total receipts up to $3,057.44.

The expenditure includes the large amount of $1,802 22 on account of the new grounds and the ordinary expenditure $1778.83 in all $3,670.95, showing a small balance of $3 51 overdrawn. Against this, however, are the amounts still due for lots sold and work done, $478 leaving a substantial margin in favor of the company, and all of which would have been collected but for the fact that the work was kept up so late this fall and the superintendent was subsequently unable, owing to the severe family affliction with which he was visited, to attend to the collections.

The work done on the new grounds during the year shows to good advantage. The building of the new fence, the removal of the old fence, the levelling of the ground, the draining that has been done have involved a considerable expenditure of money, but the result in the beautiful and extensive addition to the cemetery well repays the expenditure In the purchase of the land and the work done last year there was laid out $2,396.75 in work this year, tile for draining and other items, $1,802.22, making the total cost of the ground to date $4 202.67. The purchase and planting of ornamental trees and extension of the waterworks system will probably bring the cost of the new grounds when completed up to about $5,000. Against this the company has 1,302 lots worth on an average $30 apiece or $39,060 in all, leaving a balance to the good of over $34,000.

The Superintendent's report shows the details of the work done by him. The fence was built by Thomas Irwin, the lowest tenderer therefore, at $401.05, and $301.36 was expended for tile purchased by your Directors.

There remains still to be considered by the incoming Directors the necessity of extending the system of waterworks to the new grounds and the planting of ornamental shade trees. For this purpose provision has been made in the survey, an allowance of four feet being left on each side of the avenues running through it.

The old part of the cemetry has been, as usual, carefully attended to, and its handsome appearance continues to attract favorable comment. There are reported to be still unsold in it about the same number of lots as in the new. The company may now be congratulated in having one of the best and most handsome cemeteries in the Province.

Dated January 17th, 1887.

JOHN J. LUNDY,
President.
J. EDWARDS,
Sec.-Treasurer.

The report was adopted.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

Mr. Reilly, Superintendent, submitted the statement of receipts and expenditures as follows:—

To the President and Directors of the Little Lake Cemetery Company:

GENTLEMEN,—I beg leave to report that the receipts and expenditures at the Little Lake Cemetery from the 1st of January, 1886, to the 1st of January, 1887, were as follows:—

RECEIPTS.

For sale of lots	$ 1,275 00
" " single graves	54 00
Vault fees	17 25
Improvements on lots	190 00
Removals	36 00
Digging graves, etc	368 00
Miscellaneous work	554 30
Total	$ 2,494 55

DUE ON ACCOUNT.

For sale of lots	$ 350 00
" sundry work	100 00
" Digging graves	26 00
Total	476 00
Total assets	$ 2,970 55

EXPENDITURE.

Paid Superintendent's salary	$ 525 00
" for labor	1,586 06
Total	$2,111 06
Balance of assets over expenditure	$ 858 80

Total number of interments during 1886 145.

In presenting my usual annual report I need scarcely refer to the large amount of work that has been done during the year, as you have watched its progress from time to time.

I might, however, refer to the large amount of drainage that has been done—some three thousand three hundred and fifty feet—the greater portion of which is laid with tile, the balance being built of stone which I am satisfied will prove efficient, and the stones would in any case have to be removed from the grounds.

There has been some thirteen hundred lots improved during the year which are nearly all staked out and measured off. The whole of the ground has been seeded and the terraces have all been sodded which involved a very large amount of labor.

The road on side the cemetery which was in a bad condition has been ditched and boulevarded for quite a distance, and is now in good shape and constantly used by the public.

A piece of crib work 200 feet long has been built outside the cemetery on Crescent street. In this connection I would respectfully suggest that you urge the Town Council to undertake the prosecution of this work around the lake, for, as I have before pointed out, the sooner it is done the less it will cost.

I would also direct your attention to the purchase of ornamental trees, which should be planted as early next spring as possible.

I might add that there has been expended for labor this year the sum of $417.75 over last year, the whole of which was expended on the new grounds, and as there are over 1,300 lots available, say at $30 per lot, amounting to $39,000, would leave a large balance in favor of the Company over the expenditure and purchase money.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
JOHN KELLY,
Superintendent

January 17th, 1887.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS.

The election of Directors for 1887 was held with the following result:—The Rev. V. Clementi, John Burnham, M.P., J. J. Lundy, Jas. Stevenson, R. Dennistoun, G. M. Roger Chas. Stapleton and the Hon. R. Hamilton.

Constipation

Causes, directly or indirectly, fully one-half the sufferings which afflict mankind. It is usually induced by inactivity of the liver, and may be cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. C. A. Schomerus, Great Bend, Kansas, writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for Costiveness, with the most beneficial results." J. Windholm, Newark, N. J., writes: "Ayer's Pills cured me of chronic Constipation." Martin Koch, Huntington, Ind., writes: "Last year I suffered much from Biliousness

And Headache

After using one box of Ayer's Pills I was quite well." C. F. Hopkins, Nevada City, Mo., writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills, and think they are the best in the world. They have cured me of Sick Headache and Neuralgia." W. L. Page, Richmond, Va., writes: "I have been a severe sufferer from Headache. Ayer's Pills afford me speedy relief." A. J. Forster, Dauphin st., Mobile, Ala., writes: "For a number of years I have been troubled with Constipation and Headaches. After trying a number of so-called Liver Invigorators, without benefit, I was at last

Cured by Using

Ayer's Pills." Rev. Francis B. Harlowe, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "For years I was subject to Constipation, from which I suffered increasing inconvenience, in spite of the use of medicines of various kinds. Some months ago, I began taking Ayer's Pills. They have entirely corrected the costive habit, and have vastly improved my general health." Hermann Bringhoff, jewelry engraver, Newark, N. J., writes: "Costiveness, induced by my sedentary habits of life, at one time became chronic and exceedingly troublesome. Ayer's Pills afforded me speedy relief, and their occasional use has since kept me all right." Ed. O. Easterly, Rockford, Ill., writes that he has been cured of chronic Constipation by the use of A Charity Matter.

The Mayor at Monday night's Council meeting told a story which tells hard against Lindsay. A woman from that burg arrived in town not long ago and without delay laid her weary head upon the shoulder of the Charity Committee. She received assistance and again appeared to the Mayor in his own office. Here, says his Worship, she talked so loud that people could have heard her a block away. She didn't seem to be able to talk right but she could cry first rate. She made such fuss that actually people passing up or down would have thought she was being abused. To get rid of her he offered to procure her a ticket back to Lindsay and give her $10 out of his own pocket. She wouldn't refuse the ten but in regard to going back to Lindsay—well, hardly; she could not see her way clear to take such a retrograde step.

The first named on each Committee to be the Chairman thereof. The members of the Charity Committee to have charge of the distribution of charity in their respective wards. The Chairman to call a meeting once a month and report to the Council at the following meeting the names of parties receiving charity and the amounts given.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

THOS. CAHILL,
Chairman.

Peterborough, Jan. 17, 1887.

The report was adopted.

NICHOLLS HOSPITAL.

Councillor MCNEIL moved, seconded by Councillor KENDRY,—In view of the fact that a large number of ratepayers having expressed themselves as very much dissatisfied with the management and costliness of the Nicholls Hospital,

Resolved, That a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Moore, Davidson, Kendry, Douglass, McNeil and the Mayor, be appointed to investigate into the workings of the hospital and recommend to this Council such amendments to the Act incorporating the same as they in their judgment may seem meet.

Councillor MCNEIL said that a good deal of dissatisfaction had been expressed by the ratepayers on account of the costliness of the hospital. He pointed out that the town had only one representative on the board and that was altogether too little when the town paid the bulk of the cost. He thought a thorough investigation would do good.

Councillor MENZIES thought the motion was a good one and should be passed. If he had known it was going to cost so much he would not have voted for it.

Councillor MOORE declined to act on the committee. Councillor Menzies said if he had known it was going to cost so much he would not have voted to accept the hospital. If Councillor Menzies was in the economical frame of mind he is now when the matter came up, instead of bickering as to what creed was to be admitted and what would not, the town would have been better served. He did not know what the committee was going to do. It appeared like a wild goose chase. The Council was entitled to a detailed statement of expenditure, which it had not yet received. He thought the town had no right to pay anything till this statement was sent in Councillor KENDRY thought the motion a move in the right direction and would support it.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON favored the motion. He strongly urged more representation on the Board from the Council.

Councillor HARTLEY agreed with Councillor Moore that it would be well to get this detailed statement to see how the cost was incurred. He took it that most of the expense was caused by extra furnishing put in after Mrs. Nicholls had furnished the hospital.

Councillor MOORE stated that the Hospital had cost at the rate of $2,200 since it was established. This included the extra furnishing spoken of. He thought that in the future it would cost less.

Councillor KENDRY was of opinion that it would cost more in the future.

Councillor YELLAND said that although he was in favor of the motion, as it being a step in the right direction, he would advise whatever was done to be done without giving any undue offence. He was sure that Mrs. Nicholls gave the gift—a very munificent one—in the very best intention. She gave equivalent to $30,000 and that was liberal. (Hear, hear.) He said that perhaps Mrs. Nicholls herself did not know at the time that the hospital would cost the people so much.

The motion was carried.

MEMORIAL.

Councillor CAHILL introduced a memorial referring to the filling in of Crescent street. It was read its several times and passed.

POLICE.

Councillor KENDRY, chairman of the Police Supervision Committee, read the report of the Chief of Police as follows:—

To the Mayor and Council:—

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to submit herewith the report of the cases tried at the Police Court during the year 1886.

In all there have been 357 cases tried, an increase of 60 as compared with the preceding year, but deducting the 110 cases tried for breaches of the Scott Act, there is an actual falling off of 50 cases, which speaks well for a growing town.

There is almost a total absence of any of the most serious crimes, there having been only four committals outside of our County gaol, namely, two to the Reformatory and two to the Central prison.

During the year the police have been successful in ridding the town of all houses of prostitution, and considerably abating the nuisance caused by loafers congregating on the corners of our principal streets.

There many other reforms that the Police would have undertaken had their time not been so fully occupied with serving summons, subpœnas, attending court and other business in connection with the enforcement of the Scott Act, but when it is remembered that between three and four thousand summons and subpœnas have been served during the year you will understand that they have not been idle.

The revenue derived from the Police Court this year will be the largest in the history of the town, owing no doubt to the many and heavy fines imposed for violations of the Scott Act. I had considerable difficulty in collecting these fines, which was mostly done under warrants of distress and committment. Six persons were sent to gaol for the non payment of fines, four of whom served out their time and two paid their fines and were afterwards released. The collection of these fines were not only a difficult but a delicate matter and the utmost care had to be exercised to prevent further litigation. The slightest false step would have precipitated the corporation into serious law suits which might have resulted in heavy losses to the town.

I would respectfully call your attention to the necessity of amending some of the town By-laws in order to meet the requirements of our rapidly increasing population, notable the snow By-laws and that affecting carters and draymen.

Appended is a detailed list of the cases tried at the Police Court during 1885 as compared with those of 1885.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. H. COOPER,
Chief Constable.

The following is a return of cases tried in the Police Court:—

The report was received and filed.

MEMORIAL.

Councillor MOORE introduced a by-law setting forth the anomalous condition in which the assessment was carried on. If a man owned less than ten acres of land within the town it was to be assessed as farm property, but if he owned twenty, thirty, or fifty acres it was to be assessed as town property. The memorial prayed the Legislature to set all lands on the same footing. It passed its several readings.

COMPLAINTS.

Councillor MOORE wished the proper authorities to instruct the Chief of Police to look after those who were in the habit of racing on the streets and those whose rigs had no bells on them. Also to instruct Mr. Smith to visit the north end of the town with the snow plough earlier in the morning.

Councillor CAHILL said that as there was nearly 50 miles of sidewalk he thought Mr. Smith was doing well.

Councillors KENDRY and MCNAUGHTON both gave Mr. Smith credit for discharging his duties faithfully.

The Council adjourned to meet in three weeks.

The Temperature.

The thermometer readings to-day at the hours mentioned were as follows:—8 o'clock a.m., 15 below zero; 1 o'clock p.m., 10 below zero; 8 oclock p. m., 8 below zero.

COLLISION.

Two Engines Smashed—Loss About $8,000.

By Telephone to the Review.

LINDSAY, Jan. 18.—Yesterday afternoon an expensive accident occurred here. Engine No. 634 was detailed to drive a snow plough from Cobocouk to the Lindsay station. At about 4 o'clock the engineer of No. 624 engine received instructions to take some empty freight cars up the track as far as the junction. When the latter reached Victoria Avenue No. 634 came steaming along through the storm. It was blowing a blinding storm, but the engineer of 624 discovered the danger in time to reverse the engine, give the alarm to the fireman, and jump off. No. 624 engineer was not so fortunate, but just as lucky. The two engines come together with a crash. The snow plough went clear on top of No. 624 smashing it up badly, and No. 634 was also wrecked. The driver had grown so accustomed to charging snow banks that he did not know of the accident till it was all over. He escaped unhurt. The loss will be about $3,000.

Very Cold.

The Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering thermometer recorded 16 deg. below zero on Monday night.

Burns Anniversary.

Members of the St. Andrew's Society, and all lovers of Burns, are requested to attend a special meeting to be held this Tuesday evening, January 18th, at 7 30 o'clock, in the office of the Town Collector, Simcoe street, to hear the report of the Committee appointed to make preliminary arrangements for the celebration of Burns' birthday. Scotchmen, muster!

Scott Act.

At the Police Court this morning the case Cooper vs. Dunn, in which Thos. Dunn was charged with a second offence against the provisions of the Scott Act, was dismissed without costs. No evidence was educed from the witnesses examined. The case Cochrane vs. Dunn, wherein the defendant is the same as in the case dismissed, was adjourned.

A Mum Social.

A Musical and Literary Social is to be given at the residence of Mrs. J J. McBain, corner of King and Rubidge streets, Thursday evening, Jan. 20th, at 7.30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of Charlotte Street Methodist Church. An interesting and edifying programme has been provided introducing a novelty in the form of "An Imposed Silence" broken only by those who are willing to pay the penalty. Admission 25 cents.

It May be Remarked.

—That the Cemetery Company considers itself about $40,000 ahead through the addition of the new land.

—That people won't go to Lindsay, even if free tickets are bought for them and they are subsidised for it.

—That it must be a dreadful place, Lindsay must.

—That Terry Smith and the snow ploughs have a hard time of it.

—To please everyone.

W. C. T. U.

Despite the inclemency of the weather the regular meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was well attended yesterday afternoon. The president occupied the chair. After the minutes had been read a large number of communications were read and received. The question of supporting a women's reading room was discussed, but as no decided action could be taken in the matter, it was left over for further consideration, trusting that the women of the town will give it their hearty support.

Snow.

The snow storms during the past few days have interferred with the railway service. During yesterday and the day before not much trouble was felt, but to-day, where the snow banks are frozen hard, difficulty has been experienced. The Canadian Pacific railway track between Toronto and Montreal has been kept fairly clear by the use of snow ploughs. The Grand Junction line has run on time also, a snow plough preceeding each train. But the Toronto and Port Hope branches are not so clear. The regular train was stuck at Dr. Kincaid's farm, three miles south of the town, for two hours and a half this morning and the moruing train from Toronto did not arrive till two o'clock this afternoon.

The Oddfellows.

At the regular meeting of Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows No. 13, held on Monday evening, the 17th inst., the following officers were duly installed by Bro. E. E. Henderson, D. D. G. M.:—

Bro. T. Workman	N. G.

" G. C. Clark	R. S.
" E. E. Henderson	P. S.
" R. Rowe (re-elected)	Treas.
" Wm. Hendrie	Warden
" J. Mathison	C.
" W. J. Paterson	R. S. N. G.
" R. Calvert	L. S. N. G.
" H. Quirk	R. S. V. G.
" Wm. N. Munro	L. S. V. G.
" J. L. Munde	Chaplain
" C. H. Huffman	R. S. S.
" W. F. Green	L. S. S.
" C. L. Huffman	I. G
" Alex Rutherford	O. G.
" W. F. Green	Pianist
" R. W. Bell, M. D.	Surgeon

After the installation ceremony the brethren were entertained in the ante-room by Bro. E. E. Henderson, D. D. G. M., the refreshments being supplied by Bro. Long in his usual first-class style. A very pleasant evening was spent. The forthcoming meeting of the Grand Lodge and kindred subjects were discussed. Otonabee Lodge has made great progress during the last term both numerically and fundamentally.

Bad Roads.

Those who have had occasion to drive for any distance within the last few days say that the roads are in a very bad state. On Monday a pleasure party from here drove up to Lakefield, and coming back had a little experience of what Canadian winter is, by being compelled to stand breast deep in the snow while a break was being repaired. Others who followed had experience of a different kind, inasmuch as they were no less than three times upset in the snow. One of the oldest livery men in Peterborough says that in all his experience he never saw roads get so bad in such a short time as they are at present in some places in this county.

Found Dead on the Track

BARRIE, Jan. 17.—Thomas Alford, aged fifty years, of Beeton, was found dead on the railway track by the section men this morning a short distance north of Tiffin on the Collingwood branch of the Northern and North-Western railways. Appearances indicate his having been run over and instantly killed by the Saturday night's express, as the body shows a bad fracture of the skull and one leg was off. The body was frozen stiff.

Killed by Swallowing His Teeth.

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—A second-hand storekeeper named Zotique Sancartier, residing on St. Lawrence street, died on Saturday last from the effects of swallowing three of his false teeth. About one month ago the deceased was in his coach-house harnessing his horse, and while raising the collar to the horse's head his three false teeth, which were held by a plate, became detached and went partially down his throat. He went to a doctor, who, he alleged, forced the teeth down. Sancartier suffered intense pain after the operation, and lingered in great agony until his death. The deceased, who was 36 years of age, was well known, and leaves a wife and child.

Newspaper Advertising.

Probably the most extensive and most successful firm of advertising agents in the world is Geo. P. Rowell & Co., New York. Beginning on a comparatively small scale in 1865 their business is extended till it is now of mammoth proportions, and is conducted in a style that is eminently satisfactory to both advertisers and newspaper publishers. Messrs. Rowell & Co. represent every newspaper of standing in Canada and the U. S., and while the rates given by them to publishers may not in some cases be so high as those obtained direct from advertisers, their methods are so satisfactory and their returns so sure that their orders are seldom if ever refused. In addition to their annual Newspaper Directory containing the name and circulation of every journal in the U. S. and Canada, Messrs. Rowell & Co. have recently issued a little volumn called "Newspaper Advertising," prepared especially for advertisers who wish to place their announcements most effectually before the public. The work contains carefully classified lists of newspapers suitable for those who wish to reach the largest number of people; those of a special section of the country; special classes of customers, etc. The largest single group is called "The Best List of Local Newspapers," every paper named on it being selected because either its daily or weekly edition is the most widely circulated or influential, published at an important town, city or county seat. This list covers every State, Territory, District and Province of the United States and Canada, and represents every county seat having a population greater than 3,000, and every place having a population greater than 5,000 from Halifax to San Diego; from Florida to British Columbia. It is needless to say that THE REVIEW is accorded a space in their volume under its appropriate classification.

FLOOD AT CORNWALL.

Terrible Suffering of the People—One Man Believed to be Drowned.

CORNWALL, Jan. 18.—There have been several ice shoves here this winter, and the water has been unusually high in consequence, but not sufficient to cause any uneasiness. However, last night, about midnight, the ice jammed again and the water rose very rapidly. Towards morning it flowed over the canal bank, running up the streets to 1st street, a distance of about two hundred yards. The alarm was given about 6 a.m., the fire bells rang, etc., and hundreds of people were aroused and went to work to save the inmates of the buildings that were flooded. Boats were procured and shoved through the icy water which was freezing very rapidly, the thermometer marking several degrees below zero, and the terrible snowstorm raging. The Stormont Cotton Mill, which is situated between the canal and the river, was completely surrounded with water, the boiler submerged and an immense amount of machinery and stock also. At the Canada Cotton Mill, the woolen Mill, Mack's Flour Mill, &c., which were at the extreme east end of the city, the rise of water was a little late and the hands had all got to work. The flood burst in the doors and those employed in the lower stories had to flee for their lives. In the Canada Cotton Mill two men were supposed to have been caught by the water in the machinery room, Curtis Deruchie and Frank Bergeron. They went back to look after their tools, and Deruchie got out after great exertions, but Bergeron has not been seen since, and it is feared he has been drowned. All the mills were submerged to a depth of fully fifteen feet, the magnificent weaving room of the Canada Cotton Mills, the largest in America, being at least a foot deep with water. The quantity of stock in process of manufacture was very large and the loss is tremendous, not to speak of the machinery, much of which is wrecked by the raising of the floors. It is too soon to estimate the damage, but is will run up high into the thousands. In the rear of the town there was also a flood, the water breaking up the fly creek and inundating the surrounding country for hundreds of yards in every direction. The scenes in the flooded district were heartrending. Many houses were under water above the second storey, and the unfortunate inmates, being unable to get out of them, were standing knee deep in the water. Relief parties were organized, and with the aid of boats and lumber managed to extricate the people and to convey them to places of safety. Quite a number of horses and cows were drowned in their stables, there being no time to rescue them. A large portion of those summarily driven from their homes are laboring people. There will be great distress, especially as it will be some time before the mills are in full running order again. Steps are being taken to organize relief committees to attend to the most urgent cases. The river itself presents a magnificent sight. The ice is piled up in huge masses, some towering to a height of many feet and glittering like diamonds in the bright sunshine. At this hour, 12 a. m., the water is receding, being a foot or more lower than its highest mark, but there is no certainty that another flood may not occur.

A FAMOUS EPISODE RECALLED.

The use which the Grits have made of the American press, for their political ends, is illustrated afresh in an Ottawa letter to the New York Herald, which the Grit press are copying for home wear. In this letter it is stated that Canada is in the throes of a tremendous political crisis, with the probability that the present able Minister will fall and the Grits come into power. Many such letters have been written in the Grit newspapers office at Ottawa and sent to the New York press for the purpose of being re-copied in Canada as a specimen of "independent" criticism. The famous letter sent by Mr. David Mills in charge of Mr. Knowlton to the New York World was a fair sample of how this kind of thing is done. Mr. Knowlton took Mr. Mills' manuscript in an inside pocket of his overcoat, after showing it to one or two persons previous to his departure, and boasting of the bombshell that he had been commissioned to throw into the Conservative camp. A day or two afterwards Mr. Mills' manuscript was printed in the World in the form of an interview of a reporter with Knowlton. It was headed like this:—"Ontario's Great Crisis: The Boundary Question; The Province Ripe for Cival War!" Any one reading that excitable screed might have supposed that we were all on the point of bloodshed, whereas the people were pursuing the even tenor of their way and Mr David Mills was pocketing his boodle from the Mowat Government punctually and in very large amounts. Nothing more serious was happening at the time. And the screed which our neighbor yesterday copied from the Herald will be found of the same sort of origin as the Mills-Knowlton Boundary Bouncer. Let no one put his faith in such claptrap.—London Free Press.

A Strike Stopped.

STELLARTON, N.S., Jan 18.—A temporary arrangement has been effected between the workmen of the Albion mine and the colliery manager whereby an immediate strike is averted. The managers are endeavoring to reduce the wages ten to twenty per cent. This is vigorously resisted by the men, backed up by the workmen of the Vale and Acadia mines, in all nearly one thousand men, who pledged themselves to join the Albion mines workmen in the general strike against the reduction. The Drummond miners workmen endorsed the proposed action by pledging the resisting miners onefourth of their earnings. A strike at this season would be mutually disastrous and the workingmen agreed to submit the matter to arbitration, pending which affairs remain in statue quo.

ST. THOMAS, Jan 17.—A brakesman on the Michigan Central railroad named Neil Potter fell between the cars and was instantly killed. He was cut to pieces.

ASTOUNDING CRUELTY.

Burning a Child's Tongue and Hands for Punishment.

A week or so ago word was brought to Staff-Inspector Archibald that a 9-year-old child named Violet Hinton was being brutally abused by her father and stepmother. He investigated and found that for the past three months the most damnable cruelty has been practiced. John Hinton is a milkman, and his home is at 254 Bathurst street. By his first wife he had two children, both girls. Violet being the elder. She is bright, intelligent pretty little thing, with pleasant gracious manners. Her mother died some time since, and a year or so ago her father married again. Since then the little ones life has been far from an agreeable one. It is alleged that on one occasion during these months Hinton and his wife made their child put her tongue on a hot stove, and compelled her to keep it there until it was blistered and calloused. On another occasion it is said that Mrs. Hinton made the little one lay her tender hands on top of the kitchen stove until they were frightfully burned. The child screamed with the terrible pain and ran crying to her father in the yard who said to her brutally, "you didn't get burned half enough." On another occasion she was locked up in a stable through a bitterly cold night and was not taken out until five o'clock in the morning. A favorite pastime was to tie the child to her bed in such a position that she could neither sit or lie down or even stand up comfortably, and on one occasion they fastened her in her bedroom for nearly a week without either food or water. A boy who was employed by Hinton unfastened her door while the others were out, and gave her something to eat and drink. Besides all this she was strapped and beaten cruelly. The specific charge against the Hintons is aggravated assault on December 20th. It is alleged that at that time the child was beaten until she could not see, and her younger sister had to lead her about. At the Police Court yesterday Hinton and his wife elected to be tried by the Magistrate. When asked to plead Hinton said, "I am guilty to a certain extent; I did wrong, I know, and I'm sorry for it." Mrs. Hinton said she was guilty to a certain extent, too.

"What do you mean?" asked the Magistrate.

"There are a number of reports about that are not true. I have much to do with it. I am a stepmother, though, and I suppose I am blamed for everything."

The Magistrate ordered them to be taken into custody and remanded them for full evidence, letting them out on $500 bail with two securities of of $250 each in each case. John Harvey and George Hinton went on the bail bonds. Mr. Harvey has remonstrated with Hinton several times and offered to keep the child, but Hinton would not. He is one of Hinton's neighbors, and it was through him the police heard of the affair. Staff-Inspector Archibald had taken the girl away from Hinton. He went to Mr. Archibald's Sunday and cried like a child to be let off. In the court yesterday he seemed to be on the verge of tears. Both he and his wife are respectable looking people. Mr. Archibald says he the most direct evidence to substantiate the allegations made above.—Toronto News.

HUDSON BAY RAILWAY.

Forty-One Miles of the New Road Already Completed.

The first 41 miles of the Hudson's Bay route are at last completed. This is the first part of the contract, and it is a substantial proof that the Hudson's Bay railway is a reality. The last rail would have been laid several weeks ago if the C. P. R. could have supplied them fast enough. As it is great credit is due to the contractors for their perserverance, even when they might reasonably have urged a good reason for desisting. It has certainly been an exceptionally mild winter, or they would have been compelled to stop work. Wood and hay have already been brought into the city along the route, and there has been application made to have fish delivered here from Lake Manitoba. This would be a great saving to the dealers, as the line runs to within six miles of the lake. There is no reason why a good deal of heavy freight work, such as fish or lumber, should not be done this winter, as a construction train runs through from Winnipeg every morning, and a good deal might come by the return trip. The contractors are anxious for the return of spring, as no grading can be done for the next section until then.—Winnipeg Manitoban.

A Pompeiian House.

A well known house at Pompeii (No. 30 in the 2nd Insula of the 8th Region) named after the Emperor Joseph II., who visited it when first laid bare, a century ago, has been lately completely excavated. It is three-storeyed and of terrace construction, having been built against the steep side of the mountain. The upper storey presents the usual plan of a Roman house. A staircase consisting of twenty-eight very well preserved steps of Vesuvian lava, divided into three flights or landings, leads to the lower floor. The topmost landing and the two upper portions of this staircase have wooden balusters; the lowest portion, which is also the largest, is vaulted over. Two very plain rooms, with rough walls, one of them having a hearth, open to this staircase. At its foot there is a long passage leading to a back staircase, which again led to the upper storey. Proceeding, however, straight on, the visitor will find himself in a court, or kind of peristyle, on each of two sides of which there are two chambers, the third side being occupied by a large room, most probably the triclinium or dining-room. The fourth side opens on to a great terrace, from which the courtyard and the rooms are lighted. Beneath this terrace is the lowest story, comprising the various offices, kitchen, bakery, mill, bath, etc. The bath consists of a tepidarium, a vaulted room, with a white mosaic floor, the walls painted yellow; a calidarium, also vaulted, the walls adorned with pictures on a red ground, the floor mosaic; the frigidarium circular, as usual, having a cupola formed vaulted roof with an air-opening in the middle, furnished with a wide ventilating shaft of terra cotta, which leads upwards through the floor of the superimposed terrace into the open air. There are four niches in the wall of the frigidarium furnished with slabs for sitting. The floor is ornamented with mosaics.—London Times.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

PREPARING FOR THE JUBILEE.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Queen's coachmakers have renovated one of Her Majesty's six state coaches in preparation for the court functions of the jubilee year. The door handles and armorial bearings are of gold, as also are the crest and the order of St. George upon the roof. The body of the carriage is of vermillion, picked out with gold, and the springs and all the iron work are gilt. Representations of the crown and the garter are among the adornments of the equipage. It is lined with blue silk.

INHUMAN SPECTACLES.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Standard says:—"There are, beyond question, many cases which bring shame and discredit upon the whole body of landlords in Ireland, cases wherein the landowners have not behaved with any show of respect for equity and in which they have done gross wrong to those whose happiness, and even lives, depended upon their landlord's forbearance. Such landlords," the Standard says, "have no right to be supplied by the Government with the means of enforcing the decrees granted to them by the strict process of the law. Some of the evictions enforced this winter have been inhuman spectacles, fit only for a barbarous country and age, and the Government may well consider whether if is not time to dissociate the action of the Irish executive from the enforcement of such decrees."

ANOTHER ROYAL WEDDING.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—It is reported ex-Empress Eugenie has communicated her approval of the marriage of Princess Letitia to Prince Rolland Bonaparte and has signified her intention of settling a dowry on the lady and of presenting her with all her jewellery.

THE LATE LORD IDDLESEIGH.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A memorial service in honor of Lord Iddesleigh was held to-day in Westminster Abbey. The Duke of Cambridge, Lord Salisbury, many representatives of the nobility and a throng of prominent members of all political parties were present.

BRITISH GUNBOAT WRECKED.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The British gunboat Firm has been wrecked on the Northumberland coast. Nineteen of the crew were saved by the life-saving service. The fate of the others is unknown. The Firm is a composite gunboat of 455 tons, and has been used as a tender to the iron turret ship Devastation.

MEASURES FOR IRELAND.

LONDON, Jan 18.—The Standard says that the Government will at an early date submit a measure for dealing more effectually with the agrarian conspiracy in Ireland.

THE GERMAN ELECTIONS.

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—The Socialists' election lists have been completed. All parties have opened the campaign with energy. The Berlin Liberal committee has appointed a special election bureau, with the Mayor of Berlin as President. Thirty meetings were held last night. The Conservatives and Socialists' committees will issue an address to the people. Baron Crailsheim, the Bavarian Minister of Foreign Affairs, has arrived in Berlin. His mission relates to the intention of the Regent to issue a proclamation to the people of Bavaria if the Emperor issues an address to the people of Germany. The Tagblatt says the Baron's mission includes the settlement of a plan which was discussed on the occasion of the Regent's recent visit to Berlin to declare Luitpold King of Bavaria.

RENT PAID.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Mr. Wm. O'Brien, yesterday, handed to Lord Dillon a check for £8,000, the amounts of rents collected on the latter's Irish estates, with a guarantee that the balance would be promptly paid subject to 20 per cent discount.

A GREAT THEFT.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—The Chief Clerk of the Paris Post Office has stolen $10,000 in money orders and fled.

AN OMINOUS SIGN.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A rumor is current at Metz that all the Imperial Government officials have been privately informed that they will have to send their wives to Germany within three days after the issuance of a decree ordering the mobilization of the army.

A GERMAN REQUEST REFUSED.

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—It is redorted that Russia has refused the request of the German Ambassador at St. Petersburg to make an exception in favor of Germans to the decree of compelling foreign owners of land to become naturalized or sell out.

A HARDENED SOCIALIST.

DUBLIN, Jan. 18.—A Socialist named Sparre, who was expelled from Berlin, but who returned on a special permit, which was to remain in force during his good behavior, was arrested yesterday on the charge of having secreted dynamite in his house.

A MODIFICATION.

Paris Jan. 18.—At a French Cabinet Council to-day Admiral Aube, Minister of Marine, withdrew his bill providing a special grant for naval construction and the fortification of harbours, and announced that he would only ask the Chambers on account of his department for a credit to spread over several years, but not to exceed 4,000,000 francs yearly.

ITALY AS A MEDIATOR.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—It is stated Italy has agreed to act as mediator in the Bulgarian question, on the assurance of the Bulgarian Government that it will accept Russia's terms with the exception of the candidacy of the Prince of Mingrelia.

A NEW YEAR'S GREETING.

VIENNA, Jan. 18.—The Deutsche-Zeitung says that at the opening of the Russian New Year Emperor Francis Joseph sent a message to the Czar expressing his convictions that all existing political differences would be overcome and peace maintained.

Mothers,

do you not see the pallid face, once so bright, growing thinner? Do you not hear the hacking cough, and note the wasted, languid indifference, where once was mirth, brightness, and keen enjoyment for all the pleasures of life? Do not be mistaken or deceived. That child is dying of consumption—slowly, but surely. Yet thousands are living to-day who have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," which surpasses all other medicines for the cure of that disease. THE BOGUS SYNDICATE.

In fee no other reason, Mr. Cox ought to be defeated as a candidate for the House of Commons on account of his bitter and dishonest opposition to the construction of the C. P. R.

Who is there, having the interest of our country at heart, who is not proud of that great achievement, which has earned us the admiration of the civilized world, the construction of our great transcontinental line, uniting Province to Province, wedding ocean to ocean? In the difficulties overcome, in the excellence of the work, in the rapidity of its construction, in the magnitude of the undertaking, and in the statesmanlike boldness with which it was designed to develop our country, it was unprecedented, and by the admiration it excited has done more to raise us in the estimation of the rest of the world than all our other claims to consideration combined. In the Mother Country it is recognised as a work of Imperial importance, in our neighbor the United States it is viewed as the most formidable and successful competitor of their own lines, and to every civilized community it has proved empatically what Canadians can do.

And this is the work that Mr. Cox endeavored to thwart and prevent by a disgraceful trick. His name was on the list of those who formed the bogus syndicate, designed to prevent the construction of the road. By a fraudulent pretence of saving the country $3,000,000 in money and 3,000,000 acres of land, these men hoped to induce Parliament to refuse to ratify the bargain with the C. P. R. Company. It was only a fraudulent pretence, because it offered for the lesser sum not the same work, as was pretended, but a far less complete, less useful and less costly scheme. The trick was played by the insertion of an artful clause giving the Government power to release the bogus syndicate from that most expensive and less directly remunerative but highly necessary portion of the work, the section north of Lake Superior. That was precisely equivalent to their being released from the very beginning from this onerous portion of the undertaking, leaving them to perform the cheaper work on the prairies. For who would have composed the Government in question? The acceptance of the bogus offer of Mr. Cox and his associates, the refusal to ratify the bargain made by the Administration would have been a defeat fatal to its existence, so that Mr. Blake and his friends must have come into office. These bitter enemies of our great national work would at once have released the bogus syndicate from the Lake Superior section, always condemned by them, if not from the whole undertaking, returning them their deposit on some pretext.

Then the great plan that has been so triumphantly carried out would have been frustrated. Manitoba and the Northwest, if settled at all, must have been so through a foreign country. Our commercial dealings, if we were allowed to retain any, must have been conducted through a foreign country. When Mr. Blake and his friends were shortly dismissed again from power, any rebellion they might choose to stir up in the Northwest could have run unchecked for half the year, because we could not transport troops through a foreign land, and there would have been no road of our own. All the enormous advantages of the C.P.R. present and prospective would have been denied to us.

To the bogus syndicate which endeavored to do us and our country such an injury by a dishonest trick, Mr. Cox gave his name. Do the electors think it safe to trust one like Mr. Cox with any power as their representative?

DOMINION EXPENDITURE.

The opponents of the Macdonald Administration take exception on two grounds to the ordinary expenditure of the Dominion. They find fault with the amount, which was $35,000,000 in 1885, and also with its increase since Confederation. As to its increase, the addition of new Provinces, the development of new territory, the provision for augmented population, enlarged business and new requirements, all demand more money. Our operations as an organized community have been extended, and as is the case when individuals extend their operation, a larger expenditure is required. In either case, if the expenditure is judicious and remunerative, its increase may be a favourable sign rather than an indication of extravagance.

To form an intelligent idea as to whether the expenditure of $35,000,000 by the Dominion of Canada is excessive it is necessary to consider the details. We find on examination that a million and a half is for the sinking fund and therefore is not an addition to our expenditure, but, on the contrary, is a payment of part of our debt. About four millions are subsidies to the Provinces, and clearly are not an expenditure by the Dominion authorities, which simply have to collect them and hand them over, just as our Town Council collects our school assessments to hand them over to the Board of Education to expend. These four millions of our money are expended for us not by the Dominion, but by the Provincial authorities. Next come some large items which are of the nature of book keeping cross-entries, not representing any burden on the community. The running expenses of the Government railways are set down as two millions and three quarters, but this is almost entirely recouped by the receipts, paid by those who use the lines for the service rendered to them. Then the expenditure on our postal service also amounts to two millions and three quarters, and again this is largely recouped by the payments of those who avail themselves of its accommodation. Rather more than two million dollars are consumed by the expenses of collecting the revenue, but this certainly cannot be deemed an extravagant commission (less than 8 per cent) on the collection of $26,000,000. There are smaller expenditures which come under a similar category, but omitting them to avoid wearisome detail, the above items amount to about $13,000,000.

In a category by itself stands the $10,000,000, set down for interest on our public debt and cost of management. If this debt was incurred for the purpose of judicious and remunerative investment, as even Reform politicians admit, when they are not pretending the contrary for partizan purposes, it cannot be said that the rate is excessive or the payment extravagant.

If we deduct these two amounts from the total expenditure of $35,000,000, we find that there remains only $12,000,000 as the cost of legislation, administration of justice, protection of life, health and property, (including $1,000,000 for the Indians and several millions for the suppression of the Northwest rebellion) and for the general management of the affairs of our vast Dominion. That every individual dollar of this is expended to the best advantage no one would be rash enough to assert, for what affairs even of far less magnitude are transacted without some mistakes? But no fair minded, reasonable man can pretend that it is an extravagant amount to be spent for such purposes by a country like Canada, with its large population, its enormous territory and its progressive, enterprising spirit.

A PARAGRAPH is going the rounds of the Reform press from the Essex Liberal, regarding an alleged statement by Mr. Bunting, of the Mail, to "a certain prominent Tory Mayor of an Ontario town." If the Liberal or those papers copying its paragraph think the statement is true, it or they should not be afraid to give the name of the prominent Tory. Until they do the statement must be regarded, like many other statements of those papers, as untrue.

One o' Mowat's Lambs.

Another characteristic effort to win North Perth for the Grit candidate, at the last election, has turned up, and will come before the courts very soon. Mr. Fisher, the deputy returning officer for one of the divisions of North Easthope, and who is also one of Mowat's License Inspectors, found at the close of the poll that there had been 115 votes polled, ten of which were for Hess, and 105 for Schmidt, and gave the Conservative scrutineer a certificate to that effect, but when the returns were handed in it was found the return was falsified, and the Grit candidate credited with 115 instead of 105—ten more than he actually received. These figures were used at the declaration, and though they did not have the effect intended—the defeat of Mr. Hess, a recount will be had, and Fisher will be prosecuted. It is quite possible that many of the polls throught the Province may have been tampered with in a similar manner, notably that of South Essex, where Pacaud's majority was suspiciously small.—St. Mary's Journal.

Equalising House Work.

"I have about come to the conclusion that no man is good enough for even a passably good woman," said the proprietor of the Coon range all sorts store, as he glanced at a lank fellow who had just made a disastrous raid on a box of matches. "Every man has an easier time than his wife."

"I've thought of that a thousand times," replied old man Gratewood, known through the neighborhood as Lazy Sam; "I know that I have an easier time than my wife, but I'm bringing the thing down mighty fine now. I don't believe in allowing a woman to kill herself at work let me tell you, and for some time I have been shaping my points so she won't have such a bad time."

"Equalizing it, eh?"

"That's exactly what I'm doing, gentlemen. Last year my po' wife had to chop all the wood and fetch the water."

"And you have relieved her of that, eh?"

"Well, partly; she has only to chop the wood now. My boy has got to be big enough to tote the water. I tell you, what's a fact a man ought to think o' these things."—Arkansaw Traveller.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

CRACK WALKING.

A Vice Which It Is Almost Impossible to Stop.

There are several members of Congress who have what is known as the crack-walking craze, writes a correspondent of the New York Telegram. Not one of these men would step upon a crack in a whole day's walk unless obliged to do so by the presence of a brick sidewalk. They will walk from the Capitol and go the entire length of Pennsylvania Avenue, even as far as the Treasury Department, and not step on a single crack. There is a certain scientific man here, whose name is known all over the civilized world. Knowing him to be a crack walker, the Telegram correspondent asked him how the habit became fixed upon him.

After being assured that his name would not be given, he replied: "I have had this crack-walking habit for 20 years. In the first place I started, just for fun, to see if I could avoid stepping on a crack going a certain distance. I found that I could, and I made up my mind to keep it up for that day. As I had a certain amount of walking to do at first this craze was a sort of pleasant diversion; then it became a settled habit. I have tried to break it up time and time again, but it has such a hold on me that I presume I will remain a crack walker to the end of my days. There is one peculiarity about crack-walking, and that is, that if I should happen by accident to step on a crack, it would upset me for the day. Whenever I have done this I always go back and step over the crack. I can't tell why I do it, but I do. Several times I have made up my mind to go right ahead, and forget all about my mis-step on my way to the office, but I couldn't. I have even sat here for two hours in a nervous terror trying to overcome the feeling, and at the end put on my coat and hat and walked down the street to step over the hateful crack. I know others are as bad as I am. They are all of highly nervous temperaments."

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

WE CAN NOW OFFER several first-class positions to Advertisers in the REVIEW, and, as there is always a rush at the beginning of the year, in order that the best positions may be obtained, business men will do well to call immediately and secure their space for 1887.

During the present year renewed efforts will be made to make the REVIEW still more a thoroughly efficient medium whereby the Merchants and others can put and keep themselves prominently before the public. Extra precaution will be taken, and the best taste will be displayed in getting up all advertisements intrusted to us for publication, and in other respects as well, the "shrewd" business man will do well to patronize the columns of the

NOAH AND THE ARK.

DR. CURTISS' NOTES ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Lesson IV for Sunday, Jan. 23—Lesson Text, Gen. vi, 9-22—Golden Text, Gen. vii, 5: "Noah Did According to All that the Lord Had Commanded Him."

Traditions of the Flood.—Almost every people, except the black races, are said to have a tradition of the flood. This is the case even among the inhabitants of the South Sea islands and the American Indians. This tradition was undoubtedly handed down from the original ancestral seat of the human race in the valley of the Euphrates. The account which bears the closest resemblance to that in the Bible is found in the Chaldean Genesis as transmitted on the tablets of the cuneiform inscriptions. There is this striking difference, however, that, while the Scriptures clearly represent that the deluge was sent in punishment of sin, the Chaldean Genesis indicates this fact only obscurely.

THE LESSON.

Noah's Character and Descendants (vs. 9, 10).—"These are the generations of Noah." The expression "generations" as used here and in some other passages is equivalent to history. We may regard this clause, therefore, as equivalent to "This is the history of Noah." "Noah was a just (Revised Version), righteous man." This does not indicate that he was sinless, but rather that he was a man of rectitude or rightness of character. "And perfect in his generations." The word "blameless," of the Revised Version, instead of perfect, conveys a clearer idea of what he was. As of Enoch, it is said of him that he "walked with God," thus indicating the harmony of his life with the divine plan.

The descendants of three sons of Noah are found in the tenth chapter of Genesis. To name some representative peoples under each, we find among the sons of Shem the Assyrians, the Aramæans and the Hebrews; among those of Ham, the Egyptians and Canaanites; and among those of Japheth, the Ionians, the Celts, etc.

Wickedness of the World (vs. 11, 12).—These verses teach three things—(1) that the earth was corrupt; (2) that it was filled with violence; (3) that all flesh had corrupted its way, and hence was responsible for this result.

How, then, had this state of things come about? According to an interpretation that is as probable as any, from the marriage of the Church and the world. There were two main lines—the Cainites, distinguished for their arts of civilization, the Sethites, for their piety. The Sethites, or "the sons of God," united with the Cainites, or "the daughters of men." The sons who sprang from this union were men of renown, but the wickedness of man was very great. Only one man was left of whom it could be said that he walked with God.

Universality of the Flood (v. 13).—"The end of all flesh is come before me" seems to refer not only to the destruction of man, as determined by God, but also to that of the animals, who suffer on account of sin. The question may be raised here as to the universality of the flood. This must be determined by two considerations—(1) its intent; (2) the testimony of Scriptures. The object of the flood was to sweep man from the earth on account of his wickedness. It was not necessary, therefore, that it should be of greater extent than the population of the earth, which probably then occupied a comparatively small portion of the surface of the globe. So far as the expression "all the high mountains that were under the whole heaven were covered" (Revised Version), we are to understand this as referring to the inhabited earth as known to the sacred writers, in the sense of other passages of Scripture, which are not less absolute, but which certainly do not indicate the whole world (Deut. ii, 25; Acts 2-5).

The Ark (vs. 14-16).—We do not know what kind of wood was used in the construction of the ark. The dimensions of the ark, reckoning twenty-one inches to the cubit, were 523 feet in length, 87 feet 6 inches in breadth and 52 feet 6 inches in height. It was consequently considerably smaller than the Great Eastern (Smith's Unabridged Bible Dictionary). It was arranged in three stories, which were divided up into cells for the animals. The ark was furnished with a "light," according to the Revised Version; in the Old Version called a window. The word opening is considered in Hebrew a collective, and hence the reference is not to one small window. How the lighting, which very likely included ventilation, was accomplished we do not know.

God's Threat and Covenant (v. 17).—God is spoken of here as the author of the flood, but it is not determined whether he wrought a special miracle, or whether he made use of natural causes in bringing it about. It would seem as though no action of the ordinary laws of nature would be sufficient to account for such a phenomenon, although, according to Lyell, "In June, 1819, the sea flowed in by the eastern mouth of the Indus, and in a few hours converted a tract of land 2,000 square mils in area into an inland sea or lagoon."

(V. 18) God's covenant, which he promises to establish with Noah, is described later (Gen. ix, 9-17), and was made with him after the flood; but he and his family were to reap the benefits of it at once. With regard to Noah and his family, it gave them the assurances that they should be preserved; and with reference to his posterity God promised that there should never be a flood to destroy the earth again.

Animals Kept Alive (vs. 19-21).—The animals that are to be kept alive are gathered to Noah in the ark. How they came we do not know. We can only suppose that it was through a direct miracle that those which were to be preserved in that part of the earth where the deluge was to take place presented themselves under divine direction to Noah.

Significance of the Flood.—What, we may ask, is the significance of the flood? It shows the abominable nature of sin in God's sight. It is the forerunner of all those judgments which God visits on sin, as recorded in the Old Testament in the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, in the command for the extinction of the Canaanites, and in his dealings with his covenant people. It is a type of the judgments which are indicated in the New Testament, which he will visit on the finally impenitent. It shows that God will have his people separate from the world, and that in an Old Testament history God's chosen people were in danger of banishing the true faith from the earth through conformity to the world. Indeed, the Church is threatened with no more serious danger to-day than that the standards of doctrine and life should be lowered, and that it should be forgotten that the way to life, as Christ described it, is strait and narrow, and that we must agonize, like the Greek contestants for a prize, to enter in.—Sunday School World.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

Archbishop Tache has decided to leave Winnipeg for Rome on February 7th.

The Spanish Cortes was reopened on Monday without a speech from the throne.

The Congo Free State has ordered the assembling of its entire flotilla on the upper part of the Congo River, with a view of aiding the Stanley expedition.

Over twelve hundred men and boys employed in iron works in Montreal struck work on Monday against a proposed reduction of ten per cent in their wages.

A proposal for holding a grand military display in Ottawa in commemoration of the Queen's Jubilee is meeting with much favour among military authorities in that city.

The traffic receipts of the Canadian Pacific railway for the week ending January 14th were $149,000, an increase of 42,000 compared with the corresponding week last year.

The Emin Bey relief expedition will go by the way of Zanzibar, and when it leaves that place it will consist of 1,000 men, eight being English and the rest natives. The expedition will cost $100,000.

The Governor-General visited Montreal on Monday and accepted the offer of Mr. Baumgarten to occupy his residence on Mc Tavish street during his stay in the city, which is expected to last a month. His Excellency returned to Ottawa in the afternoon.

Information has been received by the Militia Department of Ottawa that the project of sending an English artillery team to Canada this year has been abandoned, all the artillerymen being needed at home to celebrate the Queen's Jubilee. Canada will, however, send a team to England.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-Joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

The Tower of London.

Every one should hear about this grand old historic place on Thursday evening. See advertisement elsewhere.

The Coldest Yet.

Tuesday night was the coldest of the season as yet. The Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering thermometer recorded 27 degrees below zero.

Division Court.

The case to decide a landlord's power to destrain, heard at the last session of the Division Court was Kearns vs. Shaver, not Shaver vs. Kearns, as reported.

Promoted.

The Department of Education has allowed the following additional names to be promoted to the Collegiate Institute: Theodore McWilliams and Edward Desautels.

Acknowledgement.

We have received a neatly printed almanac for 1887, published by the proprietors of the Montreal Gazette, which, in addition to the usual calender, contains considerable useful historical, political and general information.

A Neat Address.

The Bowmanville Statesman carries Hay's New Year address, a copy of which we have received, in the shape of a printed title page and calendar. The poetry is very good, and the printing a credit to the office from which it was issued.

Burn's Anniversary.

An enthusiastic meeting of Scotchmen was held in the Town Collector's office to make preliminary arrangements to celebrate Burn's anniversary. It was decided that the celebration should take the shape of a grand dinner at Morgan's Hotel.

Mission Work.

Mr. Geo. Buskin, missionery, requests us to state that $21.25 is acknowledged with thanks, being the contribution in Peterborough for the Algoma and North-West Evangelical and Scriptural Colportage mission, including $10.50 from the Baptist Church.

200 Boys Coming.

Dr. Barnardo, of London, England, is sending out, the first week of March, 200 boys (ages 10 to 16 and upwards), for farm labour and other employment. Those desirous of securing such help are recommended to apply early to Mr. Edward Duff, Dr. Barnardo's Home, Peterborough, who will furnish all necessary particulars.

The "Arcturus."

A copy of the first number of Arcturus, a new weekly paper published in Toronto, has been received. It is "a Canadian Journal of Literature and life," which apparently means that it will discuss current topics in politics and of general interest, while giving attention to the publication of purely literary articles and information. The first issue is such a creditable one that its apology regarding "the first number" was unnecessary. The Arcturus will be independent in politics and in its literary departments will give prominence to Canadian subjects. The editor and proprietor is Mr. John Charles Dent, who has a high reputation as an author and historian.

Curling.

On Tuesday morning a match was played at Keene between the first and second rinks of the Keene Club and two rinks from Peterborough as follows:—

PETERBOROUGH.	KEENE.
Rink No. One.
G. Fitzgerald,	M. Kennaley,
J. Connal,	J. Shaw,
S. Ray,	H. J. English.
D. Cameron, skip....13	T. Campbell, skip ..12
Rink No Two.
J. Baptie,	W. Campbell,
W. Croft,	J. McCrea,
J. Pentland,	R. McIntyre.
T. Rutherford, skip..14	J. Miller, skip 13

In the afternoon the same rinks from Peterborough played nearly the same rinks of the Keene Club as follows:—

Rink No. One.
G. Fitzgerald,	W. Campbell,
J. Connal,	J. McCrea,
S. Ray,	R. McIntyre,
D. Cameron, skip....18	Jas. Miller, skip.....4
Rink No Two.
J. Baptie,	M. Kennaley,
W. Croft,	A. Gampbell,
J. Pentland,	H. J. English,
T. Rutherford, skip 14	Jno Dickson, skip .10

After the match the players adjourned to Kennaley's Hotel, where all spent a fine, jovial time until it was time to leave for the station. Keene is to play in the primary competition for the Ontario Tankard, and also for a medal with Bobcaygeon.

SCOTT ACT.

A Fine of $100 and Costs Imposed in the Queen vs. Dunn Case.

The case Queen vs. Dunn, in which Thos. Dunn, the defendant, was charged with a second offence against the Canada Temperance Act, was resumed at the Police Court this morning.

Inspector COCHRANE swore that at the time he searched the premises of the defendant a jar and two bottles found contained old rye as he knew by the smell.

P. C. MCGINTY also testified that he smelled one of the bottles and that there was whiskey in it.

This closed the prosecution.

Mr. EDMISON, for the defendant, rose and asked for an enlargement.

The Magistrate refused to grant the request.

Mr. EDMISON thought the defendant was entitled to the same consideration as the prosecution. The case had been enlarged several times now at their instance, and he thought his request might be granted now. Mr. Edwards had been granted enlargements and adjournments without stint or limit.

Mr. WOOD, for the prosecution, made an essay to speak, but Mr. Edmison reminded him that it was the Court which was being addressed, not the Crown Attorney.

The MAGISTRATE said that the circumstances were different. The case was now closed, and he was not going to allow Mr. Edmison to cook up evidence.

Mr. EDMISON said that he did not want to cook up any evidence. All that he wanted to do was to bring evidence to meet that just given, which was altogether erroneous. His Worship knew that he complained bitterly—

His WORSHIP—Yes; I know; you generally complain bitterly.

Mr. EDMISON—His Worship knows that I complained bitterly at bringing my witnesses here time after time, when the case was enlarged as often. I did not know that they would have been called on to-day.

His WORSHIP—You had a right to assume that.

Mr. EDMISON—From past experience I had a right to assume the contrary.

Mr. WOOD, in commencing to speak, being interrupted by Mr. Edmison, reminded the latter that he was addressing the Court. He thought Mr. Edmison had ample opportunity to bring his witnesses. He would not consent to an enlargement. it wouldn't do at all.

His WORSHIP—Do you wish to waive this evidence?

Mr. EDMISON—We will if you give us a chance. We can produce our witnesses this afternoon.

His WORSHIP replied that to grant an enlargement would be quite an usual procedure. He found the defendant guilty of an offence against the Act, and on a previous offence being proved a fine of $100 and costs, or two months in gaol was imposed.

The fine was paid under protest. The case is to be appealed on the ground that the evidence taken this morning is worth nothing.

Writs Issued.

Sheriff Hall has been appointed Returning Officer for the West Riding and Registrar Morrow Returning Officer for the East Riding. They received the writs for the Dominion elections this morning.

Culver's C. B.

What is it? Culver's Cough Balsam—a valuable compound of tar, wild cherry, and healing balsams for all throat and lung troubles. Where is it? Sold by G. A. SHERRIN, at the Floral Drug Store (opposite the market).

We May Expect.

—Another Scott Act appeal suit.
—The band at the rink to-night.
—The trains to run on time again.
—A carnival some time this season.
—And a grand bonspiel if it can be arranged.
—The Keenites and Bobcaygeonites to have a preliminary pull here before long.
—The thermometer to go crazy.
—Robbie to receive a Scotchman's ovation.

A Mum Social.

A Musical and Literary Social is to be given at the residence of Mrs. J. J. McBain, corner of King and Rubidge streets, Thursday evening, Jan. 20th, at 7.30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of Charlotte Street Methodist Church. An interesting and edifying programme has been provided introducing a novelty in the form of "An Imposed Silence" broken only by those who are willing to pay the penalty. Admission 25 cents.

The Re-count.

His Honor Judge Weller has given notice to the solicitors of the candidates in the recent West Peterborough election for the Provincial Legislature, as to his decision in the re-count of the ballots. There were eight ballots counted for Stratton which had not the initials of the deputy returning officers on the back of them. Application was made to have these not counted. There were nine ballots sent down from the township of Cavendish without the ballot paper return as required by law. Six were marked for Stratton and three for Carnegie. Application was made to have these not counted. There were twenty ballots marked in the space enclosing the number of the ballot, thirteen for Stratton and seven for Carnegie. These also were held to be invalid. His Honor did not sustain the objections. The official return gave a majority of 34, but a mistake of one was detected in No. 2 division of Harvey, reducing the majority to 33.

Nicholls Hospital.

At the first annual meeting of the Nicholls Hospital Trust held on Monday afternoon, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

CHAIRMAN—Mr. Richard Hall.
SECRETARY—Mr. W. Manson.
TREASURER—Mr. C. McGill.
FINANCE COMMITTEE — Messrs. R. S. Davidson, Jas. Stevenson and A. P. Poussette.
PROPERTY COMMITTEE — Messrs. Jas. Stratton, R. S. Davidson and J. McClelland.
SUPPLY COMMITTEE—Messrs. J. McClelland, Geo. A. Cox and J. W. Flavelle.

A detailed statement of receipts and expenditure will be presented at a meeting of the Board on Thursday evening.

Personal.

We extract the following paragraphs relating to a former Curate of St. John's Church in this town, from a recent issue of the City Press, of London, England:—

"I was invited by a friend to be present at the introduction of the Rev. Percival Clementi-Smith to the united rectory of St. Andrew-by-the-Wardrobe and St. Anne, Blackfriars. My friend is a good old evangelical, and entertained sad forebodings that the old ways of St. Andrew's would be turned into 'Romish freaks.' He had heard much of the new rector, and was full of anxieties as to the future. His fears are dispelled!

"I ought to have said that the induction service took place on Wednesday last. And when the new rector issued from the vestry he made very favorable impressions. When, however, he read evening prayer, those impressions were heightened. Mr. Clementi-Smith reads in a most impressive and devout manner. There was no turning to the east in the Creed. My evangelical friend was delighted.

"To make things better still a friend assured my friend that the new rector had declared his intention to carry on the service as it had been conducted in the past; that there was to be no alteration.

"I may add that Mr. Percival Clementi-Smith appears to be just the man for the position. He brings with him great testimonials and best wishes. I heartily wish him God-speed."

Mr. Charles Rusel, a teacher of experience and good qualifications, left town on Tuesday to take charge of the Port Hope Business College in affiliation with the Peterborough College.

APSLEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the Burleigh and United Townships Agricultural Society was held recently in the Town Hall, Apsley, when the following officers were elected fore the ensuing year:—

President—Wm. Hales.
Vice-President—F. Elmhirst.
Secy-Treas.—D. Anderson.
Directors—Geo. A. Bullied, Jas. Lindsay, A. Harris, J. H. Clifford, John Lean, Hugh Caldwell, Isaac Lean, Thomas Wilson, Jas. Trotter.
Auditors—Alex. Brown and R. Lean.

The Secy.-Treasurer's report was submitted, which shows the society to be in a very prosperous condition.

COURT.—His Honor Judge Weller held a sitting of the Fifth Division Court here on Jan. 6th. Three cases were disposed of.

PERSONAL.—His Lordship, the Bishop of Toronto, and the Rural Dean, Dr. Smithett, paid a visit to this part of the Diocese last week. The ordinance of Confirmation was administered to several candidates.

LUMBERING.—Lumbering is very brisk in this section this season. The winter so far has been very favorable for working in the woods. Many of the settlers are engaged taking out timber, appreciating the fact that it is better to be master in a small concern that servant in a large one.

COLD WEATHER.—The present winter has been one of the most severe experienced here for years. The thermometer has registered as low as 35 deg. below zero. The snow is very deep. The last storm blocked up the road so as it renders travelling very difficult. Where are those weather-wise people, who predicted an open winter?

SCOTT ACT.—Many earnest supporters of the Scott Act are discouraged as well as disgusted with the way the Scott Act is being carried out in this country. Since its adoption it has checked very little if any of the traffic here. Where does the wiskey come from?

A Chicago Man.

Speaking of the fact that out in Dakota the people have clothes lines strung about their premises by which they pull their way back to the house in case of a blizard, is a reminder of a story concerning Colonel Cleary, of this city. The story is quite prevalent in the Far West, but seems to be new here, on the principle, perhaps, that one must go from home to hear the news. It seem that once when their was a captive balloon in Chicago, which people could take a short aerial voyage in for the sum of 10 cents, Colonel Cleary concluded to go up a piece. He was about as high as the eaves of a ten story house, and felt as if that was far enough; so, speaking to the man at the windlass, he said, "Lave her down." The man at the windlass was enjoying the matter, however, and, instead of "laving her down" let her go a little higher. Colonel Cleary deliberately went to his pocket, and, pulling out a huge clasp knife, he yelled at the man:—"Lave her down, yer son of a goon, or I'll cut the rope."—Chicago Mail.

A Gift to Mrs. Logan.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The citizens of Chicago having contributed $13,000 to a fund for the payment of incumberances resting upon the house of Mrs. Logan in this city, Col. Parker to-day called on her, and, obtaining from her a check on Riggs & Co., paid off the notes. Later in the day he presented to Mrs Logan the cancelled notes, and she now owns the house known as "Calumet Place," on Colombia Heights, free from all incumberances.

MARINE DISASTERS.

Several St. John, N. B., Vessels Wrecked or Ashore.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 18.—A number of disasters to St. John vessels are reported to-day. The schooner Spedwell ashore at Moosepeckieme is full of water. She was bound from St. John to New York with a cargo of 100,000 feet of boards, shipped by Messrs. Driscoll Bros. The schooner Alton, from St. John to Portland, Me., went ashore during a storm at Cranberry Island, but there is a probability of her coming off again. Her cargo consists of 40,000 spruce boards. The barque Guanaillo, Capt. Oretto, which cleared at St. John, Nov. 13, for Penarth Roads, is supposed to have been lost. The Guanilo had on board 332,749 feet of deals, 33,562 feet ends and 47,096 scantling, shipped by Messrs. Stewart. Capt. Stuart, of the ship John McLeod, relates a terrible experience of his vessel in the China Sea in a typhoon for three days. The ship lost all her spars and nearly all her rigging. Although a new ship and perfectly tight there were four feet of water in her hold when the storm ceased.

Bangs!

I wonder why it is that everyone—the newspapers in particular—should be so "down" upon bangs I have waited in silent indignation for some of my sister women to speak up in defence of the style, but though they have clung to it tenaciously—and with good reason—none has dared to lift up her voice against (masculine) opinion.

Now, I declare the fashion was both sensible and becoming, though, of course, like all other good things, capable of being carried to an extreme. A young and pretty girl was positively bewitching with her fluffy or straight hair shading her brow; while to women not as young as they would like to be it was a perfect boon to have the softening effect of the drooping hair and the lines of the forehead so prettily hidden.

It must needs be a young and pretty face that looks well with the hair combed smoothly back, while to the majority of women the Pompadour style gives an unpleasantly hard look.

Besides, I can't for the life of me see why women should not be allowed to comb their hair as they please without such a fuss being made over it. When men took a notion to have their heads shaved as bald as a billiard's and isplaying every bump as if they had just come from a phrenologist's, we all knew it was ugly, yet you did not hear us ranting about it in the newspapers or denying them religious privileges on that account.

I suppose it doesn't matter so much about men's looks, only one likes fair play, especially in a free country.—Daisy Dean in Detroit Free Press.

Granges in Connecticut.

There appears to be a special revival of the grange interest in New England, and especially in Connecticut, judging from reports made at the recent National Grange. In all the States 19 new granges have organized, of which 45 are in New England, and of these fifteen are in Connecticut. We have always recommended associations among farmers, believing that therein rested a power which farmers could wield, and in no other way; but for some reason farmers break away from associations much sooner than is the case with other occupation and professions. It is a noticeable fact that the new charters granted to grangers in those States where the granger first became popular are very few or none at all, and so far as observation goes there seems to be a great decline in interest among grangers in those States that are older in the grange interest. It requires push and enthusiasm. Two years ago Mr. Whitehead, a grange lecturer, spoke before the farmers of Connecticut, arousing a degree of enthusiasm that has borne fruit upon new ground, but how lasting or extensive will be the influence remains to be seen. During the year new granges have been chartered in the States, while Ohio there has not been a single one. In Illinois there has been one.—Ex.

Coal Output.

The output of the Springhill collieries for December reached the unprecedented figures of 43,026 tons, making a total for the year of 464,000 tons, an increase of 118,000 tons over 1885. The south slope is being opened out and about 200 tons of coal hoisted and shipped daily. Other preparations are being made for a further increase of business this year. Shipments of coal by water from Parrsboro' in 1886 were 46,109 tons, against 26,215 in 1885.

Postoffice Saving Bank.

OTTAWA, Jan. 18.—The amount to the credit of depositors in the Postoffice Savings Bank at the end of December was $18,025,205, against $15,802,815; an increase of $2,222,390.

MR. BLAKE'S ALLIES.

Although in one sense the time between this and polling day is short, it will be found to be amply sufficient to enable the Reform speakers to go over every charge in the indictment against the Government and to stir up all the bad blood they can, not only in Quebec but in Nova Scotia and the other provinces. The strong point against the Reform party is that somehow it is allied with all the elements of disaffection discontent and disloyalty in the Dominion.—Toronto Telegram (Indep.)

THE REFORM POLICY.

The adoption of the high tariff stimulated home competition that was disastrous to many industries that prospered steadily under a lower tariff. Some of the capital unwisely invested has been sunk irrevocably. But a gradual return to a revenue tariff, with the ultimate design of getting to free trade, would be no injury to either capital or labor.—Hamilton Times (Ref.rm.)

THE proper channel for the escape from the system of impurities which would, if they remained, poison the blood, is through the bowels. When this outlet is obstructed it may be discumbered with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, a remedy which regulates the system, invigorates digestion, and is pure and safe as well as effective. It cures all diseases arising from impure blood.

IN MEMORIAM

O life, what are thy charms to me
While I with strangers roam?
The joys of life are gone from me
And my once happy home?

No more wilt thou on this earth tread,
Nor I thy voice will hear,
Until the grave gives up its dead,
With angels thou appear.

Sadly I sit at home and think
Of the friend of my bosom gone,
The happy days, our golden link,
But now I weep and mourn.

But still, O Lord! thy mercy great
From us do not withhold;
Thy arms outstretched do us entreat,
Oh, keep us in thy fold.

I will not yield to grief or woe,
For blessed are Thy dead
O Lord! grant us Thy word to know,
We shall be blessed indeed.

THUR DAY, JANUARY 20, 1887.

THE ANNUAL COUNCIL

OF WEST PETERBOROUGH AGRICULTURISTS.

The Submission of the Reports—The Secretary's Progress During the Last Year—Election of officers.

The annual meeting of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society was held in Council Chamber on Wednesday afternoon. There were present Mr. John Garbutt, President, in the chair, Jas. Stevenson, J. McClelland, T. E. Bell, Jos. Redmond, G. W. Fitzgerald, Wm. Fair, J. Stothart, Thos. Fitzgerald, Jos. Tully, J. Brealey and D. D. Gallelty, Secretary.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and confirmed.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Mr. Gallelty then read the Secretary's report, as follows:—

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

To the Members of the West Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society:

GENTLEMEN,—In presenting my report for 1886 I have left the financial statements entirely to the Treasurer, confining myself principally to a cursory history of our affairs during the past year. The first item of importance was the appeal made by our directors to the County Council at their annual meeting, held at Peterborough in January last, for a grant to enable them to erect suitable buildings. The claims of the Society for such a grant were ably laid before the Council by several of our directors. The Council, after considering the matter, gave our directors to understand that were the societies of East and West Peterborough amalgamated, they would be inclined to vote a liberal sum towards the erection of suitable buildings in Peterborough. Acting on this suggestion of the Council, a deputation from the West Riding Agricultural Society here met here at noon on Tuesday, 9th March, 1886, and proceeded to Norwood to meet the directors of the East Riding, and if possible woo and win them over to join the West, and have a Grand Central Exhibition in Peterborough. Every one of the deputation took part in the discussion with the directors of the East Riding, and made every reasonable overture they could be expected to offer, but to little purpose. The fair maid of the East would not accept of the liberal offers of the gallant West, but shook her head and said, "Na, na; it winna dae; I canna', canna', winna', wina', maunna' buckle tae." So ended the Eastern courtship. At the June session meeting of the County Council our directors reported their non-success with the East, and endeavored once more to obtain a grant from the Council, but were again unsuccessful. Nothing daunted, your directors, with that pluck and energy that has characterized all their proceedings in connection with this Society, determined to go on with the buildings. Plans and specifications were prepared, tenders were advertised for, a number were received, and that of Mr. William Lasher, Peterborough, for $1,350, accepted. Under the superintendence of Mr. John McClelland, Chairman of the Building Committee—who was unsparing in time and trouble—along with the other members of the Committee, the building was completed in a very satisfactory manner, and the building to-day is a standing monument of their untiring industry, which they expect to greatly improve and add to, as our finances permit.

SPRING SHOW.

The attendance was very large as will be seen from the money received at the gate, viz.: 54 30, 15 cents being the admission fee for non-members, members being admitted free.

In the mouth of July R. C. Strickland, Esq., of Lakefield, sent in his resignation as a director of this society, which was accepted, and Jas. Stevenson, Esq., Mayor of Peterborough, was unanimously elected in his stead. The wisdom of such a choice was soon apparent, for from the moment Mr. Stevenson accepted the appointment he ably assisted the other directors in the performance of their duties. It would take up too much of your time for me to go into details recording the ardorous duties devolving upon your Directors in revising the prize list of 1885; and the considerable addition made thereto, such as "plants and cut flowers, fine arts in oils, water colors, crayons, etc., prizes being awarded in these classes for both professional and amateur artists; also penman, ship, bird drawing, photographing, maps, etc., national history and mineralogy, besides ladies' work, embracing a great variety of articles. Arrangements with the Railway companies had to be made, popular amusements had also to be considered. A band contest was at one time contemplated, but owing to the shortness of time and the want of sufficient funds, had to be abandoned. The money subscribed for the band contest was got principally from gentlemen in town, who, although the band contest was dropped, generously allowed the directors to apply the fund to other kinds of entertainment, resulting in securing four kilted lads from the Thistle Dancing Club, of Toronto, accompanied by a Queen's prize piper—Mr. Monroe. While the forgoing matters were being considered and arranged by the directors, your secretary was busy, two weeks previous to the show, recording the various exhibits in the entry book.

In the year 1885 the total entries were 925; in 1886 the total entries amounted to 1,500. These figures clearly prove what Mr. Carnegie, the ex-President, stated in his address to the society last year, regretting the disunion between the town and county with regard to supporting the society, "What helped the one helped the other and union was necessary." Adding "There was no better place in Canada for a successful exhibition than Peterborough." Also remember that the Agricultural Society of Port Perry, not far distant, was holding their exhibition on the very same days as we were. Port Hope also encroached upon one of the days, and Lindsay had the start of us. If our County Council had given us the grant applied for, thereby enabling us to give more liberal prizes, I have no doubt whatever but that our entries would have amounted to 2,000 and over. It is hoped that our County Council will withdraw their opposition and join in with the Directors of the current year and generously aid what is to all intents and purposes a farmers' institution. We pass on to record the principal event that has ever occurred in the history of the society, viz.: the visit of His Honor John Beverley Robinson, Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, and suite, who came purposely to open the exhibition. Such a gala day had not been in Peterborough for many years. Not only was it an honor conferred upon the society, but upon the town. Our town and Agricultural Exhibition, by the visit of His Honor, was made widely known through the press of the country, and also brought hundred of visitors to our town. Able addresses were presented to "His Honor, one from the Mayor, representing the town, and one from Mr. Carnegie, representing the Agricultural Society. Both these gentlemen deserve the thanks of the town, and the society in particular, for the able manner in which they upheld the resources, privileges, and industries of our town and county.

I will now proceed to give you the names of a few of the principal prize winners who won prizes in cash from $15 and upwards: A. R. Kidd, Warsaw, $66; Joseph Redmond, Otonabee, $60; C. Fairbairn, Bobcaygeon, $34; G. M. Roger, Peterborough, $47.50; Robert Vance, Ida, $46 50; James Baptie, Springville, $40 50; W. Collins, Smith, $26 50; D. Grant & Sons, Woodville, $37; Robert Hannah, Bethany, $37; Mrs. Timothy Walsh, Keene, $25 (beside a silver butter cooler valued $10); Samuel Curtis, Harwood, $24; Thos. Stothart, Smith, $24; Aaron A. Cox, Peterborough, $23; G. W. Hatton, Peterborough, $20.25; Richard Harper, Coldsprings, $22; James Brown, Springville, $19.75; Alfred Sanders, Warsaw, $19.25; Levi S. Bowles, Springville, $17; Mrs E. Kerr, Bensfort, $18; Robert Walton, Smith, $19; W. Sherin, Lang, P. O., $16; D. Scully, Downeyville, $18; J. Vance, Bethany, $18; N. J. White, Lakefield, $17.25. A glance at the foregoing list will prove to the most sceptical that it is the farmer who reaps the most advantage from agricultural exhibition, and not the townspeople, as a great many who reside in the country are apt to suppose. Therefore, I think that County Councils ought to support these institutions more liberally than they generally do. The minor prizes just bear the same proportion to winners in town versus country as I have already enumerated. The time for township two-pence-half-penny shows has gone by, railway and other facilities, which enable the farmer to ship his stock and produce with more safety, comfort and ease 100 miles, than he could 10 in days gone by, have dealt a death blow to little side shows; and any farmer who has stock or produce worth exhibiting, will, if he be wise, forward the same to some large central show, where there is some honor attached, over and above monetary interest, should he succeed in carrying of a prize. Every farmer should become a member of the Central Exhibition in the county where he resides, and as many more outside his own county as he can afford. To show our country friends how much interest is manifested in helping along, with material aid, our society, by several gentlemen in town, and also to show these gentlemen how grateful the directors are for such disinterested support, I cannot better close this report than by thanking them in the name of the directors, and appending their names with amount of subscriptions thereto:—

I have compared this statement with the Treasurer's cash book, which shows a balance in his favor of $955 64. The Treasurer holds vouchers for all amounts charged against the Society, and the cash book is properly balanced.

F. J. LEWIS, Auditor.

TOWNSHIP SOCIETIES.

The report from the Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Society was read, showing that the Society was in a good financial standing, there being some $20.00 in hand. The report was adopted.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers was proceeded with as follows:—

PRESIDENT—John Carnegie.

1ST VICE-PRESIDENT—Wm. Rutherford.

2ND VICE-PRESIDENT—Wm. Vance.

DIRECTORS—Messrs. James Stevenson, John Garbutt, Geo. W. Fitzgerald, John McClelland, A. McNeil, Jos. Tully and Wm. Collins.

AUDITORS—Messrs. F. J. Lewis and J. A. Hall.

The Treasurer and Secretary will be chosen by the Directors.

The meeting then adjourned.

For your evening wear see the Golden Lion.

Opium Prohibited.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The House Committee on Foreign Affairs agreed to report favorably the Senate bill to prohibit the importation of opium into the United States by Chinese or into China by citizens of the United States.

A Drowning Calamity.

QUEBEC, Jan. 19.—News has reached here of a terrible accident on Lake St. John, in the Saguenay country. It appears that a large gang of lumberers were crossing the ice when some twenty of them broke through. All were saved but two men, named Whitton and Ryan, who were drowned.

A Gigantic Project.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The Legislature will be asked in a few days to grant a charter to a company which proposes to bring water to New York and Brooklyn from the Adirondacks, a distance of about 225 miles, by means of a canal eighteen feet deep and sixty feet wide, running along the Hudson, with capacity of from 800,000,000 to 1,000,000,000 gallons a day. The cities along the Hudson will also be supplied. The estimated cost is $60,000,000, and the time of completion two years. The only waterworks that compare in magnitude with this are those that supply Vienna. The Vienna aqueduct is 300 miles long.

Mothers,

do you not see the pallid face, once so bright, growing thinner? Do you not hear the hacking cough, and note the wasted, languid indifference, where once was mirth, brightness, and keen enjoyment for all the pleasures of life? Do not be mistaken or deceived. That child is dying of consumption—slowly, but surely. Yet thousands are living to-day who have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," which surpasses all other medicines for the cure of that disease. Send ten cents for phamphlet and testimonials. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

FISHERY COMMISSION REPORT.

Non Intercourse Advised—Alleged Unneighborly Conduct of Canada.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 19.—The report of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, accompanying the bill introduced by Mr. Belmont appointing a commission to make an investigation concerning the losses and injuries inflicted since Dec. 31, 1885, on citizens of the United States engaged in the Forth American Fisheries, after reviewing the various treaties and violations thereof by the Canadians reaches the following conclusion:—That by the treaty of peace in 1783 American citizens became partners with British subjects in all coast fisheries in North America remaining to Great Britain; that in 1876 Canada prescribed penalties not warranted by treaty which were made more severe, and that in 1886, nearly half a century after signing the treaty, an offence entirely new in legislation was announced in the most general terms and punished by confiscation of everything seized. A very serious feature of this last named legislation is that it has been approved by the British Crown and it proclaims non-intercourse in Canada with American fishing vessels for general trade. To that feature your committee has given careful consideration and is unanimously of opinion that if and so long as non-intercourse with American fishing vessels shall be thus maintained in the ports or bays of the Dominion of Canada or Newfoundland, non-intercourse should be immediately begun and maintained in our ports.

Canadian vessels whether trading or fishing, have within the meaning of the 17th section of the law of Congress of June 19th 1886, "Been placed on the same footing" in our ports as our own vessels clearing or entering foreign ports. Canadian vessels are British vessels. The British Crown has denied to American fishing vessels a commercial privilege extended to other vessels in Canadian ports. The motive and purpose of such denial have been openly and plainly avowed by Canada to be, first the punishment of such vessels because the United States levies a duty on Canadian fish, not fresh, for immediate consumption, such as the government levies on all such fish not the product of American fisheries and imported from any foreign place whatever; and, secondly, to coerce the [illegible] to exempt such fish from all duties and to enter into other new reciprocal customs relations with the Canadian Dominion and Newfoundland. It is a policy of threat and coercion which, in the opinion of your committee, should be instantly and summarily dealt with. The circumstances will warrant and require, in the opinion of your committee, not only non-intercourse with Canadian vessels bringing Canadian fish to our ports, but an exclusion of such fish from entry at our ports, whether brought by rail or any other way.

It is difficult to believe that Canada, having within the last twenty years so recklessly burdened herself with taxation by building railways to Chicago, St. Paul and the whole west of our country, as well as New York and Boston, will now deliberately and offensively enter upon and pursue a policy toward our fishermen which, if persisted in, can but end in either the suspension of commercial intercourse by land or sea between her and ourselves or consequences even more grave.

PANIC IN A THEATRE.

A False Fire Alarm—Seventeen Persons Killed.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The hall in Princess street, Spitalfields, where a fatal panic occurred last night, is a favorite resort for the Jews of that part of London. Entertainments have been given there every night for a long time. Last evening a benefit preformance was given and the hall was crowded. During the progress of the play a man and woman quarrelled in the street outside, and near the main doorway of the hall. The man used violence and the woman screamed. Her cry was heard by a passer-by, who misunderstood it and shouted "fire." The woman's screams and the cries of fire were heard inside and at once created a panic, the audience, numbering 500, rising in a body and rushing pellmell for the main entrance The audience was almost entirely composed of Jews. The manager of the Hebrew Damatic Company, which was giving the entertainment, was on the stage when the panic began. He perceived at once that there was no good reason for it and did all in his power to allay the excitement and to afford all possible facilities for the exit of the people. The hall has a number of entrances and he had them all thrown wide open and called on the people, when they would not remain, to divide and use all the doorways, but they paid no attention to him. In fact, many of them construed the manager's earnestness into proof that there was a fire and increased their exertions to get out. The whole crowd, as if with one impulse, made for the main entrance. It happened that among those who first reached it were a number of women and children, who had been occupying some of the rear seats. They were overborne by strong men attempting to pass them, and as the women and children fell at the doorway they tripped up others, who were crushed down by the rush of the frantic crowd. It took but a few minutes to empty the house and the alarm was so thorough that not a soul among the entire audience refrained from the struggle to get out.

When the people, after reaching the street, ascertained the facts of the situation a scene of great disorder ensued, caused by the discovery that numbers were missing. Then a rush back was made. This, however, was stopped at the main entrance by the police, who had arrived and assumed control. Seventeen corpses were found inside the theatre near the door. They were all torn, crushed and disfigured. It was found that of the dead, twelve were women, three were boys, one was a girl and the other a man. The remains were almost unrecognizable.

The Anarchist's Bride.

PITTSBURG, Pa. Jan 19.—Nina Van Zandt's grandfather Ivin B. Clark, and Mrs. Arthurs, her wealthy aunt, have been prostrated by the waywardness of the young woman in insisting on marrying the anarchist Spies. Both are confined to the house seriously ill.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

MORE TROUBLE.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A sharp divergence exists between Sir William Vernon Harcourt and Mr. John Morley, with reference to the negotiations with Mr. Chamberlain. Sir William Harcourt wants Mr. Gladstone to concede a form of compromise on the Home Rule question that will be acceptable to Mr. Chamberlain. Mr Morley is opposed to make such a concession Sir. Wm. Harcourt threatens, in the event of collapse of the negotiations, to secede.

THE BULGARIAN THRONE.

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—The Kreuz Zeitung says: The candidature of Prince Geo ge of Leuchtenberg for the Bulgarian throne is approved everywhere. The Bulgarian regency it says, must resign, leaving the election of the Prince to the new Sobrange, in which event Russia will accept the ruler chosen.

COLD WEATHER IN EUROPE.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Danube is covered with floating ice from Pesth to Vienna, and is entirely frozen over near Pressburg. It is also said the great Hungarian Lake of Oldenburg is frozen. In Vienna the water supply has been reduced by one half on account of the cold weather.

THE BRITISH "SPIES."

MOSCOW, Jan. 19.—A report which gained circulation through its publication in the Vienna press that two British Indian officers had been arrested as spies in this city is wholly without foundation.

CHURCHILL AND ULSTER.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Lord Randolph Churchill in a letter says his attachment to the union and Ulster Loyalists has undergone no change.

GLADSTONE AND HOME RULE.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—In reference to the intention of the Parnellite members of Parliament at Westminster, Mr. Gladstone writes with regard to the proposed provision for enacting Ireland to take part in Imperial concerns: Such proposals would naturally take definite form if the time should arrive for forming a new bill.

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

DUBLIN, Jan. 19.—At the fortnightly meeting of the Irish National League here, yesterday, Mr. O'Brien declared the plan of campaign would always be so conducted within wise limits. Mr. John Dillon said no British Government would have rest while the Woodford prisoners remain in gaol; the bloodshed in the enforcement of evictions will be on the head of the judge. Lord Mayor Sullivan announced to the meeting the receipt of $2 from a "New Yorker," who accompanied the draft with a letter stating the money might be applied in any way that would annoy Great Britain.

LABORING FOR PEACE.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—In a speech at Liverpool, last night, Mr. Goschen said the Government were prepared for any obstruction that they might meet with, and were hopeful that worthy additions would be made to the statue book which would deserve the approval of all classes of politicians. He congratulated the country upon its being free from the military incumbus with which the continent was burdened. England, he says, equally with Germany, was laboring to preserve peace. It was false to assert that the British Government were inclined to risk the peace of Europe for a particular man. The rumor that the Government had worked directly or indirectly for the restoration of Prince Alexander was unfounded. The Government would give no opinion in regard to the choice of a candidate for the Bulgarian throne except in concert with the other powers.

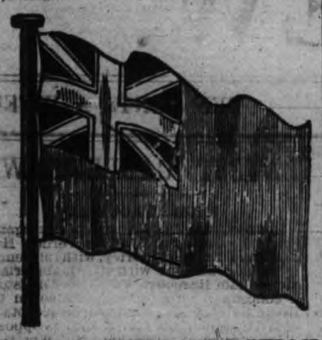
FRANCE AND THE FISHERIES.

Determined to Maintain the Country's Rights in Newfoundland.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—In the Senate Admiral Veron interpellated the Minister for Foreign Affairs on the question of the Newfoundland fisheries After giving a history of the rights of France in those fisheries, he asked why the captain of the cruiser Clorinda, the officer commanding the naval station of Newfoundland, had forbidden French fishermen to carry on their avocation and prepare fish at certain points of the west and Northwest coasts of Newfoundland, when the English were allowed to fish at points where they invaded the exclusive rights of France.

M. Flourens, Minister of Foreign Affairs, gave a precise and satisfactory reply. The Treaty of Utrecht, he said, gives to French fishers exclusive rights so far as the following of their avocation along the west and north-west coasts of Newfound and was concerned. The French Government would take care that these rights were respected. It was, moreover, all the more disposed to insist rigorously on the acknowledgment of them, because of the bad will shown towards France by the English population of Newfoundland. M. Flourens added that negotiations on the subject had already been set on foot with the English Government, but it might compromise the result to go further into the matter before the Senate.

Admiral Veron then withdrew his interpellation.



Chinese Re-shipped.

The Vancouver, B. C., Advertiser of June 10th gives an account of the re-shipment from Vancouver of some twenty Chinese laborers, whose presence, having been brought there by a contractor, was obnoxious to the rest of the community It was said that more Chinese were to be brought, and the people, acting through a committee, contributed $40 to pay the fares of the Chinese back to Victoria. They were escorted to the wharf and the five hundred people who quietly witnessed their departure cheered the celestials as the boat moved off. Chinese are evidently not wanted at Vancouver.

SELL THEM POWDER.

The Montreal Herald has an article in a somewhat similar strain, in which it hypocritically complains because Canadians, having ice to sell, were not allowed to dispose of it to the Yankee fishermen. If a man with a gun is threatening to shoot you and finds he has no powder but is willing to buy some from you, we presume, according to the Herald's argument, that it would be a "harsh proceeding" not to sell him the powder! Without ice the pirates were about as helpless as a gunner without powder; to have supplied them with this indispensable article even for "cash" would have simply suicidal.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 20, 1887.

NO PROTECTION.

The benefits that the country has derived from the N. P. are such that some of the candidates who are bearing Mr. Blake's standard, are afraid to show their hostility to protection and are insinuating more or less openly that they are favourable to the N. P. At the same time they show that this is mere hypocricy, nothing but a device to catch votes, by their efforts to support leaders and to place in office a party that is bitterly opposed to the N. P.

We give the following extracts from the answer to Mr. McLelan's budget speech last year made by Sir Rich. Cartwright, to whom was entrusted that duty as the leading financial authority of the Opposition and undoubtedly their Finance Minister if they should attain office. It is manifest, therefore, that more than any other Reform leader he would have a voice in framing the fiscal policy of his party, and this is what he said:—

"The hon. gentleman stated that the National Policy has been eminently successful. Well, Sir, the National Policy, or at all events under the National Policy, has produced far larger deficits than we ever had since Confederation commenced. The National Policy has led to far greater expenditure, far heavier taxation, greater debt, and very serious dissatisfaction among the very persons who are specially designed to be protected. It may suit the hon. gentleman and it may suit his friends to assure the House that the manufacturers of Canada are to-day thoroughly well satisfied with their position. But those who will take the trouble to acquaint themselves with the temper and feelings of the manufacturers know that I state the simple truth when I say that wherever you go and wherever you mix largely with manufacturers you will find there is a very strong undercurrent among them of desire for a commercial union. I have always pointed out, and I repeat now, that as applied in a country like this, and I am bound to say that it is utterly impossible when applying a protective system to so small a country as this to prevent people from saying that if you are going to persevere in such a policy, it is far better for them to have free trade, with 60,000,000 of people, than to persevere in our present state of barbarous isolation. There is a political side and a very serious side to this question, on which I do not desire to dwell now; but I have no doubt whatever in my mind, as there was no doubt when this policy was proposed, that our stupid and foolish imitation of the American protective system would inevitably, result, as I say it is resulting to-day, in causing a very large number of manufacturers of Canada to desire, at any cost and in any shape or fashion, to extend our markets and obtain a commercial, if not a political incorporation, with the United States."

Sir Richard Cartwright gave no countenance to the pretence that the Reform party had abandoned their position of hostility to the N. P. for a little later he added:—

"I said then (1879), and I say now (1886) that the manufacturers, if they had known their own interests, would have been infinitely better off in the long run under the tariff of 1878. I said then, and I say now, that the result of that tariff has been largely to increase the cost of manufacturing; that it has decreased the number of the manufacturers' customers, and it has diminished their power of purchasing manufactures; that it has led to an enormous waste of capital, and, so far as manufacturers are concerned, the domestic competition to which they have been exposed has been very much keener and more injurious to them than the foreign competition they were so desirous to escape."

He certainly repudiated for himself and his friends any conversion to the policy of encouraging Canadian industries, for after a time he continued:—

"Lastly we pointed out this, and I repeat it now, that no more stupid act of folly was ever committed than insisting in imitating the protective policy of the United States."

A theoritical treetrader, advocating free trade everywhere and under all circumstances, he is especially opposed to protection in Canada, or as he put it:—

"We contend that there never was a country less suited for that experiment than this Dominion of Canada."

Again and again he returned to his acrimonious condemnation of the N. P., presently he said:—

"He (the Franchise Minister) gave us to understand the policy of the Government was, so far as they could, to free the poor man from an undue pressure of taxation. If that be the case, I for one will be disposed, to a very great extent to excuse all the faults and follies of the National Policy."

From the same speech we might collect other vehement censures of the tariff policy adopted and retained by the great majority of the people of Canada. It was, according to Sir Richard Cartwright, "a very foolish proceeding," "barbarous taxes," "every day's experience has demonstrated its worthlessness," "a very potent cause of mischief," "financial juggling," "legerdemain," "impoverishing," "fiscal errors," "an unwise and unwholesome system," "oppressive," "vastly heavier," "unjust," "a vicious system," "this outrageous and oppressive tariff," "inconsiderate adoption of a protective system," "a very oppressive and unjust system of taxation," "a bad fiscal system," while the people are in his eyes "unfortunate dupes."

When such are the opinions of the leading financial authority of the Reformers, on the important occasion of his reply to the budget speech of the Conservative Finance Minister, who can doubt the hostility of his party to the N. P.? Who can doubt that if they had the power they would return as speedily as possible to their old system of preferring foreign to Canadian industries, even though a few of their supporters might have professed, while canvassing, that they thought individually that the Conservative policy of protection was not a bad thing for Canada? Could they save Canadian industries from being ruined?

OUR RAILWAY SYSTEM.

Among the causes that have conduced to the growth and progress of our town and the convenience of its inhabitants, one of the very foremost has been the construction of the railway from Toronto through Peterborough to Ottawa, thus giving us healthful competition, and communication by means of a direct, speedy and well constructed line with the great railway systems of the continent. The boon that has been conferred upon us is recognized by all, and so great is the benefit that it cannot be approximately estimated.

It will, however, be remembered that this improvement was not obtained without opposition. Among the most strenuous opponents of the road at its inception was Mr. G. A. Cox, who fought bitterly against its obtaining a charter. If he could have had his way, and he did his best to get it, the Ontario and Quebec Railway, now a division of the great C.P.R., would never have been vouchsafed to us.

Mr. Cox might have been expected to take an interest in what was so well calculated to promote the welfare of our town, but in this instance his personal interests were opposed to those of the community and carried the day with him. Under this mercenary influence he fought against the improvement of our town, but fortunately he did not succeed.

The increase in the Dominion debt over the amount at confederation was $120,679,051 in 1785, the last year for which we have the complete public accounts. This is an average yearly increase of $6,704,392. Under the Conservatives the increase averaged $6 166,573 a year, and under the Reformers $8,102,721 a year.

The following is the Blake policy, done into verses by one of his poets:—

"Flags flying, people crying
Hip, hip hurrah!
We'll banish the accursed N. P.

And then on Canadian soil
Let Free Trade's banner wave,
And Edward Blake as Admiral
Will marshal all the brave."

The Princes of Europe.

A European paper figures that the Christian and monarchical world counts among its compined reigning families 403 princes. If the female contingent was taken into account this figure would almost be doubled. The most flourishing dynasty is that of Holstein, which holds the thrones of Russia, Denmark, Greece and Oldensburg, and numbers about 53 princes, including 25 grand dukes, 2 kings and an emperor. Next to it is the house of Stettin, uniting the royal crowns of Saxony, Great Britain, Portugal and Belgium, beside the ducal and grand ducal sceptres of Weimar, Altenburg, Coburg-Gotha and Meiningen. The Bourbons, with their 47 princes, have held Sicily, Parma, and Spain. More numerous than the Hohenzollerns, the Hesses and the house of Savoy are the imperial Hapsburg-Loraine, with their 33 archdukes, and the old race of Wittelsbach, numbering 23 princes of or in Bavaria, a destinction to which great importance is attached. The once reigning families mediatized since the Congress of Vienna in 1815 are represented by 724 princes, and these have retained but a small portion of their privileges. The Hapsburgs and the Wittelbachs are closely allied, not merely because they both belong to the Teutonic race and flourish on the same German soil, but because for many years and generations they have constantly inter-married. The lovely Empress Elizabeth of Bavaria is the daughter of Duke Maximilian of Bavaria, and her daughter Gilsea is the wife of Prince Leopold, cousin of the present King and nephew of the Regent.—Buffalo Commercial.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

Business Men

Attention.

We can now offer several first-class positions to Advertisers in the REVIEW, and, as there is always a rush at the beginning of the year, in order that the best positions may be obtained, business men will do well to call immediately and secure their space for 1887.

During the present year renewed efforts will be made to make the REVIEW still more a thoroughly efficient medium whereby the Merchants and others can put and keep themselves prominently before the public. Extra precaution will be taken, and the best taste will be displayed in getting up all advertisements intrusted to us for publication, and in other respects as well, the "shrewd" business man will do well to patronize the columns of the

THE EVICTIONS IN IRELAND.

Desperate Resistance to the Police by the Peasantry.

DUBLIN, Jan. 19.—A sheriff and force of police from Gweedore, while on their way to evict tenants at Bloody Foreland, County Donegal, yesterday, found the road blocked with immense granite boulders, and were obliged to proceed on foot. The blowing of horns and ringing of bells brought together a large crowd of peasants, who threatened the police with violence. The police made a strategic move around the base of the mountain by the sea, but scouts on the mountain top gave the alarm and the peasants, cheering, rushed down the mountain side and blocked the passage. The police threatened the crowd with batons. This was the signal for a shower of stones from the evicted pea-ants. A desperate fight ensued in which five policemen were badly wounded. A priest who was present finally succeeded in calming the people, and they allowed the police to proceed. A tenant named Gallagher was evicted for various reasons. The police left the other tenants undisturbed. In many cases they were unable to identify cottages from which the occupants were to be ejected. In the meantime the peasants carried Gallagher back to his house, kindled a fire and reinstated him. The priest then persuaded them to allow the police to retire. While the sheriff and his escort were on their way home masses of granite rolled down the mountain side, the officers narrowly escaping injury. Whether or not this was the malicious work of the peasants is unknown. While the fighting was going on two vessels off Bloody Foreland stopped to watch the melee. A large number of writs of ejectment have been granted. It is expected that no further attempt will be made to enforce.

DUBLIN, Jan. 19.—O'Grady and fifteen others arrested near Cahercontish, were taken before the Magistrate, Mr. Plunkett, in Limerick, charged with offering illegal resistance to the authorities. They were discharged. Hundreds of horses are employed on the Kingston estate in removing the effects of tenants who have been served with writs of ejectment. There is great excitement at Mitchelstown and a large force of police has been drafted to aid in preserving order. The police have been closely watching Mr. O'Brien at Longford for the past few days, expecting that the plan of campaign would be proceeded with on the Granardo estate. It is rumored that Mr. O'Brien yesterday secretly collected rents at Drumlish.

From Our Own Correspondent.

COUNCIL.—The first regular meeting of the village Council was held in the Council Room on Monday, January 17th. There were present, the Reeve in the chair, and Councillors Moore, Henderson and Watson. It was moved by Councillor Moore, seconded by Councillor Henderson, that the minutes passed at the last meeting granting Mr. McLean a remit of half his taxes on the mill destroyed by fire be amended by changing the sum of $22 to $44, the whole amount, and that the Reeve's orders be issued for the same.—Carried. The Village Clerk and Councillor Henderson were appointed a Committee to look after the case of George Hamblin, now in the Hospital in Peterborough, with power to take such action as they judge proper. The Council agreed to buy enough gravel to finish gravelling Bridge and Queen streets. It was moved that an order be drawn on the Treasurer for $20 to be paid to M. Harrigan for gravel.—Carried. It was moved that John Simpson be paid 50 cents extra to open all the streets in the corporation.—Carried. It was moved by Councillor Moore, seconded by Councillor Henderson, that the Village Clerk notify Mr. Cochrane that this Council expects him to collect the amount yet due on licences as per their arrangements with him as follows:—

J. R Rogers, Livery	$10
F. Waldron, Butcher	25
Wm. White, "	25

The Clerk was instructed to rent that part of the Council building not used be the Council. A by-law to appoint municipal auditors was read a first, second and third time, and signed and sealed. The Council then adjourned to meet at the call of the Reeve.

Some says, "Consumption can't be cured." Ayer's Cherry Pectoral proves, by forty years' experience, a cure for this disease, when not already beyond the reach of medical aid. Even then its use affords great relief, and insures refreshing sleep.

A company has been formed for supplying New York and Brooklyn with water from the Adirondacks, by means of a canal 18 feet deep and 60 feet wide, at an estimate cost of $60,000,000.

The bank statement for December shows total assets and liabilities respectively of $331,300,483 and $150,518,455, being an increase, as compared with the statement for December, 1885, of $3,436,936 in assets, and $3 078,202 in liabilities.

No sufferer from any scrofulous disease, who will fairly try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, need despair of a cure. It will purge the blood of all impurities, thereby destroying the germs of scrofula, and will infuse new life and vigor throughout the whole physical organization.

The cause of young chickens getting so weak in the legs as to hardly be able to walk is often that they are kept on a board floor too much. They should be allowed to go on the ground after being forty-eight hours old.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets, 25c. a vial, by druggists.

Constipation

Causes, directly or indirectly, fully one-half the sufferings which afflict mankind. It is usually induced by inactivity of the liver, and may be cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. C. A. Schomerus, Great Bend, Kansas, writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for Costiveness, with the most beneficial results." J. Windholm, Newark, N. J., writes: "Ayer's Pills cured me of chronic Constipation." Martin Koch, Huntington, Ind., writes: "Last year I suffered much from Biliousness

And Headache

After using one box of Ayer's Pills I was quite well." C. F. Hopkins, Nevada City, Mo., writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills, and think they are the best in the world. They have cured me of Sick Headache and Neuralgia." W. L. Page, Richmond, Va., writes: "I have been a severe sufferer from Headache. Ayer's Pills afford me speedy relief." A. J. Forster, Dauphin st., Mobile, Ala., writes: "For a number of years I have been troubled with Constipation and Headaches. After trying a number of so-called Liver Invigorators, without benefit, I was at last

Cured by Using

Ayer's Pills." Rev. Francis B. Harlowe, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "For years I was subject to Constipation, from which I suffered increasing inconvenience, in spite of the use of medicines of various kinds. Some months ago, I began taking Ayer's Pills. They have entirely corrected the costive habit, and have vastly improved my general health." Hermann Bringhoff, jewelry engraver, Newark, N. J., writes: "Costiveness, induced by my sedentary habits of life, at one time became chronic and exceedingly troublesome. Ayer's Pills afforded me speedy relief, and their occasional use has since kept me all right." Ed. O. Easterly, Rockford, Ill., writes that he has been cured of chronic Constipation by the use of

Ayer's Pills.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

For further particulars see advertisement.

Band of Hope.

The Band of Hope will meet over Mr. Geo. Stethem's store to-night. Girls from 7 to 8 for Broom drill; boys from 8 to 9 for Military drill. Mr. Mason is thoroughly competent for the work he has undertaken and we feel sure he will make the time spent there very profitable. Parties will please not forget their little ones at 4 p. m. on Friday in the Y. M. C. A. Hall.

A Womans' Reading Room.

The REVIEW's report of a meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held on Monday last states that there was no action taken with the question of a woman's reading room. It was decided that they would institute the reading room, and a subscription of $25 was taken up at the meeting for that purpose. The Union will canvass the ladies of the different churches for subscriptions.

—THE headquarters for Ladies' Collars, Cuffs, Gloves and Hosiery is at the Golden Lion.

A Mum Social.

A Musical and Literary Social is to be given at the residence of Mrs. J. J. McBain, corner of King and Rubidge streets, Thursday evening, Jan. 20th, at 7.30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of Charlotte Street Methodist Church. An interesting and edifying programme has been provided introducing a novelty in the form of "An Imposed Silence" broken only by those who are willing to pay the penalty. Admission 25 cents.

W. R. Conservative Association.

The annual meeting of the West Riding Liberal-Conservative Association was held in the Club room on Wednesday afternoon, Mr. James Stevenson, President, in the chair. Representatives from different parts of the Riding were present. The following officers were elected for the present year:—

PRESIDENT—W. H. Moore.
SECRETARY—W. J. Minore.
TREASURER—J. J. Bradley.

Vice-Presidents for different polling subdivisions were appointed, and after other business had been attended to, the meeting adjourned.

Died in the Gaol.

The old man, James Keeves, who was committed to gaol on Monday, has since died. He came here on Saturday, and, finding his way to the Police Station, was cared for by the officers till Monday. He was in a very weak condition, so weak that he had to be conveyed to the gaol. When he arrived there he was pulseless, but under proper treatment he rallied, took nutriment, and was able to walk around the ward the day after. On Wednesday he was talking to a person when suddenly he turned around, sat down on a chair and died. On examination it was found that mortification had set in in both feet. An inquest was held on Wednesday evening, when the foreman, Alex. Stewart, returned a verdict of "death from natural causes."

A WORTHY INSTITUTION.

Conferring Much Advantages on Those Who Have not Much Means.

The advantages held forth to the mechanics and others of this town by the Mechanics Institute for a number of years are being more appreciated. This winter there are over forty pupils in regular attendance.

The class is freehand and mechanical drawing, taught by Mr. J. Fraser, is larger this year than ever it was. The methods of teaching adopted by him tend to popularize the study, and the result is a large attendance each night. In this class there are all sorts and conditions, pattern makers, carpenters, house painters, boiler makers, machinists, etc. etc. Though the divisions of the class renders it hard to manage, each is receiving valuable instruction in his own trade.

The class is arithmetic, penmanship and book-keeping also keeps up well, and Mr. Bean, who has charge, is going good work.

The smallness of the fee charged is surprising. For a full course in either class only 50 cents is charged. This is conditional, however. The applicants must be members of the Institute in order to take advantage of this small fee. It costs $1.50 to become a member, but this money is well expended. A member has free access to a library composed of nearly five thousand volumes, including standard works of history, fiction, poetry, art, science, drama, travel, philosophy and law, besides a good collection of religious works, essays and biographies. The reference library is also an important feature. This embraces the Encyclopædia Britannica, Chamber's encyclopædia, the new American encyclopædia (so far as is published), the latest editions of Worcester's, Webster's and the Imperial dictionaries, and the best gazeteers.

Mr. Peters, the librarian, has the various departments arranged in a very neat and convenient manner. The reading room is always bright, quiet and cosy. It is satisfactory to know that the membership of the Institute is increasing.

Band at the Rink.

The Fire Brigade Band will be at the Charlotte Street Rink to-morrow evening.

Flyers.

Messrs. Ed. Brown and Joseph Daly have each invested in trotters. The pair arrived yesterday and appeared in public to-day. Great things are expected.

Accident.

On Wednesday Mr. James Duncan was passing along Simcoe street he slipped and fell, breaking his leg above the knee. He was conveyed home and Dr. King set the bone. It will be some weeks before Mr. Duncan will be able to be about again.

Tasted Too.

In Inspector Cochrane's evidence in the Queen vs. Dunn case, that part where he swore to tasting what a glass contained which was being taken to a room was omitted. So that his testimony in regard to finding whiskey was based not only on smelling what was in the jar but tasting what was in the glass.

We May Expect.

—A rousing meeting of Mr. Stevenson's supporters at the Parlor Rink to-morrow evening.

—Annie Bird next week.

—The mild weather to resolve itself into a thaw.

—Another Scott Act "field day" on Monday.

—County Council meeting next week.

—Agriculturists to interview the members.

—And beg the agricultural council to foster agricultural interests.

Young Peoples' Association.

A Young Peoples' Association was organized on Wednesday evening in connection with the George Street Methodist Church. The object of the Association is mutual improvement and to assist in church work. A constitution was adopted and the following officers were elected:—

HONORARY PRESIDENT—Rev. I. Tovell.
PRESIDENT—J. W. Flavelle.
1ST VICE-PRESIDENT—Mrs. A. Wilson.
2ND VICE-PRESIDENT—H. S. Griffin.
SECRETARY—A. E. Scott.
TREASURER—Miss Emma Keele.
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—The officers of the Association and Miss Mary A. Allen and Mr. A. E. Dixon.

The Outlook, Devotional, Literary and Musical, and Visiting Committees are to be nominated by the Executive Committee. All members of the congregation are eligible for membership, and the membership fee has been fixed at 25 cents a year. The next meeting will be held after the prayer meeting on Wednesday evening next.

A Libel Suit.

NEW YORK, January 19.—Mrs. Kate L. Terry, widow of Juan Pedro Terry, prospective heir to about $12,000,000 by the death of her father in-law, Tomaso Terry, a rich Cuban planter, has brough suit against Mr. Joseph Pulitzer, of the World, for libel. Mrs. Terry avers the World, in December, published a scandalous, malicious and defamatory article relating to her. She asks $100,000 damage.

Train Wrecking and Robbery.

ADRIFT ON FLOATING ICE.

An Exciting time at Buffalo—Sudden Break-Up of the Ice.

BUFFALO, Jan. 20.—With a south-westerly wind blowing from thirty to fifty miles an hour down Lake Erie during the past 24 hours the ice for some miles up became loosened, causing a "shove." This afternoon fully six hundred men were scattered over the ice for ten miles up the lake from the Government breakwater. Shortly after one o'clock, the ice began breaking up, and a stampede ensued. The men struck out in all directions, many not having time even to secure their effects, while others had to leave their dogs and sleds behind and flee for their lives. Those who were near the Canadian or American shore easily got to places of safety, but the crowd in the centre had an exciting time. Some of them were suddenly brought to a standstill by seeing open patches of water ahead of them, and turning only to find that they were completely shut off. Some cakes of ice floating one or two men, others eight or ten, while one immense piece bore up a freight of fifty human beings. They all managed to get off but a party of eight who were seen floating on a piece in open water. Seven of the party jumped from cake to cake and were rowed to safety, but one old man could not be induced to try it. He remained where he was until his friends after much work, reached him and haldragged him off. It is reported that a man named Haley is missing, but it is thought he will turn up all right.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Consul Bridges telegraphs to the state department that the cholera epidemic has assumed so serious a phase in Mostenvedo that the authorities have been compelled to make an official announcement of the fact.

A Marriage Forbidden.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Sheriff Watson has forbidden the marriage of August Spies and Miss Vanzant. He says he prohibits the ceremony simply on the ground on public decency, because his prisoner is condemned to hang. Just as soon as the Supreme Court makes it probable his prisoner will not be hanged he will withdraw his opposition to the marriage.

Lake Freight Charges.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—At the annual meeting of the Dry Dock Association of the Lakes, yesterday, last year's card of prices was re-adopted, with the provisions that the charges be made in gross instead of net tonnage, as deductions have heretofore been made for the living quarters of the crew and space occupied by machinery. The new card will affect propellers heavily in comparison with schooners.

Halifax as a Winter Port.

HALIFAX, N.S., Jan. 20.—James Lord & Co., of Montreal, are shipping fifteen thousand barrels of flour via Halifax to Newfoundland. Mr. Lord speaks in the highest terms of Halifax as a winter port, praising its magnificent harbor and terminal facilities, the quick despatch afforded and the low port charges. He knows of no port on the continent that surpasses it, and says, provided freight rates are the same, he would fifty times sooner ship from Halifax than Boston or Portland.

Deceased Wife's Sister Question.

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—At the meeting of the Hamilton Presbytery yesterday, a remit in regard to marriage with a deceased wife's sister was taken up. It is couched in the following terms:—"The decipline of the Church shall not be exercised in regard to marriage with a deceased wife's sister, aunt, or neice." The remit was approved of by a large majority of the members present. Some disapproved of it on the ground that the Church had in its standards a clause to the effect that such marriages were incestuous. One gentleman expressed the opinion that the clause should be amended before the Presbytery approved of the remit.

THE TOWER OF LONDON

THE GREATEST NATIONAL MONUMENT IN THE WORLD.

Replete With Historic Interest—"At Once a Fortress, Palace and a Prison"—Tales of Sunshine and Woe Connected with It.

On Thursday evening the Rev. A. H. Munro, formerly pastor of the Murray Street Baptist Church, now of St. Thomas, delivered a lecture in the Baptist Church here, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. His subject was "The Tower of London."

The Rev. E. F. Torrance, of St. Paul's, occupied the chair.

The Lecturer, in commencement, dwelt on the importance of great buildings to history, they being living witnesses of the story of the past. Half a mile below London bridge, on the left bank of the Thames, on twelve acres of elevated ground, inside of battlemented walls, stood the world renowned Tower of London, at once a fortress, palace and a prison. The place possessed a strange charm. It impressed the ignorant and interested the scholar. Year by year its irresistable fascination drew thousands upon thousands from all parts of the world. St. Peter's, of Rome, the cathedral at Cologne, Yorkminster or Westminster Abbey might be preferred to it from an architectural point of view, but it had no peer. In age it surpassed all its rivals. It was used in the 11th century, and even at that early date its origin was wrapped in the dim mists of the past. It was said that it was built by the Roman, Julius Cæser. There could be no doubt that it was built by some of the Romans. Here Tudors and Stuarts dewelt in its palaces, and languished in its dungeons. Here royalty lived for five hundred years. Queens in state robes rode from its portals and criminals walked forth to their execution. Within its walls some of the noblest scientific acquisitions were made, the most musical poetry written. Its walls have incompassed in turn the

AS A NATIONAL MONUMENT

SHINING INTELLECTS OF THE DAY.

and the low buffoon; Roman Catholic priest and Protestant preacher; heroes of the noblest character and paltroons of the meanest class; sturdy ruffians and delicate women and children.

The lecturer here turned to a sketch of the tower and pointed out the various parts. First the most (since done away with), the outer wall with its two postern8, Byeword Tower, St. Thomas' Tower, the Cradle Tower, the Galleyman Tower, the Iron Gate Tower, the Brassmount, the Legeemount, the Bill Tower, the Hall Tower, the Bloody Tower, the Broad Arrow Tower, the Constables Tower, the Martin Tower, the Brick Tower, the Bowyer Tower, the Flint Tower, the Develeux Tower, the Beauchand Tower. In the inner ward there were pointed out the White Tower, the armoury, the Queen's apartments, the wardrobe, the Nun's Bowery, the Lieutenant's House, the Great Hall, and the Block on Tower green.

The additions put to the tower by Richard III and Henry III and the services of Gundulf, were spoken of and the

GREAT DIFFICULTY

Henry experienced in building the water gate and the wharf. Twice it fell, but the third time it was built so strong that it stands intact to-day. The accounts kept of the building of St. Peter's Church inside the walls are still to be seen, and from them it was learned that in building that edifice the workmen received wages at the rate of 4 cents a day.

He then touched upon the "habits and customs" of the Tower people. There was a population of from 800 to 1,000 constantly within the walls. The highest officer was the Constable of the Tower, the office being created by William I. This position was held by the great Duke of Wellington for 32 years.

The other officers and their duties were described, that of locking up the Tower being very interesting. The entrances to the Tower were described, particularly the Queen's Stairs and the Traitor's Gate. Many historic events of interest were recounted of both. On a bright morning the banks of the Thames were crowded, and on the Queen's Stairs stood Henry VIII., surrounded by gaily attired nobles and courtiers. Up the river a boat was rowed. I stopped at the Stairs and Ann Bolyn, the new Queen, stepped lightly from it. She was clasped and kissed by the King and led a happy bride to the palace. Three years after she again ascended those stairs as a prisoner. The Princess Elizabeth on the drizzly Palm Sunday in 1554 jumped from the boat to the stairs leading to the Traitor's Gate, to avoid selling her dress. Here she declared herself as the sun shone on. The various towers were gone over one by one, briefly described, and historic events related. In describing the instruments of torture the lecturer said that breech-loading firearms was no new thing. Colt, who patented the revolver, got his ideas from one which had lain hundreds of years in the Tower. One interesting tale told was that of an attempt to steal the crown jewels. Col. Blood, a priest in orders, a preacher in half a dozen different seats, a soldier on whatever side paid the most, was the man who tried it. He attired himself as a country parson, and with a supposed wife went to see the Tower. When they were in the apartment containing the crown jewels the wife took spasms. Mrs. Edwards, the wife of the keeper of St. Martin's, took her to her own rooms, when a speedy recovery took place. The next day

AS TRUE A SUBJECT

THE COUNTRY PARSON

returned to thank Mrs. Edwards. An acquaintanceship was made and the country parson was soon a regular visitor. One day the country parson said he had a son who owned an estate worth 300 pounds a year. Why should he not marry Mrs. Edwards' daughter? A day was arranged for their meeting. The country parson arrived on the day with a company of desperadoes. Some were posted sentries while Bloon and two or three others went in, all dressed as rustics. Blood proposed that they visit the Crown Jewel apartment. When in Mr. Edward was grabbed and gagged. But just as the thieves were making off with the booty Mr. Edwards' son, who had been away for years, returned. The sight of men hurrying across the yard aroused his suspicions. He gave the alarm, the guards turned out, and none shouted louder than the country parson. But he was caught and during the scuffle that ensued the crown tumbled in the mud. A great many of the Jewels fell out some of which were never found Strange to say Blood was not punished. He was afterward taken to the palace and given £500 a year, which circumstance led to the belief that this was another of Charles' dastardly schemes, and that if the theft had been accomplished, the spoils would have been divided between himself and Blood.

EVERYONE SHOUTED "TRAITOR!" "THIEF!"

The lecturer proceeded in the description of the towers relating as he went the stories of remarkable escapes, fatal attempts at escape, the horrible murders perpetrated by ambitious men, the inscriptions cut in the walls by prisoners, calling up some pleasant pictures and painting the dark side of the story as well.

A vote of thanks was moved by Mr. Wm. Clinton, seconded by Mr. Griffin, and unanimously carried.

The lecturer briefly replied and the meeting was closed in the usual way.

FATAL SNOWBALLING AFFRAY.

A Crowd of Boys Fired on by Pinkerton's Men—A Boy Killed.

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Jan. 20.—This afternoon while a number of boys were playing in an open lot at the corner of Henderson and Eighteenth streets, in this city, adjoining the yards of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company, a fracas occurred between the boys and Pinkerton's men, and Thomas Hogan, 16 years old, a looker-on, was shot and killed by one of Pinkerton's men, who were stationed in the company's property. Occasionally the boys raised a shower of snowballs and other missiles upon the men. On the west side of Henderson street a crowd of strikers and their sympathizers were assembled, and they lent encouragement to the boys by their smiles of approval. At length the leader of the Pinkerton men stepped forward and ordered the boys to stop throwing the missiles. The boys did not obey, and almost immediately 3 sharp cracks of a revolver rang out and Hogan fell dead. The excitement was intense, and the lookers-on fled in every direction. The leader of the strikers, as soon as he could get his men together, ordered them back to their headquarters at the corner of Henderson and Ferry streets. Hogan was returning home from work when he met his death. The police collected a number of witnesses of the shooting and marched the Pinkerton men out in line. He then ordered the witnesses to identify the men who shot. They selected Patrick Sheehy, Daniel Cahill, and S. A. Neff, and identified them as the three men who fired at the boys. The Inspector of Police examined their revolvers and found every chamber loaded. The men were taken to police headquarters and held for bail.

A BRUTAL MURDER.

A Man Named Harris Killed by Unknown Parties in British Columbia.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Jan. 20.—A brutal murder was commited last Friday night or Saturday morning near the mouth of the Fraser river. A man named J. A. Harris, not having been seen for some some days, a neighbor visited his house and found his body on the floor with three cuts on the head and one on the throat, the latter nearly severing the head from the body. There is no clue to the murderer. The knife with which the murder was committed was found near the body. The house was ransacked and the door closed and locked from the outside.

FLOOD AT CORNWALL.

Continued Fall of the Water—The Danger Passed.

CORNWALL, Jan. 20.—The water continues to fall, being now fully six feet lower than on Tuesday morning. It is too soon for the mill owners to estimate the damage, but it will be very large, though not so great as as first imagined. The weave-room of the Canada Cotton Company was not submerged, as at first reported, the water only wetting the floor of a portion and not damaging any goods or machinery there. There seems no further immediate danger of another inundation, and as soon as the water recedes measures will at once be taken to get the mills going. There is great destitution among the flooded-out sufferers, and a public meeting is to be held to-night to devise further measures for relief.

POLITICS IN QUEBEC.

Resignation of Premier Ross—Mr. Taillon to Form a New Cabinet

QUEBEC, Jan. 20.—Hon. J. J. Ross, Premier of the Provincial Legislature, handed his resignation to the Lieutenant-Governor this afternoon, and it is stated that he was shortly after followed by the Hon. E. J. Flynn, Solicitor-General. Rumour says that Hon. L. O. Taillon, Attorney General, has been called to form a Cabinet. Another rumour is that other of the Ministers has followed in the footsteps of their chief, and that the announcement will be made to-morrow.

The Telegraph to-night states that Premier Ross resigned on account of ill-health, and that the Hon. Mr. Taillon has responded to the call to form a new Cabinet.

THE FLOODS AT CORNWALL.

An Anxious Night—The Waters Subsiding—Great distress.

CORNWALL, Jan. 19.—Considerable anxiety was felt in Cornwall last night owing to the ice shoving. The night was intensely dark and nothing could be seen, but every now and then the grinding and crashing of the ice was heard and the people were rushabout not knowing how soon another inundation might take place. Those who watched closely, however, saw the water was gradually receding and by daylight it was seen that it had dropped two or three feet. This still leaves a large portion of the town under water, and there will have to be a drop of at least ten feet more before the work of getting the mills in order can be commenced. The people who were turned out of their houses, have all been provided for in the meantime, but there will undoubtedly be great destitution, as week must elapse under the most circumstances before the mills are again in operation. The mayor and council, with the assistance of private citizens, are looking after the cases most needed assistance.

THE IRISH EVICTIONS.

St. James' Hall Refused for a Meeting—Tenants Selling Their Effects.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The committee of St. James' Hall has refused to let the building for the purpose of holding a meeting to protest against the evictions in Ireland, for the principal reason that they are unwilling to risk a repetition of the disloyal demonstrations which occurred at the recent meeting in that Hall presided over by Mr. John Morley.

DUBLIN, Jan. 20.—The tenants of the extensive Kingston estates who are threatened with eviction, yesterday publicly sold their cattle, a proceeding which the judges have recently declared illegal. The proceeds of the sale aggregated £9,000.

Sir Charles Russell, M. P., has forwarded to Glenleigh the sum of thirteen guineas, which had been collected at a meeting addressed in support and for the benefit of the tenants recently evicted from the Winn estates at that place.

Maurice Murphy, one of the tenants evicted from the estates of Sir Rowland Winn, at Glenleigh, owns twenty-seven cows, and has £500 in cash. The prosperous condition of Murphy does not by any means represent the pecuniary standing of other tenants, but it is believed all are able to pay their rent. A reporter, telegraphing from Glenleigh, says the people there are much better clothed and fed than many of their brethren in the south of Ireland, and asserts that the land, though poor, is vastly better than in many other parts of the country. Most of the estate books in the region of Glenleigh show that rents have been considerably reduced in the last few years.

The evictions which were to have been effected at Glenleigh yesterday were postponed until to-day on account of the stormy weather. Mr. Dillon has arrived at Glenleigh. The work of evicting tenants in Limerick has been abandoned for the present.

Messrs. Conybeare, Fry, Farrington, Mahoney and Sheehan, members of Parliament, have sent a telegram to Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chief Secretary for Ireland, asking him to visit Glenleigh and see what the Government permits.

The Toronto branch of the Queen's University Endowment Association has passed resolutions advocating the expediency of the friends of the university raising $250,000 and urging the co-operation of the Ontario Government in establishing a school of Practical Science for Eastern Ontario in Kingston.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

FRENCH DESIGNS ON ALSACE.

BERLIN, Jan. 20.—Attention has been drawn to the fact that the French Government are transporting large quantities of timber to Alsace-Lorraine, with the apparent purpose of building wooden barracks at various points along the frontier. The German theory of France's object in this work is that she wishes to inaugurate an invasion of German territory.

CHOLERA ON A STEAMER.

PAUILLAC, France, Jan. 20.—The French steamer Gironde, which has arrived from Buenos Ayres, has two cases of cholera on board and has been placed in quarantine.

A NEW CRUISER.

LONDON, January 20.—The Italian Government has bought the National Line steamer America, and will convert her into an armed cruiser.

THE GERMAN SPIES.

LYONS, Jan. 20.—The men, Sydney and Wolitz, arrested as German spies, have been in the city about 10 days. They mingled with the soldiers, and after they had become somewhat intimate with them offered one 500 francs for his rifle. The soldier refused to accept the offer and immediately arranged for the arrest of the spies, which was effected. A third man is supected of being a spy.

WAR PREDICTED IN THE SPRING.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 20.—A meeting of the Minister of War and generals of the Belgian army was held yesterday to discuss the subject of the mobilization of the army. All expressed the opinion that war on the frontier of Belgium was inevitable, and would probably break out in May or June.

FRANCE'S NEW EXPLOSIVE.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—France is buying large quantities of sulphurite from German manufacturers. This is an ingredient in the new explosive called Melinite. The supply turned out by the French factories has proved inadequate to the demand from the war department.

MILITARY DEPOT ATTACKED

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 20.—Three thousand Albanians attacked a military depot near Mitrovitza. The Minister of War has ordered troops from Salonica and Monastir to the scene of the trouble.

THE CONSPIRACY BILL.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The London Standard says that yesterday's Cabinet meeting finally approved of the conspiracy bill.

GERMANY AND THE VATICAN.

VIENNA, Jan. 20.—The Tuppost says that Germany is treating with the Vatican under the terms of the concordat established twenty years ago, while the existing concordat applies only to Prussia.

COADJUTOR BISHOP.

DUBLIN, Jan. 20.—The election of a candidate for Coadjutor Bishop of Armagh, to be presented to the Vaetican for the Papal approval and confirmation, has resulted in the choice of Dr. Logue, Bishop of Raphoe, by an overwhelming majority.

THE FIRM FLOATED.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The gunboat Firm, which went ashore on the Northumberland coast, and which, it was feared, would be a total loss, has been floated.

A REWARD OFFERED.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The Rothchilds and other wealthy Hebrews offer a reward for the discovery of the person who gave the false alarm of fire at the hall in Spitalfields on Tuesday night and caused the panic and terrible loss of life which followed. A subscription list has been opened for the relief of the relatives of the victims of the disaster.

MR. GOSCHEN'S ELECTION.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Lord Hartington has written a letter in support of Mr. Goschen, who is contesting the Exchange division of Liverpool for Parliament. Lord Hartington says:—I believe I shall be able to explain on a fitting occasion the reasons why I can personally best contribute to the objects of the Unionists by retaining an independent position; but other considera tions were involved in the decision which Mr. Goschen was called upon to take, and it is with my concurrance, and, I believe, with the bulk of the Liberal Unionists, that he has accepted office.

THE QUEEN.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The Queen intends to go to Aix-les-Bains at Easter for three weeks. Her Majesty, who will be accompanied by Princess Beatrice and Prince Henry of Battenburg, will probably leave Windsor on Monday, the 4th April, crossing in the royal yacht the Victoria and Albert from Portsmouth to Cherbourg, and proceeding from that port direct to Aix-les-Bains by special train.

A GREAT LOSS.

PEKIN, Jan. 20.—A fire in a remote village in the Province of Shan-Tung, China, has destroyed a collection of historical articles presented through 25 centuries by the admirers of Confucius to his family. These descendants are the only Chinese family, save the imperial, where a title descends from father to son. They have ducal rank. The present Duke is a direct lineal descendant of the philosopher. The collection was of fabulous value, representing gifts from many ancient dynasties, besides one from almost every modern one.

PRUSSIAN DEVOTEDNESS.

BERLIN, Jan. 20.—Emperor William to-day received a committee from the Upper House of the Landtag, and repeatedly thanked them for their loyal and patriotic assurances. He said:—"You may repeat publicly throughout the country that I was deeply grieved by the vote of the Reichstag on the Army Bill, but you have filled my heart with balm. We had shown the necessity for our demand, and did not expect a refusal, because the new measure tended to diminish the danger of war."

SUSPENSION OF A BANK.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Large defalcations have been discovered in the Gewerbe Bank, of Hong Kong, which has suspended payment. Two of the bank's directors have been arrested. The liabilities are estimated at 2,750,000 marks. The trouble is reported to be due to the bank's supporting unsafe industrial ventures. The depositors are mainly small traders, many of whom are ruined by the bank's suspension.

THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN.

BERLIN, Jan. 21.—Prince Bismarck, having awaited the issue of the Opposition manifesto to the electors, will publish the Emperor's manifesto either to-day or Monday. The campaign of the Socialist party is weakened owing to the absence of Bebel, Frohme, and Over, who are in prison. The Socialists, however, are confident of gaining at least two seats in Berlin.

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 21, 1887.

A CAMERONIAN CABINET.

Now that the Dominion elections are at hand the Globe is republishing a number of the old exploded slanders uttered by its friends. Mr. Cameron (Huron) is one of the chief of the writers of fiction from whom the Globe quotes. One of his most imaginative works, a list of Ministers and of persons in the public service who are in any way connected with them, is among the latest of these reprints.

As a specimen we will give the portion dealing the Hon. Thos. White's relations, as being within local knowledge:—

"1. Young White, his son, is clerk in the Militia Department, salary $800.

2. Robert Romaine, his brother-in-law, is settled as stationery clerk of the House of Commons, and as such draws $1,200 a year.

3. Thos. Ryan, his cousin, holds an office in the Customs at Montreal, and draws his $600.

You can readily appreciate the value in dollars and cents of Mr. Thos. White's patriotism. (Cheers)."

Those who know the "Young" Whites, and are therefore aware of their abilities, will quite understand the services of one of them being well worth $800, and will fail to see why he should be treated as a pariah unworthy to serve his country in a capacity for which he is well fitted.

Mr. Romaine is well known to be an expert in regard to his official duties. He has by his practical knowledge of the subject saved to the country the amount of his salary many times over. A better appointment could not have been made, and we fail to see why the fact that Mr. Romaine was doing good service should prevent Sir John Macdonald from inviting Mr. White to join his Cabinet.

Mr. Ryan may be a cousin of Mr. White for aught we know, but if so a salary of $600 does not convey the idea that he has been treated with any gross partiality, as there are a great many officials in the public service, and each of them may have fifty cousins or more, near or distant, it would somewhat restrict the choice by a Premier of his colleagues if all these cousins were debarred from the Cabinet.

From this sample our readers may imagine Mr. Cameron's treatment of the other Ministers. We will only add that Sir John Macdonald is shown to have committed the heinous offence of marrying a lady who had a brother who had long been in the civil service. We must just give one more case that of a still older criminal, It seems that Mr. Pope was guilty of the atrocious misconduct of being born the son of a father who was so lost to shame as to be then serving his country. Is it not clear that a Cabinet which has in it a Minister, who even at the instant of his birth could be guilty of the crime of having a father in the civil service, should be driven from office by an indignant people.

If Mr. Cameron (Huron) were called upon to form a Cabinet in their stead, he would, of course, choose his colleagues from those who hailed from some foundling hospital, and had no legal relationships to disqualify them.

DOUBTFUL CONVERTS.

The Reformers are now protesting that they are in love with the National Policy, and that they would not dream, if they came into power, of making any change in the tariff, except in some quite insignificant details.

This is clearly an admission that when they were for years denouncing the N. P., calling the Conservative leaders rogues and tricksters, the manufacturers robbers, and the majority of the people of Canada either knaves or fools, the Reform politicians, journalists and candidates were either vile slanderers censuring a step that would be beneficial to the country because they feared it would gain the good will of the people of Canada, or else so stupid as to be unable to see that they were doing wrong in launching their Billingsgate at the advocates of a policy that they now, after the event, own to be too wise and too good to be reversed.

There is, however, a third supposition, and this is the most probable, namely, that these new converts to the wisdom of the National Policy are really unconvinced, and that they are only pretending to tolerate it because they dare not avow their real opinions, so unpopular are they in Canada. If they are, as we believe, only pretended friends of the system, we may imagine with what readiness they would pare it down by degrees, if they had the chance. And some of their foremost leaders either can not or will not conceal their antipathy to the N. P.

There are Reformers who are honestly in favour of the protection and encouragement of Canadian industries, but they have united themselves with the Conservatives, with whom they are in sympathy on this most important question of the day for our country.

NOT PARALLEL.

Some of Mr. Blake's supporters are now assailing Sir John Macdonald for "springing" the elections upon the country, and are asking Conservatives who condemned Mr. Mowat to censure Sir John also.

There are wide differences between the two cases. The Conservative Administration has made arrangements for the general elections as soon as possible after the completion of the voters lists containing the names of the newly enfranchised electors, without interfering injuriously with business, and yet so as not unduly to postpone the session. Mr. Mowat fixed the date for the election before it was necessary so as to disfranchise many thousands of the new electors for four years and so as to break in upon both the business and pleasures of the holiday season.

Again Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues made no little secret of the probability of a general election occurring as soon as the new electors were qualified to vote, that an exceptionally large number of candidates were nominated by both parties before the writs were issued. Mr. Mowat on the other hand carefully avoided any manifestation of his intentions and even called attention from them by keeping up a continual scream through the Globe as to Sir John's duty and intentions in regard to a dissolution. And it must be remembered that the Globe's voice is the voice of Mr. Mowat. Its directors and editors are appointed by him by virtue of the proxies the control of which he has rented from Mr. Nelson in consideration of the money he is allowed to extract from the school children of Ontario. Mr. Mowat can change them if their utterances do not perfectly suit him as easily as he can change his office boy or the odd man who does his chores.

The two cases are by no means parallel.

Here and there Reform candidates are squinting at protection, and, ignoring the denunciations of the N.P. by the majority of their leaders, are pretending that their party as a whole is being educated into a belief in the encouragement of Canadian industries. If so they have now at length arrived at a point which the least enlightened of Conservatives reached many years ago. Even if they are sincere, would it be prudent to trust such novices as these new converts, such sluggards in supporting a real practical Reform? And that, too, with most of their chiefs against them.

Three elections inside of three months ought to satisfy the most ardent campaigner.—Hamilton Spectator.

Perhaps it ought to, but it sometimes does not. People in Peterborough have gone through three and are braced up now for the fourth.

Suicide of a Japanese Prince.

An inquiry was held yesterday afternoon (Dec. 28) at the Crown Hotel, High street, Kensington, respecting the death of Nagayeri Asano, a native of Japan. Mr. J. Z. Laurence, solicitor, Queen Victoria street, identified the deceased, and stated that he was a Japanese, and had resided in London for the purpose of studying for the English bar. Deceased was 21 years of age. Witness heard that he held high rank in Japan. Maria Smith, a cook, said she resided at 21 Philbeach gardens, South Kensington, where the deceased had lodged. On Friday morning witness entered his bed-room, and there saw him on the bed, with a wound in his head and a pistol lying by the side of his face. The deceased was unconscious, but lived for four hours. Mr. J. A. Owles surgeon, said that deceased died from a bullet wound, which was self-inflicted. The jury returned a verdict of suicide while of unsound mind.

Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

THE MARKET REPORTS.

REVIEW OFFICE,
Thursday evening, Jan. 20.

There has been a steady delivery of wheat, barley, and other grain during the week. Wheat remains, for choice samples, steady at 82 cents per bushel, and has gone a couple of cents beyond that. A slight improvement has been made in barley and peas. Pork continues firm with a higher tendency. It is probable that it will go up another quarter next week.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the ourden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d84

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once: it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million Issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 25 cents for Book of 100 pages GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.
